The Herzfeld Caribbean Basin Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation. To achieve its objective, the Fund invests in issuers that are likely, in the Advisor's view, to benefit from economic, political, structural and technological developments in the countries in the Caribbean Basin, which consists of Cuba, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, the Bahamas, the Dominican Republic, Barbados, Aruba, Haiti, the Netherlands Antilles, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Mexico, Honduras, Guatemala, Belize, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela. The fund invests at least 80% of its total assets in a broad range of securities of issuers including U.S.-based companies, which engage in substantial trade with and derive substantial revenue from operations in the Caribbean Basin Countries.

Chairman and President

February 7, 2003

Dear Fellow Stockholders:

We are pleased to present our semi-annual report for the six months ended December 31, 2002.

The Fund paid a long-term capital gains distribution of 7.746(cent) per share on January 15, 2003, to stockholders of record on December 31, 2002; the distribution is taxable to you for calendar year 2002. Adjusting for this payment, the Fund's per share price increased 0.89% for the twelve months and declined 2.30% for the six months ended December 31, 2002. The Fund's net asset value fell 14.1% for the twelve month period, and 10.8% for six months, also adjusted for the distribution.

Performance was boosted by our second largest position, PANAMERICAN BEVERAGE INC. (PB), which is being acquired by COCA COLA FEMSA (KOF), our 9th largest position. Shares of PB doubled from about $10 per share to $20 since the announcement in late December. In typical fashion, the shares of its acquirer, KOF, lost about 15% of their value over the same time period.

EMBARGO WITH CUBA

It is hard to believe that the U.S. embargo against Cuba is now in its 43rd year. The only significant change in U.S. policy in regard to Cuba has been the Trade Sanctions Reform and Export Enhancement Act of 2000. Under this new law, food and agricultural products can be traded with Cuba as long as they are paid for in cash. We expect to see further easing as time goes by, and that belief is apparently held by others. According to the Miami Herald, "Representatives from more than 100 companies, trade associations and government organizations are preparing to attend the second annual U.S.-Cuba Business Conference in Cancun and Havana, Feb. 17-19, to discuss business options." We will be watching to see if the conference yields any new investment options for us. Because of current U.S. laws, however, we are very limited in what we can invest directly in Cuba; that is why our portfolio historically has been invested primarily in companies domiciled elsewhere but could benefit from the lifting of the embargo. For example, we hold significant positions in CARNIVAL CORP. (CCL) and ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD. (RCL). CubaNews, a monthly publication which tracks economic and political news surrounding Cuba, recently stated, "Once restrictions disappear, an estimated 3.5 million U.S. cruise visitors could be arriving annually on modern vessels operated by Carnival, Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines and P&O Princess, which together control 85% of all cruise traffic to the Caribbean."

Pressure appears to be building for a lifting of the travel ban in 2003, says Larry Luxner, editor and publisher of CubaNews. "Next month [March], as many as 10 to 12 U.S. representatives will travel to Cuba as part of the House Cuba Working Group. That'll be the largest Congressional delegation to visit the island since Fidel Castro came to power in 1959," says Luxner. "While the embargo itself is extremely unlikely to be scrapped as long as President Bush is in power, increasing numbers of ordinary Americans are circumventing the laws and visiting Cuba anyway, and I believe it's only a matter of a year or two before they'll be able to visit legally."

In addition, says Luxner, "U.S. companies may already export farm commodities to Cuba on a cash-only basis--and that includes not only food staples like wheat, corn and apples, but also consumer luxuries like Chardonnay wine and even non-food items such as fertilizer, lumber and Kentucky burley tobacco. In 2002, total U.S. farm sales to Cuba came to $155 million, with $230 million in agricultural commodities expected to be sold to Cuba this year. That'll put Cuba among the top 50 importers of U.S. food--meaning that the embargo is already starting to unravel."

PREMIUM/DISCOUNT

As the graph below depicts, the Fund has traded at both premiums and discounts every year except the year of inception in which it traded only at a premium. As I have stated before, we believe that closed-end funds trading at discounts to net asset value represent good value.

Actual results could differ from those estimates.
