HOUSEVALUES, INC.

PROXY STATEMENT

FOR

2008 ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

INFORMATION CONCERNING SOLICITATION AND VOTING

General

This proxy statement is being furnished in connection with the solicitation by the Board of Directors of HouseValues, Inc. (HouseValues) of proxies for use at the 2008 Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the Annual Meeting) to be held at HouseValues principal executive offices located at 11332 NE 122nd Way, Kirkland, WA 98034 at 10:00 a.m. local time on May 29, 2008. It is expected that this proxy statement and the accompanying proxy card will be mailed to shareholders on or about April 29, 2008.

Record Date and Outstanding Shares

Shareholders who owned our common stock at the close of business on Friday, April 14, 2008 are entitled to attend and vote at the Annual Meeting. On that date, 24,172,013 shares of common stock were issued and outstanding.

Revocability of Proxies

If you give your proxy card to us, you have the power to revoke it at any time before it is exercised. Your proxy card may be revoked by:

notifying the Secretary of HouseValues in writing before the Annual Meeting;

delivering to the Secretary of HouseValues before the Annual Meeting a signed proxy card with a later date; or attending the Annual Meeting and voting in person.

Quorum and Voting

The presence at the Annual Meeting, in person or by proxy, of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of common stock outstanding on the record date will constitute a quorum for purposes of conducting business at the Annual Meeting. Abstentions and broker nonvotes will be included in determining the presence of a quorum at the Annual Meeting.

For the proposal relating to the election of directors, the nominees for election to the Board of Directors who receive the greatest number of affirmative votes cast by holders of common stock present, in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting, will be elected to the Board of Directors. You are not entitled to cumulate votes in the election of directors.

Edgar Filing: HouseValues, Inc. - Form DEF 14A

You are entitled to one vote for each share of common stock you held as of the record date. If your shares are represented by proxy, they will be voted in accordance with your directions. If your proxy is signed and returned without any directions given, your shares will be voted in accordance with our recommendations.

We are not aware, as of the date of this Proxy Statement, of any matters to be voted on at the Annual Meeting other than as stated in this Proxy Statement and the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting of Shareholders. If any other matters are properly brought before the Annual Meeting, the enclosed proxy gives discretionary authority to the persons named in it to vote the shares in their best judgment.

Other than for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum, abstentions and broker nonvotes will have no effect on the proposals to be voted on at the Annual Meeting because they will not represent votes cast at the Annual Meeting for the purposes of voting on such proposals. Broker nonvotes occur when a person holding shares through a bank or brokerage account does not provide instructions as to how his or her shares should be voted and the broker either does not exercise, or is not permitted to exercise, discretion to vote those shares on a particular matter. Brokers may exercise discretion to vote shares as to which instructions are not given with respect to the election of directors.

If the Annual Meeting is postponed or adjourned for any reason, at any subsequent reconvening of the Annual Meeting, all proxies will be voted in the same manner as the proxies would have been voted at the original convening of the Annual Meeting, except for any proxies that have at that time effectively been revoked or withdrawn, notwithstanding that they may have been effectively voted on the same or any other matter at a previous meeting.

Solicitation of Proxies

Proxies may be solicited by certain of our directors, officers and regular employees, without payment of any additional compensation to them. Proxies may be solicited by personal interview, mail, electronic mail or telephone. HouseValues will bear any costs relating to such solicitation of proxies. In addition, HouseValues may reimburse banks, brokerage firms and other persons representing beneficial owners of shares of common stock for their expenses in forwarding proxy materials to such beneficial owners.

PROPOSAL 1 ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

In accordance with our Bylaws, the Board of Directors shall be composed of not less than five nor more than ten directors, the specific number to be set by resolution of the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors is currently composed of five directors, divided into three classes as follows: three Class 1 directors, one Class 2 director and one Class 3 director. Directors will be elected for three-year terms that are staggered such that a portion of the directors are elected each year. Generally, one class of directors will be elected each year by our shareholders. Each director will hold office until the election and qualification of his or her successor or upon earlier resignation or removal. This year, the terms of three Class 1 directors expire. Accordingly, three nominees for the Board of Directors will be elected at the Annual Meeting to serve as Class 1 directors for three-year terms expiring in 2011. The Board of Directors may add additional directors when it identifies suitable candidates who are willing to serve as directors of HouseValues. Additional directorships resulting from an increase in the number of directors will be distributed among the three classes, so that as nearly as possible each class will consist of an equal number of directors.

Biographical information for our Board of Directors is set forth below. Ages listed are as of April 11, 2008.

The Board of Directors has no reason to believe that the nominees named below will be unable to serve as directors. If, however, any nominee should be unwilling or unable to serve, the persons named as proxies will have discretionary authority to vote for the election of such substitute nominees as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

Unless authority to do so is withheld, the persons named as proxies on the accompanying proxy card will vote FOR the election of the nominees listed below.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE
Independence of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors has reviewed the relationships between HouseValues and each of its directors and has determined that all of the directors other than Mr. Powell, who formerly served as our Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Morris, who currently serves as our Chief Executive Officer, are independent as that term is defined in the listing standards of The Nasdaq Stock Market.

Board Attendance

During 2007, there were five meetings of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors acted six times by written consent in 2007. Each of our directors attended, during the term of his directorship, at least 75% of the aggregate of (a) the total number of meetings of the Board of Directors and (b) the total number of meetings held by each of the committees on which he served in 2007. HouseValues does not have a formal policy with regard to director attendance at its Annual Meeting of Shareholders, but strongly encourages each director to attend, barring unavoidable scheduling conflicts. One director attended the 2007 Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Director Compensation

The Board established director cash and equity compensation arrangements for our non-employee directors that are designed and implemented to ensure we both attract and retain high quality board members. The programs consist of an annual cash retainer for non-employee directors, an additional annual cash retainer for committee chairs, Board and committee meeting fees and an annual stock option grant. Directors who are employees of our company receive no additional or special remuneration for serving as directors.

Cash Component

Non-employee directors are entitled to receive the following cash compensation annually, in addition to reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses:

	Annual Retainer ($)	Fees for in-person meeting attendance ($)	Fees for meeting attendance via teleconference ($)

Compensation	4,000	500	250
Nominating and Corporate Governance	1,000	500	250
Committee Members		500	250

Equity Component

Non-employee directors are granted annually a stock option to purchase 10,000 shares of our common stock. The options are granted under our 2004 Equity Incentive Plan at the beginning of the year and vest in one year. The unvested portion of such options would automatically become fully vested and exercisable in the event of certain corporate transactions, such as a merger or sale of assets. In addition, Messrs. Mendenhall and Gacek were granted stock options effective with their appointments to our Board of Directors in 2004.

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee is composed of three independent directors. The Audit Committee assists the Board of Directors by overseeing our accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits of our financial statements and reviewing the financial information to be provided to our shareholders and others. Among other duties specified in its written charter, the Audit Committee:

selects, appoints and oversees the outside independent registered public accounting firm (auditor), resolves disagreements between management and the outside auditor regarding financial reporting, approves the compensation of the outside auditor, and, as necessary, reviews and approves the discharge of the outside auditor;

reviews our audited financial statements, filing of reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and earnings press releases prior to issuance, filing or publication; and reviews and approves all related person transactions, as that term is defined in Item 404 of Regulation S-K.

The Board of Directors has determined that, under the rules of the SEC and the Nasdaq listing standards, all of the members of the Audit Committee are independent and financially literate. The Board of Directors has also determined that Mr. Gacek meets the SEC criteria for audit committee financial expert.

The Audit Committee held five meetings in 2007 and took action by written consent once.

Compensation Committee

Our Compensation Committee is composed of three directors. The Compensation Committee has overall responsibility for approving and evaluating compensation plans, policies and programs for our executive officers. The Compensation Committee may delegate authority to one or more designated members of the Board or HouseValues officers. Among other duties specified in its written charter, the Compensation Committee:

develops executive compensation philosophy and establishes and annually reviews and approves policies regarding executive compensation programs and practices;

reviews and approves corporate goals and objectives relevant to the Chief Executive Officer's compensation, evaluates the Chief Executive Officer's performance in light of those goals and objectives and determines the Chief Executive Officer's compensation based on this evaluation;

reviews and approves annual compensation for the other executive officers based on established plans and philosophy and recommendation from the Chief Executive Officer;

establishes and administers annual and long-term incentive compensation plans for executive officers and directors; and administers our 1999 Stock Incentive Plan and 2004 Equity Incentive Plan.

As discussed in more detail in the section titled Compensation Discussion and Analysis Roles Related to Executive Compensation, our Chief Executive Officer and executive officers have a role in recommending the amount and form of compensation for executive officers.

HouseValues retains Towers, Perrin, Forster & Crosby, Inc. (Towers Perrin) as directed by the Compensation Committee, to act as an independent compensation consultant. Towers Perrin works with management and the Compensation Committee on compensation program design and provides information on comparative market data and industry best practices on compensation practices and programs.

Each of the Compensation Committee members is (i) independent in accordance with applicable listing standards of The Nasdaq Stock Market, (ii) a non-employee director within the meaning of Rule 16b-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and (iii) an outside director within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code.

approve and recommend director candidates to the Board of Directors;

develop, update as necessary and recommend to the Board of Directors corporate governance principles and policies applicable to us and monitor compliance with such principles and policies; and

To nominate a director for election to the Board of Directors at an Annual Meeting of Shareholders, a shareholder must deliver written notice of such nomination to the Secretary of HouseValues not fewer than 60 days nor more than 90 days prior to the anniversary date of the prior year's Annual Meeting of Shareholders. If the date of the Annual Meeting of Shareholders is advanced more than 30 days prior to or delayed by more than 30 days after the anniversary of the preceding year's Annual Meeting of Shareholders, notice of director nominations by a shareholder must be delivered not more than 90 days nor less than the later of (a) the 60th day prior to such annual meeting or (b) the tenth day following the day on which the notice of the date of the Annual Meeting of Shareholders was mailed or such public disclosure was made.

The notice of a shareholder's intention to nominate a director must include: (a) the name and address of the shareholder; (b) a representation that the shareholder is entitled to vote at the meeting at which directors will be elected; (c) a statement of the number of HouseValues shares that are beneficially owned by the shareholder; (d) a representation that the shareholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the person or persons specified in the notice; and (e) the following information with respect to the person nominated by the shareholder: (i) name and address; (ii) other information regarding such nominee as would be required in a proxy statement filed pursuant to applicable rules promulgated by the SEC; (iii) a description of any arrangements or understandings between the shareholder and the nominee and any other persons (including their names), pursuant to which the nomination is made; and (iv) the consent of each such nominee to serve as a director if elected.

If necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, the committee will determine appropriate means for seeking additional director candidates, which may involve the engagement of any outside consultant to assist the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee in the identification of director candidates. In the event of a vacancy on the Board of Directors, the Chairman of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee shall initiate the effort to identify appropriate director candidates.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will evaluate director nominees, including nominees that are submitted by shareholders, taking into consideration certain qualifications, including the following:

training, experience and ability at making and overseeing policy in business, government and/or education sectors;

willingness and ability to devote the required time and effort to effectively fulfill the duties and responsibilities related to Board and committee membership;

willingness not to engage in activities or interests that may create a conflict of interest with a director's responsibilities and duties to HouseValues and its constituents; and willingness to act in the best interests of HouseValues and its constituents, and objectively assess Board, committee and management performances.

In addition, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will consider the following factors, among others, when determining Board needs and evaluating director candidates to fill such needs: the nominee's independence, diversity, professional and public company board and committee experience, industry knowledge, accounting or financial skills and expertise and size of the Board.

TRANSACTIONS WITH RELATED PARTIES

None.

REVIEW, APPROVAL OR RATIFICATION OF TRANSACTIONS WITH RELATED PARTIES

On an annual basis, each of our directors and executive officers must complete a Director and Officer Questionnaire that requires disclosure of any transaction, arrangement or relationship, or any current proposed transaction, arrangement or relationship, with HouseValues since the beginning of the last fiscal year in which the director or executive officer, or any member of his or her immediate family, had a direct or indirect material interest. Any transaction, arrangement or relationship disclosed in the Director and Officer Questionnaire submitted by a director or executive officer is reviewed and considered by the Board of Directors in making independence determinations with respect to directors and resolving any conflicts of interest that may be implicated.

Our directors and executive officers are expected to disclose to the Chairman of the Board or Chief Executive Officer the material facts of any transaction that could be considered a related person transaction promptly upon gaining knowledge of the transaction. Upon collection of the relevant information, the Chairman of the Board or the Chief Executive Officer presents the transaction to the Audit Committee for consideration. A related person transaction is generally defined as any transaction required to be disclosed under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K, the SEC's related person transaction disclosure rule.

When determining whether to approve or ratify a related person transaction, the Audit Committee will review relevant facts regarding the related person transaction, including:

The extent of the related person's interest in the transaction;

Whether the terms are comparable to those generally available in arms-length transactions; and

Whether the related person transaction is consistent with the best interests of HouseValues.

If any related person transaction is not approved or ratified, the Audit Committee may take such action as it may deem necessary or desirable in the best interests of HouseValues and its shareholders.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Our Compensation Philosophy

Compensation and benefits are designed to ensure that we attract, retain and motivate highly talented individuals to engage in the vision, leadership and execution required to succeed in our mission while upholding our corporate values in a breakout, newly charted marketplace. The objectives of our compensation programs are to:

Align employee objectives and rewards with company objectives;

Create the right balance between short-term objectives and long-term results;

Differentiate performance and rewards to foster a high-performance culture;

Ensure a culture focused on shareholder value; and

Achieve the right competitive position in the marketplace in which we compete for talent.

We measure the success of our programs by our overall business performance and our ability to attract and retain key talent.

Comparators. Because we are in a unique business, we believe that there are very few companies we can consider direct peers for purposes of comparing executive compensation. The few companies we believe to be direct peers are largely privately held so their executive compensation information is not publicly available. As a result, we define our comparators more broadly than a segment of specific companies in our market and make use of broader salary survey data. We look at companies in the business of online content management and technology on a national, west coast and regional market. Within these market segments, we focus on similarly sized companies, typically with annual revenues in the range of $50 - $200 million, and in similar stage of development as much as possible, as we believe that has an impact on how compensation programs are designed. We rely on published surveys across the online content management and technology industries. For certain roles that are more general across industries, we may review proxy data from other companies. Generally speaking, we do not focus on the identity of any individual company, but are interested in the aggregate data and the percentile breakdowns, which are used as a guide in our executive compensation decisions.

Total Targeted Compensation Positioning. The combined elements of base salary and annual incentives are referred to as total targeted cash compensation. The total targeted cash compensation for executive officers is at approximately the 40th percentile of comparators in years where expected financial results are achieved. In years where financial results significantly exceed our financial plan resulting in greater than expected returns to shareholders, the total targeted cash compensation for executive officers can reach the 75th percentile or greater of comparators. We review market comparators as well as internal differentiation among comparators for the overall mix of compensation elements, which is then applied to the individual executive officers' roles. Executive officers may be compensated at the upper end of the range as compared to similar positions at comparators for any compensation element based on individual or company performance, as well as the executive officer's experience, expertise and performance.

With this information, management makes appropriate recommendations to the Compensation Committee for compensation program design as well as recommendations for individual executive officer awards under such programs. For 2007, total cash compensation at plan was targeted lower than the 40th percentile philosophy because of the expected business challenges that resulted in lower forecasted financial results than in previous years. Total targeted cash compensation, including annual incentives at plan, for executive officers ranged from well under the 25th percentile to just above the 25th percentile of comparators.

Roles Related to Executive Compensation

Chief Executive Officer. Our Chief Executive Officer participates in the design of our compensation programs for other executives, reviews executives' performance and makes recommendations to the Compensation Committee for adoption of programs and executive awards under compensation programs. Additionally, he makes recommendations for appropriate company performance targets and the related funding level of the annual bonus pool.

Chief Financial Officer. Our Chief Financial Officer participates in making recommendations to the Compensation Committee for appropriate company performance targets and the related funding level of the annual bonus pool and other compensation programs. He participates in the design of our compensation programs, reviews executive performance for his direct reports, and makes recommendations to the Chief Executive Officer for awards under compensation programs.

Vice President Human Resources. Our Vice President Human Resources works with compensation consultants for research and program design recommendations. She works with our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and our compensation consultants to finalize management's recommendations to our Compensation Committee. With other members of her team, she establishes internal guidelines, tools, training and process for administering approved programs.

Compensation Committee of the Board. The Compensation Committee reviews and approves all compensation programs for executives and the directors. In making its determinations, the committee reviews management proposals and the related reports from the compensation consultants. The committee also reviews the Chief Executive Officer's performance and determines his compensation within established programs.

Compensation Consultants. HouseValues retains Towers Perrin as directed by the Compensation Committee to act as an independent compensation consultant. Towers Perrin works with management and the Compensation Committee on compensation program design and provides information on comparative market data and industry best practices on compensation practices and programs.

Elements of Compensation

Overview of Executive Compensation Components. Our executive compensation program consists of several compensation elements. We look at the relative mix of pay from the combination of those components and base salary, short-term and long-term incentives appropriately to ensure focus on the right mix of short-term objectives and long-term results. Our compensation programs do not provide for retirement benefits, other than the opportunity to participate in our 401(k) plan. We do not match contributions under our 401(k) plan. In 2007, the key elements of executive officer compensation were:

Base salaries designed to attract and retain employees over time and to compensate them for services provided during the fiscal year;

Annual incentives designed to recognize targeted achievements, to reward superior performance and in combination with base pay, to achieve total targeted cash compensation levels;

Long-term incentives in the form of stock options and restricted stock units, designed to align executives' interests with those of our shareholders and focus executives' efforts on the strategies necessary to ensure our long-term success; and

Perquisites, signing bonuses, severance and change in control arrangements designed to facilitate our ability to attract and retain executive officers as we compete for talented employees in a marketplace where these elements are commonly offered.

Base Salaries. In 2007, we targeted the 25th - 50th percentile of comparators' base salaries for the base salaries of our executive officers and continued to place strong emphasis on variable cash compensation and equity. We may adjust this percentile target in future years based on review of survey data and evaluation of the executive officer's level of responsibility, experience and individual performance, as well as company performance.

Benchmarking and aligning base salaries is especially critical to a competitive compensation program given that other elements of our compensation programs are derived from base salary. For example, annual incentives are targeted as a percentage of base salary. In the first quarter of 2007, salary adjustments were calculated on the basis of individual performance as well as our multi-year process to move salaries closer to the targeted range outlined in our philosophy. The same approach was employed for non-executive employees. In March 2007, salaries for continuing named executive officers were adjusted as follows:

Mr. Morris, Chief Executive Officer, was not awarded a 2007 salary increase and his base salary remained at $315,000, placing him around the 25th percentile of comparators' data;

Ms. Davidson, Vice President of Finance for 2007, was awarded a salary increase from $160,000 to $168,000, placing her around the 50th percentile; and

Ms. Reeder, Chief Technology Officer, was awarded a salary increase from $205,000 to $215,000, placing her around the 50th percentile.

Base salaries and other cash compensation elements are detailed in the 2007 Summary Compensation Table.

Annual Incentives. Executive officers generally have an annual incentive target defined as a percentage of their base salary. The 2007 annual incentive plan that provided cash incentives for executive officers and other key personnel was based upon achievement of targeted Adjusted EBITDA (a non-GAAP measure which we defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation and impairment charges for purposes of our 2007 annual incentive plan). Plan bonuses for 2007 were based on percentages of base salary ranging from 12% to 18% of base salary if at least 100% of the Adjusted EBITDA target was met. Higher rates would be paid if the Adjusted EBITDA target was exceeded. The Compensation Committee retained the prerogative to modify awards based on performance factors. For the 2007 plan, the Compensation Committee approved a lower than historical bonuses at target because of the expected business challenges that resulted in lower forecasted financial results than in previous years. The Committee met in early 2008 and determined that while the Adjusted EBITDA target was met, no cash bonuses would be paid to continuing executive officers based on the revenue run rate that was below plan.

Equity Grants. Equity is a significant component of total compensation for executive officers in the total compensation mix. We believe it is the most important link to creation of shareholder value over the long term. Therefore, it plays a vital role in maintaining competitive levels of total compensation. We have historically used stock option grants as the vehicle for equity compensation because they are the most common equity vehicle for comparable companies, and we believe at this stage that they align well with shareholder interests. In 2007, we also granted restricted stock units based on a recommendation from Towers Perrin, as further described below. We may also consider the use of other forms of equity compensation in the future. Our targeted equity award levels are based on market data, and vary among participants based on their positions within the company.

Given that our cash compensation philosophy at target has been approximately the 40th percentile in most previous years and was targeted around the 25th percentile in 2007, we target equity-based compensation near the 75th percentile of survey data, allowing the addition of this longer-term vehicle to move total targeted compensation for strong performance well above the 50th percentile of comparators. Given that we provide no retirement benefits or 401(k) match, equity and cash incentives are the vehicles executive officers must rely on to provide for their retirement.

The Compensation Committee approves all equity grants to executive officers. Newly hired executive officers are awarded stock options as soon as practical after hire. Annual refresher grants are considered typically in the third quarter of the year. We have equity compensation guidelines we refer to when considering new hire or refresher equity grants.

All stock options are awarded with exercise prices equal to the average of the high and low prices of our common stock on the date of the grant. We granted no options in 2007 with an exercise price less than this formula, nor did we grant options priced on a date other than the grant date. The majority of options granted to executive officers vest at a rate of 25% per year after the first year and then at 6.25% per quarter for the following three years of the ten-year option term.

In 2007, management, the Compensation Committee and Towers Perrin conducted their annual review of equity as a compensation vehicle. Towers Perrin and management separately recommended that retention grants to key employees be in the form of restricted stock units (RSU) rather than stock options given the severe downturn in the real estate industry and our desire to position HouseValues to emerge from the cyclical downturn with strength. The Chief Executive Officer made recommendations for RSU grants to executives and other key employees, and the Compensation Committee determined the RSU grant for the Chief Executive Officer. These RSU grants vest over three years with 20% vesting after one year, an additional 40% vesting after two years and the remaining 40% vesting after three years. We purposely backload the vesting so that the RSUs remain a longer term incentive and, therefore, a stronger retention tool.

Stock option and RSU grants for executive officers are detailed in the 2007 Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.

Other benefits. Our employees, including executive officers, are eligible for our 401(k) plan. Currently, we do not match employee contributions to this plan. We also offer health and dental coverage, company-paid term life insurance, disability insurance, paid time off and paid holidays. These benefits are designed to be competitive with overall market practices and are in place to attract and retain personnel.

Perquisites. Our Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Morris, was recruited from a company where his benefits significantly exceeded those in existence here. In order to attract and retain him, we offered additional perquisites including a car allowance, medical premiums for additional coverage, additional personal life insurance, health club membership, tax preparation assistance and a gross-up for the taxes on these perquisites.

Our former Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President of Operations, Mr. Allen, and our former Chief Marketing Officer, Mr. Goebel, received signing bonuses when they were hired in 2007. Additionally, Mr. Goebel received a relocation bonus and a guaranteed minimum bonus for 2007.

These signing bonuses and perquisites are detailed in the 2007 Summary Compensation Table.

Termination of Employment and Change in Control Arrangements

We believe it is important to provide protection to certain executive officers in the event of a change in control. We believe that the interests of shareholders will be best served if the interests of our executive officers are aligned with them. Providing change in control benefits reduces the reluctance of executive officers to pursue potential change in control transactions that may be in the best interests of the shareholders. Therefore, we have provided change in control arrangements to certain executive officers. In addition, we provide pre-defined termination of employment arrangements to attract new executives in some circumstances. Terms of these agreements are detailed in the 2007 Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control.

With HouseValues entering 2008 at a time when the real estate market remains very difficult, we reduced headcount and expenses. Mr. Goebel's role was eliminated in early 2008, triggering his termination provisions. Mr. Allen's role was eliminated effective March 11, 2008, triggering his termination provisions. Additionally, the Compensation Committee approved a final bonus payment to Mr. Allen in the amount of $40,000.

Tax Considerations

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, limits the tax deduction available to public companies for compensation paid to individual executive officers to $1 million in any taxable year, unless certain performance, disclosure and shareholder approval requirements are met. We do not presently expect total cash compensation payable for salaries and bonuses to exceed the $1 million limit for any individual executive officer. Stock options granted to our executive officers are designed to qualify for the performance-based exemption.

2008 Compensation Decisions

We reviewed base salary and total targeted compensation in early 2008, continuing the same fundamental philosophy described in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis. Mr. Morris and Ms. Reeder received no salary increase in 2008, placing them just above the 25th percentile and just below the 50th percentile of comparator data respectively. Ms. Davidson received a promotion from Vice President of Finance to Chief Financial Officer effective March 12, 2008, with a 25% salary increase, which places her below the 25th percentile of comparator data. Concurrent with Mr. Nelson's appointment as Chief Technology Officer, effective April 14, 2008, his pay was increased to $210,000, which places him just below the 50th percentile of comparator data.

On February 19, 2008, the Compensation Committee approved the 2008 annual incentive plan for executive officers and other key employees based on achievement of specified targets for revenue and Adjusted EBITDA (a non-GAAP measure defined as earnings before net interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation, impairment charges and equity in loss from investee). Plan bonuses for 2008 are based on percentages of base salary ranging from 29% to 39% of base salary if the revenue and Adjusted EBITDA targets are met, and from 80% to 100% of base salary if the top-level revenue and Adjusted EBITDA targets are met. The Compensation Committee will assess plan achievement and may modify awards or award vehicles and differentiate between executives in their discretion. Executives will not receive a bonus under the plan if less than 100% of the Plan target is met.

The payouts for executive officers are targeted on average, above the 50th percentile of comparators if we exceed targeted company performance, and, on average, slightly below the 50th percentile if we meet targeted company performance. In 2008, as in 2007, executive officers agreed to lower than historical bonuses at target, placing total targeted compensation from the 25th to under the 50th percentile of comparators. If we significantly exceed targeted company performance, the annual incentive plan is designed so that payouts are, on average, between the 50th and 75th percentile of comparators.

Also on February 19, 2008, the Compensation Committee approved Ms. Davidson's compensation package related to her promotion to Chief Financial Officer. In addition to the salary increase mentioned previously, she was also awarded a stock option for 75,000 shares.

On February 25, 2008, the Compensation Committee approved grants of RSUs to executive officers, intended to incent executives to further manage through the economic downturn in the real estate industry and to better position HouseValues to emerge prepared to capitalize on improvements in market conditions. Mr. Morris received a grant of 42,000 RSUs, Ms. Reeder received a grant of 17,500 RSUs, and Ms. Davidson received a grant of 22,500 RSUs. These RSUs vest fully in one year.

Employment Agreements

Ian Morris Employment Agreement. In May 2004, we entered into an employment agreement with our Chief Executive Officer, Ian Morris. Under the terms of the agreement, Mr. Morris is entitled to an annual base salary, with the ability to earn an annual bonus, as determined by the Compensation Committee. The agreement provides that Mr. Morris is an at-will employee. If Mr. Morris's employment is terminated without cause, or if he resigns for good reason, both as defined in the agreement and summarized below under Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control, he will be entitled to receive the following benefits: (i) termination payments equal to twelve months' annual base salary payable in 24 semi-monthly installments, (ii) any unpaid base salary that has accrued for services already performed as of the date of termination, (iii) a severance bonus equal to 100% of the most recent annual bonus paid to him, and (iv) eighteen months' continuation of medical insurance coverage. In addition, if Mr. Morris resigns for good reason, all unvested outstanding options to purchase shares of our common stock granted on or prior to the date of the agreement will become 100% vested and exercisable on the date of termination. In the event that we terminate his employment without cause, all unvested options granted on or prior to the date of the agreement that would have been exercisable on the fourth quarterly vesting date following his termination will become vested and exercisable as of the date of termination. HouseValues carries a $2.5 million life insurance policy on Mr. Morris that names his wife as the beneficiary. In the event of his death she would receive policy payout. Additionally, in the event of Mr. Morris's death or disability, he will be entitled to receive twelve months' continuation of medical insurance coverage.

R. Barry Allen Employment Agreement. In January 2007, we entered into an employment agreement with our Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President of Operations, R. Barry Allen. Under the terms of the employment agreement, we agreed to pay Mr. Allen an annual base salary, with the ability to earn an annual bonus. Additionally, we agreed to pay Mr. Allen a signing bonus. The agreement provides that Mr. Allen is an at-will employee. In addition, in the event that Mr. Allen terminates his employment for good reason or we terminate his employment for other than cause, the unvested portion of his new hire stock option grant that would have been exercisable as of the fourth quarterly vesting date following termination will automatically become vested and exercisable immediately prior to termination. In the event of Mr. Allen's death or disability, he will be entitled to receive six months' continuation of medical insurance coverage.

Richard F. Goebel Employment Agreement. In July 2007, we entered into an employment agreement with our Chief Marketing Officer, Richard F. Goebel. Under the terms of the employment agreement, we agreed to pay Mr. Goebel an annual base salary, with the ability to earn an annual bonus. Additionally, we agreed to pay Mr. Goebel a signing bonus, relocation bonus and a guaranteed minimum payment for his 2007 annual bonus. The agreement provides that Mr. Goebel is an at-will employee. If Mr. Goebel's employment is terminated without cause or if he resigns for good reason, both as defined in the agreement and summarized below under Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control, he will be entitled to receive termination payments equal to six months' annual base salary, provided that he sign a separation agreement releasing any claims against HouseValues. In addition, in the event that Mr. Goebel terminates his employment for good reason or we terminate his employment for other than cause, the unvested portion of his new hire stock option grant that would have been exercisable as of the fourth quarterly vesting date following termination will automatically become vested and exercisable immediately prior to termination.

Jacqueline Davidson Employment Agreement. In March 2008, we revised our employment agreement with Ms. Davidson concurrent with her promotion to Chief Financial Officer. Under the terms of the employment agreement, we agreed to pay Ms. Davidson an annual base salary, with the ability to earn an annual bonus. The agreement provides that Ms. Davidson is an at-will employee. Equity Compensation Plans HouseValues has two stock option plans under which our executive officers have been granted stock options: the 1999 Stock Option Plan and the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan. We currently grant equity-based awards under the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan.

Stock options are awarded with exercise prices equal to the average of the high and low trading prices of our common stock on the date of grant and typically vest 25% at the end of the first year and 6.25% over the next 12 quarters, based on continued employment through those vesting dates. Vesting terms may vary from grant to grant, but all vest over a 4-year period.

Restricted Stock Units granted to executives vest 20% at the end of the first year, and an additional 40% at the end of the next two years, based on continued employment through those vesting dates.

Payments upon Termination of Employment

In January 2007, we entered into a Separation Agreement and Release with Mr. Lewis under which it was agreed that his employment would be terminated. The terms of this agreement included: (i) termination benefits equal to eleven months' annual base salary, (ii) continued medical insurance coverage through January 31, 2008, and (iii) one year's accelerated vesting of two of Mr. Lewis' stock option grants.

In January 2008, we entered into a Separation Agreement and Release with Mr. Goebel under which it was agreed that his employment would be terminated. The terms of this agreement included: (i) termination benefits equal to six months' annual base salary, (ii) continued medical insurance coverage for one month, and (iii) one year's accelerated vesting of Mr. Goebel's restricted stock units grant. The details of this agreement are listed in footnote 8 to the Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control Table and in footnotes 10-11 to the 2007 Outstanding Equity Awards at Year-End Table.

In March 2008, we entered into a Separation Agreement and Release with Mr. Allen under which it was agreed that his employment would be terminated. The terms of this agreement included: (i) termination benefits equal to six months' annual base salary, (ii) continued medical insurance coverage for six months, and (iii) one year's accelerated vesting of Mr. Allen's restricted stock units grant. The details of this agreement are listed in footnote 6 to the Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control Table and in footnotes 5-6 to the 2007 Outstanding Equity Awards at Year-End Table.

Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment or Change in Control

We have employment agreements that include termination of employment provisions, and change in control arrangements with Messrs. Morris, Allen and Goebel and Ms Davidson. As described in more detail in the narrative after the 2007 Grants of Plan Based Awards Table, under these agreements, HouseValues may be required to pay a compensation and benefits package if we terminate their employment, other than for cause, as defined below, or if one of those executive officers terminates employment for good reason, as defined below. The compensation and benefits packages may include severance payments and continuation of medical insurance, or the acceleration of stock option vesting.

Termination of employment benefits would not be paid if an executive officer was terminated for cause. The definition of Cause includes the following:

Willful misconduct, insubordination, or dishonesty in the performance of the executive's duties or other knowing and material violation of company policies and procedures in effect from time to time which results in a material adverse effect on HouseValues;

Commission by the executive of acts involving an act of dishonesty, moral turpitude, deceit or fraud that resulted or could reasonably be expected to result in a felony conviction;

Current use by the executive of illegal substances that results in a criminal conviction and materially impairs the company's business, goodwill or reputation;

Any material violation by the executive of the executive's noncompetition agreement with the company that results in a material adverse effect on the company.

In the case of Mr. Morris' employment agreement, Cause is also defined as the continued failure of the executive to satisfactorily perform his duties for a period of 60 consecutive date after receipt of written notice that specifically identified the areas in which the executive's performance is deficient and the executive fails to cure such acts or omissions within 30 days after receipt of the written notice.

If an executive officer terminates his employment for good reason, he would be entitled to termination of employment benefits. Good reason is defined as:

A material reduction in the executive's title, status, authority, or role at the company;

A reduction in the executive's base salary;

A material breach of the employment agreement by the company that is not cured; or Relocation of the company headquarters more than 40 miles from its current location.

In the case of Mr. Morris' employment agreement, he may also consider that his involuntary removal from the board other than by a vote of the shareholders or because his employment has been terminated for cause as good reason.

Change in Control Provisions under the 1999 Stock Incentive Plan. Unless otherwise provided in the instrument evidencing a stock option, in the event of certain corporate transactions, such as a merger, consolidation, sale of assets or HouseValues' securities, each outstanding stock option will be assumed or substituted by the successor corporation. In the event the successor corporation refuses to assume or substitute for outstanding stock options, such stock options will become fully vested and exercisable. If awards are assumed, continued or substituted in the corporate transaction and do not otherwise accelerate, an optionee (i) will be credited with additional vesting on a monthly basis for each full month of employment or service rendered between the date such award was granted and the corporate transaction and (ii) will be credited with an additional six months of continuous employment or service with us or one of our affiliates for purposes of the award's vesting schedule in the event the optionee's employment or service relationship terminates within two years following the corporate transaction, unless the optionee is terminated by the successor corporation for cause or the optionee terminates his or her services voluntarily without good reason, generally as defined above.

Change in Control Provisions under the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan. Unless the Compensation Committee provides otherwise, in the event of certain corporate transactions, such as a merger or sale of assets, each outstanding stock option generally will automatically accelerate and become fully vested and exercisable immediately before the corporate transaction, unless the award is assumed, continued or replaced with a comparable award by the successor entity or the parent of the successor entity. Any stock option that is assumed, continued or replaced with a comparable award in the corporate transaction will retain its original vesting schedule. Notwithstanding the above, we may instead provide that awards will be terminated and exchanged for cash in connection with a corporate transaction, either to the extent then vested and exercisable or whether or not then vested and exercisable, as determined by the Compensation Committee in its sole discretion.

Change in Control Arrangements. As of December 31, 2007, we had change in control arrangements in effect with Messrs. Morris, Allen and Goebel that provide vesting acceleration in addition to the standard plan acceleration provisions. Pursuant to these agreements, in the event of certain corporate transactions, such as a merger or sale of assets, 50% of the unvested portion of the options subject to these agreements will automatically become vested and exercisable, and the remaining portion of these options will vest in equal quarterly increments over the shorter of (i) two years immediately following such corporate transaction or (ii) the amount of time remaining under the option's original vesting schedule.

2007 Potential Payments in the Event of Termination of Employment or Change in Control Table.

The following table reflects the estimated amount of incremental compensation payable to the named executive officers who were providing services to us as of December 31, 2007 in the event of a termination of employment or change in control of the company had occurred on December 31, 2007. Benefits available to all employees generally are not included in the table. The actual amounts to be paid can be determined only at the time of the executive officers' termination of employment or change in control.

- (1) The change in control stock option amounts are calculated on the premise that the successor corporation has not assumed or substituted each outstanding equity award, resulting in an acceleration of 100% of the unvested equity-based awards.
- (2) Mr. Morris and Mr. Allen have termination provisions providing for the payout of 100% and 50% of the most recent annual bonus, respectively. For the purposes of this table, these amounts were calculated using the 2007 bonus payouts which were zero.
- (3) Stock option acceleration is measured as the intrinsic value of the accelerated stock options at December 31, 2007, calculated as the difference between December 31, 2007 stock price and the exercise price of the option multiplied by the number of options. In some cases the net effect of the options being accelerated is negative due to a portion of the accelerated options having exercise prices in excess of the December 31, 2007 stock price. In that event, the intrinsic value is shown as zero.
- (4) Mr. Morris and Mr. Allen are entitled to receive 18 and 6 months of medical insurance premiums, respectively in the event of their death or disability prior to termination.
- (5) HouseValues carries a $2.5 million life insurance policy on Mr. Morris that names his wife as the beneficiary. In the event of his death, she would receive policy payout.
- (6) As a result of R. Barry Allen's termination in March 2008, which was treated as a termination without cause, Mr. Allen received or is receiving the following: severance of $137,500, bonus of $40,000, medical insurance premiums of $9,617 and accelerated vesting of restricted stock units with an intrinsic value of $93,000 at December 31, 2007.
- (7) On March 12, 2008, we revised our employment agreement with Ms. Davidson concurrent with her promotion to Chief Financial Officer. The revised agreement states that if Ms. Davidson's employment is terminated without cause or if she resigns for good reason, both as defined in the agreement, she will be entitled to receive the following benefits: (i) termination payments equal to six months' annual base salary or $105,000 and (ii) six months' continuation of medical insurance coverage valued at $4,967. In the event of Ms. Davidson's death or disability, she will also be entitled to receive six months' continuation of medical insurance coverage.
- (8) As a result of Mr. Goebel's termination in January 2008, which was treated as a termination without cause, Mr. Goebel received or is receiving the following: severance of $117,500 and accelerated vesting of restricted stock units with an intrinsic value of $46,500 at December 31, 2007.

2007 Terminations

Clayton Lewis terminated in January 2007. As a result of his termination, which was treated as a termination without cause, he received the following: severance of $229,167, medical insurance premiums of $4,647, and accelerated vesting of options with an intrinsic value of $145,000.
