Item 8.01 Other Events.

On August 30, 2011, NovaDel Pharma Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), announced that the recent decision in the court to uphold Pfizer’s use patent for erectile dysfunction (“ED”) to 2019 may limit NovaDel’s ability to market its oral spray formulation for ED in the United States (“U.S.”). The recent court action does not limit its ability to market its formulation outside the U.S. after similar sildenafil patents expire in 2013.

Sildenafil citrate has two distinct clinical uses. In the decision to move forward with the ED application of the compound, NovaDel considered its alternative use for chronic use in Pulmonary Arterial Hypertension (“PAH”). With the recent U.S. court decision, NovaDel is actively examining the opportunity to bring its oral spray formulation to this clinical application.

Given the clinical work performed to date, NovaDel believes it can add PAH to its program in a manner that, if funded, can bring a clinical advantage to patients suffering from this very debilitating disorder.

It should also be noted that in addition to seeking funding to pursue its company objectives, NovaDel is also examining a variety of strategic alternatives that would allow the Company to continue to develop its product portfolio.

The full text of the press release is set forth in Exhibit 99.1 hereto and incorporated herein.
