Item 2.05. Costs Associated With Exit or Disposal Activities

On May 30, 2006 the Board of Directors of Chicago Rivet & Machine Co. determined

Edgar Filing: CHICAGO RIVET & MACHINE CO - Form 8-K

that the Company would close its fastener operation in Jefferson, Iowa and transfer production activities to its facility in Tyrone, Pennsylvania. The Jefferson, Iowa facility had been operating below capacity, and the Company determined to close the facility as part of its cost savings efforts. While the exact timing is unknown at this time, it is expected that the transfer will be complete by December 31, 2006.

The Company anticipates one-time termination benefits in connection with the closing will amount to approximately $400,000. The Company does not anticipate that it will record a material charge related to asset impairment as a result of this closing. Additional costs associated with the relocation of equipment and closing and disposal of the facility are anticipated, but the amount of such costs are unknown at this time.

This report contains certain "forward-looking statements" which are inherently subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual events to differ materially from those discussed herein. Factors which may cause such differences in events include, those disclosed under "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K and in the other filings we make with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. These factors, include among other things: conditions in the domestic automotive industry, upon which we rely for sales revenue, the intense competition in our markets, the concentration of our sales to two major customers, the price and availability of raw materials, labor relations issues, losses related to product liability, warranty and recall claims, costs relating to environmental laws and regulations, the loss of the services of our key employees and difficulties in achieving expected costs savings. Many of these factors are beyond our ability to control or predict. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to publish revised forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.
