PRESS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

APPOINTMENTS TO AETERNA SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY BOARD

QUEBEC CITY, CANADA, APRIL 8, 2003 - Gilles Gagnon, President and Chief Executive Officer at AETerna Laboratories Inc. (TSX: AEL; Nasdaq: AELA) today announced the following appointments to its Scientific Advisory Board: Dr. Fernand Labrie, Director of Research at the CHUL Research Centre in Quebec City, Dr. Klaus H.R. Diedrich, Director of the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics of the University Clinic in Luebeck, Germany, as well as Dr. Rene Frydman, Director of the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics at the Antoine Beclere Hospital in Clamart, a suburb of Paris.

"The expertise of these new members, together with that of the other members of our board, enables us to build a team of top scientists in oncology and endocrinology, two sectors that are now the focus of our scientific research strategy," stated Dr. Jurgen Engel, Managing Director at Zentaris, as well as Executive Vice President, Global Research and Development and Chief Operating Officer at AETerna.

"We are very proud to welcome such eminent scientists to our Scientific Advisory Board," commented Gilles Gagnon. "Our new board is now composed of eleven external members: five Canadians, three Americans and three Europeans. This further reflects our determination to position AETerna as an international biopharmaceutical company. I would also like to take this opportunity in expressing our sincere gratitude to Dr. Kenneth C. Anderson of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in Boston, as well as to Dr. Daniel Sauder of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore for their valuable contribution over the years to our development program of Neovastat."

FERNAND LABRIE, MD, PHD

Dr. Labrie is Director of Research at the CHUL Research Centre in Quebec City with 175 senior scientists and 1,200 employees under his supervision. He founded the Research Laboratory in Molecular Endocrinology in 1969, as well as the CMR Research Group in Molecular Endocrinology in 1973. Dr. Labrie was also President of the Quebec Health Research Fund from 1992 to 1995. He has more than 1,000 scientific publications and has been a guest speaker at over 460 national and international scientific meetings. He is the recipient of multiple awards and prizes.

KLAUS H.R. DIEDRICH, MD, PHD

Director of the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics of the University Clinic in Luebeck, Germany, Dr. Diedrich is also current President of the German Society of Gynecology and Obstetrics (DGGO). He is the former President of the European Society of Human Reproduction and Embryology. Together with Dr. Rene Frydman, he pioneered the clinical development of Zentaris' LHRH antagonist, Cetrorelix.

RENE FRYDMAN, MD, PHD

Director of the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics at the Antoine Beclere Hospital in Clamart, a suburb of Paris, Dr. Frydman also acts as a technical consultant in charge of medical research and ethics for the French Ministry of Research. He was responsible for the IN VITRO fertilization of the first French test tube baby, the first child resulting from a frozen embryo. He is also recognized as a specialist of infertility therapies and high-risk pregnancies. Decorated Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur en 1993, Dr. Frydman has received multiple awards for his work and is the author of many books.
