Strong quarterly growth evidence of focused international and product expansion strategy

November 5, 2003 (Toronto, ON) CryptoLogic Inc., a leading software developer to the Internet gaming and e-commerce industries, announced today its financial results for the third quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2003. The strong results highlight the continuing growth and strength of the company's business.

CryptoLogic continues to outperform in 2003, driven by our focused strategy of international diversification and product expansion, said Lewis Rose, CryptoLogic's President and CEO. Third quarter revenue rose more than 35% to $10.9 million and net income increased by 75% to $2.3 million, even in seasonally the softest period of the year. CryptoLogic also achieved two important milestones: the listing of our shares on the London Stock Exchange and the declaration of our first ever quarterly dividend - signs of our financial strength.

CryptoLogic's third quarter achievements included:

Earnings growth to $0.18 per diluted share, ahead of analysts' consensus of $0.15 and the 2002 third quarter of $0.11;

Commenced trading on the London Stock Exchange's Main Market, in line with the company's global strategy and commitment to the highest regulatory standards and transparency in the industry;

Declared a quarterly dividend of $0.03 per share - the first in CryptoLogic's history;

Renewed and expanded an exclusive agreement until 2008 with a major existing UK licensee, Littlewoods Gaming, for both online casino and poker solutions developed by CryptoLogic;

Continued global diversification, with licensees' revenue from international markets at approximately 55% year-to-date, up from about 40% in fiscal 2002; and

New poker and bingo products continued to contribute over 10% of total revenue, providing promising upside opportunities in these large, emerging game segments.

Strong Q3 Growth (All financial figures are expressed in U.S. dollars)

For the third quarter ended September 30, 2003, CryptoLogic recorded a 37% increase in revenue to $10.9 million, compared with $8.0 million in last year's third quarter. EBITDA for the quarter rose 81% to $2.9 million, compared with $1.6 million in 2002. This translated into an EBITDA margin of 26% as a percentage of revenue, up from 20% last year. Net income rose 75% to $2.3 million or $0.18 per diluted share, compared with $1.3 million or $0.11 per diluted share last year.

The strong gains in the third quarter were attributed to existing customers' stabilizing and growing businesses fuelled by higher player deposits and wagers, enhanced payment options, and increasing contribution from new licensees. As well, growth continued from international players, and incremental revenue from new poker and bingo products. Improved EBITDA margins for the third quarter reflected CryptoLogic's scalable expense structure, while the company continued to invest in key areas of its business to drive sustainable, long-term growth.

Edgar Filing: CRYPTOLOGIC INC - Form 6-K

Revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 rose 20% to $30.7 million, compared with $25.6 million in the same 2002 period. EBITDA for the first nine months in 2003 increased 29% to $8.0 million, compared with $6.2 million before the non-recurring special charge last year. This translated into improved EBITDA margin of 26%, up from 24% in 2002. Net income improved 21% to $6.7 million or $0.54 per diluted share, versus $5.5 million ($0.43 per diluted share) before the special charge in 2002. After the special charge, the company had a net loss of $4.3 million or $0.35 per diluted share in 2002.

Balance Sheet Strength

CryptoLogic continued its track record of consistent operating profits and healthy cash flow. At September 30, 2003, CryptoLogic had no debt, and a cash position of $59.4 million (Q2 2003: $51.6 million) or $4.76 per diluted share (Q2 2003: $4.19) (comprising cash and cash equivalents, short term investments, and including restricted cash of $5.6 million). This cash amount excluded $7.8 million in user deposits, which are funds held on behalf of licensees' players. User funds on deposit have been separated on the balance sheet starting this quarter to provide improved disclosure of the company's available working capital.

The company's working capital was $41.9 million or $3.36 per diluted share. Operating cash flow for the third quarter of 2003 was $9.9 million, up from $2.2 million in 2002, due to increased cash generated from earnings, lower restricted cash requirements, and other changes in working capital.

Quarterly Dividend

In September, CryptoLogic's Board of Directors adopted a quarterly dividend policy. The Board approved the first dividend of $0.03 per share, payable on November 24, 2003 to shareholders of record as at November 17, 2003. CryptoLogic is one of the few software companies with a regular dividend policy.

Global Expansion

CryptoLogic's strategy of global expansion continued to be reflected in licensees' international revenue at approximately 55% of total revenue year-to-date, up from about 40% in 2002. The company continues to benefit from the favourable contribution and growth of existing and new customers focused on overseas markets.

In September of 2003, CryptoLogic, through its licensing subsidiary, WagerLogic, secured a long-term, expanded agreement with a current customer, Littlewoods Gaming, a major household name in the UK. Littlewoods committed to a five-year exclusive contract, conditional upon performance targets after the second year, to continue to use WagerLogic's online casino offering, and added WagerLogic's proven online poker solution, both until 2008. Littlewoods presents exciting potential for CryptoLogic in two significant growth areas—the burgeoning UK market and the large poker opportunity.

London Stock Exchange Listing

The United Kingdom is emerging as the global center for regulated interactive gaming. CryptoLogic's new listing on London's Main Board further highlights its considerable UK presence, particularly its local operations and prominent UK customers, comprising William Hill plc, Littlewoods Gaming, The Ritz Club London Online, and ukbetting plc. The listing enhances the company's visibility and profile in this high-growth region, and gives CryptoLogic access to a broader shareholder base in a gaming-friendly jurisdiction.

Strategic Product Diversification

In an increasingly competitive and sophisticated global market, new game and service introductions create marketing opportunities for licensees, enhance player loyalty, and drive incremental revenue. One year since launch, poker and bingo contributes more than 10% of CryptoLogic's revenue. Licensees are experiencing growth in their online businesses driven by these large, emerging game segments that attract a strong community of loyal players.

Outlook

CryptoLogic continues to deliver on its strategic plan and achieve solid top- and bottom-line performance. The company's strong results in 2003 illustrate the importance of investments in key areas of CryptoLogic's business. CryptoLogic remains alert to further opportunities to increase shareholder value.

Management forecasts that fourth quarter revenue will range from $11.0-$11.5 million, with net income of $2.3-$2.5 million or $0.18-$0.20 per diluted share.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at September 30, 2003

(All figures are in U.S. dollars, except where otherwise indicated)

Edgar Filing: CRYPTOLOGIC INC - Form 6-K

(Unaudited)

These consolidated interim financial statements of CryptoLogic Inc. (the Company) have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles using the same accounting policies as were used for the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002. This consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002, as set out in the 2002 Annual Report.

1. Stock Option Plan

In accordance with the Canadian recommendations adopted in 2002, the Company will continue its existing policy that no compensation cost is recorded on the grant of stock options to employees. Consideration paid by employees on the exercise of stock options is recorded as share capital. However, under the Canadian standard, the Company is required to provide additional pro forma disclosures for options granted to employees as if the fair value based accounting method had been used to account for employee stock options.

The fair value of the options granted were made using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted assumptions:

	2003	2002
Dividend yield	1%	0%
Risk-free rate	2.75%	2.0%
Expected volatility	75.0%	100.0%
Expected life of options in years	5.0	5.0

Had compensation expense been determined based on the fair value of the employee stock option awards at the grant dates in accordance with the new recommendations, the Company's net income and earnings per share would have been changed to the following pro-form amounts:

	Three months ending September 30,				Nine months ending September 30,

3. Special Charge 2002

During the second quarter of FY 2002, the Company took a one-time special charge of $10.5 million ($9.9 million on an after tax basis). This charge was comprised of a write-down of investments that were deemed permanently impaired, including the 100% write-down of the Company's investment in SCG Enterprises Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of Sports.com, as well as costs associated with consolidation of the Company's players support operations, executive management reorganization, and estimated settlement and legal costs.

4. Comparative Figures
