PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

The Registrant is unable to file its Form N-CSR for the period ended February 29, 2016 without unreasonable effort or expense because additional time is needed to address an issue that has arisen concerning the independence of the Registrant's auditor, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC), and, therefore, the accuracy of the statement in PwC's report included in Item 1 of Form N-CSR regarding PwC being an independent registered public accounting firm.

On May 4, 2016, PwC advised the Registrant's Audit Committee that it is in discussions with the Staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regarding a difference in the interpretation and application of Rule 2-01(c)(1)(ii)(A) of Regulation S-X (the Loan Rule), the rule related to debtor-creditor relationships involving an auditor under Regulation S-X's Qualifications of Accountants provisions. The issue relates solely to the identification of PwC as an independent registered public accounting firm in its report attached to the Registrant's shareholder report and not the information in the shareholder report itself.

PwC has advised the Audit Committee that it believes it is independent and it continues to have discussions with the SEC's Staff to resolve this interpretive matter. PwC further advised the Audit Committee that this matter did not compromise or impair its objectivity with respect to conducting its audits and issuing its reports on the financial statements of the Registrant. While PwC represented to the Audit Committee that it feels confident that PwC's interpretation of the Loan Rule is correct, neither PwC nor the Audit Committee can be certain of the final outcome.
