CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICY AND ESTIMATES. Our Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations section discusses our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of these financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. On an on-going basis, management evaluates its estimates and judgments, including those related to revenue recognition, accrued expenses, financing operations, and contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates and judgments on historical experience and on various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. The most significant accounting estimates inherent in the preparation of our financial statements include estimates as to the appropriate carrying value of certain assets and liabilities which are not readily apparent from other sources. These accounting policies are described at relevant sections in this discussion and analysis and in the notes to the financial statements included in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB for the period ended September 30, 2003.

Our business is to offer a full range of business consulting services in the retail automobile fueling industry. Our plan has been to offer advice and assistance on issues of business strategy and development of high-volume, multi-revenue source, retail automobile fueling centers or "Superstations". Superstations typically include retail fueling facilities, quick service restaurants, car wash facilities and a convenience store. We intended to provide services to owners of existing fueling stations who desire to convert their facilities into a Superstation, as well as to parties who are not currently engaged in the retail sale of motor fuel but wish to establish fueling facilities. We anticipated that a majority of our revenue would be derived from fees paid by clients for our advice, services and business development products.

We have also contemplated acquiring a third party, merging with a third party or pursuing a joint venture with a third party in order to support our development. Accordingly, we have been researching potential acquisitions or other suitable business partners which will assist us in realizing our business objectives. We hope to enter into various asset acquisitions with another entity, or other third parties which we hope will diversify our business operations and increase our profitability and improve our total value to our shareholders. We cannot guaranty that we will acquire any other third party in lieu of that transaction, or that in the event that we acquire another entity, this acquisition will increase the value of our common stock. We intend to continue providing our business consulting services to the retail automotive fueling industry.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES. We had cash of $331,632 as of September 30, 2003, along with interest receivable of $35,308. Our total current assets as of September 30, 2003 were $366,940, as were our total assets. Our total current liabilities were $46,614 as of September 30, 2003, which was represented by accounts payable and accrued expenses of $11,614 and $35,000 in a note payable with an unrelated third party, which we entered into on September 25, 2003, which is due on December 25, 2003 and bears interest at the rate of 8%. On September 9, 2003, we have received the proceeds of a convertible note payable in the amount of $350,000, for issuance of a convertible note payable to a third party investor. Pursuant to the terms of the note, the principal is due and payable on March 9, 2005 together with interest at the rate of 8% per year. The note also contains a conversion features that will provide the holder the right to convert all or any portion of the principal indebtedness into shares of $.001 par value common stock on or before March 9, 2005. The conversion unit price is $1.00 per share. We had no other long term commitments or contingencies.

FOR THE THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2003 AND 2002.

REVENUES. For the three month period ended September 30, 2003, we realized no revenues from providing consulting services.

OPERATING EXPENSES. For three month period ended September 30, 2003, our total operating expenses were $14,287. Those expenses were represented by $13,638 in legal and professional fees, and $605 in occupancy expenses and $44 in office supplies expenses. We also had $2,372 in interest expense. Therefore, for the three month period ended September 30, 2003, we experienced a loss from operations of $16,659. With $1,646 as a provision for income tax expense, we had a net loss of $18,305. This is in comparison to the three month period ended September 30, 2002, where our total operating expenses were $58,237. That amount was represented by $18 in consulting services, $57,539 in legal and professional fees, and $605 in occupancy expenses and $75 in office supplies expenses. We also had $40,000 in interest income and $40,820 in interest expenses, making our net loss $59,057. During 2002, we entered into an agreement to acquire another company however, the transaction was never consummated. Our operation expenses were significantly lower for the three month period ended September 30, 2003, as compared to the same period ended September 30, 2002 because we were in the process of making arrangements to conclude that acquisition, for which we incurred significant general and administrative expenses. In order to either continue operations or enter into a similar agreement with another entity, we anticipate we will continue to incur significant general and administrative expenses.

FOR THE NINE MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2003.

REVENUES. For the nine month period ended September 30, 2003, we realized no revenue from our operations.

OPERATING EXPENSES. For the nine month period ended September 30, 2003, our operating expenses were $39,190. This was represented primarily by legal and professional fees of $37,235, along with occupancy expenses of $1,815 and office supplies and expenses of $140. In comparison, for the nine month period ended September 30, 2002, our operating expense were $86,870, which were represented mostly by legal and professional fees of $74,499, consulting expenses of $9,104, occupancy expenses of $1,815 and office expenses of $1,452. We also had interest income of $41,753 and interest expense of $42,609 making our net loss from operations $87,726. The decrease in operating expenses is due to the fact that during 2002 we were positioned to acquire another company.

OUR PLAN OF OPERATION FOR THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS. We had cash of $331, 632 as of September 30, 2003. In the opinion of management, available funds will satisfy our working capital requirements through the next twelve months. Our forecast for the period for which our financial resources will be adequate to support our operations involves risks and uncertainties and actual results could fail as a result of a number of factors. Because we were not able to complete the proposed acquisition during 2002 as described, we raised additional capital to continue operations.

We have been researching potential acquisitions or other suitable business partners which will assist us in realizing our business objectives. We hope to enter into various asset acquisitions with another entity, or other third parties which we hope will diversify our business operations and increase our profitability and improve our total value to our shareholders. We cannot guaranty that we will acquire any other third party in lieu of that transaction, or that in the event that we acquire another entity, this acquisition will increase the value of our common stock. We intend to continue providing our business consulting services to the retail automotive fueling industry.

We are not currently conducting any research and development activities and do not anticipate conducting such activities in the near future. We do not anticipate hiring additional employees or independent contractors unless we are able to expand our current operations. Until recently, we had been focusing our efforts on completing the acquisition described herein. We do not anticipate that we will purchase or sell any significant equipment.
