Re: Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of Tri-Continental Corporation

Mr. Nasta:

As of the record date established for the special meeting of Tri-Continental Corporation ("TY" or the "Fund"), our firm, Karpus Investment Management ("Karpus"), represents beneficial ownership of 2,484,667 shares or 2.35% of the outstanding shares of the Fund. I write this letter to you on behalf of our firm to express our sentiments with regard to the ballot proposals submitted to shareholders for the upcoming special meeting. Generally, we are unsatisfied with the Board's evidenced inabilities to manage our Fund's discount and their recent attempts to evade quorum requirements. Consequently, we support Mr. Lipson and his group's (the "Western Group") nominees as well as their opposition to the proposed amendment to the Fund's charter. It is our belief that since the Board is under an obligation to monitor the Fund's discount, the failure of the Board to address the emergence of a persistent discount is a breach of their duties to shareholders. Thus, the basis of our disapproval of the current TY Board's ineffectiveness is premised on the breach of their responsibility to address poor net asset value performance and a persistently wide discount to net asset value. Furthermore, we can find no indications where the Fund's Board has taken actions such as managed distributions, tender offers or other effective methods designed to alleviate persistently wide discount levels. While the Board has instituted share repurchase programs, they have proven to have little effect in solving the discount problem. Because we are not satisfied with the current Board's abilities to perform their duties, we support the well qualified and experienced candidates proposed by the Western Group. Furthermore and equally disturbing as the Fund's investment related problems is its current attempted course of action with regard to proposal number 2 - its attempt to circumvent already established corporate governance measures that we perceive to ultimately be anti-democratic and restrictive of shareholders' rights. We do not believe that a fund should be able to change its quorum requirements to suit its own needs and circumvent its own rules absent a compelling justification requiring such a change. With the circumstances involving the matter before us, we find no evidence of a compelling justification and therefore believe that the Board is attempting to engage in activities that entrench Fund management and are not in Fund shareholders' best interests. Lastly, the Board's actions indicate that they are changing the rules in order to stay in control of the Fund. This is evidenced by the Board's prior actions at their May 4, 2006 annual meeting where they once again had changed their rules to 50% to elect Board members yet at this upcoming special meeting, they have lowered this requirement to a plurality of votes cast. We are convinced that this action was taken in hindsight as a direct result of the vote count at the annual meeting on May 4th. Overall, we are disappointed with how the Fund and its Board have chosen to address shareholders and believe that it is time for a change. We believe that the Western Group nominees and shareholder opposition to the proposed "mid-game" corporate governance change will prove to be sufficient first steps to fixing the symptoms plaguing our fund. Spending an estimated $1.4 million on a special meeting to change rules and re-elect ineffective directors is, in our view, excessive and unnecessary. Sincerely, /s/ Brett D. Gardner
