QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THIS INFORMATION STATEMENT

Q. Why am I being furnished with this Information Statement?

A. The Exchange Act and the BCL require us to provide you with information regarding the actions taken by written consent of the Majority Shareholder in lieu of a meeting. Your vote is neither required nor requested.

Q. Was shareholder approval of the potential issuance of common stock pursuant to the Purchase Agreement required by the BCL?

A. No. In general, there is no requirement under the BCL that shareholder approval be obtained to issue the Company's securities. However, shareholder approval of the issuance of our common stock is required under Nasdaq Listing Rules 5635(a) and 5635(d). Nasdaq Listing Rule 5635(a) requires listed companies to obtain shareholder approval prior to the issuance of securities in connection with the acquisition of the stock or assets of another company if any director, officer or substantial shareholder of the Company has a 5% or greater interest directly or indirectly, in the company or assets to be acquired or in the consideration to be paid in the transaction and the potential issuance of common stock could result in an increase in outstanding common shares or voting power of 5% or more. Nasdaq Listing Rule 5635(d) requires listed companies to obtain shareholder approval if the sale, issuance or potential issuance by the company of common stock (or securities convertible into or exercisable for common stock), for less than the greater of book or market value, equals 20% or more of the common stock or 20% or more of the voting power outstanding before the issuance.

Q. Why am I not being asked to vote?

A. Section 614(b) of the BCL states that, in all matters other than the election of directors or as otherwise required by statute, the affirmative vote of the majority of shares present in person or represented by proxy at a meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter will be the act of the shareholders. Section 615(a) of the BCL provides that whenever shareholders are required or permitted to take any action by vote, such action may be taken without a meeting on written consent, setting forth the action so taken, signed by the holders of all outstanding shares entitled to vote thereon or, if the certificate of incorporation so permits, signed by the holders of outstanding shares having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. The Company's restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, permits shareholders holding not less than minimum number of votes required to authorize or take action at a meeting, to take authorize or take action through a written consent. The Majority Shareholder, holding approximately 90.5% of our issued and outstanding common stock entitled to vote, executed a written consent dated November 17, 2017 approving the issuance of the 5,072,062 shares to StockCross pursuant to the Purchase Agreement. Such approval is sufficient under the BCL, and no further approval by our shareholders is required.

Therefore, your vote is not required and is not being sought. We are not asking you for a proxy and you are requested not to send us a proxy.

Q. What do I need to do now?

A. Nothing. This Information Statement is furnished to you solely for your information and does not require or request you to do anything.

ISSUANCE OF COMMON STOCK

Background

The Company, MSCO, and StockCross are deemed affiliates of each other and have been deemed affiliates since the Majority Shareholder acquired control of the Company on December 16, 2016 (the “Control Acquisition”), pursuant to the terms of an Acquisition Agreement, dated September 1, 2016, by and among the Company, the Majority Shareholder and the Estate of Muriel F. Siebert (the “Acquisition Agreement”). Following the Control Acquisition, the Board, its advisors and the management of the Company, continued to conduct a detailed review of the Company, the sectors of the financial industry it operates in, its assets, corporate structure, dividend policy, capitalization, operations, properties, policies, management and personnel. Additionally, the Company began analyzing the business lines of StockCross and MSCO in order to identify those lines of business where MSCO and StockCross may be able to realize certain economies of scale and collective benefit which is intended to increase revenue and reduce relative costs for MSCO.

In February 2017, the Board, at a regular meeting of the Board, discussed a proposal regarding the purchase by either the Company or MSCO of certain retail broker-dealer assets of StockCross.

In May 2017, the Company, MSCO and StockCross entered into a non-binding letter of intent dated May 3, 2017 (the “LOI”) which contemplated the Company and MSCO acquiring certain retail broker-dealer assets of StockCross.

The Asset Purchase Agreement

On June 26, 2017, the Company, MSCO, and StockCross entered into the Purchase Agreement, pursuant to which MSCO will acquire (the “Acquisition”) certain retail broker-dealer assets of StockCross (the “Assets”). StockCross is a self-clearing discount broker dealer that has a variety of business lines, certain of which are similar to MSCO’s. The purchase price for the Assets is $19,983,924, subject to adjustment as provided in the Purchase Agreement (the “Purchase Price”). The Purchase Price was derived based upon a valuation report and fairness opinion obtained by a financial advisor to the Company. See “Issuance of Common Stock – Fairness Opinion and Valuation Report.” At the closing of the Acquisition (the “Closing”), the Purchase Price will be paid by the Company issuing and delivering to StockCross 5,072,062 shares of its restricted common stock, subject to adjustment. The Purchase Agreement has been unanimously approved by the boards of directors of each of the Company and StockCross. The discussion in this Information Statement of the Acquisition and the principal terms of the Purchase Agreement is subject to, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to, the Purchase Agreement. The full text of the Purchase Agreement is attached hereto as Annex A, and is incorporated into this Information Statement by reference.

StockCross shall be solely liable for all liabilities and obligations to the extent arising from, or to the extent arising in connection with, ownership of the Assets or operation of the Business (as defined below) prior to the date of the Closing (the “Closing Date”), whether or not reflected on its books and records. Neither MSCO nor its affiliates will assume, and will have no liability for, any obligations and liabilities of StockCross (and its affiliates and their respective direct or indirect subsidiaries shall retain and remain solely liable for and obligated to discharge), all of their debts, contracts, agreements, commitments, obligations and other liabilities of any nature whatsoever, whether known or unknown, accrued or not accrued, fixed or contingent, not expressly assumed by MSCO in writing incurred or arising prior to the Closing Date. In the event that the StockCross is unable to pay any liabilities (including because of insufficient capital) relating to the Assets, we agreed to pay such liabilities, provided, that in the event of such a payment, StockCross shall return to us for cancellation that number of shares of our common stock issued to StockCross as consideration for the Purchase Price equal to the amount of such liabilities paid by us or at StockCross’ discretion pay us the equivalent in cash, when such cash becomes available to StockCross.

The Closing of the Acquisition is subject to customary closing conditions including receiving required regulatory approvals for the transfer of the Assets and obtaining approval from the Company’s shareholders of the issuance of common stock in payment of the Purchase Price. As of the date of this Information Statement, MSCO has received the required regulatory approvals for the transfer of the Assets. Upon the closing of the Acquisition, MSCO and StockCross will enter into a clearing agreement pursuant to which StockCross will act as the clearing broker for MSCO with respect to the accounts transferred from StockCross to MSCO in the Acquisition. We anticipate the Closing to occur on or before December 31, 2017.

Fairness Opinion and Valuation Report

Pursuant to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2017, we engaged Manorhaven Capital, LLC, a registered broker-dealer (“Manorhaven”) as the Company’s advisor to provide a fairness opinion (the “Fairness Opinion”) regarding the Acquisition and such other advice as the Company may reasonably request or that Manorhaven deems necessary or appropriate in connection with the Acquisition. In connection with its engagement, Manorhaven delivered to the Company the Fairness Opinion and a valuation report (the “Valuation Report”) regarding the value of the Assets. Manorhaven determined that the valuation range of the Assets as of May 31, 2017, the date of the Valuation Report, was approximately $17,985,533 to $21,982,318, with a base valuation of $19,983,926. The Company and MSCO agreed that the Purchase Price of the Assets would be the base valuation of $19,983,924. Manorhaven’s Fairness Opinion indicated that the Acquisition is “fair from a financial perspective,” provided the final agreed to valuation is not more than the valuation range set forth in the Valuation Report.

Manorhaven is a recognized investment banking, financial advisory and securities firm whose senior professionals have substantial experience advising companies in, among other industries, the brokerage industry. Manorhaven, as part of its investment banking, financial advisory and capital markets businesses, is regularly engaged in the valuation and financial assessment of businesses and securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, recapitalizations, spin-offs/split-offs, restructurings, securities offerings in both the private and public capital markets and valuations for corporate and other purposes. Manorhaven was recommended to the Board by counsel to the Company, based on previous experience with such counsel. Manorhaven is under common control with the Company’s counsel, Gusrae Kaplan Nusbaum PLLC, who represents all the parties to the Agreement.

In arriving at its opinion Manorhaven, among other items:

- Reviewed the Letter of Intent
- Held discussions with the management teams of the Company and StockCross regarding the history and performance, as well as the current and future prospects of the target assets;
- Conducted site visits to various StockCross offices;
- Held meetings with a sampling of the registered representatives to be acquired in the Acquisition;
- Reviewed the FINRA BrokerChecks of the registered representatives to be acquired through the Acquisition;

- Reviewed StockCross' financials statements from 2015 through the current year to date;
- Reviewed the capitalization table of the Company and StockCross;
- Reviewed Siebert's and StockCross' prepared financial projections;
- Reviewed the financial services market both domestically and globally, and other publicly available data for comparable companies;
- Reviewed the customer assets included in the Acquisition;
- Reviewed the real estate leases included in the Acquisition; and
- Conducted such other financial studies, analyses, investigations, and considered such other information as it deemed necessary or appropriate

In connection with its review, Manorhaven did not independently verify any of the information reviewed by Manorhaven for the purpose of its opinion and with the Company's consent, relied on such information being complete and accurate in all material respects. Manorhaven's opinion is based on economic, monetary, market, and other conditions and information made available to Manorhaven as of the date of the Valuation Report. No limitations were imposed by the Company upon Manorhaven with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed by Manorhaven in rendering its valuation conclusion or its Fairness Opinion.

Manorhaven's valuation analysis was based on the following assumptions:

- the valuation of the Assets was derived using data provided to Manorhaven as of the date of the Opinion;
- projections assume no additional capital or changes to working capital are required to run the combined business;
- no reduction in customers or customer assets as a result of the Acquisition;
- no loss of registered representatives acquired through the Acquisition;
- the Assets will continue to perform in-line with their historical performance;
- registered representatives acquired through the Acquisition will engage in cross-selling to the existing customer base of the Company;
- no regulatory issues related to the Acquisition;
- StockCross and the Company will enter into a correspondent clearing agreement which will closely mirror the Company's existing correspondent clearing agreement with National Financial Services;
- some cost synergies will be created as a result of the Acquisition; and

- the forward Federal Funds curve is used as the basis for increases in margin interest income and other interest income

In reviewing the materials provided by the Company and/or StockCross, Manorhaven determined that a comparable company and discounted cash flow analyses were the most appropriate methods to determine fair value and arrive at its opinion. Manorhaven indicated in its Fairness Opinion that the discounted cash flow analysis establishes the value of a company or group of assets whose value is determined to consist primarily of intangible assets, through the capitalization of free cash flows anticipated to be generated by the company. The procedure requires calculating the net present value of the projected free cash flows discounted by a risk-adjusted rate of return over the anticipated economic life of the investment. Manorhaven also indicated in its Fairness Opinion that comparable company analysis establishes value through a comparative analysis of similar publicly traded companies active in similar industry sectors. The approach compares ratios of income statement, balance sheet, and cash flow quantities versus known public valuations and extrapolates the subject company's value from said ratios. Some of the companies that Manorhaven included in its comparable company analysis were B. Riley Financial, Inc., Cowen, Inc., FBR & Co., JMP Group LLC, Ladenburg Thalmann Financial Services Inc., LPL Financial Holdings, Inc., Oppenheimer Holdings Inc., Piper Jaffray Companies, Raymond James Financial, Inc. and Security National Financial Corporation.

A copy of the Fairness Opinion and the Valuation Report will be available for inspection and/or copying by any shareholder or his or her representative, upon written request. The Fairness Opinion and the Valuation Report can be viewed at the Company's corporate offices located at 120 Wall Street, New York, NY 10005 during regular business hours between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m from the date of this Information Statement through the Closing Date. A shareholder or his or her representative may, under certain circumstances and at the shareholder's expense, copy the Fairness Opinion and the Valuation Report during the period it is available for inspection. A shareholder desiring to inspect and/or copy the shareholder list should contact the Company at 120 Wall Street, New York, NY 10005 (phone: (404) 539-1147), to make necessary arrangements.

Such increase was a result of an increase of $582,096 in principal transactions, due to an increase in proprietary sales to customers, an increase of $218,314 in interest income, due to a more favorable interest rate environment and consolidation of banking relationships resulting in a higher yield and an increase of $38,454 in other income primarily due to an expansion of the investment advisory business. Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Target Business enters into various transactions to meet the needs of customers, conduct trading activities, and manages market risks and is, therefore, subject to varying degrees of market and credit risk.

In the normal course of business, the Target Business's customer activities involve the execution, settlement, and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose the Target Business to off-balance sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and the Target Business has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss. The Target Business's customer securities activities are transacted on either a cash or margin basis. In margin transactions, the Target Business extends credit to its customers, subject to various regulatory and internal margin requirements, collateralized by cash and securities in the customers' accounts. In connection with these activities, the Target Business executes and clears customer transactions involving the sale of securities not yet purchased, substantially all of which are transacted on a margin basis subject to individual exchange regulations. Such transactions may expose the Target Business to off-balance sheet risk in the event margin requirements are not sufficient to fully cover losses that customers may incur. The transactions contemplated in this Agreement or any Ancillary Agreements will not constitute a fraudulent conveyance or otherwise give rise to any right of any creditor of Seller to any of the Purchased Assets. No bulk sales or similar Law applies to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

5.12 Representations Complete. Neither the representations made by Seller, nor any statement made in any Schedule or certificate furnished by Seller pursuant to this Agreement, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or, to Seller's knowledge, omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein, in light of the circumstances in which they were made, not misleading.

(a) Except as contemplated by this Agreement, during the period from the date hereof to the Closing Date, the Seller agrees to conduct its business in accordance with its ordinary and usual course of business and in compliance with the Securities Act and the Exchange Act; use its best efforts, subject to the foregoing, to preserve Seller's business organization, keep available to the Seller the services of Seller's officers and employees and maintain satisfactory relationships with customers, suppliers and others having business relationships with it; confer with representatives of the Buyer to keep them informed with respect to operational matters of a material nature and to report the general status of the ongoing operations of the business of the Seller; maintain the Seller's books and records in compliance with the Exchange Act.

7.2 Regulatory Consents, Authorizations, etc. Each party hereto will use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all consents, authorizations, orders and approvals of, and to make all filings and registrations with, any governmental commission, board or other regulatory body or any other Person which is required for or in connection with the consummation by it of the transactions contemplated hereby and will cooperate fully with the other parties in assisting them to obtain such consents, authorizations, orders and approvals and to make such filings and registrations. No party hereto will take or omit to take any action for the purpose of delaying, impairing or impeding the receipt of any required consent, authorization, order or approval or the making of any required filing or registration.

7.3 Access. From the date of this Agreement to the Closing Date, the Seller will give access to Buyer and its representatives reasonable access during normal business hours to the properties, books, records, customer accounts and contracts of the Seller and furnish to Buyer such documents and information concerning Seller's business as Buyer may reasonably request. Buyer will hold, and will cause its officers, directors, employees, accountants, counsel, consultants, advisors and agents to hold, in confidence, unless compelled to disclose by judicial or administrative process or by other requirements of applicable law, all confidential documents and information concerning Seller and its business provided to them.

7.4 Additional Agreements, Amendments or Supplements to Schedules.

(b) After the date hereof and prior to the Closing Date, the Seller, as soon as practicable, shall supplement or amend the Schedules required by this Agreement with respect to any matter arising after the date hereof which, if existing or occurring at the date hereof, would have been required to be set forth or described in such Schedules.

(e) Seller and its Affiliates shall have no liability to Buyer or its Parent with respect to the non-assignability or non-transferability of any Client contract to the extent such non-assignability or non-transferability arises solely as a result of the applicable Client objecting to assignment or failing to give an affirmative consent to assignment.

(d) Litigation; Other Events. No claim, action, suit or proceeding shall have been instituted or shall be threatened by any Person which seeks to prohibit, restrict or delay consummation of the purchase of the Purchased Assets hereunder, or any of the conditions to consummation of such purchase, or to subject the Parent or its directors, officers, employees or agents to liability on the ground that it or they have breached any law or regulation or otherwise acted improperly in relation to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

8.2 Conditions to Closing and the Seller's Obligation to Sell the Purchased Assets. The obligations of the Seller to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement including, without limitation, the sale of the Purchased Assets on the Closing Date, are subject to fulfillment, to the reasonable satisfaction of the Seller, on or prior to the Closing Date, of each of the following conditions:

ARTICLE IX TERMINATION

9.1 Prior to the Closing Date. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date:

(a) By the written agreement of the Buyer, the Seller and the Parent;

(b) By the Buyer if any event disclosed in the amendments to the Schedules hereto pursuant to Section 7.4 shall affect materially and adversely the Purchased Assets; or

(c) At the option of the Buyer or Seller if (i) the Purchased Assets sustain a material loss; (ii) trading in securities on the New York Stock Exchange has been suspended or limited; (iii) material governmental restrictions have been imposed on trading in securities generally (not in force and effect on the date hereof); (iv) a banking moratorium has been declared by federal authorities; (v) an outbreak of major international hostilities or other national or international calamity has occurred; (vi) a pending or threatened legal or governmental proceeding or action relating to the assets, operations, business or financial condition of the Seller, or a notification has been received by any of the parties hereto of the threat of any such proceeding or action, which could materially adversely effect the Purchased Assets; (vii) the passage by the Congress of the United States or by any state legislative body of similar impact, of any measure, or the adoption of any orders, rules or regulations by any governmental body or any authoritative accounting institute or board, or any governmental executive, which is reasonably believed likely by the Parent to have a material adverse impact on the Purchased Assets; (viii) any material adverse change in the financial or securities markets beyond normal market fluctuations has occurred since the date of this Agreement, and is continuing, and is reasonably expected to have material adverse effect on the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; (ix) a terrorist attack upon the United States; or (x) any material adverse change has occurred in the Purchased Assets.

9.2 Liabilities upon Termination prior to the Closing Date. In the event of the termination of this Agreement prior to the Closing Date, this Agreement shall thereafter be valid solely to the extent performed, but shall become void and have no effect as to the obligations of the parties as to all matters to be performed on or after the Closing Date, and no party hereto shall have any liability concerning those matters to be performed after the Closing Date to the other parties hereto or their respective stockholders, directors, officers, employees or agents in respect thereof, except that nothing herein will relieve any party from liability for any willful breach of any covenant herein contained prior to such termination. If this Agreement is terminated prior to the Closing Date, each of the parties hereto shall bear their own expenses incurred in negotiating the transactions contemplated hereby and the preparation of this Agreement and its Schedules, Exhibits and all other related documents.

ARTICLE X POST-CLOSING COVENANTS

10.1 Transition Matters. Seller shall provide Buyer with reasonable access to the Leased Premises and access to and use of computer systems, telephones, customer service and order taking and processing facilities (“Facilities”) used in connection with Seller’s business so as to enable Buyer and Seller to complete the Transfer of the Purchased Assets to Buyer and Buyer shall provide Seller with access to such Facilities.

10.2 Further Assurances. At any time and from time to time after the Closing, the parties shall execute, deliver and acknowledge such other documents and instruments of transfer, assignment or conveyance and do such further acts and things as may be reasonably required in order to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

ARTICLE XI SURVIVAL; INDEMNIFICATION

11.1 Survival of Representations and Warranties; Survival of Indemnities. All representations and warranties made by all parties herein or in any Schedule, Exhibit or certificate delivered pursuant hereto shall survive the Closing Date for a period of one (1) year. Any claim for indemnification under Sections 11.2 or 11.3 hereof shall be waived unless the indemnitee shall have given notice of such claim within the applicable period specified in the preceding sentence. The indemnification provisions set forth in this Article XI shall survive the Closing Date for a period of one (1) year; provided, however, that Seller’s obligation to indemnify Buyer with respect to any claim by a customer, in connection with his Transferring Client Account, for claims arising or accruing prior to the Closing Date, shall survive until such date that the applicable customer claims become barred by the relevant statute of limitations.

11.2 Indemnification of the Buyer. The Seller covenants and agrees with the Buyer that, regardless of any investigation made at any time by or on behalf of the Buyer or any information the Buyer may have, the Seller shall indemnify the Buyer and each of its successors, assigns, employees and agents (the “Buyer Indemnified Parties”), and hold them harmless from, against and in respect of any and all costs, losses, claims, liabilities, fines, penalties, damages and expenses which are caused by, result from or arise out of:

- (a) Any breach or default in the performance by the Seller of any covenant or agreement of Seller contained in this Agreement;
- (b) Any breach of a representation or warranty made by the Seller herein or in any Schedule, Certificate, Exhibit or other document or instrument delivered to the Buyer by the Seller pursuant hereto;
- (c) Any claim made against the Buyer in connection with or relating to any liability or obligation of the Seller (whether accrued absolute, contingent or otherwise), arising or accruing prior to the Closing Date including, without limitation any claims relating to the Transferring Client Accounts; or
- (d) Any and all actions, suits, proceedings, claims, demands, judgments, compromises, assessments, settlements, costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements of counsel and court costs) incident to any of the foregoing (each a “Claim”).

11.3 Indemnification of the Seller. The Buyer and Parent covenant and agree with the Seller that the Buyer and Parent shall jointly and severally indemnify the Seller and each of its officers, directors and successors and assigns (the “Seller Indemnified Parties”) and hold them harmless from, against and in respect of any and all costs, losses, claims, liabilities, fines, penalties, damages and expenses which are caused by, result from or arise out of:

- (a) Any breach or default in the performance by the Buyer or Parent of any covenant or agreement of the Buyer or Parent contained in this Agreement;
- (b) Any breach of a representation or warranty made by the Buyer or Parent herein or in any Schedule, Certificate, Exhibit or other document or instrument delivered to the Seller by or on behalf of the Buyer and Parent pursuant hereto;
- (c) Any claim made against the Seller in connection with or relating to any liability or obligation of the Buyer or Parent (whether accrued absolute, contingent or otherwise) arising or accruing after the Closing Date, with respect to the Purchased Assets; or
- (d) Any and all Claims (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements of counsel and court costs) incident to any of the foregoing.

11.4 Right to Defend, Etc. If the facts giving rise to any such indemnification shall involve any actual Claim or demand by any third party against a Seller Indemnified Party or Buyer Indemnified Party (in each case generally referred to as an “Indemnified Party”), the Indemnifying Party shall be entitled to notice of and entitled (without prejudice) to the right of any Indemnified Party to participate at its expense through counsel of its own choosing to defend or prosecute such claim at its expense and through counsel of its own choosing if it gives written notice of its intention to do so no later than the time by which the interests of the Indemnified Party would be materially prejudiced as a result of its failure to have received such notice; provided, however, that if the defendants in any action shall include both an Indemnifying Party and an Indemnified Party and the Indemnified Party shall have been advised by its counsel that the counsel selected by the Indemnifying Party has a conflict of interest because of the availability of different or additional defenses to the Indemnified Party, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to select separate counsel to participate in the defense of such action on its behalf, at the expense of the Indemnifying Party; provided, further, however, that if there is more than one Indemnified Party, the Indemnifying Party shall only be required to pay the expense of one additional counsel other than its own. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the failure to so notify the Indemnifying Party within such time as would materially prejudice the Indemnifying Party’s right to defend or prosecute such claim shall relieve such Indemnifying Party of any liability which it may have to any Indemnified Party; and (ii) the Indemnifying Party shall not be required to pay or reimburse the Indemnified Party for any costs or expenses associated with any counsel hired by the Indemnified Party prior to receipt of such notice by the Indemnifying Party. The Indemnified Party shall cooperate fully in the defense of such claim and shall make available to the Indemnifying Party pertinent information under its control relating thereto, but shall be entitled to be reimbursed, as provided in this Article XI, for all out-of-pocket costs and expenses payable to third parties incurred by it in connection therewith. If any Indemnifying Party assumes the defense of any such claim, the Indemnifying Party will hold the Indemnified Party harmless from and against any and all damages arising out of any settlement approved by such Indemnifying Party or any judgment in connection with such claim or litigation. Payment by an Indemnifying Party to an Indemnified Party shall be made within ten days after demand, unless there is a claim or demand by a third party in which event payment shall be made within ten days after final judgment, settlement or compromise, as the case may be.

11.5 Limitations on Indemnification Obligations. No Claim may be made against Seller on the one hand, or Buyer, on the other hand, for indemnification pursuant to this Article XI with respect to any individual Claim, unless the aggregate of (i) all Claims of the Buyer Indemnified Parties with respect to Section 11.2 or (ii) all Claims of the Seller Indemnified Parties with respect to Section 11.3, shall exceed $100,000 and, in such event Seller on the one hand, or Buyer, on the other hand shall be required to pay the aggregate amount of any such Claims, subject to the limitations described in the following sentence. Additionally, except as otherwise provided herein, (a) the aggregate amount of all Claims payable by Seller to the Buyer Indemnified Parties shall not exceed $1,000,000, and (b) the aggregate amount of all Claims payable by Buyer to the Seller Indemnified Parties shall also not exceed $1,000,000. The foregoing notwithstanding, any and all Claims by a Buyer Indemnified Party against Seller for indemnification relating to any claim by a customer, in connection with his Transferring Client Account, for claims arising or accruing prior to the Closing Date shall not be subject to, or included in calculating the limitations contained in this Section 11.5.

As StockCross operates as a stand-alone business, any overhead expenses have been allocated based on the percentage of revenue generated by the target assets and are presented accordingly in the financial statements. The revenue and expenses have been presented if the target business had operated as a stand-alone entity. Further, the presentation of expenses reflected in the carve-out financial statements may not be indicative of expenses that will be incurred in the future by the acquiring company.

These assets have been allocated based on the actual transfer of leases for rental deposits, based on number of registered employees transferred for regulatory fees, and based on the actual contracts for technological needs.

B-7

Income Taxes

The target business elected to be taxed as an “S” Corporation for federal income tax purposes and in various states. As an S corporation, the target business is not subject to federal income taxes and passes through substantially all taxable items to the shareholders of the target business. The target business is subject to state and local income taxes in various states and localities.

The target business recognizes the effect of tax positions only when they are more likely than not to be sustained under audit by the taxing authorities. At December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015 the target business did not have any unrecognized tax benefits or liabilities. The target business operates in the United States and in state and local jurisdictions, and tax years prior to 2013 are no longer subject to examination by taxing authorities. There are presently no income tax examinations in process.

4. Concentrations of Credit Risk

The target business is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities whose contra-parties include broker-dealers, banks and other financial institutions.

In the event contra-parties do not fulfill their obligations, the target business may sustain a loss if the market value of the instrument is different from the contract value of the transaction. The risk of default primarily depends upon the credit worthiness of the contra-parties involved in the transactions. It is the target business’s policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each contra-party with which it conducts business.

5. Litigation

The target business is subject to various claims and arbitration in the normal course of business. The target business believes that the resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on these financial statements.

6. Financial Instruments with off-balance-sheet risk

The target business enters into various transactions to meet the needs of customers, conduct trading activities, and manages market risks and is, therefore, subject to varying degrees of market and credit risk.

In the normal course of business, the target business’s customer activities involve the execution, settlement, and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose The target business to off-balance sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and The target business has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

The target business’s customer securities activities are transacted on either a cash or margin basis. In margin transactions, the target business extends credit to its customers, subject to various regulatory and internal margin requirements, collateralized by cash and securities in the customers’ accounts. In connection with these activities, the target business executes and clears customer transactions involving the sale of securities not yet purchased, substantially all of which are transacted on a margin basis subject to individual exchange regulations.

Such transactions may expose the target business to off-balance sheet risk in the event margin requirements are not sufficient to fully cover losses that customers may incur. In the event the customer fails to satisfy its obligations, the target business may be required to purchase or sell financial instruments at prevailing market prices to fulfill the customer's obligations.

The target business seeks to control the risks associated with its customer activities by requiring customers to maintain margin collateral in compliance with various regulatory and internal guidelines. The target business monitors required margin levels daily and, pursuant to such guidelines, require customers to deposit additional collateral or to reduce positions, when necessary.

The target business's customer financing and securities settlement activities may require the target business to pledge customer securities as collateral in support of various secured financing sources such as bank loans and securities loaned. In the event the counter-party is unable to meet its contractual obligation to return customer securities pledged as collateral, the target business may be exposed to the risk of acquiring the securities at prevailing market prices in order to satisfy its customer obligations. The target business controls this risk by monitoring the market value of securities pledged on a daily basis and by requiring adjustments of collateral levels in the event of excess market exposure. In addition, the target business establishes credit limits for such activities and monitors compliance on a daily basis.

As the target business will be retaining custody and clearance functions of the target assets, it will continue to be responsible for the off-balance-sheet risk.

The target business acquisition is being effected pursuant to the terms of an asset purchase agreement by and among StockCross, Siebert, and Siebert Financial Corp. (Siebert's parent) dated June 26, 2017. The asset sale consists of retail accounts of StockCross, the associated registered representatives and supervisory personnel. 4. Concentrations of Credit Risk

The target business is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities whose contra-parties include broker-dealers, banks and other financial institutions.

In the event contra-parties do not fulfill their obligations, the target business may sustain a loss if the market value of the instrument is different from the contract value of the transaction. The risk of default primarily depends upon the credit worthiness of the contra-parties involved in the transactions. It is the target business’s policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each contra-party with which it conducts business.

5. Litigation

The target business is subject to various claims and arbitration in the normal course of business. The target business believes that the resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on these financial statements.

6. Financial Instruments with off-balance-sheet risk

The target business enters into various transactions to meet the needs of customers, conduct trading activities, and manages market risks and is, therefore, subject to varying degrees of market and credit risk.

In the normal course of business, the target business’s customer activities involve the execution, settlement, and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose The target business to off-balance sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and The target business has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

The target business's customer securities activities are transacted on either a cash or margin basis. In margin transactions, the target business extends credit to its customers, subject to various regulatory and internal margin requirements, collateralized by cash and securities in the customers' accounts. In connection with these activities, the target business executes and clears customer transactions involving the sale of securities not yet purchased, substantially all of which are transacted on a margin basis subject to individual exchange regulations.

Such transactions may expose the target business to off-balance sheet risk in the event margin requirements are not sufficient to fully cover losses that customers may incur. In the event the customer fails to satisfy its obligations, the target business may be required to purchase or sell financial instruments at prevailing market prices to fulfill the customer's obligations.

The target business seeks to control the risks associated with its customer activities by requiring customers to maintain margin collateral in compliance with various regulatory and internal guidelines. The target business monitors required margin levels daily and, pursuant to such guidelines, require customers to deposit additional collateral or to reduce positions, when necessary.

The target business's customer financing and securities settlement activities may require the target business to pledge customer securities as collateral in support of various secured financing sources such as bank loans and securities loaned. In the event the counter-party is unable to meet its contractual obligation to return customer securities pledged as collateral, the target business may be exposed to the risk of acquiring the securities at prevailing market prices in order to satisfy its customer obligations. The target business controls this risk by monitoring the market value of securities pledged on a daily basis and by requiring adjustments of collateral levels in the event of excess market exposure. In addition, the target business establishes credit limits for such activities and monitors compliance on a daily basis.

As the target business will be retaining custody and clearance functions of the target assets, it will continue to be responsible for the off-balance-sheet risk.
