1. What did Enbridge announce?

This morning, we announced a definitive agreement to combine with Spectra Energy in a stock-for-stock transaction valued at approximately C$37 billion (US$28 billion).

This transformative transaction creates North America's largest energy infrastructure company with unmatched scale and diversity.

Together with Spectra Energy, our combined company will have an asset base that includes a diverse set of best-in-class assets comprising crude oil, liquids and natural gas pipelines, terminal and midstream operations, a regulated utility portfolio and renewable power generation.

This combination of assets and expertise will position the combined company to provide integrated services and first and last mile connectivity to key supply basins and demand markets.

The transaction is expected to close in the first quarter of 2017, subject to the approval of both companies' shareholders and certain regulatory, government and other customary closing conditions.

2. How will this transaction benefit Enbridge customers?

As a combined company, Enbridge and Spectra Energy will create North America's largest energy infrastructure company that will have what we believe is the best platform for serving customers in every region of North America.

Enbridge will continue to deliver the same efficient, reliable energy and great service you have come to expect.

3. Does this announcement have any immediate impact on Enbridge customers? Will rates be impacted?

You can rest assured that you will continue to receive the same excellent service that you have come to expect from us. There will be no change in day-to-day service and customers will continue to be served by the same people.

Until the transaction is complete, which we expect to occur in the first quarter of 2017, Enbridge and Spectra Energy will remain separate companies and it remains business as usual.

The transaction will not have an effect on your bill.

We have built a reputation for providing safe, reliable and cost-effective service and that will not change.

4. Will there be any changes to Enbridge's name, brands, products or services?

For now, it remains business as usual.

Upon completion of the transaction, the combined company will be called Enbridge.

5. Will there be any changes to my contracts with Enbridge?

Until the transaction is completed, both Enbridge and Spectra Energy will continue to operate as separate companies.

We have no plans to make changes to any customer contracts in connection with this combination.

6. Will my contacts at Enbridge change?

There are no changes to your company contacts and you should continue to reach out to your existing Enbridge representatives.

7. When will the transaction be completed? What needs to happen before the transaction can close?

We expect the transaction to be completed in the first quarter of 2017.
During that time, we will be working to secure the necessary approvals for the combination.

8. How will I know more about the progress of the transaction? Where can I find additional information?

Our relationship with our customers is the most important part of our business, and we will keep you updated on developments and progress throughout the process.

NON-GAAP MEASURES

This news release makes reference to non-GAAP measures, including ACFFO and ACFFO per share. ACFFO is defined as cash flow provided by operating activities before changes in operating assets and liabilities (including changes in environmental liabilities) less distributions to non-controlling interests and redeemable non-controlling interests, preference share dividends and maintenance capital expenditures, and further adjusted for unusual, non-recurring or non-operating factors. Management of Enbridge believes the presentation of these measures gives useful information to investors and shareholders as they provide increased transparency and insight into the performance of Enbridge. Management of Enbridge uses ACFFO to assess performance and to set its dividend payout target. These measures are not measures that have a standardized meaning prescribed by generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) and may not be comparable with similar measures presented by other issuers. Additional information on Enbridge's use of non-GAAP measures can be found in Enbridge's Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) available on Enbridge's website and www.sedar.com.
