Telecomunicações de São Paulo S.A. - Telesp (hereinafter Telesp or Company), is headquartered at Rua Martiniano de Carvalho, 851, in the capital of the State of São Paulo. Telesp belongs to the Telefónica Group, telecommunications industry leader in Spain and present in several European and Latin American countries. The Company is controlled by Telefónica S.A., which as of June 30, 2009, holds total indirect interest of 87.95% of which 85.57% are common shares and 89.13% are preferred shares.

b) Operations

The Company's basic business purpose is the rendering of fixed wire telephone services in the state of São Paulo, under Fixed Switch Telephone Service Concession Agreement - STFC granted by the National Communications Agency (ANATEL), which is in charge of regulating the telecommunications sector in Brazil (note 1.c hereafter). The Company has also authorizations from ANATEL, directly or through its subsidiaries, to provide other telecommunications services, such as data communication to the business market and broadband internet services under the Speedy and Ajato brand and pay TV services (i) by satellite all over the country (Telefônica TV Digital) and (ii) using MMDS technology in the cities of São Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Curitiba and Porto Alegre.

1. Operations and background (Continued)

c) The STFC concession agreement

The Company is a concessionaire of the Fixed Switch Telephone Service (STFC) to render local and domestic long-distance calls originated in Region 3, which comprises the largest part of the State of São Paulo, in Sectors 31, 32 and 34, established in the General Concession Plan (PGO).

The current Concession Agreement's renewal, dated December 22, 2005, in force since January 1, 2006, awarded as an onerous title, will be valid until December 31, 2025. However, the agreement can be reviewed on December 31, 2010, 2015 and 2020. Such condition allows ANATEL to set up new requirements and goals for universalization and quality of telecommunication services, according to the conditions in force by that moment.

The Concession Agreement establishes that all assets owned by the Company and which are indispensable to the provision of the services described on such agreement are considered reversible assets and are deemed to be part of the concession assets. These assets will be automatically returned to ANATEL upon expiration of the concession agreement, according to the regulation in force by that moment. On June 30, 2009, the net book value of reversible assets is estimated at R$6,497,170 (R$6,702,586 on March 31, 2009), comprised mainly of switching and transmission equipment and public use terminals, external network equipment, energy equipment and system and operation support equipment.

Every two years, during the agreement's new 20-year period, companies will have to pay a renewal fee which will correspond to 2% of its prior-year SFTC revenue, net of taxes and social contributions. The second payment of this biannual fee has occurred on April 30, 2009 by value of R$203,333 based on the 2008 STFC net revenues.

The transaction included the following steps:

1st Step: DABR was merged into Telesp and, as a result, the company and its shares ceased to exist. Telesp shares then owned by DABR were directly assigned to controlling shareholder SP Telecomunicações Participações Ltda. upon merger, with the rights applicable to outstanding shares issued by TELESP remaining unchanged. DABR's net equity included goodwill from Telesp shares, in the amount of R$185,511, which was recorded at the acquisition date based on future profits. In accordance with Law No. 9532/1997, amortization of goodwill will provide Telesp a tax benefit of R$63,074 to be capitalized by the controlling shareholder upon realization, pursuant to CVM Instruction No. 319/1999. Other shareholders have preemptive rights in the subscription of capital increases.

2nd Step: TTP was merged into Telesp, and, as a result, the company and its shares ceased to exist. Goodwill generated by the acquisition of this company in 2007 was recorded based on expected future profits, in the amount of R$848,307, and will provide Telesp a tax benefit of R$288,424.

For merger purposes, the net equities of TTP and DABR were measured at book value on September 30, 2008 and October 17, 2008, respectively, by an independent appraiser whose appointment was ratified at the General Shareholders Meeting held by Telesp on November 11, 2008. The merged companies had no unrecorded contingent liabilities that would have been assumed by Telesp as a result of this transaction. The transaction is not subject to approval by Brazilian or foreign regulatory entities or anti-trust agencies. No withdrawal rights were exercised since the subsidiaries had no minority interests.

c) Capital increase in Telefonica Televisão Participações S.A. (TTP)

On February 29, 2008, the Company increased capital of Telefônica Televisão with shares held in A.Telecom. With this operation, A.Telecom became a wholly-owned subsidiary of TTP.

On July 25, 2008 the Company increased capital of Telefônica Televisão with shares held in Telefonica Data S/A (T.Data). With this operation, T.Data became a wholly-owned subsidiary of TTP.

Company estimates the realization of the deferred taxes as of June 30, 2009 as follows:

Year	Company	Consolidated
2009	321,185	322,111
2010	400,191	402,139

The recoverable amounts above are based on projections subject to changes in the future.

6.2 Merged tax credit

These refer to tax benefits arising from corporate restructuring processes involving goodwill based on expected future profits, to be appropriated pursuant to the limitations imposed by tax legislation.

(a) In the case lawsuits of civil and labor natures referring to cases considered similar and usual (massive), management has been using, as from the second quarter of 2009, estimates calculated based on the historical average of payments made in mass lawsuits to set up provision for contingencies. The reversal of provision for labor claims amounted to R$158,478 and supplementation of provision for civil suits totaled R$49,474, both of which are recorded in Other operating income (expenses), net (Note 26).

18.1 Labor contingencies and reserves

Risk - Consolidated	Amount involved
	Jun/2009	Mar/2009
Probable	360,259	511,141
Possible	1,984	68,691
Total	362,243	579,832

These contingencies involve several lawsuits, mainly related to wage differences, and equivalence, overtime, employment relationship with employees of outsourced companies and job hazard premium, among others.

In this six-month period, due to the procedural progress, the risk posed by the Civil Class Action filed by the Ministry of Labor determining that Telesp not engage a representative company to perform the Company's business activities was altered from remote to possible. The possible risk involved in this civil class action was not quantified in the table above, since, in the event of an unfavorable outcome, it is currently not possible to estimate the Company's loss nor of attributing a limit equivalent to the case amount.

- Claims to offset credits arising from determination of negative IRPJ and CSLL balance in calendar year 2003, in the amount of R$460,464. The proceeding awaits decision at the first stage of tax appeals. According to risk assessment made by external legal counsel, of the total amount involved, R$92,810 presents risk of possible loss, and for the remaining amount, the risk is assessed as remote. Considering this risk assessment, no provision was set up.

- New information notice drawn up by the São Paulo State Finance Office, referring to non-payment of ICMS, during the period from January 2006 to December 2007, due on amounts received for purposes of lease of chattels (modem), totaling R$53,089. The proceeding is awaiting decision at the appellate court. Considering that the risk was assessed as possible, no provision was made.

- Infraction notices related to nonpayment of ICMS in the period from January 2006 to December 2007, for non-inclusion of revenues from rendering of several supplemental services and value added, in the amount of R$429,678 upon determination of the tax basis. Related risk is assessed as possible by legal counsel. The claim is at the 2nd administrative level. Considering the risk level, no provision was made.

- Civil Class Action proposed by the São Paulo State Prosecutor's Office, claiming indemnity to all telecommunications service consumers for material and moral damages suffered during the period from 2004 to 2009, as a result of low quality and faulty services provided. The intended sentence is generic and the attribution of responsibility to indemnify shall occur through liquidation and execution of the decision by the consumers, the Prosecutor's Office having proposed the execution amount of R$1 billion in the event the number of activations is not commensurate with the severity of the damage, to be deposited in the Special Fund for Expenses Related to Reimbursement of Damaged Diffused Interests. The possible risk involved in this civil class action was not quantified in the table above, since, in the event of an unfavorable outcome, it is currently not possible to estimate the Company's loss nor of attributing a limit equivalent to the case amount.

The contingencies with a possible unfavorable outcome to the Company refer substantially to suits relating to different procedural matters, such as: unrecognized ownership of telephone lines, indemnification for property and personal damages, PIS and COFINS on subscription and monthly payment of Fixed Switched Telephone Services (STFC), among others, totaling approximately R$663,724.

Risk management policy

The Company is exposed to many market risks as a result of its commercial operation, debts obtained to finance its activities and debt-related financial instruments.

The principal market risk factors that affect the Company's business are detailed below:

a) Exchange rate risk

This risk arises from the possibility that the Company may incur losses due to exchange rate fluctuations which would increase the balances of loans financing and purchase commitments denominated in foreign currency and the related financial expenses. In order to minimize the risk of financial liabilities in foreign currency, the Company enters into hedge contracts (swaps) with financial institutions.

The Company's indebtedness (R$97,855 in June 30, 2009) and the purchase commitment liabilities (R$17,416 in June 30, 2008) denominated in foreign currency are significantly affected by the foreign exchange rate risk. As of June 30, 2009, 2.95% (7.12% in March 31, 2009) of the debt was denominated in foreign currency (U.S. dollar and yen); the debt was covered by asset positions on currency hedge transactions (swaps for CDI).

b) Interest rate risk

This risk arises from the possibility that the Company may incur losses due to internal and external interest rate fluctuations affecting the Company's results (debentures and JBIC) and the short positions of derivatives at floating interest rates to cover the risks of foreign currency-denominated debts.

Debt with BNDES is indexed to the TJLP (Long-term Interest Rate, set on a quarterly basis by the National Monetary Council), which remained stable at 6.25% p.a. from July 2007 to the end of June 2009. For the quarter beginning July 2009, the rate was reduced to 6% p.a., having a positive impact on this debt installment.

In order to minimize its exposure to the local variable interest rate (CDI), the Company invests its excess cash, amounting to R$925,638 (R$1,775,778 at March 31, 2009), substantially in short-term investments (Bank Deposit Certificates) based on the CDI rate variation. The book values of these instruments approximate market values, since they may be redeemed in the short term.

As of June 30, 2009 the Company also contracted CDI + 0.35% of CDI percentage swap with identical flows of those of debentures (note 15).

In order to partially cover internal interest rate fluctuations in relation to debts exposed to CDI, the Company contracted short-term derivatives amounting to R$14,000 (CDI x Fixed swap), which transform a portion of net indebtedness associated to the variable interest rate (CDI) into a fixed debt.

c) Debt acceleration risk

As of June 30, 2009, the Company's loan and financing agreements contain restrictive clauses (covenants), typically applicable to such agreements, relating to cash generation, debt ratios and other restrictions. The Company has complied with these restrictive clauses in full, and such covenants do not restrict its ability to continue as a going concern.

d) Credit risk

This risk arises from the possibility that the Company may incur losses due to the difficulty in receiving amounts billed to its customers. The credit risk on accounts receivable is dispersed. The Company constantly monitors the level of accounts receivable and limits the risk of past-due accounts, interrupting access to telephone lines in case the customer does not pay the related bills in 30 days. Exceptions are made for telecommunication services that must be maintained for security or national defense reasons.

As of June 30, 2009, the Company's customer portfolio had no subscribers whose receivables were individually higher than 1% of the total accounts receivable from services.

The Company is also subject to credit risk related to temporary cash investments and receivables from swap transactions. The Company reduces this exposure by dispersing it among first line financial institutions.

e) Derivatives

All the Company's derivative instruments have the objective of providing hedge against the risk of variation in foreign exchange and external and internal interest rates arising from financial debts, according to the company's risk management policy. As such, any changes in risk factors generate an opposite effect on the hedged end. There are no derivative instruments for speculative purposes and liabilities in foreign exchange are hedged.

The Company has internal controls over its derivative instruments, which, according to management, are adequate to control the risks associated with each market strategy. The Company's results derived from its derivative financial instruments indicate that the risks have been adequately managed.

The Company and its subsidiaries calculate the effectiveness of these hedges in the beginning and on a continuous basis (quarterly), and hedges contracted at June 30, 2009 were considered effective in relation to debts of such coverage. As long as these derivative contracts are considered as hedge accounting according to CPC 14, the hedged debt is also adjusted to fair value in accordance with fair value hedge rules.

*(A free translation of the original report issued in Portuguese)32. Financial instruments (Continued)Fair value of derivative financial instruments

The discounted cash flow method was used to determine the market value of financial liabilities (when applicable) and derivative instruments (currency and interest rate swap) considering expected settlement or realization of assets and liabilities at the market rates prevailing at balance sheet date.

Fair values are calculated by projecting future operating flows, using BM&F Bovespa curves, and discounting to present value through market DI rates for swaps, as informed by BM&F Bovespa.

The market values of currency coupon swaps vs. CDI were obtained through market currency rates in force at the balance sheet date and projected market rates were obtained from currency coupon curves. The coupon for positions indexed to foreign currencies was determined using the 360-calendar-day straight-line convention; the coupon for positions indexed to CDI was determined using the 252-workday exponential convention.

The consolidated derivative financial instruments shown below are registered with CETIP, being all of them classified as swaps and do not require margin deposits.

The operations were entered into considering market rates indexed to the CDI (liability position), while the asset position is based on the same rates applicable to obligations.

a) Swaps of foreign currency x CDI (derivative fair value of the R$97,861) swap operations with several maturities until 2014, with the objective of hedging foreign exchange and interest rate changes in loan operations in foreign currency with these characteristics (debt fair value of R$97,855).

b) Swap CDI + 0.35% x CDI percentage swap (derivative fair value of R$1,517,100) contracted swap operations maturing until 2010 with identical flow as of debentures (Note 14), to cover the risk of fixed spread (0.35%) (fair value of debentures, excluding premium of R$1,517,100).

c) CDI x Fixed swap transactions (R$14,187) swap transactions maturing in January 2010 with the intent of partially covering internal interest rate fluctuations in relation to foreign exchange payables relating to derivatives exposed to the CDI. The Company also has natural hedges in the form of short-term investments based on the CDI variation (R$925,638 at June 30, 2009). The book value of such investments approximates their market values, as they are redeemable in the short term.

For reporting purposes, the Company adopted the hedge accounting method for all of its derivatives. Under this methodology, both the derivative and the hedged item are measured at fair value. Only the derivative associated with the debentures was not considered pursuant to this methodology.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2009, derivative operations generated a net consolidated loss of R$52,824 (note 27). At June 30, 2009, 100.00% of the Company's foreign currency denominated debt was covered by asset positions on currency hedge transactions (swaps for CDI), which generated a net consolidated loss of R$54,254. The Company also has operations involving swap CDI + spread vs. %CDI, in the principal amount of R$1,500,000, to cover fixed debentures spread, which generated gains of R$1,475 and CDI x Fixed swap transactions, which led to a consolidated net negative result of R$45 for the six-month period.

At June 30, 2009, the balance of R$2,294 is recorded as assets and R$55.359 as liabilities, recognizing the position of derivatives as of that date.

Gains and losses for the year ended June 30, 2009, grouped by contracts, were posted to profit and loss accounts (Note 27), as required by CVM Instruction No. 475/08.

Sensitivity analysis of the company's risk variables

CVM Instruction requires listed companies to disclose, in addition to the provisions of item 59 of CPC Technical Pronouncement No 14 - Financial Instruments: Recognition, Measurement and Disclosure, a table showing the sensitivity analysis of each type of market risk inherent in financial instruments considered relevant by management and to which the company is exposed at the closing date of each reporting period, including all operations involving derivative financial instruments.

In compliance with the foregoing, all the operations involving derivative financial instruments were evaluated considering a probable scenario and two scenarios that may adversely impact the Company.

Under the probable scenario, the projected realization of derivative financial instruments considered the future market curves (currency and interest) of BM&F Bovespa upon maturity of each operation. In this context, the probable scenario does not produce impacts on the fair value of financial instruments reported in the financial statements. The two unfavorable scenarios considered 25% and 50% decreases, respectively, for the risk variables upon maturity of the financial instruments.

Considering that the Company has derivative instruments only to cover its financial debt, the changes in scenarios offset by changes the related hedged items, thus indicating that the effects are practically null. For these operations, the Company reported the fair value of the hedged item (debt) and of the hedge derivative financial instrument on separate rows in the sensitivity analysis table in order to provide information on the Company's net exposure for each of the three mentioned scenarios, as shown below:

In order to derive the net exposure, all derivatives were considered at fair value, as well as their associated debts (hedged items).

While the fair values shown in the table above are based on the status of the portfolio as of June 30, 2009, they do not reflect an estimated realization in view of the market dynamics, always monitored by the Company. The use of different assumptions may significantly impact estimates.

1. Accumulated net operating revenues until June 2009 totaled R$7,894.6 million, which, compared with R$7,754.2 million recorded in the same prior-year period, represents an increase of R$140.4 million, or 1.8%. Such changes are mainly due to rise in the Paid TV services and broadband services, by increasing revenues from assignment of media and national long-distance, besides the rate adjustment of 3.01% with the effect from July 2008. Such effects were partially offset against the fall in revenues from public payphones, local services; the latter is justified for the fall in the line services and the sale of Duos and Trios that offer flat rates with unlimited local calls. Also, we saw an increase in deductions justified by higher discounts granted in the period.

2. Cost of services provided increased by R$363.3 or 8.6%, chiefly resulting from customer service, advertisement and TV content, maintenance of private terminals, telecommunications service commissions besides the rental expenses on last mile traffic equipment from other carriers and infrastructure equipment, also interconnection expenses, growth in mobile traffic, with use of code 15 (code for selection of service provider). Such effects were partially offset against the fall in expenses with materials, the fall in cost of sales to corporate customers and calling card expenses.

3. The negative financial result improved by R$235.2 million or 73%, justified by reduction in interest on shareholders equity, the CDB investment gains and the monetary variations of the escrow deposits up date. Such effects were partially offset against interest expenses with loans taken out with BNDES and contingencies (civil and labor).

10. Number portability

In September, 2008, the number portability process was commercially introduced for companies offering similar services. Accordingly, fixed and mobile service clients may keep their telephone number when changing operators or addresses, provided that the change is requested in the same local area. Thus, Telesp strengthened its customer loyalty and retention efforts, although the volume of number portability requests is not significant at this point. The number portability process was concluded in the country in March 2009.

11. Message from Management

On June 22, 2009, the National Telecommunications Agency (ANATEL) determined that Telesp temporarily suspend the sale of the Speedy Service. ANATEL requested that the Company prepare, within 30 days, a plan to guarantee the use and availability of the Speedy Service, containing measures related to contingency planning, change management, implementation of network redundancy and critical systems, operational planning and corresponding schedule. On June 26, 2009, the Stability Plan was presented to the Agency, before the established date, with network stabilization measures involving improvement in the IP (Internet Protocol) network and DNS (Domain Name Server).

On July 17, 2009, Telesp informed the Agency about conclusion of the Stability Plan implementation, and awaits its validation. Concurrently, the Company continues working on its Plan for Broadband Capacity Expansion, estimated to be concluded by the end of 2009.
