These statements are only predictions based on our current expectations and projections about future events. Forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results, level of activity, performance or achievements to differ materially from the results contained in the forward-looking statements. Risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to vary materially, include, among others:

certain risks and uncertainties associated with the acquisitions of New Mexico Health Connections and the acquisition of Valence Health, including future core business and premium revenues may be less than expected, the timing and extent of new lives expected to come onto the platform may not occur as expected and the expected results of Evolent may not be impacted as anticipated;

the structural change in the market for health care in the United States;

uncertainty in the health care regulatory framework;

the uncertain impact the results of the 2016 presidential and congressional elections may have on health care laws and regulations;

the significant portion of revenue we derive from our largest partners, and the potential loss, termination or renegotiation of customer contracts;

our ability to offer new and innovative products and services; risks related to completed and future acquisitions, investments and alliances, which may be difficult to integrate, divert management resources, result in unanticipated costs or dilute our stockholders;

the growth and success of our partners, which is difficult to predict and is subject to factors outside of our control, including premium pricing reductions and the ability to control and, if necessary, reduce health care costs;

our ability to attract new partners and deliver results for partners, our ability to identify and complete strategic merger and acquisition opportunities and our ability to invest capital with attractive economics;

the increasing number of risk-sharing arrangements we enter into with our partners;

our ability to recover the significant upfront costs in our partner relationships;

our ability to estimate the size of our target market;

our ability to maintain and enhance our reputation and brand recognition;

consolidation in the health care industry;

the risk of potential future goodwill impairment on our results of operations;

our indebtedness and our ability to obtain additional financing;

our ability to achieve profitability in the future;

the requirements of being a public company;

our adjusted results may not be representative of our future performance;

the risk of potential future litigation;

our obligations to make payments to certain of our pre-IPO investors for certain tax benefits we may claim in the future;

our ability to utilize benefits under the tax receivables agreement described herein;

our ability to realize all or a portion of the tax benefits that we currently expect to result from past and future exchanges of Class B common units of Evolent Health LLC for our Class A common stock, and to utilize certain tax attributes of Evolent Health Holdings and an affiliate of TPG;
