SUNTRUST AUTHORIZES 5 MILLION SHARE STOCK REPURCHASE PROGRAM

ATLANTA (June 13, 2001) -- The Board of Directors of SunTrust Banks, Inc. (NYSE:STI) today authorized the repurchase of up to 5 million shares of the Company's common stock. Management expects these purchases to be made from time to time in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions depending on market conditions. This authorization is in addition to the share repurchase announced in August of last year; less than two million shares remain to be purchased under this existing authorization.

L. Phillip Humann, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of SunTrust, stated, "We decided to increase our share repurchase authorization because we believe that SunTrust shares are undervalued at current trading prices. In addition, it is our expectation that, as we continue to communicate with Wachovia shareholders and the marketplace generally about the benefits of our proposal to merge with Wachovia - and begin our proxy solicitation process - there will be a greater appreciation of the compelling benefits of a SunTrust/Wachovia combination."

SunTrust Banks, Inc., headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, is the nation's ninth-largest commercial banking organization. As of March 31, 2001, SunTrust had total assets of $103.7 billion and total deposits of $65.5 billion. The company operates through an extensive distribution network in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Tennessee, Virginia and the District of Columbia and also serves customers in selected markets nationally. Its primary businesses include traditional deposit and credit services as well as trust and investment services. Through various subsidiaries the company provides credit cards, mortgage banking, insurance, brokerage and capital markets services.

SunTrust Says First Union's Proposed North Carolina Legislation Would Disenfranchise Wachovia Shareholders

ATLANTA, GA - SunTrust Banks, Inc. (NYSE: STI) today issued the following statement in response to legislation proposed in North Carolina at the instigation of First Union (NYSE: FTU) that would disenfranchise shareholders of Wachovia Corporation (NYSE: WB) and all other North Carolina companies by preventing shareholders from calling special meetings.

North Carolina and many other states - in fact a substantial majority of states in the U.S. - now allow shareholders to call special meetings if such provisions are included in either the bylaws or charter of a company. The proposed legislation, passed today by the North Carolina House of Representatives and to be taken up tomorrow by the Senate, would no longer allow special shareholder meetings unless included in a company's charter. Charter amendments must be proposed by a company's Board of Directors, not by the shareholders.

Jim Wells, SunTrust Vice Chairman, said, "This misguided legislation will hurt shareholders of all North Carolina companies and discourage investment in any public company incorporated in North Carolina. Economic development in North Carolina will suffer when investors realize that midnight legislation can eviscerate their rights without warning. This is not about protecting North Carolina companies; it is about disenfranchising Wachovia's shareholders in a backdoor-effort to support First Union's takeover of Wachovia. We find it unconscionable that Wachovia's management would let First Union do this to Wachovia shareholders. Wachovia shareholders, not First Union, should have the right to determine the fate of their company. The First Union transaction will also hasten job losses and bank branch closings, decrease competition for financial services and have an overall negative impact on North Carolina communities. Our proposal is better for North and South Carolina because consumers and business will have more, not fewer, choices in selecting financial services providers. A SunTrust/Wachovia merger also means no closed branches in North and South Carolina and many fewer job losses."
