Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 1. Nature of Business and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of business: Shenandoah Electronic Intelligence, Inc. and Subsidiaries (the Company) is composed of two main operational divisions, SEI Technology, Inc. (SEIT), a government services company, and Power Monitors, Inc. (PMI), an electronic equipment manufacturer. SEIT provides records management services, secure card printing, network design services, and network cabling services to federal customers, primarily the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). SEIT operates several records storage facilities that provide records storage, retrieval, processing and maintenance services. SEIT also operates card-printing facilities that produce secure identification cards using smart card technology. SEIT's network services group provides both data and telecommunications design consulting and installation services for federal facilities throughout the United States. PMI designs, manufactures and sells electronic equipment for monitoring and testing electricity to electric power utilities throughout the world. At March 31, 2004, the stock of PMI was distributed to the Company's stockholders. The net activity of PMI through March 31, 2004, and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, is included in the accompanying income statement as income (loss) from discontinued operations.

A summary of the Company's significant accounting policies follows:

Principles of consolidation: The consolidated financial statements of Shenandoah Electronic Intelligence, Inc., include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, SEI Technology, Inc. (SEIT), Power Monitors, Inc. (PMI), Shenandoah Tele-Presence, Inc. (STP), Stables at Goods Mill (SGM), and Shenandoah Services, L.C. (SSLC). As of October 31, 2002, the subsidiary corporation Shenandoah Tele-Presence Inc. (STP) was dissolved, and all residual assets were transferred to Shenandoah Electronic Intelligence, Inc. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. As of March 31, 2004, the common stock of Power Monitors, Inc. (PMI) was distributed, and all residual assets were transferred to the stockholders of SEI. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Revenue and cost recognition: Revenue from time and material contracts is recognized on the basis of man-hours utilized, plus other reimbursable contract costs incurred during the period. Revenue from firm fixed price contracts is recognized on the percentage-of-completion method. Under this method, individual contract revenue earned is measured by the percentage relationship that contract costs incurred bear to management's estimate of total contract costs. The Company provides currently for all known or anticipated losses on contracts. Revenue on product sales is recognized upon shipment.

Accounts receivable: Accounts receivable are generated primarily from prime and subcontracting arrangements with U.S. governmental agencies. Billed amounts represent invoices that have been prepared and sent to the customer. Unbilled amounts represent costs and anticipated profits awaiting milestones to bill. The provision for doubtful accounts is based on management's evaluation of the status of existing accounts receivable. All accounts receivable outstanding at October 31, 2004, and approximately 97% of the accounts receivable outstanding at December 31, 2003, are from prime and subcontracting arrangements with U.S. governmental agencies.

Billed accounts receivable are considered past due if the invoice has been outstanding more than 30 days. The Company does not charge interest on accounts receivable, however, U.S. governmental agencies pay interest on invoices outstanding more than 30 days. The Company records interest income from U.S. governmental agencies when received.

Inventories: Inventories consist of products manufactured for resale and are stated at the lower of cost or market. The Company uses the standard cost method for valuing its inventory. The standards are customarily reviewed and adjusted annually. Cost is determined on a first-in, first-out basis and market on a net realizable basis.

Property, equipment and depreciation and amortization: Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using the double declining balance method for all assets except the corporate jet disposed of in 2003, which was computed using the straight-line method, and is based on the estimated useful life of the asset when acquired.

Large deductible insurance policy: The Company has a large deductible insurance plan its workers compensation insurance. The Company is responsible up to the first $250,000 per loss event, and up to an aggregate deductible limit of $1,600,000. Exposure to risk of these types will be accrued, by a charge to expense, in the period in which a loss relating to that period or prior period becomes payable and the amount can be reasonably estimated.

Interest rate swap agreements: The fair value of interest rate swaps is the estimated amount that the financial institution would receive or pay to terminate the swap agreement at the reporting date, taking into account current interest rate and the current creditworthiness of the swap counter parties. During the year ended December 31, 2003, the interest rate swap agreement was terminated and the fair value of the agreement was paid to the financial institution.

Research and development: Research and development costs are expensed as incurred. During the ten months ended October 31, 2004, and the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, the Company incurred approximately $120,000, $461,000, and $353,000 of research and development costs. Research and development costs are related to the discontinued operations.

Income taxes: The Company has elected to be treated as an S-Corporation under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Consequently, the Company is not liable for Federal and state income taxes except to the extent that the Company operates in state jurisdictions that do not recognize S-Corporation status. For the income related to activity in these states, the Company has provided for the resulting income taxes. Otherwise the stockholders are liable individually for income taxes on the Company's income.

Estimates: The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Financial credit risk: The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which at times may exceed Federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

Fair value of financial instruments: For certain of the Company's nonderivative financial instruments, including notes receivable, notes payable and other accrued liabilities, the carrying amount approximates fair value. The estimated fair value of long-term debt is based primarily on borrowing rates currently available to the Company for similar debt issues. The fair value approximates the carrying value of long-term debt.

Valuation of long-lived assets: The Company accounts for the valuation of long-lived assets under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. SFAS No. 144 requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangible assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of the long-lived asset is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of the asset to future undiscounted net cash flows expects to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the estimated fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reportable at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value, less costs to sell.

Note 2. Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable as of October 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, consists of the following:

	2004		2003

Less Provision for Doubtful Accounts	100,000		105,000
Net Receivables	$ 13,792,926	$	17,417,342

Note 3. Inventories

A summary of inventories as of December 31, 2003, is as follows:

	2003
Raw materials	$ 265,005
Work-in-process	964
Finished goods	234,175
	500,144
Less provision for obsolete inventory	1,000
	$ 499,144

The inventories relate to the Company's Power Monitors, Inc. subsidiary. This subsidiary was disposed of in March 2004, hence, there was no inventory at October 31, 2004.

Note 4. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment, and accumulated depreciation and amortization at October 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, is as follows:

Asset Category	Estimated Useful Lives	2004	2003

Less accumulated depreciation and amortization		3,263,152	3,164,537
		$ 5,659,489	$ 6,611,293

Note 5. Impairment of Long-Lived Asset

During 2002 the Company examined its long-lived assets for appropriate carrying values. Based on this evaluation, the Company determined that the aircraft held at that time, which had a carrying amount of $3,032,413, was impaired and wrote it down by $400,000 to its estimated fair value. The estimated fair value was based on estimated market values of similar type aircraft, which would approximate estimated future cash flows if the asset were sold. In accordance with this impairment write-down, the asset value at December 31, 2002 was adjusted to its new cost basis of $2,632,413. The impairment cost of $400,000 is included in operating expenses on the consolidated statement of income and comprehensive income for the year ended December 31, 2002. This aircraft was sold during the year ended December 31, 2003, and the Company purchased a new aircraft.

Note 6. Debt

The Company has a Loan and Security Agreement and Revolving Line of Credit. The credit facility provides for borrowings up to $13,000,000 based upon certain eligible billed government receivables, eligible receivables under certain sub-contracts, certain commercial eligible receivables, and certain eligible unbilled receivables. The revolving line of credit matures on June 30, 2005. These credit facilities are secured by substantially all of the Company's assets and are guaranteed by one of its stockholders. The outstanding balance on the line of credit at October 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 was $3,237,767 and 7,462,907, respectively. Interest accrues at LIBOR plus 2.0% (3.84% at October 31, 2004). The Company is subject to certain covenants under the line of credit. Under the terms of an amendment to the May 4, 2001 agreement, the Company has the right to apply for standby letters of credit up to a maximum amount of $1,500,000. On April 16, 2004, the Company guaranteed a $500,000 note between Power Monitors, Inc. and Wachovia Bank. The note shall mature and be due and payable May 15, 2005. The note calls for monthly payments of accrued interest. All principal and accrued interest shall be due and payable on May 31, 2005.

During the year ended December 31, 2000 the Company borrowed $2,974,000 from another financial institution to finance the purchase of a corporate jet. The obligation called for monthly payments of principal and interest through January 1, 2005, with a final balloon payment due February 1, 2005. Interest was charged on unpaid principal at LIBOR, plus a margin of 1.9%. The Company had entered into an interest rate swap agreement, which fixes the interest rate charged on this note to 9.25% . The loan was secured by a first security interest in the aircraft and was guaranteed by the Company and one of its stockholders. During the year ended December 31, 2003, this note was paid off with the sale of the aircraft. The associated interest rate swap agreement was also paid off and terminated during the year.

On March 31, 2003, the Company borrowed $5,251,320 from a financing company to finance the purchase of a new corporate jet. This obligation calls for monthly payments of principal and interest of $47,573 through March 2013, with a final balloon payment of $1,619,768 due April 1, 2013. Interest is charged at the rate of 5.64% per annum. The loan is secured by a first security interest in the aircraft.

The note payable balances on long-term debt listed above at October 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, are as follows:

	2004	2003
Note payable for aircraft	$ 4,797,475	$ 5,041,376
Note payable for equipment	$ 71,140	$ 7,894
	$ 4,868,615	$ 5,049,270

Principal maturities on long-term debt outstanding at October 31, 2004, is as follows:

Years Ending October 31,
2005	$ 379,327
2006	326,025
2007	344,895
2008	364,858
2009	385,977
Thereafter	3,067,533
	$ 4,868,615

In October 2002, a bank issued to an insurance company an Irrevocable Standby Letter of Credit in the amount of $428,943 which was subsequently amended to $1,058,943 as of October 31, 2004, on behalf of the Company. The Letter of Credit expires in October 2005 and is automatically renewed for one-year periods until notified not to extend. The Letter of Credit fulfills the security deposit requirement for the Company's self-funded workers compensation insurance.

Note 7. Cash Flow Hedge

Through March 2003, the Company had entered into an interest rate swap transaction with a financial institution to reduce the impact of changes in interest rates on its floating rate associated with its aircraft financing for the aircraft previously held and disposed of during the year ended December 31, 2003.

The swap transaction had an original total notional principal amount of $2,974,000. This agreement effectively fixed the interest rate charged on this debt to 9.25%. The interest rate swap agreement had a maturity and a payment schedule equal to the related debt on the Company's previously held corporate jet. Therefore, the cash flow hedge was effective. During the year ended December 31, 2003, the Company terminated its swap transaction and paid to the financial institution the fair value of the instrument at the time of termination, calculated to be $309,100. The termination was made in accordance with the settlement of the related debt on the Company's previously held corporate jet.

Edgar Filing: SI INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 8-K/A

Note 8. Profit Sharing Plan

The Company has a 401(k) profit sharing plan covering substantially all employees. The plan has provisions for both 401(k) matching contributions and profit sharing contributions. Both types of contributions are at the discretion of the Board of Directors. Vesting begins at 20% after two years of service, with an additional 20% for service in years three through six. The Company contributed Profit sharing contributions for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, were $400,000 and $475,000, respectively. There was no profit sharing contribution for the ten months ended October 31, 2004.

Note 9. Large Deductible Insurance Policy

The Company has a large deductible insurance plan for workers compensation insurance. The Company is responsible for its per event deductible up to a maximum of $250,000 per event and up to $1,600,000 in the aggregate. ### Note 10. Commitments and Contingencies

Leasing arrangements: The Company leases operating facilities, office equipment, and automotive equipment under noncancelable operating leases. Some of the leases provide for future rent increases based upon the Consumer Price Index, and the Company's share of real estate taxes. Office and operating facilities rent expense for the ten months ended October 31, 2004, and the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, were $714,464, $992,434, and $800,620, respectively. One of the leases is with a stockholder of the Company. Rent expense charged to operations under this lease agreement was approximately $0, $1,100, and $10,140 for the ten months ended October 31, 2004, and the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, as rent is charged to the stockholder directly for the periods not in use by the Company. The terms of the lease extend through August 2007.

The Company is obligated under all noncancelable leases, as follows:

Years Ending October 31,
2005	$	476,154

Net receivables from these three customers totaled $7,611,033 and $14,593,871 at October 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, respectively.

Note 12. Distributions

In accordance with the Company's election to be treated as an S-Corporation under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code, the Company intends to distribute funds to the stockholders in 2004. Subsequent to October 31, 2004, $1,062,262 was declared as a dividend to the stockholders.

Note 13. Due From Officer

The Company advances funds to the stockholders in anticipation of declaring dividends. As such, the amounts advanced have been reflected as a reduction of stockholders' equity.

Note 14. Contract Issues

The Company is a major subcontractor and team member with two other companies on a fixed price/fixed price per unit contract with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), formerly operating as the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). The contract contains clauses that affect the fixed unit price per piece based upon the volume of pieces processed. Volume increases in the base year and the first six months of option year one above the proposed baseline volume will result in additional revenue for the Company. The Company and their team members have been involved in contract negotiations with the former INS since October 2002 on this and other related contract issues that have an impact on revenue and profit. In March 2004, the Company and DHS terminated formal contract discussions relating to these outstanding contract issues. On July 1, 2004, the Company together with their team members filed five Certified Claims that they feel are due the team members for work performed and for increased volumes as defined by the statement of work incorporated into the contract. These certified claims were amended on October 1, 2004, for work through June 17, 2004 (through the second option year of the contract). These claims include Request for Equitable Adjustment for the contract start up delay, award fees earned and not paid, File Room volume adjustments and work relating to new forms processed at the direction of DHS outside the scope of work. The values of these claims are approximately $35 million with the Company's share being $16 million if all were paid. Any additional revenue will be recognized when a quantifiable date and amount can be determined. All associated costs relating to claims have already been recognized in the operating cost over the past three calendar years.

Note 15. Discontinued Operations

In accordance with an agreement dated on March 12, 2004, the Company agreed to distribute all outstanding shares of its stock in Power Monitors, Inc. on a pro-rata basis to the SEI stockholders. SI International*Notes to Pro Forma Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements*Balance Sheet:

A. Contemporaneously with the closing of the acquisition of SEI, the Company amended and restructured its prior credit facility and increased its borrowing capacity to $160 million, which is comprised of a $60 million five-year revolving credit facility and a $100 million six-year term loan. The adjustment reflects the term loan borrowings of $100 million and the repayment of the outstanding balance under the revolving credit facility.

B. The adjustment reflects the elimination of assets and a related note payable retained by the former SEI shareholders.

C. The adjustment reflects the cash paid by the Company representing the purchase price of the acquisition plus costs associated with the transaction. The total purchase price of $75.5 million includes payment to SEI shareholders of $74.7 million and other transaction costs of approximately $0.8 million.

D. The adjustment reflects the financing fees paid by the company in connection with amending and restructuring its prior credit facility. The fees of $3.2 million are deferred and amortized over the life of the loan.

E. The adjustments reflect the recording of the new goodwill as a result of the acquisition. The new goodwill of $58.0 million is detailed in the table below and is calculated as the excess of purchase price, including transaction costs, over the estimated fair value of the net assets acquired. Goodwill will not be amortized in accordance with FAS 142 but will be subject to annual impairment tests.

Purchase price	$	74.7 million
Transaction costs		0.8 million
Less: net assets acquired		5.3 million
Less: contract intangibles		12.2 million
Total goodwill	$	58.0 million

F. The adjustment reflects the estimated fair value of SEI's intangible assets associated with Contractual Customer Relationships. These intangible assets will be amortized over a period of 14 years, which represents the estimated economic useful lives of the assets.

- G. The adjustment reflects the elimination of SEI equity accounts in consolidation.
- H. The adjustment reflects the repayment of SEI debt including accrued interest.
- I. The adjustment reflects the surrender of all cash on hand to former SEI shareholders.

Statement of Operations for the year ended December 25, 2004:

- J. The adjustment reflects the amortization of SEI's intangible assets. Refer to Note F above.
- K. The adjustments reflect the elimination of interest expense recorded by SEI and the pro forma interest expense and amortization of finance costs for additional funds borrowed by the Company to consummate the acquisition. The interest rate is estimated at 5.75% per annum based on the applicable LIBOR rate as of the date of the transaction and the finance costs will be amortized over the life of the loan using the interest method.
- L. The adjustment reflects the application of the Company's 39.5% effective tax rate.
