Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis

Certain statements contained in this Form 10-QSB contain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results, financial or otherwise, or other expectations described in such forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statement or statements speak only as of the date on which such statements were made, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which such statements are made or reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. Therefore, forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as prediction of actual future results.

Plan of Operation

Tombstone Cards, Inc. sells and markets personalized decks of playing cards using an online graphic tool that allows the purchaser to design the cards and then the Company handles the printing, production and shipping of the cards. We are currently offering a single product, but with a number of customization options for the consumer and business markets. Our products provides customers the ability to make personal statements about themselves, design unique gifts, and advertise their business with an item that is both "cool" and "fun" in addition to the cards being an ancillary product that can generate revenues for them.

At September 30, 2007, we had cash on hand, of $408,209, which we believe will be adequate for it to be competitive in the areas in which it intends to operate although we will need to raise additional funds in order to fully implement our business plan. We intend to use our cash funds to continue to support operations. During the next six months, we will continually analyze customer purchases, focusing on the use of our pre-designed templates that allow a high level of customization. Based on these observations we will add to our library of templates, adding more choices to the most popular areas, making alterations in or eliminating templates for low sellers.

In the continuance of our business operations we do not intend to purchase or sale any significant assets and we do not expect a significant change in the number of employees.

We will attempt to raise additional funds over the next 12 months through exercise of existing warrants and options or through private placements; however, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in raising such additional funds. Regardless of whether our cash assets prove to be inadequate to meet our operational needs, we might seek to compensate providers of services by issuance of stock in lieu of cash.

Our continued operations therefore will depend upon our ability to increase revenues and/or raise additional funds through exercise of warrants/options, bank borrowings, equity or debt financing. While we have been successful in raising funds to date, there is no assurance that we will be able to obtain additional funding when needed, or that such funding, if available, can be obtained on terms acceptable to us. If we cannot obtain needed funds, we may be forced to curtail or cease its activities.
