NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. Recent accounting pronouncements:

Recently adopted

Special purpose entities

In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued guidance that eliminates the concept of a qualified special-purpose entity and related guidance, creates more stringent conditions for reporting a transfer of a portion of a financial asset as a sale, clarifies other sale-accounting criteria, and changes the initial measurement of a transferor's interest in transferred financial assets. This guidance was effective for the Company on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

In June 2009, the FASB issued guidance that requires former qualified special-purpose entities to be evaluated for consolidation, changes the approach to determining a variable interest entity's (VIE) primary beneficiary, and requires companies to more frequently reassess whether they must consolidate VIEs. This guidance was effective for the Company on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

Revenue recognition

In March 2010, the FASB issued guidance related to revenue recognition that applies to arrangements with milestones relating to research or development deliverables. This guidance provides criteria that must be met to recognize consideration that is contingent upon achievement of a substantive milestone in its entirety in the period in which the milestone is achieved. This guidance was effective for the Company on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

Not yet effective

Impairment testing

In December 2010, the FASB issued guidance modifying Step 1 of the goodwill impairment test for reporting units with zero or negative carrying amounts. For those reporting units, an entity is required to perform Step 2 of the goodwill impairment test if it is more likely than not that a goodwill impairment exists. This guidance is effective for the Company on August 1, 2011 and it is not expected to have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

Business combinations and noncontrolling interests

In December 2010, the FASB issued guidance specifying that if a public entity presents comparative financial statements, the entity (acquirer) should disclose revenue and earnings of the combined entity as though the business combination(s) that occurred during the current year had occurred as of the beginning of the comparable prior annual reporting period only. It also expands the supplemental pro forma disclosures to include a description of the nature and amount of material, nonrecurring pro forma adjustments directly attributable to the business combination included in the reported pro forma revenue and earnings. This guidance is effective for the Company prospectively for material business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after August 1, 2011.

3. Discontinued operations:

During the first quarter of fiscal year 2011, the Company sold its hotel business, and realized net proceeds of $10,467, after transaction costs. The Company recorded a gain on sale of the hotel business of $924, net of a tax provision of $505, or $0.07 per diluted share in the six months ended January 31, 2011. The hotel business has been reported as a discontinued operation and all periods presented have been revised accordingly to reflect these operations as discontinued. A former member of the Company's Board of Directors also serves on the Board of Directors of the entity that acquired the hotel business.

Beginning in the year ended July 31, 2008 (fiscal year 2008), the Company's Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the Committee) began granting performance contingent restricted stock awards (performance awards). In fiscal year 2008, the Committee granted 100,183 performance contingent restricted shares under the Company's 2007 Restricted Stock Plan. These shares vested if specific pre-established levels of performance were achieved at the end of a three-year performance cycle, which ended on July 31, 2010. The performance goal for the performance awards was based solely on the compound annual growth rate of an adjusted earnings per share metric for the Company. The actual number of shares issued was determined at the end of the three-year performance cycle and could range from zero to 200% of the target award. The actual number of shares issued included the payment of dividends on the actual number of shares earned. The Company recognized compensation expense over the performance period based on the number of shares that were deemed to be probable of vesting at the end of the three-year performance cycle. The total number of shares that vested at the conclusion of the performance period on July 31, 2010 was 15,711 shares. The compensation expense on these vested shares was approximately $1,100, of which $190 and $63 was recorded in the three and six months ended January 31, 2010, respectively.

These shares will vest if specific pre-established levels of performance are achieved at the end of a three-year performance cycle, which ends July 31, 2011 for the outstanding 39,165 shares granted. The performance goal for the performance awards is based solely on the compound annual growth rate of an adjusted earnings per share metric for the Company. The actual number of shares to be issued will be determined at the end of each three-year performance cycle and can range from zero to 200% of the target award, or up to 78,330 shares based upon the shares outstanding. The actual number of shares to be issued will also include the payment of dividends on the actual number of shares earned. The actual number of shares/units to be issued will be determined at the end of the three-year performance cycle and can range from zero to 200% of the target award, or up to 400,156 shares/units. The issuance of the shares/units will be accompanied by the payment of accumulated dividends on the actual number of shares earned. These awards will vest as follows: 135,691 will vest based upon achievement of certain targets over the three-year period ending July 31, 2013 with respect to the Company's cumulative non-GAAP earnings per share and 80,114 will vest based upon achievement of certain targets over the three-year period ending July 31, 2013 with respect to the Company's relative TSR as determined against the Russell 2000 Index, of which the Company is a member. The actual number of units to be issued will be determined at the end of the three-year performance cycle and can range from zero to 200% of the target award, or up to 431,610 units. The issuance of the units will be accompanied by the payment of accumulated dividends on the actual number of shares earned. The maximum compensation expense for the performance awards with the non-GAAP earnings per share target is $11,392, based on a weighted average grant date fair value of $41.98 per share as determined by the closing price of the Company's common stock on the date of grant. The Company is recognizing compensation expense over the performance period for the performance awards with the non-GAAP earnings per share target based on the number of units that are deemed to be probable of vesting at the end of each three-year performance cycle. As of January 31, 2011, the Company estimated that total non-GAAP earnings per share awards covering 62,924 units with a value of $2,641 were deemed probable of vesting. The Company recognized compensation expense of $245 and $344 during the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, for the performance awards with the non-GAAP earnings per share target based on the number of units deemed probable of vesting.

The compensation expense for the performance awards granted with a TSR target is $3,793 and $4,621 for awards granted in the six months ended January 31, 2011 and fiscal year 2010, respectively. The compensation expense is being recognized on a straight-line basis, net of estimated forfeitures, over a derived service period of 2.8 and 2.7 years for the awards granted in fiscal years 2011 and 2010, respectively. The weighted average grant date fair values of awards granted with a TSR target was $46.65 per share during the three months ended January 31, 2010, and $54.27 and $47.47 per share during the six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively. There was an insignificant grant of awards with a TSR target in the three months ended January 31, 2011. The fair value of awards with a TSR target at date of grant was estimated using a Monte-Carlo Simulation model with the following assumptions:

	Three Months Ended January 31, 2010		Six Months Ended January 31, 2010
Stock Price (1)	$	40.00	$	40.04
Expected volatility factor (2)		52%		51%
Risk-free interest rate (3)		1.10%		1.19%
Expected annual dividend yield (4)		0.0%		0.0%

- (1) The stock price is the weighted average closing price of the Company's common stock on the dates of grant.
- (2) The stock volatility for each grant is determined based on the historical volatility for the peer group companies over a period equal to the remaining term of the performance period from the date of grant for all awards.
- (3) The risk-free interest rate for periods equal to the performance period is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant.
- (4) Dividends are considered reinvested when calculating TSR. For the purpose of the fair value model, the dividend yield is therefore considered to be 0%.

The following table sets forth the stock option and restricted stock transactions from July 31, 2010 to January 31, 2011:

- (1) The number of performance-based unvested restricted stock awards is shown in this table at target. As of January 31, 2011, the maximum number of performance-based unvested restricted stock awards available to be earned is 910,096.

- (2) In addition to the vested options, the Company expects a portion of the unvested options to vest at some point in the future. Options expected to vest are calculated by applying an estimated forfeiture rate to the unvested options.

5. Business Combination

On November 19, 2010, the Company acquired certain assets of an OEM ultrasound transducer and probe business. The acquisition was undertaken by the Company in order to increase its market share in the transducer and probe business, expand its relationships with a major customer, and expand its product portfolio. The acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase as the seller was motivated to sell the assets of the transducer and probe business since they were not a core part of the seller's business.

The acquisition has been accounted for as an acquisition under authoritative guidance for business combinations. The purchase price of the acquisition has been allocated to the net tangible and intangible assets acquired, with the excess of the fair value of assets acquired over the purchase price recorded as a bargain purchase gain.

The results of operations and estimated fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed were included in the Company's unaudited consolidated financial statements beginning November 19, 2010.

The total purchase consideration is expected to be approximately $686 in cash, of which approximately $346 was paid at the closing. The purchase consideration also includes contingent consideration of $340, which represents the fair value of future cash payments expected to be made by the Company based on the sale of certain acquired products over a two year period commencing on November 1, 2010. The Company estimated the contingent consideration based on probability weighted expected future cash flows, and it is included under other long term liabilities in the Consolidated Balance Sheet at January 31, 2011. These cash flows were discounted at a rate of approximately 22.1%. The contingent consideration available to be earned is unlimited and is marked to market at the end of each fiscal quarter. As of January 31, 2011 there was no material change in the fair value of contingent consideration compared to the fair value estimated at November 19, 2010. Acquisition-related costs were insignificant.

The final fair value allocated to each of the major classes of tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired on November 19, 2010 and the bargain purchase gain recorded in general and administrative expenses in the unaudited Consolidated Statements of Operations was computed as follows:

Inventory	$ 1,284
Property, plant, and equipment	489
Intangible assets	730
Accrued liabilities	(154)
Deferred tax liabilities	(621)
Net tangible and intangible assets	1,728
Estimated purchase price	686
Bargain purchase gain	$ 1,042

The deferred tax liability associated with the estimated fair value adjustments of tangible and intangible assets acquired is recorded at an estimated weighted average statutory tax rate in the jurisdictions where the fair value adjustments may occur.

The following table sets forth the components of the identifiable intangible assets acquired and being amortized over their estimated useful lives, with a maximum amortization period of five years, on a straight-line basis:

Fair Value	Useful Life
------------	-------------

Edgar Filing: ANALOGIC CORP - Form 10-Q

Backlog	$ 70	3.5 months
Customer relationships	420	5 years
Technology	240	5 years
Total acquired identifiable intangible assets	$ 730

The Company's results would not have been materially different from its reported results had the acquisition occurred at the beginning of the three months ended January 31, 2010 and the six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010.

In determining the purchase price allocation, the Company considered, among other factors, its intention to use the acquired assets and the historical and estimated future demand for the acquired products and services. The fair value of developed technology was based upon the relief from royalty approach while the customer relationship and backlog intangible assets were based on the income approach. The rate used to discount the estimated future net cash flows to their present values for each intangible asset was based upon a weighted average cost of capital ranging from 22.1% to 24.1%. The discount rate was determined after consideration of market rates of return on debt and equity capital, the weighted average return on invested capital and the risk associated with achieving forecasted sales related to the technology and assets acquired.

6. Marketable securities and fair value:

The Company measures the fair value of its financial assets and liabilities and non-financial assets and liabilities at least annually using a fair value hierarchy based on three levels of inputs, of which the first two are considered observable and the last unobservable, as follows:

Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 Inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

The Company's cash equivalents are comprised primarily of certificates of deposits.

The Company did not have any financial or non-financial assets or liabilities measured at fair value at January 31, 2011 or July 31, 2010.

7. Goodwill and other intangible assets:

The carrying amount of the goodwill at January 31, 2011 and July 31, 2010 was $1,849.

Other intangible assets include the value assigned to intellectual property and other technology, patents, customer contracts and relationships, a trade name, backlog, and in-process research and development. The estimated useful lives for all of these intangible assets, excluding the tradename as it is considered to have an indefinite life, are 3.5 months to 14 years.

Intangible assets at January 31, 2011 and July 31, 2010 consisted of the following:

	January 31, 2011			July 31, 2010
	Cost	Accumulated Amortization	Net	Cost	Accumulated Amortization	Net
Developed technology	$ 12,191	$ 3,156	$ 9,035	$ 11,771	$ 2,578	$ 9,193

Total	$ 47,208	$ 8,253	$ 38,955	$ 46,478	$ 6,717	$ 39,761

Amortization expense related to acquired intangible assets was $803 and $733 for the three months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively, and $1,536 and $1,466 for the six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

The estimated future amortization expenses related to intangible assets for each of the five succeeding fiscal years is expected to be as follows:

2011 (remaining six months)	$ 1,553
2012	3,063
2013	3,063
2014	3,063
2015	3,063
	$ 13,805

In the second quarter of fiscal year 2011, the Company performed the first step of the two-step annual impairment test for the goodwill, tradename, and in-process research development. For the goodwill, the Company compared the fair value of the OEM reporting unit to its carrying value. The Company's approach considered both the market approach and income approach. Equal weight was given to each approach. Under the market approach, the fair value of the reporting unit is based on trading multiples. In the market approach, the Company assumed a control premium of 15% for the reporting unit, which was determined based on an analysis of control premiums for relevant recent acquisitions. Under the income approach, the fair value of the reporting unit is based on the present value of estimated future cash flows. The income approach is dependent on a number of significant management assumptions including estimates of future sales, future gross margin percentage, and discount rates. The discount rate of 15.7% was determined after consideration of market rates of return on debt and equity capital, the weighted average return on invested capital and the risk associated with achieving forecasted sales for the reporting unit. The Company determined that the fair value of the reporting unit was more than the carrying value of the net assets of the reporting unit, and thus it was not necessary for the Company to perform step two of the impairment test for the goodwill.

For the tradename, the Company compared the fair value of the Copley tradename using the relief from royalty approach to its carrying value during the second quarter of fiscal year 2011. The relief from royalty approach utilized a 1.3% aftertax royalty rate and a discount rate of 17.7%. The aftertax royalty rate was determined based on royalty research and margin analysis while the discount rate was determined after consideration of market rates of return on debt and equity capital, the weighted average return on invested capital and the risk associated with achieving forecasted sales for the Copley tradename. The Company determined that the fair value of the Copley tradename was more than its carrying value.

For the in-process research and development, the Company compared the fair value of the in-process research and development using the income approach to its carrying value during the second quarter of fiscal year 2011. The income approach utilized a discount rate of 15.7%, which was determined after consideration of market rates of return on debt and equity capital, the weighted average return on invested capital and the risk associated with achieving forecasted sales from the in-process research and development. The Company determined that the fair value of the in-process research and development was more than its carrying value.

Given the current economic environment and the uncertainties regarding its impact on the Company's business, the Company's estimates and assumptions regarding the duration of the ongoing economic downturn, or the period or strength of recovery, made for purposes of its goodwill, tradename, and in-process research and development impairment testing during the second quarter of fiscal year 2011 may not be accurate predictions of the future. If the Company's assumptions regarding forecasted revenue or margin growth rates of the reporting unit and tradename are not achieved, the Company may be required to record an impairment charge for the goodwill and tradename in future periods, whether in connection with the Company's next annual impairment testing in the second quarter of the fiscal year ending July 31, 2012, or prior to that if any such change constitutes a triggering event outside of the quarter from when the annual goodwill and tradename impairment test is performed. It is not possible at this time to determine if any such future impairment charge would result or, if it does, whether such charge would be material.

8. Restructuring charge:

In the first quarter of fiscal year 2011, the Company initiated a plan to reduce its workforce by 104 employees worldwide as the Company continues to streamline its operations and consolidate its Denmark and Canton, MA manufacturing operations into its existing facilities. The total cost of this plan, including severance and personnel related costs, was $3,562 and was recorded as a restructuring charge during the three months ended October 31, 2010.

In the second quarter of fiscal year 2010, the Company reduced its workforce by 17 employees worldwide. The total cost of this plan, including severance and personnel related costs, was $764 and was recorded as a restructuring charge during fiscal year 2010.

In the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2010, the Company recorded an additional restructuring charge of $420 for estimated sub-lease income that is no longer expected to be received for facility space the Company exited in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2009. Offsetting this expense was an adjustment of severance and related benefit expenses of $494 related to a change in estimated severance benefits as well as changes in the employee population expected to receive such benefits.

The following table summarizes charges related to accrued restructuring activity from July 31, 2009 through January 31, 2011:

10. Net income per share:

Basic net income per share is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Unvested restricted shares, although legally issued and outstanding, are not considered outstanding for purposes of calculating basic net income per share. Diluted net income per share is computed using the sum of the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period and, if dilutive, the weighted average number of potential shares of common stock, including unvested restricted stock awards and the assumed exercise of stock options using the treasury stock method.

13. Taxes:

The following table presents the provision for income taxes and the effective income tax rates for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010:

	Three Months Ended January 31,		Six Months Ended January 31,
	2011	2010	2011	2010
Provision for income taxes	$ 930	$ 1,346	$ 1,689	$ 1,243
Effective tax rate	15%	26%	20%	25%

Edgar Filing: ANALOGIC CORP - Form 10-Q

The effective income tax rate on continuing operations is based upon the estimated income for the year, the composition of the income in different countries, and adjustments, if any, in the applicable quarterly periods for the potential tax consequences, benefits, resolutions of tax audits or other tax contingencies.

The effective tax rates for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 of 15% and 20%, respectively, were due primarily to a discrete tax benefit of $536 for the reinstatement of the federal research and experimentation credit back to January 1, 2010 and the lower foreign tax rates as compared to the statutory rate of 35%. In addition, taxes related to the bargain purchase gain of $621 from the acquisition of an ultrasound transducer and probe business were recorded as part of income from operations.

The effective tax rates for the three and six months ended January 31, 2010 of 26% and 25%, respectively, were due primarily to lower foreign tax rates as compared to the statutory rate of 35% and a discrete benefit for the reversal of tax reserves as a result of the expiration of the statute of limitations for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2004.

The total amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits, which excludes interest and penalties discussed below, were as follows for the dates indicated:

January 31, 2011	July 31, 2010
$12,687	$12,124

These unrecognized tax benefits, if recognized in a future period, the timing of which is not estimable, would impact the Company's effective tax rate.

The Company is subject to U.S. Federal income tax as well as the income tax of multiple state and foreign jurisdictions. The Company has concluded all U.S. Federal income tax matters through the year ended July 31, 2002 and for the years ended July 31, 2004 through 2006. In the next four fiscal quarters, the statute of limitations may close on the federal and state income tax returns for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2007 and the audit of federal income tax returns for the fiscal years ended July 31, 2003, 2005, and 2008 may be completed. It is reasonably expected that gross unrecognized benefits of $8,079 may be recognized in income within the next four quarters.

The Company accrues interest and, if applicable, penalties for any uncertain tax positions. This interest and penalty expense is treated as a component of income tax expense. At January 31, 2011 and July 31, 2010, the Company had approximately $1,430 and $1,270, respectively, accrued for interest and penalties on unrecognized tax benefits.

14. Segment information:

The Company operates primarily within two major markets: Medical Technology and Security Technology. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2011, as part of a strategic review, the Company modified its segment reporting as well as the names of certain of its segments based on the information reviewed by its principal executive officer. Medical Technology now consists of two reporting segments:

1. Medical Imaging, which consists primarily of electronic systems and subsystems for CT and MRI medical imaging equipment and direct conversion digital x-ray detectors for mammography sold primarily through OEM customers (the current Medical Imaging segment combines the formerly separate segments of CT and MRI and Digital Radiography)
2. Ultrasound (formerly Specialized Ultrasound), which consists of ultrasound systems and probes for the urology, ultrasound-guided surgery and radiology markets sold primarily through our direct sales force.

Security Technology consists of advanced weapon and threat detection aviation security systems and subsystems sold primarily through OEM customers. 15. Commitments and guarantees:

The Company's standard OEM and supply agreements entered into in the ordinary course of business typically contain an indemnification provision pursuant to which the Company indemnifies, holds harmless, and agrees to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party in connection with any United States patent, or any copyright or other intellectual property infringement claim by any third party with respect to the Company's products. Such provisions generally survive termination or expiration of the agreements. The potential amount of future payments the Company could be required to make under these indemnification provisions is, in some instances, unlimited. The Company has never incurred costs to defend lawsuits or settle claims related to these indemnification agreements. As a result, the Company believes that its estimated exposure on these agreements is currently minimal. Accordingly, the Company has no liabilities recorded for these agreements as of January 31, 2011.

Generally, the Company warrants that its products will perform in all material respects in accordance with its standard published specifications in effect at the time of delivery of the products to the customer for a period ranging from 12 to 26 months from the date of delivery. The Company provides for the estimated cost of product and service warranties based on specific warranty claims, claim history, and engineering estimates, where applicable.

The following table presents the Company's product warranty liability for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010:

The Company currently has approximately $22,500 in revolving credit facilities with banks available for direct borrowings. The Company's revolving credit facility agreements contain a number of covenants, including a covenant requiring the Company to maintain a tangible net worth (as defined in the revolving credit facility agreement) of no less than $255,000 as of the end of any fiscal quarter. The Company was in compliance with this covenant at January 31, 2011 with a tangible net worth of approximately $368,000. As of January 31, 2011, there were no direct borrowings or off-balance sheet arrangements.

The repurchase program will be funded using the Company's available cash. During the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, the Company repurchased and retired 222,002 shares of Common Stock under this repurchase program for $11,149 at an average purchase price of $50.22 per share.

Summary

Analogic is a high technology company that designs and manufactures advanced medical imaging and security systems and subsystems sold to Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) and end users primarily in the healthcare and airport security markets. We were incorporated in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in November 1967 and are recognized worldwide for advancing state-of-the-art technology in the areas of medical computed tomography (CT), magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), digital mammography, ultrasound, and automated explosive detection systems (EDS) for airport security. Our OEM customers incorporate our technology into systems they in turn sell for various medical and security applications. We also sell our ultrasound products directly into specialized clinical end-user markets through our direct worldwide sales force under the brand name B-K Medical.

We operate primarily within two major markets: Medical Technology and Security Technology. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2011, as part of a strategic review, we modified our segment reporting as well as the names of certain of our segments based on the information reviewed by our principal executive officer. Medical Technology consists of two reporting segments: Medical Imaging (the current Medical Imaging segment combines the formerly separate segments of CT and MRI and Digital Radiography) and Ultrasound (formerly Specialized Ultrasound).

The following table sets forth the percentage of total net revenue by reporting segment for the three months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010. All periods presented have been revised accordingly to reflect new reporting segments.

	Three Months Ended January 31,
	2011	2010
Medical Technology:
Medical Imaging	70%	63%
Ultrasound	21%	24%
Total Medical Technology	91%	87%
Security Technology	9%	13%
Total	100%	100%

A significant portion of our products are sold to OEMs, whose purchasing dynamics have an impact on our reported sales. OEMs that purchase our Medical Imaging products generally incorporate those products as components in their systems, which are in turn sold to end users, primarily hospitals and medical clinics. In our Security Technology business, OEM customers purchase and resell our products to end users including domestic and foreign airports as well as the U.S Transportation Security Administration (TSA). In Security Technology, our OEM customers' purchasing dynamics are affected by the level of government funding, the expansion of airport terminals and fluctuations in airline passenger volume.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth key financial data from our unaudited Consolidated Statements of Operations for the three months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010.

	Three Months Ended January 31,		Percentage Change
	2011	2010
Total net revenue	$ 117,253	$ 101,533	15%
Income from operations	6,138	5,358	15%
Operating margin percentage	5%	5%
Income from continuing operations	$ 5,296	$ 3,887	36%
Diluted net income per share from continuing operations	0.42	0.31	36%

During the three months ended January 31, 2011 our total net revenue increased by 15% as compared to the prior year comparable period due primarily to increased product revenue in our Medical Imaging business as a result of increased demand across our product lines. Product revenues in our Ultrasound business were relatively consistent with those in the same period of our prior fiscal year as unit sales growth this quarter were offset by unfavorable currency exchange rates. Growth in Medical Technology product revenues was partially offset by a decline in product revenue from our Security Technology business as a result of fewer shipments of baggage scanners in the period.

The increases in income from operations, income from continuing operations, and diluted net income per share from continuing operations were primarily the result of the growth in revenue of $15,720 and resulting improvement in gross profit, as well as the favorable impact of an acquisition bargain purchase gain included in general and administrative expenses in the three months ended January 31, 2011 of $1,042, offset in part by $386 of amortization for the intangible assets and inventory fair value adjustment associated with this acquisition. In addition, the prior year period included a restructuring charge of $764. The increases were partially offset by costs in the three months ended January 31, 2011 associated with the consolidation of our Canton, MA and Denmark manufacturing operations into our U.S. and Shanghai, China facilities, manufacturing inefficiency in our Security Technology business on lower volume in the period, and higher operating expenses driven primarily by research spending on new product initiatives and higher selling expenses as we expand our Ultrasound sales force and product offerings in existing and adjacent markets.

During the first quarter of fiscal year 2011, we sold our hotel business, and realized net proceeds of $10,467, after transaction costs for this sale. We recorded a gain on sale of the hotel business of $924, net of a tax provision of $505, or $0.07 per diluted share, in the six months ended January 31, 2011. The hotel business, previously reported in the Other segment, is being reported as a discontinued operation and all periods presented have been revised accordingly to reflect these operations as discontinued.

Revenues and net income (loss) for the hotel business for the three months ended January 31, 2010 and the six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010 were as follows:

	Three Months Ended January 31,	Six Months Ended January 31,
	2010	2011	2010
Total net revenue	$ 1,731	$ 2,906	$ 4,302
Net income (loss)	(263)	289	(47)

On November 19, 2010, we acquired certain assets of an OEM ultrasound transducer and probe business. We undertook this acquisition in order to increase our market share in the transducer and probe business, expand our relationships with a major customer, and expand our product portfolio. The transaction resulted in a bargain purchase gain as the value of the acquired assets exceeded the amount to be paid for the acquisition. The results of operations and estimated fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed were included in our condensed consolidated financial statements beginning November 19, 2010. The total purchase consideration is expected to be $686 in cash, of which approximately $346 was paid at the closing. The purchase consideration also includes contingent consideration of $340, which represents the fair value of future cash payments expected to be made by us based on the sale of certain acquired products over a two year period commencing on November 1, 2010.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth an overview of cash flows for the six months ended January 31, 2011 and 2010.

	Six Months Ended January 31,
	2011	2010
Net cash provided by continuing operations for operating activities	$ 7,548	$ 9,824
Net cash (used by) provided by continuing operations for investing activities	(1,804)	35,624
Net cash used for financing activities	(13,577)	(2,464)
Net cash (used by) provided by discontinued operations	(335)	282
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash	1,509	(841)
Net (decrease) increase in cash and cash equivalents	$ (6,659)	$ 42,425

During the six months ended January 31, 2011, we generated $7,548 of cash from continuing operations. Net cash used by continuing operations for investing activities in the six months ended January 31, 2011 was due primarily to capital spending of $12,048, which includes the building of a manufacturing facility in Shanghai, China. The capital spending was partially offset by the proceeds from the sale of our hotel business of $10,467. Prior year cash provided by continuing operations for investing activities benefited from $40,438 of short term investments held to maturity. The net cash used by continuing operations for financing activities in the six months ended January 31, 2011 was due primarily to $11,149 used to repurchase common stock.

Medical Imaging

The increase for the three months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable period reflects growth across our product lines, primarily benefiting from growth in our CT, digital mammography, and OEM ultrasound transducer product lines on higher sales volume of new and existing products. Also contributing to the increase was $2,068 from the ultrasound probe and transducer business we acquired on November 19, 2010.

The increase for the six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable period reflects growth in our CT product line on higher sales volume of new and existing products. Also contributing to the increase was $2,068 from the ultrasound probe and transducer business we acquired on November 19, 2010.

Ultrasound

For the three months ended January 31, 2011, product revenue remained relatively consistent with the prior year comparable period as growing sales volume was offset by an unfavorable change in currency exchange rates, which negatively impacted revenues by approximately $1,300.

Edgar Filing: ANALOGIC CORP - Form 10-Q

The increase for the six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable period was due primarily to increased sales of our Flex Focus platform of products. This increase was partially offset by an unfavorable change in currency exchange rates, which negatively impacted revenues by approximately $2,400.

Table of ContentsSecurity Technology

The decreases in product revenues for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable periods were due primarily to sales of fewer baggage scanners as demand from our customer was negatively impacted by the timing of bridge orders from the TSA, which is in the process of moving to a new procurement process.

Engineering revenue

Engineering revenue is summarized in the table below.

	Three Months Ended		Percentage Change	Six Months Ended		Percentage Change
	January 31, 2011	January 31, 2010		January 31, 2011	January 31, 2010

Medical Imaging

The increases for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable periods were due primarily to the timing of revenue recognition as a result of the completion of project milestones.

Security Technology

The increases for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable periods were due primarily to the amount of work performed on a significant engineering development project that began in December 2009 for an OEM customer.

Gross marginProduct gross margin

Product gross margin is summarized in the table below.

	Three Months Ended		Percentage Change	Six Months Ended		Percentage Change
	January 31, 2011	January 31, 2010		January 31, 2011	January 31, 2010
Product gross profit	$ 40,719	$ 38,612	5.5%	$ 78,352	$ 68,289	14.7%
Product gross margin %	36.6%	39.2%		37.7%	36.3%

Product gross margin percentage decreased in the three months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable period due primarily to a greater percentage of net revenue in the period of products from our Medical Imaging segment, which generally carries lower gross margins, as compared to net revenue in our Ultrasound and Security Technology businesses. Also impacting gross margin in the period were costs associated with the consolidation of our manufacturing operations, an unfavorable currency impact, acquisition related inventory adjustments, and manufacturing inefficiency in our Security Technology business due to decreased production volumes in the period.

Product gross margin percentage increased in the six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable period due primarily to a favorable mix of higher margin Ultrasound products and improved manufacturing efficiency in our Medical Imaging business with higher production throughput on growing volume along with improved component pricing from our vendors. These items were partially offset by manufacturing transition costs and manufacturing inefficiency in our Security Technology business due to decreased production volumes in the period.

Table of Contents*Engineering gross margin*

Engineering gross margin is summarized in the table below.

	Three Months Ended January 31,			Six Months Ended January 31,
	2011	2010	Percentage Change	2011	2010	Percentage Change
Engineering gross profit	$ 90	$ (591)	N/A	$ 1,476	$ (406)	N/A
Engineering gross margin %	1.5%	-20.3%		11.3%	-6.5%

The increases in the engineering gross margin in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 versus the prior year comparable periods were due primarily to the engineering project with an OEM customer in our Security Technology business that began in December 2009. The gross margin on this Security Technology project was partially offset by costs in excess of engineering revenues on certain Medical Imaging and Security Technology business projects.

Research and product development expenses are related to projects not funded by our customers. These expenses increased $2,636 and $5,085 in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, versus the prior year comparable periods due primarily to greater investment in unfunded research and product development projects in support of our strategic growth initiatives. Also contributing to the increase was an increase in share-based compensation expense of $495 and $770 in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, versus the prior year comparable periods, primarily due to accruals based on our improving profitability.

Selling and marketing expenses increased $1,329 and $1,853 in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, versus the prior year comparable periods due primarily due to an increase in selling resources in the Ultrasound business as we expand our sales force and product offerings in existing and adjacent markets.

General and administrative decreased $1,059 and $960 in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, versus the prior year comparable periods. The decreases were due primarily to a bargain purchase gain of $1,042 that resulted from an acquisition of an OEM ultrasound transducer and probe business on November 19, 2010. These decreases were partially offset by an increase in share-based compensation expenses of $683 and $918 in the in the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, respectively, versus the prior year comparable periods, primarily due to accruals based on our improving profitability.

	2011	2010	2011	2010
Provision for income taxes	$ 930	$ 1,346	$ 1,689	$ 1,243
Effective tax rate	15%	26%	20%	25%

Our effective income tax rate on continuing operations is based upon the estimated income for the year, the composition of the income in different countries, and adjustments, if any, in the applicable quarterly periods for the potential tax consequences, benefits, resolutions of tax audits or other tax contingencies.

For the three and six months ended January 31, 2011, the effective tax rate benefited from a discrete tax benefit of $536 for the reinstatement of the federal research and experimentation credit back to January 1, 2010 and the lower foreign tax rates as compared to the statutory rate of 35%. In addition, taxes related to the bargain purchase gain of $621 from the acquisition of an ultrasound transducer and probe business were recorded as part of income from operations.

For the three and six months ended January 31, 2010, the effective tax rate benefited primarily from lower foreign tax rates as compared to the statutory rate of 35%, and a discrete benefit for the reversal of tax reserves as a result of the expiration of the statute of limitations for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2004.

Income from discontinued operations, net of tax

We periodically review our investment portfolio to determine if any investments are impaired due to changes in credit risk or other potential valuation concerns. We believe that our cash equivalents were appropriately valued at January 31, 2011 and we are not aware of any market events that would impact their valuation. This could change in the future should new developments arise in the credit markets. The decrease in cash and cash equivalents from July 31, 2010 to January 31, 2011 was due primarily to purchases of property, plant, and equipment of $12,048, $11,149 used to repurchase common stock, and approximately $5,400 for the payment of bonuses related to performance in fiscal year 2010 in the six months ended January 31, 2011. These uses of cash were partially offset by the sale of the hotel business in the six months ended January 31, 2011 for net proceeds of $10,467.

The carrying amounts reflected in the consolidated balance sheets of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, and trade payables approximate fair value at January 31, 2011, due to the short maturities of these instruments.

We face exposure to financial market risks, including adverse movements in foreign currency exchange rates, and changes in interest rates. These exposures can change over time as business practices evolve and could have a material adverse impact on our financial results. Our primary exposure is related to fluctuations between the U.S. dollar and local currencies for our subsidiaries in Canada and Europe. Our investment in international subsidiaries is sensitive to fluctuations in currency exchange rates. The effect of a change in currency exchange rates on our net investment in international subsidiaries is reflected in the accumulated other comprehensive income component of stockholders equity. A 10% depreciation in the January 31, 2011 and July 31, 2010 functional currencies, relative to the U.S. dollar, would result in a reduction of stockholders equity of approximately $1,134 and $700, respectively.

Table of ContentsCash flows

The following table summarizes our sources and uses of cash over the periods indicated:

	Six Months Ended January 31,
	2011	2010
Net cash provided by continuing operations for operating activities	$ 7,548	$ 9,824
Net cash (used by) provided by continuing operations for investing activities	(1,804)	35,624
Net cash used for financing activities	(13,577)	(2,464)
Net cash (used by) provided by discontinued operations	(335)	282
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash	1,509	(841)
Net (decrease) increase in cash and cash equivalents	$ (6,659)	$ 42,425

The cash flows generated from operating activities of our continuing operations in the six months ended January 31, 2011 primarily reflects our pre-tax earnings from continuing operations of $8,366, which included depreciation and amortization expenses of $8,756, a restructuring charge of $3,428, and non-cash share-based compensation expense of $4,552. The positive impact of our operating earnings on cash flows, excluding the non-cash acquisition-related bargain purchase gain of $1,042, was partially offset by increases in inventories of $13,655, as well as a decrease in accrued liabilities of $6,660, and an increase in accounts receivable of $6,274, which were net of an increase in accounts payable of $12,712. The increase in inventories of $13,655 was due primarily to demand related inventory increases, planned increases in Ultrasound inventories in preparation for the shift in production from Denmark to the United States and China, and temporary supply chain disruptions. The increases in accounts receivable was due primarily to growth in net revenues as well as an increase in unbilled receivables of $3,905 on engineering projects due to the timing of completing milestones. The decrease in accrued liabilities was due primarily to the payment of bonuses of approximately $5,400 in the six months ended January 31, 2011 related to performance in fiscal year 2010 and the timing of sales tax payments. The increase in accounts payable of $12,712 was due primarily to the timing of vendor payments and increased inventory purchases.

The net cash used by continuing operations for investing activities in the six months ended January 31, 2011 was due primarily to purchases of property, plant, and equipment of $12,048, of which approximately $5,800 relates to the building of a manufacturing facility in Shanghai, China. These uses of cash were partially offset by the net proceeds of $10,467 from the sale of our hotel business.

The net cash used for financing activities in the six months ended January 31, 2011 was due primarily to $11,149 used to repurchase common stock and $2,605 of dividends paid to stockholders.

We believe that our balances of cash and cash equivalents and cash flows expected to be generated by future operating activities will be sufficient to meet our cash requirements for at least the next 12 months.

Commitments, contractual obligations, and off-balance sheet arrangements

Our contractual obligations at January 31, 2011, and the effect such obligations are expected to have on liquidity and cash flows in future periods, are as follows:

Contractual Obligation	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years	More than 3 years -5 years	More than 5 years
Operating leases	$ 9,273	$ 3,104	$ 2,368	$ 1,265	$ 2,536
Purchasing obligations	52,519	50,994	1,525
	$ 61,792	$ 54,098	$ 3,893	$ 1,265	$ 2,536

As of January 31, 2011, the total liabilities associated with uncertain tax positions were $7,311. Due to the complexity associated with our tax uncertainties, we cannot make a reasonably reliable estimate of the period in which we expect to settle the non-current liabilities associated with these uncertain tax positions. Therefore, these amounts have not been included in the contractual obligations table.

We currently have approximately $22,500 in revolving credit facilities with banks available for direct borrowings. Our revolving credit facility agreements contain a number of covenants, including a covenant requiring us to maintain a tangible net worth (as defined in the revolving credit facility agreement) of no less than $255,000 as of the end of any fiscal quarter. We were in compliance with this covenant at January 31, 2011 with a tangible net worth of approximately $368,000. As of January 31, 2011, there were no direct borrowings or off-balance sheet arrangements.

In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued guidance that eliminates the concept of a qualified special-purpose entity and related guidance, creates more stringent conditions for reporting a transfer of a portion of a financial asset as a sale, clarifies other sale-accounting criteria, and changes the initial measurement of a transferor's interest in transferred financial assets. This guidance was effective for us on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

In June 2009, the FASB issued guidance that requires former qualified special-purpose entities to be evaluated for consolidation, changes the approach to determining a variable interest entity's (VIE) primary beneficiary, and requires companies to more frequently reassess whether they must consolidate VIEs. This guidance was effective for us on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

Revenue recognition

In March 2010, the FASB issued guidance related to revenue recognition that applies to arrangements with milestones relating to research or development deliverables. This guidance provides criteria that must be met to recognize consideration that is contingent upon achievement of a substantive milestone in its entirety in the period in which the milestone is achieved. This guidance was effective for us on August 1, 2010 and did not have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

Not yet effective*Impairment testing*

In December 2010, the FASB issued guidance modifying Step 1 of the goodwill impairment test for reporting units with zero or negative carrying amounts. For those reporting units, an entity is required to perform Step 2 of the goodwill impairment test if it is more likely than not that a goodwill impairment exists. This guidance is effective for us on August 1, 2011 and it is not expected to have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

Business combinations and noncontrolling interests

In December 2010, the FASB issued guidance specifying that if a public entity presents comparative financial statements, the entity (acquirer) should disclose revenue and earnings of the combined entity as though the business combination(s) that occurred during the current year had occurred as of the beginning of the comparable prior annual reporting period only. It also expands the supplemental pro forma disclosures to include a description of the nature and amount of material, nonrecurring pro forma adjustments directly attributable to the business combination included in the reported pro forma revenue and earnings. This guidance is effective for us prospectively for material business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after August 1, 2011.

Critical accounting policies

The accompanying discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our most critical accounting policies have a significant impact on the preparation of these consolidated financial statements. These policies include estimates and significant judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. We continue to have the same critical accounting policies as are described in Item 7, beginning on page 35, in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal year 2010 filed with the SEC on September 23, 2010. Those policies and the estimates involved in their application relate to revenue recognition; inventory reserves; share-based compensation; warranty reserves; purchase price allocation for business combinations; impairment of goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets; income tax contingencies; and deferred tax valuation allowances. We continue to evaluate our estimates and judgments on an on-going basis. By their nature, these policies require management to make difficult and subjective judgments, often on matters that are inherently uncertain. Our estimates and judgments are based on our historical experience, terms of existing contracts, our observance of trends in the industry, information provided by our customers, and information available from other outside sources, as appropriate.

Table of ContentsItem 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

All dollar amounts in this Item 3 are in thousands.

Certain of our foreign operations enter into transactions in currencies other than their functional currency, primarily the U.S. dollar and the Euro. We also have foreign currency exposure arising from the translation of our net equity investment in our foreign operations to U.S. dollars. We generally view our investments in foreign operations with functional currencies other than the U.S. dollar as long-term. The currencies to which we are exposed are the British pound, Chinese yuan, Canadian dollar, Danish kroner, and Euro. A 10% depreciation in the functional currencies, relative to the U.S. dollar, at January 31, 2011 and July 31, 2010 would result in a reduction of stockholders' equity of approximately $1,134 and $700, respectively.

Our cash and investments include cash equivalents, which we consider to be investments purchased with original maturities of three months or less. At January 31, 2011, we did not have any held-to-maturity marketable securities having maturities from the time of purchase in excess of three months, which would be stated at amortized cost, approximating fair value. Our cash equivalents are comprised primarily of certificates of deposit. Total interest income for the three and six months ended January 31, 2011 was $188 and $406, respectively. An interest rate change of 10% would not have a material impact on the fair value of our investment portfolio or on future earnings.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of January 31, 2011. The term "disclosure controls and procedures", as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions to be made regarding required disclosure. It should be noted that any system of controls and procedures, however well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, and not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the system are met and that management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of January 31, 2011, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

There were no changes to our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended January 31, 2011 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Part II. OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1A. Risk Factors

In addition to the other information set forth in this report, you should carefully consider the factors discussed in Part I, Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal year 2010, which could materially affect our business, financial condition, and future operating results. The risks described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K are not the only risks that we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem to be immaterial also may materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, and operating results. There have been no material changes to the risk factors set forth in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal year 2010.
