PROXY STATEMENT FOR ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
TO BE HELD ON MAY 11, 2011

This proxy statement is furnished to the stockholders of Calvin B. Taylor Bankshares, Inc. (the "Company") in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of the Company, to be voted at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Annual Meeting of Stockholders will be held on Wednesday, May 11, 2011 at 2:00 p.m. local time and at any adjournment or postponement thereof, for the purposes set forth in this Proxy Statement. The meeting will be held at the principal Executive Office of the Company at 24 North Main Street, Berlin, Maryland 21811. This Proxy Statement and the accompanying Proxy were first mailed to the stockholders on or about April 1, 2011.

VOTING AND REVOCABILITY OF PROXY APPOINTMENTS

The Company has fixed March 1, 2011, as the record date (the "Record Date") for determining the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. The Company's only stock is its Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share. At the close of business on the Record Date, there were outstanding and entitled to vote 3,000,508 shares of Common Stock of the Company, with each share being entitled to one vote. There are no cumulative voting rights. A majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock represented at the Meeting, in person or by proxy, will constitute a quorum.

All proxies will be voted in accordance with the instructions contained in the proxies. If no choice is specified, proxies will be voted "FOR" the election to the Board of Directors of all nominees listed below under "ELECTION OF DIRECTORS," "FOR" the ratification of the appointment of Rowles and Company, LLP, as independent auditors for the Company for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2011, and at the proxy holder's discretion, on any other matter that may properly come before the Meeting. Any stockholder may revoke a proxy given pursuant to this solicitation prior to the Meeting by delivering an instrument revoking it, or by delivering a duly executed proxy bearing a later date, to William H. Mitchell, Vice President of the Company. A stockholder may elect to attend the meeting and vote in person even if he or she has a proxy outstanding.

Stockholders whose shares are held in brokerage accounts will have the option to submit their proxies or voting instructions electronically through the Internet or by telephone. Stockholders should check the voting form or instructions provided by their brokerage to see which options are available. Stockholders submitting proxies or voting instructions electronically should understand that there may be costs associated with electronic access that would be borne by the stockholder, such as usage fees from Internet access providers and telephone companies. To revoke a proxy previously submitted electronically, a stockholder may submit a new proxy at a later date before the vote is taken at the Annual Meeting. In this case, the earlier proxy will be revoked and the proxy submitted later will be recorded.

Brokers generally may not vote shares held by them in street name for customers. A broker that holds shares in street name for customers has authority to vote on "routine" items if it has transmitted proxy-soliciting materials to the beneficial owner but has not received instructions from that owner. The proposal to ratify the selection of the Company's independent auditors is a "routine" item. Brokers that do not receive instructions may not, however, vote on the election of Directors. Thus, it is important that you cast your vote for the election of Directors.

Management of the Company is not aware of any other matter to be presented for action at the meeting other than those mentioned in the Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders and referred to in this Proxy Statement. If any other matters come before the meeting, it is the intention of the persons named in the enclosed Proxy to vote on such matters in accordance with their judgment.

SOLICITATION

This solicitation is made by the Company. The costs associated with preparing, printing, assembling, and mailing the proxy materials are borne by the Company. Out-of-pocket and clerical expenses incurred by brokerage houses and other custodians who transmit copies of the proxy materials to the beneficial owners of shares held as of the Record Date are reimbursable by the Company.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Article II of the Company's Articles of Incorporation, and Section 2.03 of the Company's Bylaws, as amended, provide that each member of the Company's Board of Directors shall serve a one-year term. The entire Board of Directors is elected annually by vote of the Stockholders.

It is the intention of the persons named as proxies in the accompanying Proxy to vote FOR the election of the nominees identified below to serve for a one-year term, expiring at the 2012 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. If any nominee is unable or fails to accept nomination or election, the persons named as proxies in the Proxy will vote for the election of remaining nominees and any substitute nominee(s) recommended by the Company's Board of Directors.

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast at the meeting. Abstentions will not be considered to be either affirmative or negative votes.

No fees are paid for attendance at meetings of audit, compensation, nominating or strategic planning committees. Directors are not compensated for attendance at meetings of the Company's board. Total directors' fees paid by the Bank were $183,350 during 2010. Directors are not paid any form of compensation other than the fees described above.

Consideration is given to the contribution of each individual to the operation of the Company. Bonuses, if any, are discretionary and determined in a manner consistent with bonuses paid to other employees. Mrs. Hawkins' compensation is established by senior management.

The Company does not provide any form of compensation other than that which is disclosed in the following table.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation

The "Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010" (Dodd-Frank) entitles our stockholders to vote to approve the compensation of the above-named officers. This is an advisory vote, which means that it is non-binding. This provision of Dodd-Frank is commonly known as say-on-pay.

The Company's practices for establishing executive compensation are described above under "Executive Compensation." The Company does not enter into employment contracts with officers or other employees, and has no incentive compensation plans under which compensation is calculated based on individual or corporate performance.

Although the say-on-pay vote is non-binding, the Board of Directors will take seriously any significant vote against the executive officer compensation as disclosed in this proxy statement, including evaluating whether any action is appropriate in response to that vote.

Advisory Vote on the Frequency of Holding an Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation

Dodd-Frank also entitles our stockholders to indicate a preferred frequency for inclusion of the advisory vote on executive compensation in the Proxy. Stockholders are given the option of indicating a preference for the advisory vote on executive compensation to be presented in the Proxy at intervals of one, two, or three years. This too is an advisory vote, which means that it is non-binding. This provision of Dodd-Frank is commonly known as say-on-frequency.

The Company's Board of Directors is not recommending a particular frequency. Stockholder votes will be tallied, reviewed, and considered as the Board determines the frequency at which it will include an advisory vote on say-on-pay in the Proxy.

Overall Compensation Policies

The Company has no employees. Compensation for various positions in the Bank is established with consideration to the competitive employment environment in the area for similar job positions. Individual employee qualifications including relevant experience and education are considered in determining compensation. Employees qualify for annual pay increases and bonuses based on their performance. All bonuses are discretionary and are approved by the Board of Directors.

Relations with employees are considered to be good. Compensation policies and practices are designed in such a manner as to have a low likelihood of increasing the risk of causing a material adverse effect on the Bank or the Company.

BOARD LEADERSHIP STRUCTURE AND RISK OVERSIGHT

The Boards of Directors of the Bank and of the Company (the Boards) have parallel leadership structures. Reese F. Cropper, Jr., Chairman, served as president of the Bank for twenty-eight years and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) for ten years before resigning from those positions in May 2002, and December 31, 2005, respectively. Raymond M. Thompson succeeded Mr. Cropper as President and CEO. Mr. Cropper has served as Chairman of the Board since May 2002. The positions of Chairman and CEO, as well as other officer positions, are filled by the Boards annually during their organizational meeting. Separation or combination of the positions of Chairman and CEO is considered at that time. While these positions are currently separated, the Boards do not consider that the assignment of both positions to the same individual, properly vetted, presents higher risk.

The Boards have not designated a senior or leading independent director. Each independent director brings unique perspective and is on equal footing with each other director. The Audit Committee which is comprised of only independent directors meets quarterly. At this time, any concerns of a non-employee director can be voiced in the absence of inside directors and discussed within this independent body.

To fulfill its role in risk oversight, the Board relies primarily on information provided by senior management and auditors. Financial and accounting officers analyze and report results of operations, evaluation of capital adequacy of correspondent banks, and activity in the investment portfolio. Loan department managers provide updated information on credit issues including delinquencies and other troubled loans. Management informs the Board of non-financial events that may become public knowledge with either positive or negative effect on the Bank's reputation in the community. Internal and outside auditors and federal and state banking examiners report the results of their tests, highlighting matters that require Board attention. Board members attend seminars to stay abreast of issues in the banking industry and to network with peers.

BOARD & COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Boards of Directors of the Bank and of the Company are scheduled to meet monthly and each held seventeen meetings in 2010. Five special board meetings were called for the purpose of discussing time-sensitive loan collection matters. Members are compensated for attendance.

The Executive Committee of the Bank's board meets weekly and is comprised of four standing members and one rotating member. In 2010, the standing members included two inside directors, one outside director, and one emeritus director. The rotating member is an outside director. In addition to discussion and approval or denial of loan applications, the Committee engages in discussions of general interest including regulatory updates, bank policies and procedures, customer service, and product development. Non-employee directors serving on this Committee are compensated for attendance.

The Audit Committee is a standing committee of the Company's Board comprised of independent directors. Members serving in 2010 were James R. Bergey, Jr., John H. Burbage, Jr., Todd E. Burbage, Charlotte K. Cathell, Hale Harrison, Gerald T. Mason, and Michael L. Quillin, Sr. Chairman James R. Bergey, Jr. serves as the financial expert. The Audit Committee meets no less than quarterly and held four meetings in 2010. The Board of Directors has adopted a written Audit Policy which serves as a charter for the Audit Committee (see Exhibit I). The Committee reviews the reports and findings of the internal auditor quarterly. At least once each year, the Committee meets with the outside audit firm to review and discuss annual financial reports and required year-end communications from the audit firm. Members are not compensated for attendance.

The Compensation Committee is a standing committee of the Bank's board comprised of three independent directors. Committee members in 2010 were Hale Harrison, Gerald T. Mason, and Michael L. Quillin. The Compensation Committee meets annually or as needed to establish executive compensation. No officer of the Bank serves in a capacity that influences Compensation Committee members in their professional activities outside of the Bank and the Company. The Compensation Committee held one meeting in 2010. Members are not compensated for attendance.

The full Board of Directors performs the function of a Nominating Committee on an ad hoc basis. Directors serve for one-year terms subject to annual re-election until they either reach mandatory retirement at 72 years of age or voluntarily resign from the Board. When seeking nominees, the Board, acting as the Nominating Committee, considers the reputation of a candidate in the community, their professional qualifications, as well as the age, gender, racial, and ethnic characteristics that would best compliment and strengthen the composition of the current directorate. Director nominees are proposed to stockholders by consensus of the Board of Directors. The Nominating Committee met twice in 2010.

The Strategic Planning Committee consists of up to five members including the Bank's President. The purpose of this committee is to periodically review the Bank's current strategic mission, and make planning recommendations or suggestions for the full Board's consideration. During 2010, the committee consisted of independent directors James Bergey, Jr., Todd Burbage, Charlotte Cathell and Hale Harrison, and President Raymond M. Thompson. The Committee met once in 2010. Members are not compensated for attendance.

There are no Board committees other than those described above.

Audit Policy

Purpose

The Board of Directors (Board) adopts this policy which is designed to provide sufficient audit coverage to prevent unnecessary losses that may result from inadequate controls or inappropriate procedures and to assure that disclosure and reporting controls are adequate to assure that the financial reports of the Company are fairly stated. Further, it is the purpose of this policy to provide authority and direction to the Audit Committee (Committee) of the Board.

Audit Committee

The Board authorizes the Audit Committee to oversee the audit functions of the Company and its subsidiaries. The Committee is responsible for selecting qualified external and internal auditors to provide sufficient audit coverage in all major risk areas, to assess the adequacy of internal controls, to test compliance with policies, procedures, generally accepted accounting principles and applicable laws and regulations. The Committee may, at its discretion, retain counsel or other advisors as necessary to fulfill their duties.

The Committee is comprised of all independent Board members and meets no less than quarterly. During each meeting, the Committee will meet absent Directors who are employees of the Company or subsidiaries.

External audit

The Committee will select an external audit firm to perform an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. At least once in every three years, the Committee will obtain, review and sign a letter from the external audit firm stating a mutual understanding of the engagement.

Annually, the external auditor will meet with the Board to review their findings and recommendations, and to discuss the independence of the auditor. This meeting will generally occur within the first quarter of the year.

Internal audit

The Committee will select a qualified internal auditor who will remain independent of operational functions when performing audits and who will report directly to the Committee. Internal Audit will assess the adequacy of the Bank's policies, procedures and internal control structure and test compliance with those policies and procedures, as well as applicable laws and regulations and generally accepted accounting principles.

A risk-based Internal Audit Program, approved by the Committee, will be maintained by the internal auditor. The schedule will be flexible allowing the auditor to use judgment in applying additional or reduced procedures as deemed necessary.

Internal Audit will maintain documentation of audit procedures supporting all conclusions in workings papers which will be available to auditors and examiners on request. It is the intent of the Bank that this cooperation should facilitate the work of auditors and examiners to minimize duplication of effort and cost to the Bank.
