¹ Under Rule 15c6-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in three business days, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, purchasers who wish to trade notes on the date of pricing or the next succeeding business day will be required, by virtue of the fact that the notes initially will settle T+5, to specify an alternate settlement cycle at the time of any such trade to prevent a failed settlement. Purchasers of notes who wish to trade such notes on the date of pricing or the next succeeding business day should consult their own advisor.

Changes to the Preliminary Prospectus Supplement

The following section is added on page S-31 of the Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, replacing the section entitled “Qualified Reopening” in its entirety:

Qualified Reopening and Amortizable Premium

The 2044 notes will be issued in a “qualified reopening” of the existing 2044 notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, the 2044 notes will be considered to have the same issue date as the existing 2044 notes and to be issued at par, even though, considered separately, the 2044 notes will be issued at a premium equal to the excess of the offering price of the 2044 notes (excluding pre-issuance accrued interest) over their principal amount.

Generally, a U.S. Holder may elect to amortize such premium as an offset to stated interest income in respect of the 2044 notes, using a constant yield method prescribed under applicable Treasury regulations, over the remaining term of the 2044 notes, subject to certain limitations. If you elect to amortize the premium, you must reduce the basis in the 2044 notes by the amount of the aggregate amortization deductions allowable for the premium.

If you make an election to amortize bond premium, such election will apply to all debt instruments that you own at the beginning of the first taxable year to which the election applies and to all debt instruments that you thereafter acquire, in each case, other than debt instruments the interest on which is excludible from gross income. You may not revoke an election to amortize bond premium without the consent of the IRS.

The rules relating to amortizable premium, the determination of the accrual period for any such premium and the effect of an election to amortize premium are complex, and prospective investors should consult their own tax advisor regarding the application of these rules in their particular circumstances.
