June 14, 2012

Mr. David S. Redfern

Chief Strategy Officer

GlaxoSmithKline

980 Great West Road

Brentford, Middlesex

TW89GS UK

Dear Mr. Redfern,

In connection with the previously announced and ongoing strategic alternative review process for Human Genome Sciences, Inc. (HGS or the Company), on behalf of HGS, Goldman, Sachs & Co. (Goldman Sachs) and Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC (Credit Suisse) wish to inform you that the Company has established a calendar and bidding procedures for the final phase of the process and invite you to submit a written, binding fully financed definitive proposal (the Proposal) for the acquisition of 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the Company.

To enable HGS to evaluate all Proposals on a comparable basis, each Proposal should comply with the terms and conditions outlined in this letter. Representatives of Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse will be available to consult with you prior to the submission of your Proposal to clarify information and procedures. Prospective purchasers will each receive a proposed form of a definitive agreement and plan of merger specifying the terms upon which HGS intends to enter into a transaction. The Company requests that a mark-up of the agreement and plan of merger be provided by no later than July 9, 2012 at 12:00 noon EDT. The Proposal should be sent in writing no later than July 16, 2012 at 12:00 noon EDT and must contain, at a minimum, the following information:

Submission of Proposal

1. Purchase Price and Consideration

Your Proposal should specify the exact amount, expressed in U.S. dollars, that you are offering per share to acquire 100% of the fully diluted common stock of the Company. The Proposal also should specify the form of consideration, including any form of contingent consideration which may be tied to future events. Please note HGS' principal objective is to maximize shareholder value, that the Company has a preference for cash consideration and that the Company's Board of Directors has previously rejected $13 per share as inadequate.

Edgar Filing: HUMAN GENOME SCIENCES INC - Form SC TO-T/A

2. Financing

Your Proposal should specify the sources and uses of funds that you contemplate in order to complete a Transaction. If prospective financing is being obtained from third-party sources, you must (a) specify details of such financing, including preliminary term sheets and points of contact for each financing source, and (b) indicate the process and timing required to secure such financing, as well as any material conditions related to such financing and the present status of any discussions.

3. Conditions and Authority

Your Proposal should include a statement as to any material external conditions or approvals (legal, regulatory, or otherwise) that are required to complete a Transaction. Your Proposal should also specify any internal approvals that have been obtained prior to submitting the Proposal, as well as any additional internal approvals that will be required prior to executing a definitive agreement or closing the Transaction. Please specify the timeframe necessary for meeting all conditions and obtaining all approvals.

Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse, on behalf of the Company, will review all submissions and will consider such factors as the proposed purchase price, the party's financial capability and ability to consummate a transaction in a manner that best satisfies HGS and its shareholders objectives and such other factors as are deemed relevant. It is the Company's current intention to evaluate all Proposals promptly upon receipt and, if it determines to do so in its sole discretion, quickly execute a definitive agreement for a transaction.

Other Information

The Company reserves the right to enter into negotiations with any interested party or parties at any time or to otherwise modify or terminate this process at any time. Neither the Company nor Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse will be obligated to state any reason for declining consideration, at any time, of any party. The Company is free to conduct a process for any transaction as it, in its sole discretion, shall determine (including changing or terminating any such process, providing any information to any other person, negotiating with any other person or entering into a definitive agreement with any other person with respect to any transaction, in each case, at any time and without notice to you or any other person) and is free in its sole discretion to at any time accept or reject any proposal relating to HGS for any reason or no reason without notice to you or any other person.

Each party must bear all costs of its own investigation and evaluation of the Company, including the fees and disbursements of counsel, consultants and advisors.

You should make an independent assessment of the merits of pursuing a transaction. No information nor any statement of the Company, Goldman Sachs or Credit Suisse shall constitute a representation or warranty of any party; only those representations or warranties set forth in a definitive agreement executed and delivered by the Company shall have any effect. This letter does not constitute an offer to sell the Company. An offer to acquire the Company will be deemed accepted by the Company only when a definitive acquisition agreement has been executed and delivered by the parties thereto.

Prospective purchasers should not contact employees, partners or customers of HGS. Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse remain the sole points of contact and are available to discuss matters relating to these procedures or to respond to your supplementary information requests. Please direct all inquiries to Lorence Kim of Goldman Sachs at (212) 902-5898, Peter van der Goes of Goldman Sachs at (212) 902-1943, Charlie Newton of Credit Suisse at (415) 249-2003 or Vincent Lozada of Credit Suisse at (415) 249-2040.

Again, thank you for your interest in Human Genome Sciences.

Sincerely,

GOLDMAN, SACHS & CO.

CREDIT SUISSE SECURITIES (USA) LLC

On June 15, 2012, Mr. Redfern sent a letter to HGS stating that GSK does not believe that participation in HGS's strategic alternatives review process is necessary. The full text of the June 15 letter is set forth below.

15 June 2012

For the attention of Tim Ingrassia

 Managing Director

 Goldman Sachs

 Scott Lindsay

 Vice Chairman

 Credit Suisse

Dear Sirs,

I am writing to you following receipt of the renewed invitation to participate in HGS's strategic alternatives review process and note the newly announced date of July 16th for submission of definitive acquisition proposals.

As we have said many times, we value our long relationship with HGS and our clear preference has always been to complete a transaction on a friendly basis in a timely fashion. We continue to believe now is the appropriate time in the evolution of our relationship to combine and that the strategic and financial logic of our combination is clear and in the interests of our respective shareholders.

We also continue to believe that participation in the process is unnecessary given our offer is not conditioned on due diligence or financing and can be completed expeditiously. GSK's offer of US$13.00 per share in cash takes into account the value of Benlysta, darapladib, albiglutide, HGS's operating and financial assets, as well as the synergies in a business combination.

Consequently, we respectfully decline the invitation to participate and intend to progress with our tender offer direct to HGS shareholders. In the meantime, we remain willing to meet and review our offer directly with you at any time.

Yours faithfully,

David Redfern

Chief Strategy Officer
