Excerpts from the Company's September 12, 2016 earnings call for the quarter and year-end period ended June 30, 2016:

Michael Keown, President, Chief Executive Officer, Farmer Bros. Co.:

Thanks Isaac.

As always, I thank those on the call for your continued interest in Farmer Brothers. We are pleased with the progress we are making in our turnaround as we continue to focus on creating value for our stockholders.

Before we turn to questions, I would like to briefly comment on a recent development.

As you likely saw, a stockholder group led by Carol Farmer Waite recently published a letter to the Company's Board and indicated they plan to nominate candidates to stand for election to the Farmer Brothers' Board at our annual meeting for 2016. As noted in their recently updated 13D filing, the stockholder group has submitted their three nominees.

First, I note that we appreciate the views of all of our stockholders and remain open to ideas that will advance the Company's success and enhance stockholder value. The Board will consider these nominations in due course.

After the Board completes its nominating process, the Board will present its formal recommendation regarding director nominations in the Company's definitive proxy statement, which will be filed with the SEC and distributed to all stockholders eligible to vote at the Company's 2016 annual meeting. Our Board and management team are committed to acting in the best interests of the Company and our stakeholders and we will continue to take actions that we believe enable us to enhance stockholder value.

Our Board today is composed of seven actively engaged directors who collectively represent a strong mix of independence, executive experience, industry expertise, deep understanding of the Company's business and Farmer family representation. Six of our seven directors are outside, non-employee directors, five are independent, and five were appointed within the last five years. Four of the Board's independent directors are former chief executives of public and private companies in the foodservice business.

Additionally, Jeanne Farmer Grossman, who has been a director since 2009, is the sister of Carol Farmer Waite and the late Roy Edward Farmer, and the daughter of the late Roy F. Farmer.

Since I joined this organization in 2012, our team has been focused on implementing our turnaround strategy to improve the Company's performance, including working to better serve our existing customers as well as win new customers, drive growth in the volume of coffee pounds sold and create supply-chain efficiencies that would improve how we operate and reduce costs. The business strategy and initiatives our management team is executing, with the support of the Board, are designed to continue creating value for our stockholders. We believe a reflection of our progress is the Company's stock price in recent years, which has appreciated nearly 200% since March 2012, representing strong value creation of approximately $300 million for our stockholders.

As we look at where we stand since initiating our turnaround, we feel like we've made remarkable strides in signing on new customers, getting former customers to return, and expanding existing customer programs.... In total, from FY12 through FY16, we have increased green coffee pounds sold and processed by over 40%, and we have reduced the impact of green coffee commodity price movements on our results through more robust hedging programs.

When you step back and look at our gross margin progression over the last four years, gross margin has improved from 33.4% in FY12 to 38.3% in FY16.
