Section 1 - Conflict Minerals Disclosure

Item 1.01 Conflict Minerals Disclosure and Report

Rule 13p-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, generally provides that a company must file a specialized disclosure report if it manufactures or contracts to manufacture products for which one or more of the following minerals are necessary to the functionality or production of the company's products: cassiterite; columbite-tantalite (coltan); and wolframite; their derivatives tantalum, tin and tungsten; and gold (collectively, "3TGs"). These are considered "conflict minerals" under Rule 13p-1 regardless of their geographic origin and whether or not they fund armed conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo or its neighboring countries (the "covered countries").

McDonald's Corporation, a Delaware corporation, including our consolidated subsidiaries (collectively, "McDonald's"), franchises and operates McDonald's restaurants in more than 100 countries around the world.

We also offer Happy Meals toys and promotional items (the "covered products"). We determined that certain covered products contain some 3TGs. McDonald's does not directly purchase 3TGs, nor do we have any direct relationship with any mines or smelters that process these minerals.

None of the suppliers that responded provided information indicating that any 3TGs contained in any covered products come from any covered countries or were not from recycled or scrap sources.

As a result, we have no reason to believe that any of the 3TGs contained in our 2017 covered products originated in the covered countries or were not from recycled or scrap sources. The information in this Form SD also is publicly available on our website at
