Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements
March 31, 2006
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-QSB and Item 310 of Regulation S-B. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for complete financial statements. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments that, in the opinion of management, are considered necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows for the periods presented. The results of operations for such periods are not necessarily indicative of the results expected for the full fiscal year or for any future period. The accompanying financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements of Findex.com, Inc. included in our Form 10-KSB for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2005.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and the accompanying notes. Significant estimates used in the consolidated financial statements include the estimates of (i) doubtful accounts, sales returns, price protection and rebates, (ii) provision for income taxes and realizability of the deferred tax assets, (iii) the life and realization of identifiable intangible assets, and (iv) provisions for obsolete inventory. The amounts we will ultimately incur or recover could differ materially from current estimates.

INVENTORY

Inventory, including out on consignment, consists primarily of software media, manuals and related packaging materials and is recorded at the lower of cost or market value, determined on a first-in, first-out, and adjusted on a per-item, basis.

ACCOUNTING FOR LONG-LIVED ASSETS

We review property and equipment and intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability is measured by comparison of our carrying amount to future net cash flows the assets are expected to generate. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its fair market value. Property and equipment to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, intangible assets with an indefinite useful life are not amortized. Intangible assets with a finite useful life are amortized on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives. Our software license is amortized over a 10-year useful life.

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT COSTS

In accordance with SFAS No. 86, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software to Be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed, software development costs are expensed as incurred until technological feasibility and marketability has been established, generally with release of a beta version for customer testing. Once the point of technological feasibility and marketability is reached, direct production costs (including labor directly associated with the development projects), indirect costs (including allocated fringe benefits, payroll taxes, facilities costs, and management supervision), and other direct costs (including costs of outside consultants, purchased software to be included in the software product being developed, travel expenses, material and supplies, and other direct costs) are capitalized until the product is available for general release to customers. We amortize capitalized costs on a product-by-product basis. Amortization for each period is the greater of the amount computed using (i) the straight-line basis over the estimated product life (generally from 12 to 18 months), or (ii) the ratio of current revenues to total projected product revenues. Total cumulative capitalized software development costs were $2,624,274, less accumulated amortization of $2,038,104 at March 31, 2006.

Capitalized software development costs are stated at the lower of amortized costs or net realizable value. Recoverability of these capitalized costs is determined at each balance sheet date by comparing the forecasted future revenues from the related products, based on management's best estimates using appropriate assumptions and projections at the time, to the carrying amount of the capitalized software development costs. If the carrying value is determined not to be recoverable from future revenues, an impairment loss is recognized equal to the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the future revenues. To date, no capitalized costs have been written down to net realizable value.

SFAS No. 2, Accounting for Research and Development Costs, established accounting and reporting standards for research and development. In accordance with SFAS No. 2, costs we incur to enhance our existing products after general release to the public (bug fixes) are expensed in the period they are incurred and included in research and development costs. Research and development costs incurred prior to determination of technological feasibility and marketability and after general release to the public and charged to expense were $52,232 and $37,080 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, included in General and administrative expenses.

We capitalize costs related to the development of computer software developed or obtained for internal use in accordance with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position ("SOP") 98-1, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use. Software obtained for internal use has generally been enterprise level business and finance software that we customize to meet our specific operational needs. We have not sold, leased, or licensed software developed for internal use to our customers and have no intention of doing so in the future.

We capitalize costs related to the development and maintenance of our website in accordance with Financial Accounting Standard Board's ("FASB's") Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") Issue No. 00-2, Accounting for Website Development Costs. Under EITF Issue No. 00-2, costs expensed as incurred are as follows:

- planning the website,
- developing the applications and infrastructure until technological feasibility is established,
- developing graphics such as borders, background and text colors, fonts, frames, and buttons,
- and
- operating the site such as training, administration and maintenance.

Capitalized costs include those incurred to:

obtain and register an Internet domain name, develop or acquire software tools necessary for the development work, develop or acquire software necessary for general website operations, develop or acquire code for web applications, develop or acquire (and customize) database software and software to integrate applications such as corporate databases and accounting systems into web applications, develop HTML web pages or templates, install developed applications on the web server, create initial hypertext links to other websites or other locations within the website, and test the website applications.

F-5

Table of Contents

We amortize website development costs on a straight-line basis over the estimated life of the site, generally 36 months. Total cumulative website development costs, included in other assets on our condensed consolidated balance sheets, were $105,308, less accumulated amortization of $53,815 at March 31, 2006.

NET REVENUE

We derive revenues from the sale of packaged software products, product support and multiple element arrangements that may include any combination of these items. We recognize software revenue for software products and related services in accordance with SOP 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition, as modified by SOP 98-9, Modification of SOP 97-2, With Respect to Certain Transactions. We recognize revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists (generally a purchase order), we have delivered the product, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable. In some situations, we receive advance payments from our customers. We defer revenue associated with these advance payments until we ship the products or offer the support.

In accordance with EITF Issue No. 01-9, Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer or a Reseller of the Vendor's Product, we generally account for cash considerations (such as sales incentives - rebates and coupons) that we give to our customers as a reduction of revenue rather than as an operating expense.

Product Revenue

We typically recognize revenue from the sale of our packaged software products when we ship the product. We sell some of our products on consignment to a limited number of resellers. We recognize revenue for these consignment transactions only when the end-user sale has occurred. Revenue for software distributed electronically via the Internet is recognized when the customer has been provided with the access codes that allow the customer to take immediate possession of the software on its hardware and evidence of the arrangement exists (web order).

Some of our software arrangements involve multiple copies or licenses of the same program. These arrangements generally specify the number of simultaneous users the customer may have (multi-user license), or may allow the customer to use as many copies on as many computers as it chooses (a site license). Multi-user arrangements, generally sold in networked environments, contain fees that vary based on the number of users that may utilize the software simultaneously. We recognize revenue when evidence of an order exists and upon delivery of the authorization code to the consumer that will allow them the limited simultaneous access. Site licenses, generally sold in non-networked environments, contain a fixed fee that is not dependent on the number of simultaneous users. Revenue is recognized when evidence of an order exists and the first copy is delivered to the consumer.

Many of our software products contain additional content that is "locked" to prevent access until a permanent access code, or "key," is purchased. We recognize revenue when evidence of an order exists and the customer has been provided with the access code that allows the customer immediate access to the additional content. All of the programs containing additional locked content are fully functional and the keys are necessary only to access the additional content. The customer's obligation to pay for the software is not contingent on delivery of the "key" to access the additional content.

We reduce product revenue for estimated returns and price protections that are based on historical experience and other factors such as the volume and price mix of products in the retail channel, trends in retailer inventory and economic trends that might impact customer demand for our products. We also reduce product revenue for the estimated redemption of end-user rebates on certain current product sales. Our rebate reserves are estimated based on the terms and conditions of the specific promotional rebate program, actual sales during the promotion, the amount of redemptions received and historical redemption trends by product and by type of promotional program. We did not offer any rebate programs to our customers during the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005 and maintain a reserve for rebate claims remaining unpaid from 2000 and 2001.

F-6

Table of Contents

Service Revenue

We offer several technical support plans and recognize support revenue over the life of the plans, generally one year.

Multiple Element Arrangements

We also enter into certain revenue arrangements for which we are obligated to deliver multiple products or products and services (multiple elements). For these arrangements, which include software products, we allocate and defer revenue for the undelivered elements based on their vendor-specific objective evidence (“VSOE”) of fair value. VSOE is generally the price charged when that element is sold separately.

In situations where VSOE exists for all elements (delivered and undelivered), we allocate the total revenue to be earned under the arrangement among the various elements, based on their relative fair value. For transactions where VSOE exists only for the undelivered elements, we defer the full fair value of the undelivered elements and recognize the difference between the total arrangement fee and the amount deferred for the undelivered items as revenue (residual method). If VSOE does not exist for undelivered items that are services, we recognize the entire arrangement fee ratably over the remaining service period. If VSOE does not exist for undelivered elements that are specified products, we defer revenue until the earlier of the delivery of all elements or the point at which we determine VSOE for these undelivered elements.

We recognize revenue related to the delivered products or services only if (i) the above revenue recognition criteria are met, (ii) any undelivered products or services are not essential to the functionality of the delivered products and services, (iii) payment for the delivered products or services is not contingent upon delivery of the remaining products or services, and (iv) we have an enforceable claim to receive the amount due in the event that we do not deliver the undelivered products or services.

Shipping and Handling Costs

We record the amounts we charge our customers for the shipping and handling of our software products as product revenue and we record the related costs as cost of sales on our condensed consolidated statements of operations.

Customer Service and Technical Support

Customer service and technical support costs include the costs associated with performing order processing, answering customer inquiries by telephone and through websites, email and other electronic means, and providing technical support assistance to our customers. In connection with the sale of certain products, we provide a limited amount of free technical support assistance to customers. We do not defer the recognition of any revenue associated with sales of these products, since the cost of providing this free technical support is insignificant. The technical support is provided within one year after the associated revenue is recognized and free product enhancements (bug fixes) are minimal and infrequent. We accrue the estimated cost of providing this free support upon product shipment and include it in cost of sales.

INCOME TAXES

We utilize SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. SFAS No. 109 requires the use of the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred income taxes are provided for the temporary differences between the financial reporting basis and the tax basis of our assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

EARNINGS PER SHARE

We follow SFAS No. 128, Earnings Per Share, to calculate and report basic and diluted earnings per share (“EPS”). Basic EPS is computed by dividing income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS is computed by giving effect to all dilutive potential shares of common stock that were outstanding during the period. For us, dilutive potential shares of common stock consist of the incremental shares of common stock issuable upon the exercise of stock options and warrants for all periods, convertible notes payable and the incremental shares of common stock issuable upon the conversion of convertible preferred stock.

Table of Contents

When discontinued operations, extraordinary items, and/or the cumulative effect of an accounting change are present, income before any of such items on a per share basis represents the “control number” in determining whether potential shares of common stock are dilutive or anti-dilutive. Thus, the same number of potential shares of common stock used in computing diluted EPS for income from continuing operations is used in calculating all other reported diluted EPS amounts. In the case of a net loss, it is assumed that no incremental shares would be issued because they would be anti-dilutive. In addition, certain options and warrants are considered anti-dilutive because the exercise prices were above the average market price during the period. Anti-dilutive shares are not included in the computation of diluted EPS, in accordance with SFAS No. 128. A total of 25,730,000 and 25,315,000 dilutive potential securities for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, have been excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per common share, as their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

RECLASSIFICATIONS

Certain accounts in our 2005 financial statements have been reclassified for comparative purposes to conform with the presentation in our 2006 financial statements.

NOTE 2 - INVENTORIES

At March 31, 2006, inventories consisted of the following:

Raw materials	$ 97,442
Finished goods	64,608
Inventories	$ 162,050

NOTE 3 - DERIVATIVES

At March 31, 2006, the derivative liability consisted of the following:

Warrant A	$ 59,820
Warrant B	1,337,215
Warrant C	1,274,299
Derivatives	$ 2,671,334

In May 2004, we issued a 3-year warrant (Warrant A) to purchase up to 600,000 shares of our common stock to a consultant. This warrant may be exercised on a cashless basis at the option of the warrant holder at a price per share of $0.15. We will receive up to $90,000 from the warrant holder upon the exercise of this warrant. This warrant has been accounted for as a liability according to the guidance of EITF 00-19 and the fair value of the warrant has been determined using the Black-Scholes valuation method with the assumptions listed in the table below.

In November 2004, we issued two 5-year warrants to purchase up to an aggregate of 21,875,000 shares of our common stock in connection with a certain Stock Purchase Agreement completed with a New York based private investment partnership on July 19, 2004. The first warrant (Warrant B) entitles the holder to purchase up to 10,937,500 shares of our common stock at a price of $0.18 per share, and the second warrant (Warrant C) entitles the holder to purchase up to 10,937,500 additional shares of our common stock at a price of $0.60 per share. Each warrant is subject to standard adjustment provisions and each provides for settlement in registered shares of our common stock and may, at the option of the holder, be settled in a cashless, net-share settlement. The warrant holder is prevented from electing a cashless exercise so long as there is an effective registration statement for the shares underlying these warrants. The maximum number of shares of our common stock to be received for each warrant in a net-share settlement would be 10,937,500 but the actual number of shares settled would likely be significantly less and would vary based on the last reported sale price (as reported by Bloomberg) of our common stock on the date immediately preceding the date of the exercise notice. These warrants are accounted for as a liability according to the guidance of EITF 00-19 and the fair value of each warrant has been determined using the Black-Scholes valuation method with the assumptions listed in the table below.

F-8

Table of Contents

	Warrant A	Warrant B	Warrant C
Expected term - years	1.08	3.30	3.30
Stock price at March 31, 2006	$ 0.13	$ 0.13	$ 0.13
Expected dividend yield	0%	0%	0%
Expected stock price volatility	235%	212%	212%
Risk-free interest rate	4.77%	4.71%	4.71%

The warrants are revalued at each balance sheet date by using the parameters above, reducing the expected term to reflect the passing of time, and using the stock price at the balance sheet date. Net fair value adjustments of $608,872 and $218,748 have been included in other expenses on the consolidated statements of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

NOTE 4 - INCOME TAXES

The provision (benefit) for taxes on net income for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005 consisted of the following:

	2006	2005
Current:
Federal	$ ---	$ ---
State	---	180
	---	180
Deferred:
Federal	31,844	(141,093)
State	(1,036)	(8,576)
	30,808	(149,669)
Total tax provision (benefit)	$ 30,808	$ (149,489)

NOTE 5 - STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITYCOMMON STOCK

In March 2006, we committed to issue a total of 145,154 restricted shares of common stock to each of our then outside directors (a total of 438,462 shares), at the closing price as of March 30, 2006 ($0.13), in lieu of cash payments of amounts accrued for their services as members of our board from the period of September 1, 2004 through March 31, 2006. This issuance was valued at $57,000.

COMMON STOCK WARRANTS

In March 2006, we committed to issue a 3-year warrant to purchase up to 300,000 restricted shares of our common stock with, at a price per share of $0.13, to our legal counsel, in lieu of cash as payment for certain accrued legal fees. This warrant was valued at $7,958 based on the negotiated fair value of the services provided as prescribed by SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payments, for share-based transactions with nonemployees.

NOTE 6 - EARNINGS PER COMMON SHARE

Earnings per common share are computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of shares of common stock and common stock equivalents outstanding during the year. Common stock equivalents are the net additional number of shares that would be issuable upon the exercise of our outstanding common stock options and warrants, assuming that we reinvested the proceeds to purchase additional shares at market value.

Warrants	---	---
Diluted weighted average shares outstanding	48,766,009	48,619,855

A total of 25,730,000 and 25,315,000 dilutive potential securities for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, have been excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per common share, as their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

NOTE 7 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

We are subject to legal proceedings and claims that arise in the ordinary course of our business. In the opinion of management, the amount of ultimate liability with respect to these actions will not materially affect our financial statements taken as a whole.

Our employment agreements with our management team each contain a provision for an annual bonus equal to 1% of our net income (3% total). We accrue this bonus on a quarterly basis. Our management team consists of our Chief Executive Officer (with a base annual salary of $150,000), our Chief Financial Officer (with a base annual salary of $110,000), and our Chief Technology Officer (with a base annual salary of $150,000). In addition to the bonus provisions and annual base salary, each employment agreement provides for payment of all accrued base salaries ($8,488 included in Other current liabilities at March 31, 2006), bonuses ($44,384 included in other current liabilities at March 31, 2006), and any vested deferred vacation compensation ($36,826 included in other current liabilities at March 31, 2006) for termination by reason of disability. The agreements also provide for severance compensation equal to the then base salary until the later of (i) the expiration of the term of the agreement as set forth therein or (ii) one year, when the termination is other than for cause (including termination by reason of disability). There is no severance compensation in the event of voluntary termination or termination for cause.

In 2003 and 2004, we reduced our reserve for rebates payable based, in part, on our ability to meet the financial obligation of claims carried forward from our last rebate program in 2001. As such, we may have a legal obligation to pay rebates in excess of the liability recorded.

NOTE 8 - RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Our future operating results may be affected by a number of factors. We depend upon a number of major inventory and intellectual property suppliers. If a critical supplier had operational problems or ceased making material available to us, operations could be adversely affected.

NOTE 9 - GOING CONCERN

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the United States applicable to a going concern. As of March 31, 2006, we had a net loss of $886,796, and negative working capital of $3,319,649 and $3,025,697, and an accumulated deficit of $8,638,893 and $7,752,097 as of March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005, respectively. Although these factors raise substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern through December 31, 2006, we have taken several measures to mitigate against this risk, including expanding our in-house telemarketing efforts to increase our direct-to-consumer revenue while at the same time reducing commissions paid to third-party telemarketing firms. In addition, we are focused on distilling both our sales and marketing, and general and administrative expenses to include only those providing the most return on investment. Finally, as indicated in Note 10, we have stopped the accrual of penalties associated with our registration statement and have negotiated extended payment terms for the penalties accrued.

NOTE 10 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On April 3, 2006, we entered into a consulting agreement with a company for investor relations services. The agreement carries a twelve-month term with either party having the option to terminate at the six-month anniversary. The agreement provides for a monthly cash payment of $7,500 and 500,000 restricted shares of common stock to be delivered during the first thirty days of the agreement term. In the event that the consultant does not complete the full twelve-month term, a pro-rata portion of 360,000 restricted shares of common stock will be returned to us.

On April 7, 2006, we signed a two-year, $336,000, 8% promissory note with the New York based institutional investor for payment of the unpaid registration rights penalties. The note agreement calls for monthly installments of $10,000, beginning May 1, 2006, for the first twelve months and $20,000 per month thereafter. Any overdue principal bears interest at 15% and is due on demand. The accrued, unpaid registration rights penalties at March 31, 2006 have been classified as long-term obligations.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

During the first quarter of 2006, we released two new editions of our flagship product, QuickVerse®. QuickVerse® 2006 Parable Edition, with a suggested retail price of $49.95, and QuickVerse® Bible Suite, with a suggested retail price of $29.95. QuickVerse® 2006 Parable Edition is sold exclusively at Parable® retail outlets and through Parable®'s website, at www.parable.com, and unlike other QuickVerse® editions, QuickVerse® 2006 Parable contains exclusive Parable® content such as Books That Change Lives and Standing Firm Devotional. QuickVerse® Bible Suite is sold exclusively to the secular market and appeals to those customers seeking their first Bible study software. Comparatively, during the first quarter of 2005, we released an upgrade to our top-selling financial and data management software, Membership Plus®. In addition, we introduced two new QuickVerse® editions, QuickVerse® 2005 Essentials, with a suggested retail price of $49.95, and QuickVerse® 2005 Platinum, with a suggested retail price of $799.95. Although we did not release an upgrade version of Membership Plus® during the first quarter of 2006, we do anticipate releasing one in late May or early June 2006. Despite our decreased gross revenues during the first quarter of 2006, and although there can be no assurance, we anticipate that revenues will increase throughout the 2006 fiscal year based upon the recent expansion of our internal development team, our development schedule for the fiscal year, and the broadened content made available for our QuickVerse® products.

Our software products are highly seasonal. More than 50% of our annual sales are expected to occur in the five months of September through January; the five months of April through August are generally our weakest, generating only approximately 29% of our annual sales.

Our gross profit decreased approximately $533,000 from a gross profit of approximately $1,168,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to a gross profit of approximately $635,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. Further, we incurred a net loss of approximately $887,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006, representing an increase of approximately $773,000 in our net loss from approximately $114,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. These negative results of operations are primarily attributable to the following:

For the three months ended March 31, 2006:

our gross revenues decreased approximately $802,000 to approximately $ 1,182,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 from approximately $1,984,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. This decrease is primarily attributable to the following:

the lack of product releases during the three months ended March 31, 2006 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2005;

a delay in our annual release of Membership Plus[®], which typically is released in the month of February, but due to the unexpected loss of our primary developer for Membership Plus[®], is anticipated for release in May or June 2006; and the early release of an upgrade to our flagship product, QuickVerse®, which was released in September 2005 (nine months following the release of our 2004 upgrade);

we incurred liquidated damage penalties of approximately $49,000 in connection with our failure to meet certain contractual registration obligations; and we recognized a loss of approximately $609,000 related to the fair value adjustment of derivatives.

Offsetting to some degree the negative results of operations detailed above were two positive developments during the three months ended March 31, 2006. First, our registration statement filed on Form SB-2, originally filed on November 22, 2004, was declared effective by the SEC on February 1, 2006, and therefore, the liquidated damage penalties have stopped accruing. Second, we were able to remain cash positive despite our decrease in gross revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

Revenues

We derive revenues from the sale of packaged software products, product support and multiple element arrangements that may include any combination of these items. Revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists (generally a purchase order), we have delivered the product, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable. For our packaged software products, we typically recognize revenue from the sale when we ship the product. We sell some of our products on consignment to a limited number of resellers. We recognize revenue for these consignment transactions only when the end-user sale has occurred. Service revenue resulting from technical support plans is recognized over the life of the plan, which is generally one year. Revenue associated with advance payments from our customers is deferred until we ship the product or offer the support service. Revenue for software distributed electronically via the Internet is recognized when the customer has been provided with the access codes that allow the customer to take immediate possession of the software on its hardware and evidence of the arrangement exists. For revenue arrangements involving multiple products or product and service packages, we allocate and defer revenue for the undelivered products or product and service packages based on their vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value, which is generally the price charged when that product or product and service package is sold separately.

We reduce product revenue for estimated returns and price protections that are based on historical experience and other factors such as the volume and price mix of products in the retail channel, trends in retailer inventory and economic trends that might impact customer demand for our products. Estimated returns are also based upon a percentage of total retail and direct sales. Direct sales accounted for approximately 61% of our 2005 fiscal year revenue. We account for cash considerations (such as sales incentives - rebates and coupons) that we give our customers as a reduction of revenue rather than as an operating expense. Product revenue is also reduced for the estimated redemption of end-user rebates on certain current product sales. We did not have any rebate programs during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Trends that our returns typically follow include (i) the seasonality of sales, and (ii) the fact that, generally, relatively higher return rates occur during periods of new title or title version releases. Historically, actual returns have been within management's prior estimates, however, we cannot be certain that any future write-offs exceeding reserves will not occur or that amounts written off will not have a material adverse effect on our business, our financial condition, including liquidity and profitability, and our results of operations. Management continually monitors and adjusts these allowances to take into account actual developments and sales results in the marketplace. In the past, particularly during title and title version transitions, we have had to increase price concessions to our retail customers.

Product returns from distributors and Christian bookstores are allowed primarily in exchange for new products or for credit towards purchases as part of a stock-balancing program. These returns are subject to certain limitations that may exist in the contract. Under certain circumstances, such as termination or when a product is defective, distributors and bookstores could receive a cash refund if returns exceed amounts owed. Returns from sales made directly to the consumer are accepted within 45 days of purchase and are issued a cash refund. Product returns, price protections or price concessions that exceed our reserves could materially adversely affect our business and operating results and could increase the magnitude of quarterly fluctuations in our operating and financial results. We anticipate implementing a price protection program within the third quarter of 2006 on our current QuickVerse® 2006 titles within the Christian Booksellers Association retail channel in order to prepare for our next updated release of QuickVerse® 2007. QuickVerse® 2007 is anticipated to be released in September 2006.

Software products are sold separately, without an obligation of future performance such as upgrades, enhancements or additional software products, and are sold with post contract customer support services such as customer service and technical support assistance. In connection with the sale of certain products, we provide a limited amount of free technical support assistance to our customers. We do not defer the recognition of any revenue associated with sales of these products, since the cost of providing this free technical support is insignificant. The technical support is provided within one year after the associated revenue is recognized and free product enhancements (bug fixes) are minimal and infrequent. We accrue the estimated cost of providing this free support upon product shipment and include it in cost of sales.

Shipping and handling costs in connection with our software products are expensed as incurred and included in cost of sales.

Revenues for Three Months Ended March 31	2006	% to Sales	2005	% to Sales	Change	%
Gross revenues	$ 1,182,071	100%	$ 1,984,036	100%	$ (801,965)	40%

Net revenues	$ 1,098,791	93%	$ 1,677,414	85%	$ (578,623)	34%

Gross revenues decreased approximately $802,000 from approximately $1,984,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $1,182,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. We believe that this decrease was primarily attributable to the lack of product releases during the three months ended March 31, 2006 as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2005. The following products were released during our corresponding first quarters:

First Quarter 2005

an enhanced version of our top financial and data management product, Membership Plus[®], including Membership Plus[®] Standard Edition, with a suggested retail price of $149.95, and Membership Plus[®] Deluxe Edition, with a suggested retail price of $349.95;
an enhanced version of QuickVerse[®] 2005 Essentials, with a suggested retail price of $49.95;
and QuickVerse[®] 2005 Platinum Edition, with a suggested retail price of $799.95.

First Quarter 2006

QuickVerse[®] 2006 Parable Edition, with a suggested retail price of $49.95; and QuickVerse[®] 2006 Bible Suite, with a suggested retail price of $29.95.

Of note, and generally, the retail price points for our products released during the three months ended March 31, 2006 were significantly less than those released during the three months ending March 31, 2005. Furthermore, due to the unexpected loss of our primary developer for Membership Plus[®] in May 2005, we have experienced a delay in our annual release of Membership Plus[®], which typically is released in the month of February. Membership Plus[®] 2006 is anticipated to be released at the end of May or early June 2006. Finally, we believe we experienced a decrease in gross revenues due to the early release of an upgrade to our flagship product, QuickVerse[®]. QuickVerse[®] 2006 was released in September 2005 nine months following our 2004 upgrade release of this product. In the past, we have experienced greater sales within the first quarter of the calendar year due to the then recent upgrade releases of our two main product lines, QuickVerse[®] and Membership Plus[®].

During each of the quarters ending March 31, 2005 and 2006, our sales efforts were focused on directly targeting end-users through telemarketing and Internet sales. Due to the consistency in our development schedule and the annual releases of our flagship product, QuickVerse[®], upgrade sales are not increasing at a rapid rate. However, we anticipate that revenues will increase through 2006 as we continue to expand the content available for our QuickVerse® products, develop new products for multiple platforms, and offer our products at a range of price points intended to appeal to various market sub-segments.

Sales returns and allowances decreased approximately $224,000 from approximately $307,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $83,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006, and decreased as a percentage of gross sales from approximately 15% for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately 7% for the three months ended March 31, 2006. This decrease is again mainly attributable to our lack of product releases during the three months ended March 31, 2006. Typically after a new product release, sales returns and allowances trend upward as distributors and retail stores will return old product in exchange for the new product release. With QuickVerse® 2006 shipping in September 2005 as compared to QuickVerse® 2005 in December 2004, just nine months earlier, we experienced a greater increase in sales returns and allowances during the fourth quarter of 2005. During the three months ended March 31, 2005 the following items contributed to the sales returns and allowances:

price protections afforded to consumers and retailers who had purchased prior versions of Membership Plus® and QuickVerse® within one year or less of our release of upgraded versions of each of Membership Plus®, in February 2005, and QuickVerse®, in September 2005. Historically, our product upgrades have extended over two to three years and therefore, price protections were not issued; and increased price points associated with products introduced.

Overall, we expect to release enhanced versions of our biggest-selling products on an annual basis generally going forward, and anticipate sales returns and allowances as a percentage of gross revenues to decrease over time as a result of increased stability in the functionality of our products, decreasing reliance on retail sales and increasing reliance on direct sales, which have historically resulted in fewer returns, and improved planning in the timing of new product version releases.

Cost of Sales

Cost of Sales for Three Months Ended
March 31	2006	% to Sales	2005	% to Sales	Change	%

Fulfillment	14,530	1%	15,279	1%	(749)	5%
Cost of sales	$ 463,612	39%	$ 508,785	26%	$ (45,173)	9%

Cost of sales consists primarily of royalties paid to third party providers of intellectual property and the direct costs and manufacturing overhead required to reproduce, package, fulfill and ship our software products. Direct costs and manufacturing overhead also include amortized software development costs and non-capitalized technical support wages. The direct costs and manufacturing overhead decreased approximately $17,000 from approximately $374,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $357,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and increased as a percentage of gross revenues approximately 11% for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The overall percentage increase resulted directly from amortization of software development costs. The amortization recognized during the three months ended March 31, 2006 resulted from several new software releases in 2005 and 2006 including Membership Plus® 2005, QuickVerse® Macintosh, Sermon Builder® 4.0, QuickVerse® 2006, QuickVerse® 2006 Mobile and QuickVerse® 2006 Bible Suite. The shorter timeframes between our product upgrades along with the increased amount of product releases led to the increased amount of amortization recognized. During the three months ended March 31, 2005 we continued to amortize the December 2004 release of QuickVerse® 2005 and the February 2005 release of Membership Plus® 2005. The direct costs and manufacturing overhead percentage are expected to continue at the 2005 levels as working capital remains more consistent and as more development projects are implemented in a shortened timeframe.

Fulfillment costs from a third-party warehouse and included in the manufacturing overhead costs noted above remained steady at approximately $15,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006. Our fulfillment center continues to improve its efficiency which has led to the steady rate in fulfillment costs, as well as a decrease in freight costs.

Table of Contents

Royalties paid to third party providers of intellectual property decreased approximately $28,000 from approximately $135,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $107,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and increased approximately 2% as a percentage of gross revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The overall percentage increase in royalties paid for the three months ended March 31, 2006 reflects the following:

sales of QuickVerse® 2005 editions to a liquidator in the first quarter of 2006 and no sales to a liquidator in the first quarter of 2005;
 our increased sales focus on the QuickVerse® product line which have associated royalty fees;
 and
 our decreased sales focus on the Membership Plus® product line, which has no associated royalty fees. We have experienced a delay in our annual upgrade release of Membership Plus® for the first quarter of 2006 and during the first quarter of 2005, we released an upgrade to Membership Plus® in February 2005.

The royalty rate as a percentage of gross sales is expected to increase in the future as sales to new users are expected to increase, more development projects are implemented for new and/or enhanced products, and as we continue to expand the content available for our QuickVerse® line of products. Upgrade sales will remain only subject to royalties on their content additions.

Software development costs are expensed as incurred as research and development until technological feasibility and marketability have been established, at which time development costs are capitalized until the software title is available for general release to customers. Software development is segregated by title and technology platform. Once a product has been successfully released, subsequent revisions and upgrades are deemed to constitute development, and, accordingly, the costs of the revision and upgrade are capitalized. Capitalized costs are amortized on a product-by-product basis using the greater of (i) straight-line amortization over the estimated life of the product or (ii) the ratio of current revenues from the product to the total projected revenue over the life of the product. Generally, we consider technological feasibility to have been established with the release of a beta version for testing.

Our software development costs for the three months ending March 31, 2005 and 2006 are summarized in the table below. These costs, consisting primarily of direct and indirect labor and related overhead charges, capitalized during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006, were approximately $265,000 and approximately $63,000, respectively. Accumulated amortization of these development costs, which were included in cost of sales, totaled approximately $183,000 and approximately $184,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively. The increase in the amortization is a result of the shorter timeframes between our product upgrades along with the increased amount of product releases. Furthermore, the decrease in the capitalized costs reflects that during the three months ended March 31, 2005 we were capitalizing the development costs related to our QuickVerse® Macintosh product line which was our first product for the Macintosh® platform.

With gross revenues decreasing approximately $802,000 from our three months ended March 31, 2005 to our three months ended March 31, 2006, total sales, general and administrative costs also decreased approximately $378,000 from approximately $1,063,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $685,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. Of the total sales, general and administrative costs, sales and marketing expenses decreased approximately $329,000 from approximately $428,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $99,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. Included in sales expenses, third-party telemarketing commissions decreased approximately $211,000 from approximately $271,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $60,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006, and decreased as a percentage of gross revenues from approximately 14% to approximately 5% for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively. This decrease is attributed to the use of our own in-house direct telemarketing sales team which was developed specifically to reduce our reliance on third-party telemarketing services. Advertising and direct marketing costs decreased approximately $118,000 from approximately $156,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $38,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and decreased as a percentage of gross revenues at from approximately 8% to approximately 3% for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively. The decrease in advertising and direct marketing costs reflect that there was no upgrade release to the Membership Plus® product line in the three months ended March 31, 2006 as compared to the Membership Plus® 2005 release in February of 2005. Advertising and direct marketing costs are expected to increase in future periods as we continue to enhance our product visibility online, increase and focus more on our direct marketing efforts, and increase the scope and frequency of our print advertising campaigns in order to maximize sales associated with new products and product enhancements throughout the coming year.

Research and development costs include direct production costs (including labor directly associated with the development projects), indirect costs (including allocated fringe benefits, payroll taxes, facilities costs and management supervision), and other direct costs (including costs of outside consultants, purchased software to be included in the software product being developed, travel expenses, material and supplies, and other direct costs). Software development costs related to third-party developers and direct labor expensed as research and development (see table above) amounted to approximately $37,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 compared to approximately $52,000 incurred for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The increase in 2006 reflects less research and development costs that were capitalized for the three months ended March 31, 2006 as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2005. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, we were capitalizing the development costs related to our QuickVerse[®] Macintosh product line, which was our first product for the Macintosh[®] platform. Research and development expenses are expected to increase in future periods as we continue to expand our internal development team, add new products and product versions, and as we continue to expand the array of platforms upon which our products are made available.

Table of Contents

Total personnel costs decreased approximately $14,000, from approximately $344,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005, to approximately $330,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. Direct salaries and wages also decreased approximately $49,000, from approximately $420,000 to approximately $371,000, over the same period. The decrease in direct salaries and wages was a direct result of losing our main developer for our Membership Plus® product line as well as the loss of our marketing manager. However, we are still focused on expanding our sales and marketing team, including additions to our own telemarketing sales team, and expanding our product development staff. As a percentage of gross revenues, direct salaries and wages increased approximately 10% from approximately 21% for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately 31% for the three months ended March 31, 2006. As a result of having restructured our health benefits plans in October 2005, our employment-related health care costs remained steady at approximately $32,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006. In July 2005, we initiated a Simple IRA retirement plan for our employees and for those who participated we decided to match up to 3% of the employee's annual gross pay. Therefore, we anticipate that our costs related to this benefit will increase in future periods as more employees take advantage of the retirement plan. The capitalization of direct and indirect labor and related overhead charges as software development costs (see "Cost of Sales" above) decreased by approximately $61,000 from approximately $99,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to approximately $38,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. This decrease reflects the development of our QuickVerse® Macintosh product line during the three months ended March 31, 2005, which was our first product for the Macintosh® platform. It is anticipated that personnel costs will continue to increase in future periods as operating capital is available and deployed to further fund the staffing requirements of our product development, marketing and direct sales teams.

Direct legal costs decreased approximately $10,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 as a result of our registration statement on Form SB-2, originally filed on November 22, 2004, having been declared effective by the SEC on February 1, 2006. It is anticipated that legal costs will increase in future periods as we continue to meet our ongoing SEC reporting and corporate governance obligations, hold our first annual meeting of shareholders in over five years, possibly raise additional capital, and pursue our business plan for growth by potentially acquiring other companies or product lines.

Accounting and audit related expenses increased approximately $27,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 as a result of engaging a new principal accounting firm for our year end 2005 audit. It is anticipated that accounting costs will continue to increase in the future as we expect that our fees payable to the new principal accounting firm, which we expect to utilize on an ongoing basis, will generally be higher than those payable to our former accounting firm.

Rent costs increased approximately $4,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 as a result of periodic percentage increase provisions in our leases agreements.

Telecommunications costs decreased approximately $11,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 as a result of our having switched our local and long-distance carriers beginning in February 2005. Our call volume enabled us to change our service to dedicated T-1 lines which in turn reduced our long-distance charges. We also invested in internet protocol phones for our remote locations which reduced the overall local and long distance charges in our Illinois and Iowa locations. Furthermore, we experienced a decrease in call volume in the technical support and customer service departments for the three months ended March 31, 2006 due to the delayed Membership Plus® upgrade release.

Finally, corporate service fees decreased approximately $15,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 resulting from the expiration of an independent consulting agreement and the resultant ability on our part to cease carrying the associated expense for a 2004 issuance to such consultant of a warrant to purchase 600,000 shares of common stock which had been allocated over the term of the agreement. We currently engage the services of an independent consultant and an investor relations firm and therefore, we expect these fees to increase in future periods.

Registration Rights Penalties

As of March 31, 2006, and in connection with a July 19, 2004 private placement with Barron Partners, LP and a certain Registration Rights Agreement, as amended, we have accrued a total of approximately $490,000 (284 days at $1,726 per day) in penalties under the terms of the Registration Rights Agreement, of which we have paid $150,000. On April 7, 2006, we signed a two-year promissory note for $336,000 together with simple interest at the rate of 8% per annum with Barron Partners for the unpaid registration rights penalties. The note agreement calls for monthly installments for the first twelve months of $10,000, beginning May 1, 2006 and $20,000 per month thereafter. The accrual and payment on the registration rights penalties has had a material adverse effect on our business, our financial condition, including liquidity and profitability, and our results of operations, including a corresponding reduction in our net income and the net loss for the quarter.

Derivatives

In November 2004, we issued two warrants to purchase an aggregate of 21,875,000 shares of our common stock in connection with a certain Stock Purchase Agreement completed with Barron Partners, LP, on July 19, 2004. The first warrant entitles the holder to purchase up to 10,937,500 shares of our common stock at a price of $0.18 per share, and the second warrant entitles the holder to purchase up to 10,937,500 additional shares of our common stock at a price of $0.60 per share. Each warrant is subject to standard adjustment provisions and each provides for settlement in registered shares of our common stock and may, at the option of the holder, be settled in a cashless, net-share settlement. These warrants have been accounted for as a liability according to the guidance of EITF 00-19, Accounting for Derivative Financial Instruments Indexed to, and Potentially Settled in, a Company's Own Stock. In accordance with the accounting mandate, the derivative liability associated with these warrants has been and shall continue to be, until each is either fully exercised or expires, adjusted to fair value at each balance sheet date and is accordingly reassessed at each such time to determine whether the warrants should be classified (or reclassified, as appropriate) as a liability or as equity. The fair value of each warrant was initially assessed at $2,187,500 ($4,375,000 total) using the Black-Scholes valuation method. At March 31, 2005 and 2006, the fair value of the derivative liability was approximately $2,188,000 and $2,671,000, respectively, and a fair value adjustment of approximately $219,000 and $609,000, respectively, has been included in other expenses for the quarters then ended.

Amortization

Amortization expenses remained steady at approximately $133,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2006. The software license acquired from TLC in July of 1999 (the "1999 license") is amortized over a 10 year useful life. Amortization expenses for 2005 and 2006 reflects the continual amortization of the software license as well as the amortization of our website, www.quickverse.com, which we launched during the second quarter of 2004.

Income Tax Benefits

Our effective tax rate differs from the statutory federal rate due to differences between income and expense recognition prescribed by the Internal Revenue Code and Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. We utilize different methods and useful lives for depreciating property and equipment. Changes in estimates (reserves) are recognized as an expense for financial reporting but are not deductible for income tax purposes.

We have recognized a net deferred tax asset whose realization depends on generating future taxable income. At March 31, 2006, management adjusted the amount of valuation allowance based on the assessment that we will produce sufficient income in the future to realize our net deferred tax asset. The resulting deferred tax liability reflects income taxes payable in future periods on the net deductible differences related to the 1999 license. We currently have net operating loss carryforwards, for income tax purposes, of approximately $8,462,000. The carryforwards are the result of income tax losses generated in 2000 ($2,338,000 expiring in 2020), 2001 ($5,168,000 expiring in 2021) and 2005 ($956,000 expiring in 2025). We will need to achieve a minimum annual taxable income, before deduction of operating loss carryforwards, of approximately $527,000 to fully utilize the current loss carryforwards. We believe this is achievable through careful expense management and continued introduction of new products and enhanced versions of our existing products.

Although there can be no assurance, management expects the deductible temporary differences (reserves) to reverse sometime beyond the next fiscal year.

Table of ContentsLiquidity And Capital Resources

Our primary needs for liquidity and capital resources are the funding of our continued operations, which includes the ongoing internal development of new products and expansion and upgrade of existing products. We believe our future cash provided by operations will be sufficient to fund our continued operations. However, our pursuit of future strategic product line and/or corporate acquisitions and licensing will require funding from outside sources. Funding from outside sources may include but is not limited to the exercise of outstanding warrants and pursuit of other financing options such as commercial loans, common stock and/or preferred stock issuances and convertible notes. At this time, we have no legally committed funds for future capital expenditures including software development.

Working Capital at March 31	2006
Current assets	$ 687,051
Current liabilities	$ 4,006,700
Retained deficit	$ (8,638,893)

As of March 31, 2006, we had approximately $687,000 in current assets, approximately $4,007,000 in current liabilities and a retained deficit of approximately $8,639,000. We had a loss before income taxes of approximately $856,000 and a net loss after income taxes of approximately $887,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. For the three months ended March 31, 2006, we had registration rights penalties of approximately $49,000 and a related loss of approximately $609,000 from the fair value adjustment of derivatives. See "Results Of Operations" above.

Cash Flows for Three Months Ended March 31	2006	2005	Change	%
Cash flows provided by operating activities	$ 6,878	$ 247,533	$ (240,655)	97%
Cash flows (used) by investing activities	$ (70,573)	$ (279,230)	$ 208,657	75%
Cash flows (used) by financing activities	$ (2,197)	$ (26,521)	$ 24,324	92%

Net cash provided by operating activities was approximately $248,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005, and approximately $7,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The decrease was primarily due to a decrease in the amounts received from customers resulting from decreased sales.

Net cash used in investing activities was approximately $279,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and approximately $71,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The decrease was mainly the result of our having capitalized fewer costs associated with software development.

Net cash used by financing activities was approximately $27,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005, and approximately $2,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The decrease reflects payments made on long-term note payables as well as the decreased balance for long-term note payables.

As part of the July 19, 2004 financing transaction with Barron Partners, LP, we entered into a certain Registration Rights Agreement pursuant to which we became committed to registering all of the shares issued as part of such transaction, including those issuable under each of two warrants. On November 22, 2004 we filed a registration statement on Form SB-2 covering the shares issued to Barron Partners, as well as the shares underlying the warrants issued to Barron Partners. On February 1, 2006, the SEC declared such registration statement effective. Due to continued delays in effectiveness of the registration statement (due principally to ongoing efforts made necessary by our determination to restate certain of our historical financial information), and in accordance with the Registration Rights Agreement, we accrued a total of approximately $490,000 (284 days at $1,726 per day) in penalties, of which, as of March 31, 2006, we had paid $150,000. On April 7, 2006, we signed a two-year promissory note for $336,000 together with simple interest at the rate of 8% per annum with Barron Partners for the unpaid registration rights penalties. The note agreement calls for monthly installments for the first twelve months of $10,000, beginning May 1, 2006 and $20,000 per month thereafter. The accrual and payment on the registration rights penalties has had a material adverse effect on our business, our financial condition, including liquidity and profitability, and our results of operations, including a corresponding reduction in our net income and the net loss for the quarter.

The Potential Impact of Known Facts, Commitments, Events and Uncertainties on Future Operating Results or Future Liquidity RequirementsNew Accounting Pronouncements

In the past, we have applied Accounting Principles Board (“APB”) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations in accounting as allowed by SFAS No 123, Accounting for Stock Based Compensation, for various forms of share-based awards including incentive and nonqualified stock options and stock appreciation rights attached to stock options; and therefore, no compensation cost had been recognized. However, in December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No 123 (R), Share-Based Payment, which replaces SFAS No. 123 and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25. SFAS No. 123 (R) requires compensation costs related to share-based payment transactions to be recognized in the financial statements. With limited exceptions, the amount of compensation cost will be measured based on the fair value on the grant date of the equity or liability instruments issued. Compensation cost will be recognized over the period that the service is provided for that award. This new standard became effective for us this first quarter of fiscal 2006.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

(a) Formation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures Officer Committee

Our Disclosure Controls and Procedures Officer Committee (the “Disclosure Policy Committee”) was formed in September 2002 and reports directly to our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer. The Disclosure Policy Committee has implemented disclosure controls and procedures that meet the standards established by Rule 13a-15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”).

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Disclosure Policy Committee is primarily responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures designed to ensure that the information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported in a timely manner as specified in the rules and forms set forth by the SEC and that the information required to be disclosed in our reports is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive and principal financial officers, or other persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures and Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

The Disclosure Policy Committee meets quarterly within one week of the last day of the period in which a given report is due. Members provide information that is documented in the Quarterly Control and Procedures Report for the period in which a quarterly 10-QSB or annual 10-KSB report is due. This report contains attestations and documentation in regard to the following:

- the fact that disclosure controls and procedures have been reviewed as of the end of the period covered by a given report;
- any concerns regarding weaknesses in disclosure controls and procedures;
- any concerns relating to events that may require disclosure;
- any concerns relating to internal fraud/defalcation;
- potential material losses;
- new off-balance sheet arrangements; and
- material amounts not reflected on the general ledger.

The Quarterly Control and Procedures Report is completed, signed and presented to the CEO and CFO prior to completion of the first draft of each 10-QSB and 10-KSB. Because material issues may occur between regularly scheduled quarterly meetings, this report is to be generated by the disclosure policy appropriate officers at anytime warranted. The CEO and CFO will consult with our Disclosure Policy Committee to determine any action that is necessary.

Our CEO and CFO have evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Exchange Act) as of the end of the fiscal quarter covered by this quarterly report on Form 10-QSB. Based on this evaluation, our CEO and CFO have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective and designed to ensure that the information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the requisite time periods.

During the course of their evaluation our CEO and CFO did not discover any fraud involving management or any other personnel who play a significant role in our disclosure controls and procedures. Furthermore, because there were no significant deficiencies and/or material weaknesses discovered no remedial measures were necessary or taken during the period covered by this report to correct any such deficiencies.

Table of Contents(c) Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

No changes in our disclosure controls and procedures, internal control over financial reporting or other factors have occurred during the fiscal quarter covered by this report that would materially affect or be reasonably likely to materially affect our disclosure controls and procedures or internal control over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATIONITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

As of the date of this quarterly report on Form 10-QSB for the period ended March 31, 2006, there were no pending material legal proceedings to which we were a party and we were not aware that any were contemplated. There can be no assurance, however, that we will not be made a party to litigation in the future. Moreover, there can be no assurance that our insurance coverage will prove adequate to cover all liabilities arising out of any claims that may be initiated against us in the future. Any finding of liability imposed against us coupled with a lack of corresponding insurance coverage is likely to have an adverse effect on our business, our financial condition, and including liquidity and profitability, and our results of operations.

We relied in each case for these unregistered sales on the private offering exemption of Section 4(2) of the Securities Act and/or the private offering safe harbor provision of Rule 506 of Regulation D promulgated thereunder based on the following factors: (i) the number of offerees or purchasers, as applicable, (ii) the absence of general solicitation, (iii) representations obtained from the acquirors relative to their accreditation and/or sophistication (or from offeree or purchaser representatives, as applicable), (iv) the provision of appropriate disclosure, and (v) the placement of restrictive legends on the certificates reflecting the securities coupled with investment representations obtained from the acquirors.
