ADVANCED BATTERY TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
FOR THE THREE AND SIX MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 2011 AND 2010

1. ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. ("ABAT" or the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Delaware on January 16, 1984.

On May 6, 2004, the Company completed a share exchange (the "Exchange") with the shareholders of Cashtech Investment Limited ("Cashtech"), a British Virgin Islands Corporation, who, at the time, owned 70% interest of Harbin Zhong Qiang Power-Tech Co., Ltd. ("Harbin ZQPT"), a limited liability company established in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"). As result of this share exchange transaction, there was change of control in the Company as the shareholders of Cashtech became the majority shareholders of the Company. The transaction had been accounted for as a reverse acquisition under the purchase method of accounting. Accordingly, Cashtech was treated as the continuing entity for accounting purposes.

On January 6, 2006, the minority shareholders of Harbin ZQPT transferred the remaining 30% of their interests in Harbin ZQPT to Cashtech in exchange for 11,780,594 shares of the Company's Common Stock. As result of this transfer, Cashtech now owns 100% of the capital stock of Harbin ZQPT.

On May 4, 2009, the Company acquired 100% interest of Wuxi Angell Autocycle Co., Ltd. ("Wuxi ZQ").

On January 6, 2011, the Company, through its wholly own subsidiary, Harbin ZQPT, acquired all of the assets of Shenzhen Zhongqiang New Energy Science & Technology Co. Ltd. ("Shenzhen ZQ").

On August 20, 2002, Heilongjiang Zhongqiang Power-Tech Co., Ltd ("HLJ ZQPT"), was incorporated under the laws of the PRC. HLJ ZQPT is owned by our Chairman, Mr. Fu, and other individuals but controlled by Harbin ZQPT through a series of contractual arrangements that transferred all of the benefits and all of the responsibilities for the operations of HLJ ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT. During 2009 HLJ ZQPT also transferred to Harbin ZQPT all of its rights in the real property on which HLJ carries on its operations. The Company is in the process of transferring all of the other assets of HLJ ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT, but has not yet obtained all of the necessary government approvals. Harbin ZQPT accounts for HLJ ZQPT as a Variable Interest Entity ("VIE") under ASC 810 "Consolidation." Accordingly, Harbin ZQPT consolidates HLJ ZQPT's results, assets and liabilities.

The Company is engaged in design, manufacture and distribution of rechargeable polymer lithium-ion batteries and electric vehicles through its wholly owned subsidiaries, Cashtech, Harbin ZQPT, Wuxi ZQ and the VIE, HLJ ZQPT. The Company's main operations are located in the PRC.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries at June 30, 2011 and for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010 reflect all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) that, in the opinion of management, are necessary to present fairly the consolidated financial position and results of operations of the Company for the periods presented. Operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2011. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010. The Company follows the same accounting policies in the preparation of interim reports.

ADVANCED BATTERY TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
FOR THE THREE AND SIX MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 2011 AND 2010

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of consolidation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Cashtech Inc., Harbin ZQPT, Wuxi ZQ, Shenzhen ZQ and the VIE, HLJ ZQPT. All significant inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of estimates

In preparing the consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the consolidated financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Significant estimates required to be made by management include, but are not limited to, useful lives of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, the recoverability of long-lived assets and the valuation of accounts receivable and inventories. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Variable Interest Entity

The accounts of Heilongjiang ZQPT have been consolidated with the accounts of the Company because Heilongjiang ZQPT is a variable interest entity with respect to Harbin ZQPT, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. Harbin ZQPT is party to five agreements dated September 8, 2004 with the owners of the registered equity of Heilongjiang ZQPT and with Heilongjiang ZQPT. In summary, the five agreements contain the following terms:

- Consulting Services Agreement and Operating Agreement. These two agreements provide that Harbin ZQPT will be fully responsible for the management of Heilongjiang ZQPT, both financial and operational. Harbin ZQPT has assumed responsibility for the debts incurred by Heilongjiang ZQPT and for any shortfall in its registered capital. In exchange for these services and undertakings, Heilongjiang ZQPT pays a fee to Harbin ZQPT equal to the net profits of Heilongjiang ZQPT. In addition, Heilongjiang ZQPT pledges all of its assets, including accounts receivable, to Harbin ZQPT. Meanwhile, Heilongjiang ZQPT's shareholders pledged the equity interests of Heilongjiang ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT to secure the payment of the Fee.
- Proxy Agreement. In this agreement, the shareholders of Heilongjiang ZQPT granted an irrevocable proxy to the person designated by Harbin ZQPT to exercise the voting rights and other rights of shareholder.
- Option Agreement. In this agreement, the shareholders of Heilongjiang ZQPT granted to Harbin ZQPT the right to purchase all of their equity interest in the registered capital of Heilongjiang ZQPT or the assets of Heilongjiang ZQPT. The option may be exercised whenever the transfer is permitted under the laws of the PRC. The purchase price shall be equal to the original paid-in price of the Purchased Equity Interest by the Transferor, unless the applicable PRC laws and regulations require appraisal of the equity interests or stipulate other restrictions on the purchase price of equity interests. The agreement also contains covenants designed to prevent any material change occurring in the legal or financial condition of Heilongjiang ZQPT without the consent of Harbin ZQPT.

ADVANCED BATTERY TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

- Equity Pledge Agreement. In this agreement, Heilongjiang ZQPT shareholders agree to pledge all the equity interest in Heilongjiang ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT as security for the performance of the obligation under the Consulting Services Agreement and the payment of Consulting Services Fees under each agreement.

Harbin ZQPT may terminate the agreements at will. Heilongjiang ZQPT may only terminate the agreements if (a) there is an unremedied breach by Harbin ZQPT, (b) the operations of Harbin ZQPT are terminated, (c) Heilongjiang ZQPT loses its business license, or (d) circumstances arise that materially and adversely affect the performance or objectives of the Agreement. The Consulting Services Agreement, under which all revenues are assigned from Heilongjiang ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT, and the Equity Pledge Agreement have no expiration date. The other three agreements terminate on September 4, 2014 unless extended by the parties.

In sum, the agreements transfer to Harbin ZQPT all of the benefits and all of the risk arising from the operations of Heilongjiang ZQPT, as well as complete managerial authority over the operations of Heilongjiang ZQPT. Harbin ZQPT is the guarantor of all of the obligations of Heilongjiang ZQPT. Since 2004 all of the funds used by Heilongjiang ZQPT to expand and operate its business have been provided by Harbin ZQPT. By reason of the relationship described in these agreements, Heilongjiang ZQPT is a variable interest entity with respect to Harbin ZQPT because the following characteristics identified in ASC 810-10-15-14 are present:

- The holders of the equity investment in Heilongjiang ZQPT lack the direct or indirect ability to make decisions about the entity's activities that have a significant effect on the success of Heilongjiang ZQPT, having assigned their voting rights and all managerial authority to Harbin ZQPT. (ASC 810-10-15-14(b)(1)).
- The holders of the equity investment in Heilongjiang ZQPT lack the obligation to absorb the expected losses of Heilongjiang ZQPT, having assigned to Harbin ZQPT all revenue and responsibility for all payables. (ASC 810-10-15-14(b)(2)).
- The holders of the equity investment in Heilongjiang ZQPT lack the right to receive the expected residual returns of Heilongjiang ZQPT, having granted to Harbin ZQPT all revenue as well as an option to purchase the equity interests at a fixed price. (ASC 810-10-15-14(b)(3)).

Because the relationship between Heilongjiang ZQPT and Harbin ZQPT is entirely contractual, the Company's interest in Heilongjiang ZQPT depends on the enforceability of those agreements under the laws of the PRC. We are not aware of any judicial decision as to the enforceability of similar agreements under PRC law. However, as the owners of the registered equity of Heilongjiang ZQPT are our Chairman, his spouse, and three close associates, we do not believe that there is a significant risk that Heilongjiang ZQPT will seek to terminate the relationship or otherwise breach the agreements. Accordingly, we believe that consolidation of the financial statements of Heilongjiang ZQPT with those of the Company is appropriate.

The carrying amount and classification of Heilongjiang ZQPT's assets and liabilities included in the Consolidated Balance Sheets are as follows:

The Company is pursuing governmental approval of the transfer of all of the assets of Heilongjiang ZQPT to Harbin ZQPT. To date, all of the real property interests have been transferred. Management believes that transfer of all of the assets will be completed in 2012, at which time the VIE relationship will be terminated.

Fair value of financial instruments

The Company adopted the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 820, “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures.” ASC 820 clarifies the definition of fair value, prescribes methods for measuring fair value, and establishes a fair value hierarchy to classify the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows:

Level 1-Inputs are unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities available at the measurement date.

Level 2-Inputs are unadjusted quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, and inputs derived from or corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3-Inputs are unobservable inputs which reflect the reporting entity’s own assumptions on what assumptions the market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on the best available information.

The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheets for cash, accounts receivable, loan receivables, other receivables, advance to suppliers, short-term loan, accounts payable, advance from customers, accrued expenses, other payables and deposits for property, plant and equipment, approximate their fair market value due to the short-term nature of these instruments. The Company uses Level 3 method to measure fair value of its warrant liability. See Note 11 for disclosure of the inputs and valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of the warrant liability. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, the Company’s warrant liability accounts changed as follows:

* Reported on Consolidated Statements of Income and Other Comprehensive Income: Other Income (Expenses): Change in Fair Value of Warrants.

The Company did not identify any other assets or liabilities that are required to be re-measured at fair value at a recurring basis in accordance with ASC 820.

Goodwill

Goodwill and other intangible assets are accounted for in accordance with the provisions of ASC 350, "Intangibles - Goodwill and Other." Under ASC 350, goodwill and intangible assets that are deemed to have indefinite useful lives are not amortized. Rather, they are assessed for impairment. We perform impairment testing on the intangible assets whenever events or changes indicate that the fair value of these intangible might be impacted. We perform the goodwill impairment assessment on the last day of the each fiscal year. To test goodwill for impairment, we first assign the recorded goodwill to one of our two reporting units, the battery operations and the electric vehicle operations, by comparing the estimated fair value of the reporting unit as a whole with the fair values of the unit's identifiable net assets. We apply the following two-step process to each reporting unit:

- Step 1: We estimate the fair value of the reporting unit (UFV) in the manner described above and compare it with the unit's book value (UBV), which equals the recorded amounts of assets and allocated goodwill less liabilities. We measure the fair value of the reporting unit by projecting five years of net cash flow from the reporting unit then discounting to present value. When UFV is greater than UBV, there is no impairment, and the test is complete. When UFV is less than UBV, then we go to Step 2.
- Step 2: We estimate the implied fair value (GFV) of the reporting unit's goodwill by repeating the process performed at acquisition. This requires subtracting estimated current fair values of the unit's identifiable net assets from the unit's estimated fair value (UFV), and comparing the difference with the carrying amount of the goodwill (GBV). When GFV is greater than GBV, goodwill is not impaired. When GFV is less than GBV, we record an impairment write-off equal to the difference.

Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with Staff Accounting Bulletin ("SAB") 104. Sales revenue is recognized when title and risks have passed, which is generally at the date of shipment and when collectability is reasonably assured.

The Company sells its products to customers who have passed the Company's credit check. Sales agreements are signed with each customer. The purchase price of products is fixed in the agreement. The Company makes custom products based on sales agreements, so no returns are allowed. The Company provides warranty on the product for one year from the date of shipment only in the event of defects. Historically, the Company has not experienced significant defects, and replacements for defects have been minimal. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, no sales returns and allowances have been recorded. Should returns increase in the future it would be necessary to adjust estimates, in which case recognition of revenues could be delayed. Payments received before all of the relevant criteria for revenue recognition are recorded as advance from customers.

Net sales of products represent the invoiced value of goods, net of value added taxes (“VAT”), sales returns, trade discounts and allowances. The Company is subject to VAT which is levied on majority of the Company’s products at the rate of 17% on the invoiced value of sales. Output VAT is borne by customers in addition to the invoiced value of sales and input VAT is borne by the Company in addition to the invoiced value of purchases to the extent not refunded for export sales. Input VAT paid is recoverable from output VAT charged to customers.

Research and development costs

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred. The salaries of engineers and technical staff in our research and development division are included in research and development expense. The Company had $298,257 and $38,980 for the three months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, and $444,058 and $86,420 for the six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

Comprehensive income

Comprehensive income is defined to include changes in equity except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners. Among other disclosures, items that are required to be recognized under current accounting standards as components of comprehensive income are required to be reported in a financial statement that is presented with the same prominence as other financial statements. Comprehensive income includes net income and the foreign currency translation gain, net of tax.

Statutory Reserves

Under PRC law our Chinese subsidiaries are required to provide for a statutory general reserve, and are permitted to provide for an enterprise expansion fund and a staff welfare and bonus fund. Each subsidiary is required to allocate at least 10% of its after tax profits as determined under PRC GAAP to the general reserve, but have the right to discontinue allocations to the general reserve when the balance of the general reserve has reached 50% of the subsidiary’s registered capital. Appropriations to the enterprise expansion fund and the staff welfare and bonus fund are at the discretion of the board of directors of the subsidiary.

The aggregate balance of our subsidiaries’ general reserve funds at June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010 was $5,558,455 and $4,855,774, respectively. HLJ ZQPT did not contribute to this fund in the current period, since it has allocated the maximum required. None of the subsidiaries has contributed to the enterprise expansion fund or to the staff welfare and bonus fund. The balance of the general reserve fund cannot be distributed to the parent corporation except upon liquidation of the subsidiary, and will not be available for payment of dividends to the Company’s shareholders.

Foreign currency translation and transactions

The functional currency of Harbin ZQPT, HLJ ZQPT and Wuxi ZQ is the Chinese Renminbi ("RMB"). For financial reporting purposes, RMB has been translated into United States dollars ("USD") as the reporting currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate in effect at the balance sheet date. Income statement accounts are translated at the average rate of exchange prevailing for the period. Capital accounts are translated at their historical exchange rates when the capital transaction occurred. Translation adjustments arising from the use of different exchange rates from period to period are included as a component of stockholders' equity as "Accumulated other comprehensive income." Gains and losses resulting from foreign currency translation are included in accumulated other comprehensive income.

Gains and losses resulting from transactions denominated in foreign currencies are included in other income (expense) in the consolidated statements of income.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2010, the FASB issued ASU No. 2010-20, Receivables (Topic 310). This update requires new disclosures and enhances current disclosures about the allowance for credit losses and the credit quality of financing receivables. However, the following receivables are excluded from the scope of this amendment: receivables measured at fair value with changes included in earnings and receivables measured at lower of cost or market and trade receivables with contractual maturities of one year or less that arose from the sale of goods or services. This standard is effective for interim and annual periods ending on or after December 15, 2010. The Company adopted the disclosure requirements effective January 1, 2011.

In December 2010, FASB issued an amendment to the disclosure of supplementary pro forma information for business combinations. The amendments in this ASU specify that if a public entity presents comparative financial statements, the entity should disclose revenue and earnings of the combined entity as though the business combination that occurred during the current year had occurred as of the beginning of the comparable prior annual reporting period only. The amendments also expand the supplemental pro forma disclosures to include a description of the nature and amount of material, nonrecurring pro forma adjustments directly attributable to the business combination included in the reported pro forma revenue and earnings. The amendments are effective prospectively for business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after the beginning of the first annual reporting period beginning on or after December 15, 2010. We adopted this guidance on January 1, 2011 and have disclosed our acquisition of Shenzhen ZQ accordingly

In January 2010, FASB issued an amendment regarding improving disclosures about fair value measurements. This new guidance requires some new disclosures and clarifies some existing disclosure requirements about fair value measurement. The new disclosures and clarifications of existing disclosures are effective for interim and annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2009, except for the disclosures about purchases, sales, issuances and settlements in the roll forward of activity in Level 3 fair value measurements. Those disclosures are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2010 and for interim periods within those fiscal years. There was no impact from the adoption of this guidance to our consolidated balance sheets or statements of income as the amendment only addresses disclosures.

In April 2010, FASB issued an amendment to Stock Compensation. The amendment clarifies that an employee stock-based payment award with an exercise price denominated in the currency of a market in which a substantial portion of the entity's equity shares trades should not be considered to contain a condition that is not a market, performance, or service condition. Therefore, an entity would not classify such an award as a liability if it otherwise qualifies as equity. The amendments are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning on or after December 15, 2010. Our adoption of this guidance does not have impact on the consolidated financial statements since our stock-based payment awards have an exercise price denominated in the same currency of the market in which our Company shares are traded.

In December 2010, the FASB issued amendments to the guidance on goodwill impairment testing. The amendments modify Step 1 of the goodwill impairment test for reporting units with zero or negative carrying amounts. For those reporting units, an entity is required to perform Step 2 of the goodwill impairment test if it is more likely than not that a goodwill impairment exists. In making that determination, an entity should consider whether there are any adverse qualitative factors indicating that impairment may exist. The amendments were effective January 1, 2011 and the Company adopted this guidance on January 1, 2011 which did not have a material impact in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

In January 2010, the FASB issued additional disclosure requirements for fair value measurements which the company included in its interim and annual financial statements in 2010. Certain disclosure requirements relating to fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) were deferred until January 1, 2011. These new requirements did not have an impact in the consolidated financial results as they relate only to additional disclosures.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

In May 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-04, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRS. The amendments change the wording used to describe the requirements in U.S. GAAP for measuring fair value and for disclosing information about the fair value measurements. The amendments include the following:

1. Those that clarify the Board's intent about the application of existing fair value measurement and disclosure requirements.
2. Those that change a particular principle or requirement for measuring fair value or for disclosing information about fair value measurements.

The amendments in this Update are to be applied prospectively. For public entities, the amendments are effective during interim and annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011. For nonpublic entities, the amendments are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011. Early application by public entities is not permitted. Nonpublic entities may apply the amendments in this Update early, but no earlier than for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2011.

The Company is currently evaluating the impact, if any, of ASU No. 2011-04 on the Company's financial position and results of operations.

In June 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-05, Comprehensive Income (Topic 220): Presentation of Comprehensive Income. Under the amendments, an entity has the option to present the total of comprehensive income, the components of net income, and the components of other comprehensive income either in a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. The presentation option under current GAAP to present the components of other comprehensive income as part of the statement of changes in stockholders' equity has been eliminated.

The amendments in this Update should be applied retrospectively. For public entities, the amendments are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2011. For nonpublic entities, the amendments are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2012, and interim and annual periods thereafter. Early adoption is permitted because compliance with amendments is already permitted. The Company already complies with this presentation.

3. ACQUISITION

On January 6, 2011, the Company through its wholly owned subsidiary, Harbin ZQPT, acquired all of the assets of Shenzhen ZQ. In exchange for the assets of Shenzhen ZQ, Harbin ZQPT paid to Shenzhen ZQ 135,000,000 Renminbi (approximately $20.5 million), of which 111,250,000 Renminbi (approximately $16.9 million) are being used to satisfy the liabilities of Shenzhen ZQ.

Shenzhen ZQ manufactures small rechargeable polymer lithium-ion batteries. The acquisition was a strategic move to expand the Company's product variety and manufacturing capacity. In addition, Shenzhen is a distribution center for batteries, by having a presence in Shenzhen, it will benefit the Company's overall strategic development plan.

The purchase method of accounting is used to account for the acquisition by the Company. The cost of an acquisition is measured at the fair value of the assets given, equity instruments issued and liabilities incurred or assumed at the date of exchange. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. The excess of the cost of acquisition over the fair value of the Company's share of the identifiable net assets and intangible assets acquired is recorded as goodwill.

If the cost of acquisition is less than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired, the excess of the value of the net assets acquired over the purchase price is recorded as "other income (expense): gain on bargain purchase" in the Company's Consolidated Statement of Income. Acquisition-related costs, such as professional fees and administrative costs are recorded as expenses in the period in which they are incurred and the services rendered.

The purchase price for the assets of Shenzhen ZQ was allocated to tangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed, and a portion of the purchase price was paid to vendors for equipment that Shenzhen ZQ committed to acquire. The estimated fair value of the tangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed approximated their historical cost basis. The excess of the purchase price over net assets and payment to vendors for equipment is recorded in goodwill. The Company also acquired an established customer list and certain technology of Shenzhen ZQ, the Company is in the process of appraising the fair value of these intangible assets and expects to complete the appraisal by the end of third quarter of 2011. Goodwill will be adjusted upon completion of the fair value appraisal of the acquired intangible assets of Shenzhen ZQ.

The purchase price paid for the assets of Shenzhen ZQ has been preliminarily allocated as follows:

Cash and cash equivalents	$ 52,588
Accounts receivable	3,359,157

4. INVESTMENT IN AFFILIATE

In the fourth quarter of 2008, the Company entered into an equity investment agreement (“Agreement”) with Beyond E-Tech, Inc (BET) to acquire 49% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of BET for a total consideration of $1,500,000. BET is a newly-organized company that imports and distributes cell phones in the United States. Pursuant to the Agreement, during any period of time when the Company is a shareholder of BET, BET shall exclusively market products for resale that use ABAT’s rechargeable polymer lithium-ion batteries.

The Company has significant influence on BET and therefore accounts for its investment in BET under the equity method. According to the Agreement, the Company has significant influence over the operating and financial policies of BET, including a right of approval of its operating budget, veto power over large capital expenses, and other management controls. Net loss on this investment using the equity method was $923 and $12,887 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, respectively. Net loss on this investment was $437 and $1,876 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, respectively. The condensed balance sheet and income statement information of the investment in affiliate is not significant.

The Company uses its best estimate of future cash flows expected to result from the use of this asset in accordance with ASC 480. There was no impairment loss for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and the comparative periods in 2010.

Construction in Progress	53,567,972	13,152,109
Total property, plant and equipment, net	$ 107,508,191	$ 57,452,243

Depreciation expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 was $1,035,742 and $2,019,970, respectively. Depreciation expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010 was $844,818 and $1,790,193, respectively. Depreciation expense included in cost of goods sold for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 was $834,785 and $1,620,233, respectively. Depreciation expense included in cost of goods sold for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010 was $401,440 and $956,929, respectively.

Construction in progress represents direct costs of construction and design fees incurred for the Company's new plant and equipment. Capitalization of these costs ceases and the construction in progress is transferred to plant and equipment when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the assets for their intended use are completed. No depreciation is provided until it is completed and ready for its intended use. No interest has been capitalized in construction in process as of June 30, 2011 as the amount is insignificant.

In 2010 the Company entered into various agreements to purchase equipment and machinery in an effort to expand its production. In addition, in January 2011 the Company purchased a group of factories and the related land use right in Dongguan City for approximately $26 million, all of which except for approximate $2,723,000 was paid at that time. The Company expects to pay the remainder amount by the end of 2011. As of June 30, 2011, the entire purchase price was included in construction in progress because it is in the process of obtaining the title and related legal documents. The Company has not allocated the purchase price between buildings, machinery and the land use right because the fair value analysis necessary to determine the appropriate allocation has not been completed.

6. DEPOSIT FOR INVESTMENT

In January 2011, Harbin ZQPT, a subsidiary of the Company, completed the acquisition of all of the assets of Shenzhen ZQ for a purchase consideration of RMB 135,000,000 (approximately $20 million). The initial deposit of $11,721,468 (equivalent to RMB 77,500,000) as of December 31, 2010 served as a portion of the purchase consideration and has been allocated among the acquired assets in the manner described in Note 3.

7. INTANGIBLE ASSETS - OTHERS

Intangible assets consist of land use rights, patents and marketing network resources. All land in the People's Republic of China is government owned and cannot be sold to any individual or company. However, the government grants the user a "land use right" (the Right) to use the land and the power line underneath. The Company leases two pieces of land from the PRC Government for a period from August 2003 to September 2043, on which the office and production facilities of Heilongjiang ZQPT are situated. In addition, the Company also leases two pieces of land from the PRC Government for a period from July 2003 to July 2053 and from September 2002 to June 2057 respectively, on which the office and production facilities of Wuxi ZQ are situated. The Company leases the power lines from the local government for a period from July 2003 to July 2013.

Rights to use land and power and patent rights are stated at fair market value less accumulated amortization. The Company amortizes the patents over a 3-10 year period. The Company evaluates finite-lived intangible assets for impairment, at least on an annual basis and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable from its estimated future cash flows. Recoverability of intangible assets, other long-lived assets, and goodwill is measured by comparing their net book value to the related projected undiscounted cash flows from these assets, considering a number of factors including past operating results, budgets, economic projections, market trends and product development cycles. If the net book value of the asset exceeds the related undiscounted cash flows, the asset is considered impaired, and a second test is performed to measure the amount of impairment loss. As of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, no impairment of intangible assets has been recorded.

Net intangible assets at June 30, 2011 were as follows:

	Initial Book Value	Accumulated Amortization	Net Book Value	Amortization Period (Years)
Rights to use land and power	$ 13,256,011	$ 760,076	$ 12,495,935	48.6

8. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

(1) 2004 Equity Incentive Plan

The Company adopted the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2004 Plan") on August 24, 2004. The purpose of the Plan is to promote the success and enhance the value of the Company by linking the personal interests of the participants of the Plan (the "Participants") to those of the Company's stockholders, and by providing the Participants with an incentive for outstanding performance. The Company has reserved 5,000,000 shares of common stock for the options and awards under the Plan.

Subject to the terms and provisions of the Plan, the Board of Directors, at any time and from time to time, may grant shares of stock to eligible persons in such amounts and upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors shall determine.

The Committee appointed by the Board of Directors to administer the Plan shall have the authority to determine all matters relating to the options to be granted under the Plan including selection of the individuals to be granted awards or stock options, the number of stock, the date, the termination of the stock options or awards, the stock option term, vesting schedules and all other terms and conditions thereof.

The Company has issued all 5,000,000 shares provided in the Plan in the form of grants of restricted common stock. As of June 30, 2011, 3,440,000 of those shares had vested and no shares have been cancelled. A summary of the status of the Company's unearned stock compensation under the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan as of June 30, 2011, and changes for the six months ended June 30, 2011, is presented below:

As of June 30, 2011, the weighted average period that the unearned compensation cost is expected to be recognized in earnings for the 2004 Plan is 7.5 years.

In addition, the compensation cost recorded to additional paid-in capital in relation to shares issued to non-employee consultants under the 2004 Plan in prior years and current period was $469,274. The Company's contracts with these consultants have terms ranging from 60 months to 120 months. All shares granted were fully vested and nonforfeitable at the date on which the Company entered into the consulting contract with each non-employee. However, following ASC 505-50-30-11 and 505-50-30-12, the Company has determined that the disincentives for nonperformance are not sufficiently large to establish a performance commitment, and that, accordingly, the measurement date for the shares is the date on which performance is complete, which is the date of grant. The Company has continued to account for the shares as a prepaid expense, amortized over the terms of the contracts. The compensation expense relating to shares issued to non-employee consultants for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010 was $29,094 and $58,188, respectively.

The following table shows the projected amortization of the unearned stock compensation relating to consulting contracts:

(2) 2006 Equity Incentive Plan

The Company adopted the 2006 Equity Incentive Plan (the “2006 Plan”) on April 24, 2006. The 2006 Plan became effective on April 18, 2006. The number of shares available for grant under the 2006 Plan shall not exceed 8,000,000 shares and shares of stock and options may be granted to the eligible persons at the discretion of the Company’s Board of Directors or the Committee administering the plan. Incentive stock options (“ISO”), nonqualified stock options (“NQSO”), or a combination thereof may be granted but ISOs can only be granted to the Company’s employees. The Committee can also grant shares of restricted stock or performance shares (a performance share is equivalent in value to a share of stock) to eligible persons from time to time.

The exercise price for each ISO awarded under the 2006 Plan shall be equal to 100% of the fair market value of a share on the date the option is granted and be 110% of the fair market value if the eligible person owns stock possessing more than 10% of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or of its parent or subsidiary corporations. The exercise price of a NQSO shall be determined by the Committee in its sole discretion.

No option shall be exercisable later than the tenth anniversary date of its grant and each option shall expire at such time as the Committee determines at the time of grant. The eligible person who owns stock possessing more than 10% of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or of its parent or subsidiary corporations shall exercise his/her option before the fifth anniversary date of its grant.

Options shall vest at such timed and under such terms and conditions as determined by the Committee; provided, however, unless a different vesting period is provided by the Committee at or before the grant of an option, the options will vest on the first anniversary of the grant.

Options granted under the 2006 Plan shall be exercisable at such times and be subject to such restrictions and conditions as the Committee shall in each instance approve, which need not be the same for each grant or for each participant.

The Company has issued 7,265,711 of the shares provided in the Plan in the form of grants of restricted common stock. As of June 30, 2011, 2,190,475 of those shares had vested and 3,000 shares have been cancelled. A summary of the status of the Company’s unearned stock compensation under the 2006 Equity Incentive Plan as of June 30, 2011 is presented below:

(3) Recent Stock-Based Compensation Activities

There were 340,000 shares of stock options outstanding as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010. The fair value of stock options was calculated using a Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following assumptions:

Expected life	5.0 years
Expected volatility	89.13%
Risk free interest rate	2.46%
Dividend yield	0%

The risk-free interest rate is based on the U.S. Treasury zero-coupon rate. Expected volatility is estimated based on the Company's historical stock price using the expected life of the grant. Due to a lack of employee exercise behavior in the past, the expected life is based upon the maximum exercise period.

Under the Income Tax Laws of the PRC, the Company is generally subject to tax at a statutory rate of 25% on its taxable income. However, HLJ ZQPT is located in a specially designated technology zone which allows foreign-invested enterprises a five-year income tax holiday. HLJ ZQPT enjoyed a two-year tax exemption through December 31, 2007 and an additional 50% income tax reduction from January 1, 2008 to December 31, 2010.

On March 16, 2007, National People's Congress passed a new corporate income tax law, which was effective on January 1, 2008. This new corporate income tax unified the corporate income tax rate to 25%, and included cost deductions and tax incentive policies for both domestic and foreign-invested enterprises in China. According to the new corporate income tax law, the applicable corporate income tax rate of the HLJ ZQPT decreased to 12.5% from 2008 to 2010. HLJ ZQPT became subject to the full statutory tax rate of 25% on January 1, 2011.

The estimated tax savings as a result of our tax holidays for the six months ended June 30, 2010 amounted to $1,555,284. The net effect on earnings per share had the income tax been applied would decrease basic earnings per share for the six months ended June 30, 2010 from $0.33 to $0.30.

The Company was incorporated in the United States. It incurred a net operating loss for U.S. income tax purposes for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010. The net operating loss carry forwards, including amortization of share-based compensation but excluding change in fair value of warrants, for United States income tax purposes amounted to $9,968,504 and $8,137,837 as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively, which may be available to reduce future years' taxable income. These carry forwards will expire, if not utilized, beginning in 2027 through 2030. There are also deferred tax asset of $272,181 as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, resulting from temporary difference on stock options to employees. For United States income tax purposes, the valuation allowances as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010 were $3,761,158 and $3,120,424, respectively.

The change in valuation allowance for the six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010 were $640,734 and $(2,684,833), respectively.

The Company has cumulative undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries of $95,904,891 as of June 30, 2011. These undistributed earnings are included in consolidated retained earnings and will continue to be indefinitely reinvested in international operations. Accordingly, no provision has been made for U.S. deferred taxes related to future repatriation of these earnings, nor is it practicable to estimate the amount of income taxes that would have to be provided if we concluded that such earnings will be remitted in the future.

3) Accounting for Warrants

The Company has determined that both the Investor Warrants and the Placement Agent Warrants issued in the 2010 Financing met the conditions for equity classification pursuant to ASC 815 “Derivatives and Hedging” and ASC 815-40 “Contracts in Entity’s Own Equity” and therefore have been classified as equity instruments on the consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010.

As to the offerings completed in 2008 and 2009, however, both the Investor Warrants and the Placement Agent Warrants contain a covenant that, in the event of a “fundamental transaction,” if the securities to be issued upon exercise of the warrants will not be listed on a national securities exchange, the warrant holder has the option to force the Company to purchase the warrants at present value. The warrants define a “fundamental transaction” to include:

- i. any merger, sale of assets, tender or exchange offer, reclassification of the common stock or compulsory share exchange, if
- ii. the transaction is either an all-cash transaction, a “going private” transaction, or a transaction in which the Company’s common stock will be exchanged for securities that are not traded on a national securities exchange.

Under those circumstances, the warrant holder could require the Company to redeem the warrant by paying an amount of cash equal to the value of the Warrant on the date preceding the fundamental transaction, determined in accordance with the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model. Because, under those circumstances, the Company would be forced to settle the warrants in cash, the warrants do not meet the conditions for equity classification set forth in FASB ASC 815-40-15. Therefore, these warrants have been classified as warrant liability.

For the foregoing reasons, the fair value of the warrants was recorded as an offset to the equity recorded as a result of the offerings. The fair value of the warrants was determined in the following manner:

August 2008 Offering. The fair value of the warrants at the grant date was calculated using the Black-Scholes options pricing model using the following assumptions: Volatility 73.06%, Risk free interest rate 3.27% for August 8, 2008 Placement and August, 15, 2008 Placement, and Expected term of 5 years. The fair value of those warrants at the grant date was calculated at $7,520,805.

June 2009 Offering. The fair value of the warrants at the grant date was calculated using the Black-Scholes options pricing model using the following assumptions: Volatility: 91.50%; Risk free interest rate: 2.55% and 0.29% for Series A and Series B&C warrants, respectively with respect to June 1, 2009 issuance and 2.69% and 0.31% for Series A and Series B&C warrants, respectively with respect to June 15, 2009 issuance; Expected term: 5.5 years for Series A Warrant and 0.5 years for Series B warrants. The fair value of those warrants at the grant date was calculated at $9,514,432. In addition, 430,656 Series C Warrants, whose exercisability was contingent on exercise of Series B Warrants, vested in December 2009. The fair value of the warrants at the grant date was calculated using the Black-Scholes options pricing model using the following assumptions: Volatility: 90.9%; Risk free interest rate: 2.24%, Expected term: 5.0 years. The fair value of those warrants at the grant date was calculated at $997,887.

October 2009 Offering. The fair value of the warrants at the grant date was calculated using the Black-Scholes options pricing model using the following assumptions: Volatility: 89.08%; Risk free interest rate: 2.21%,; Expected term: 5.0 years. The fair value of those warrants at the grant date was calculated at $4,242,032.

The following table indicates the contributions to equity of each of the four securities offerings:

13. LITIGATION

Sui-Yang Huang vs. ABAT

On September 30, 2009, the Company was named as a defendant in an action filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "U.S. District Court"). The action, brought by the Company's former Chief Technological Officer, Mr. Sui-yang Huang, alleges that based on his employment contract, he should have been paid certain additional stock-based benefits by November 30, 2008; in an Amended Complaint filed in November 2009, Mr. Huang also purported to state ancillary quasi-contract and tort claims related to his contract claim and his eventual dismissal from the Company. Mr. Huang's Amended Complaint demanded between approximately $1.25 and $5 million in compensatory damages, plus an unspecified amount of punitive and other damages. The Company believes that all of Mr. Huang's claims are without merit.

The Company filed a motion to dismiss the Amended Complaint, both on forum non conveniens grounds and for failure to state a claim for relief. On May 26, 2010, the Court granted the Company's motion to dismiss on forum non conveniens grounds. The dismissal was subject to the following conditions: (a) Mr. Huang is able, if he so chooses, to bring a similar action against the Company in a court near his residence in China, (b) the Chinese forum accepts jurisdiction over the dispute, and (c) the Company agrees to (1) consent to a Chinese court's jurisdiction for these civil actions, (2) toll any applicable statute of limitations for 120 days after the Court's dismissal on forum non conveniens grounds, (3) make available in the courts of China any evidence or witnesses in its possession, custody, or control in the United States that a Chinese court hearing these cases may deem relevant, and (4) pay any final, post-appeal judgment awarded against it by a Chinese court. Huang did not file a notice of appeal of the Court's order dismissing

Thereafter, on August 9, 2010 Mr. Huang refiled part, but, not all, of his claims in the People's Court of Bao'an District, Shenzhen (the "Chinese Trial Court"). The Chinese Trial Court refused to accept the case, holding that since the Company is incorporated in the United States (and, specifically, in Delaware), it was not subject to the jurisdiction of that Court. Huang appealed, but the appeal was dismissed and the original decision of the Chinese Trial Court was affirmed. The case was thereafter sent back to the U.S. District Court from China. In March 2011 the United States District Court denied Mr. Huang's request to reinstate the case in New York, finding that jurisdiction remains available in China. To date Mr. Huang has not renewed his effort to file the case in the Chinese Trial Court.

SFG vs. ABAT

In September 2008, Susquehanna Financial Group, LLLP ("SFG") commenced an action against the Company in the Court of Common Pleas of Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. SFG alleges that it was a party to two contracts with the Company, pursuant to which SFG alleges that it was entitled to serve as financial advisor with respect to any offering of securities by the Company completed prior to March 2009. SFG alleges that the Company failed to afford SFG the opportunity to serve as its financial advisor in connection with the private placement by the Company in August 2008. SFG alleges that it is entitled to damages in the amount of $1,359,872 and a warrant to purchase 81,882 share of the Company's common stock exercisable at $8.00 per share. The Company has answered the complaint and denied that SFG was entitled to serve as financial advisor in connection with the August 2008 private placement by reason of the fact that SFG had terminated its agreements with the Company, had waived any continuing rights under the contracts, and had acted in bad faith in connection with the services it undertook to perform for the Company. The Parties are currently in the midst of the discovery process. Once discovery is complete, the Court will issue a schedule for the trial date.

Class Actions

Since April 2011 four class actions have been commenced in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against the Company and certain of the Company's senior executive officers, asserting violations of the United States securities laws. The complaints allege that the Company, in its filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, made material misrepresentations and omissions. The plaintiffs in the actions seek to represent a class of persons who purchased the Company's common stock between November 24, 2008 and March 30, 2011. The applications of plaintiffs to be appointed "lead plaintiff" in the consolidated action is pending before the Court. No specific amount of damages has been alleged. The Company and its senior management believe that the claims are without merit. They intend to mount a vigorous defense to the actions and to seek their prompt dismissal after a consolidated complaint is filed.

Derivative Action

In May 2011 actions were commenced in the Supreme Court of New York State and in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York purporting to be derivative actions on behalf of ABAT. The actions allege that the Company's Board of Directors breached their fiduciary duties to the Company in connection with the matters that are the subject of the Class Actions described above. No specific amount of damages has been alleged. The Company and its directors believe that the claims are without merit. They intend to mount a vigorous defense to the actions and to seek their prompt dismissal.

14. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company's operations in the PRC are subject to specific considerations and significant risks not typically associated with companies in the North America and Western Europe. These include risks associated with, among others, the political, economic and legal environments and foreign currency exchange. The Company's results may be adversely affected by changes in governmental policies with respect to laws and regulations, anti-inflationary measures, currency conversion and remittance abroad, and rates and methods of taxation, among other things.

The Company's sales, purchases and expenses transactions are denominated in RMB and all of the Company's assets and liabilities are also denominated in RMB. The RMB is not freely convertible into foreign currencies under the current law. In China, foreign exchange transactions are required by law to be transacted only by authorized financial institutions at exchange rates set by the People's Bank of China, the central bank of China. Remittances in currencies other than RMB may require certain supporting documentation in order to affect the remittance.

The Company entered into various agreements to purchase equipment and machinery in an effort to expand its production in 2010. As of June 30, 2011, the Company made a total payment of $3,931,596 on those equipment and machinery and a payment of $24,506,846 for the factories and land in Dongguan city. Additionally, the Company entered into several contracts and already made payment of $29,890,381 for ongoing construction projects. The Company still has the commitment to pay the remaining contract amount of $18 million in 2011.

The Company entered into a lease agreement with Pantheon Realty, Inc. to lease its prior administrative office. Under the agreement, the Company is obligated to pay $4,000 monthly from June 1, 2009 to May 31, 2011. The Company entered into another lease agreement with 15 W 39th St. NY LLC to lease its administrative office in New York City from June 1, 2009 to May 31, 2012. Under the agreement, the Company is obligated to pay $8,000, $8,200 and $8,405 monthly for the first, second and third year, respectively. The following table sets forth the Company's obligations for New York City leaseholds:

	Third Party Lease
Remainder of 2011	$ 50,430
2012	42,025
Total	$ 92,455

15. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In July 2009, the Company signed a lease agreement with the Chairman of the Company, Mr. Zhiguo Fu, to lease a house owned by Mr. Fu for the purpose of accommodating the frequent travel lodging needs for the Company's employees in China traveling to the U.S. The monthly rent is $4,000 and the lease will expire in three years.

16. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Company follows the provisions of ASC 280, "Segment Reporting," which establishes standards for reporting information about operating segments. Operating segments are defined as components of an enterprise about which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker ("CODM") in deciding how to allocate resources and assess performance. The Company's CODM has been identified as the Chief Executive Officer.

The Company has two operating segments, which are batteries and electric vehicles segments.

The batteries segment develops, manufactures, and markets rechargeable Polymer Lithium-Ion (PLI) products. The batteries segment includes the operation of Heilongjiang ZQPT and Shenzhen ZQ.

The electric vehicles segment develops and manufactures various types of electric vehicles through the operation of Wuxi ZQ. Wuxi ZQ owns three types of products listed in the E-Bike directory, with more than 20 different specifications, including electric bicycles, electric scooters, and various electric sports utility vehicles. Wuxi ZQ products are exported to the countries and regions in Europe, the United States and Asia.

The measurement of segment income is determined as earnings before income taxes. The measurement of segment assets is based on the total assets of the segment, including intercompany advances among the PRC entities. Segment income and segment assets are reported to the Company's ("CODM") using the same accounting policies as those used in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements. Historically, there have been sale transactions between the two operating segments in addition to intersegment advances.

- (1) “Non-operating entities” identifies our U.S. parent corporation, Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc., and its subsidiary holding company, Cashtech Investment Limited, a British Virgin Islands corporation. “Segment income (Non-operating entities)” refers to the administrative expenses of those two entities, including the expenses attributable to our New York City office, other income/expenses arising from financing activities conducted by the parent corporation, such as “change in fair value of warrants, and other income/expenses arising from investment activity by the parent corporation.
- (2) “Segment net assets (Non-operating entities)” refers to the net assets of the non-operating entities identified in the preceding note, and includes the book value of the two subsidiaries of Cashtech Investment Limited, which are our two operating companies, as well as cash accounts maintained by our parent company.

17. SHARE REPURCHASE PROGRAM

On June 30, 2011, the Company’s Board of Directors unanimously approved a share repurchase program that authorizes the Company to repurchase up to $10 million of the Company’s common stock in the open market. Purchases will be made at the discretion of management, with the timing dependent on prevailing market conditions. As of June 30, 2011, no shares have been repurchased.

18. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

In July 2011, the Company repurchased 89,400 shares of its common stock at an average unit price of $1.0519 per share (a total price before commissions of $94,040) from the market under the share repurchase program.

ITEM 2.MANAGEMENT’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Forward-Looking Statements: No Assurances Intended

In addition to historical information, this Quarterly Report contains forward-looking statements, which are generally identifiable by use of the words “believes,” “expects,” “intends,” “anticipates,” “plans to,” “estimates,” “projects,” or similar expressions. These forward-looking statements represent Management’s belief as to the future of Advanced Battery Technologies. Whether those beliefs become reality will depend on many factors that are not under Management’s control. Many risks and uncertainties exist that could cause actual results to differ materially from those reflected in these forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those discussed in Section 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010, entitled “Risk Factors.” Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to revise or publicly release the results of any revision to these forward-looking statements.

Recent Developments in our Business

In January 2011 Harbin ZQPT, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, acquired all of the assets of Shenzhen Zhongqiang New Energy Science & Technology Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen ZQ”). Shenzhen ZQ was a manufacturer of lithium batteries for mobile phones and MP3, MP4 and video game consoles, whose manufacturing facility has a daily production capacity of 70,000 batteries per day. Shenzhen ZQ’s annual revenues in 2010 were approximately $11 million. The purchase price paid by Harbin ZQPT for the Shenzhen ZQ liabilities was $20 million, of which $16.9 million was applied to satisfy liabilities of Shenzhen ZQ.

On January 5, 2011 Cashtech Investment Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, purchased the land and buildings at 3 Middle, Qingxi Town, Dongguan City, Guangdong Province, China. The buildings consist of four industrial facilities with a total of 36,468 square meters of floor space, an office building with 5246 square meters, three dormitories with a total of 14,710 square meters, and a power supply facility, and the associated land use right. The purchase price was 176 million RMB (approximately $26 million). Those assets have been transferred to a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company named “Dongguan QiangQiang New Energy Technology Co., Ltd.” The Company is developing the property as the center of an industrial park in Dongguan City. The new property is now under infrastructure construction and according to Company estimates the commissioning date will be in October 2011.

The increase in the portion of our revenue attributable to small capacity batteries is primarily attributable to the $9,602,091 contributed by our new Shenzhen operations during the first six months of 2011. In recent years, we had reduced our focus on this market, as we found it difficult to achieve high margins on small capacity batteries, primarily due to the extensive amount of competition. Our current expectation, however, is that, in time, the advanced technology and facilities that we acquired from Shenzhen ZQ, along with the established customer list, will allow us to achieve worthwhile margins in the small capacity battery sector. For that reason we expect that the focus of operations at the Dongguan industrial park that we currently have under construction will be in large part on small capacity batteries.

Even with the acquisition of the Shenzhen production facility, which is focused on small capacity batteries, we continue to expect large capacity batteries to lead the growth of our battery segment. In line with that expectation, sales of the large capacity batteries (used for electric sanitation vehicles, stationary applications, and other large scale battery applications) increased by 74% from the first six months of 2010 to the first six months of 2011. We expect continued growth in this sector in coming years, as China's strong recent emphasis on environmentally sound growth should result in expansion of the electric vehicle industry in China.

The contribution of miner's lamps to our revenue has diminished significantly in recent quarters. Our expansion in this market had been driven by a three year contract that we made in 2006 with a Hong Kong-based mining company. Since that contract expired, we have been unable to replace the sales.

At June 30, 2011 we had a backlog of $61,230,000 for delivery through the next 6 months, including a battery backlog of approximately $33,030,000.

Gross Profit.

Our cost of goods sold consists of the cost of raw materials, labor costs and production overhead. In the three months ended June 30, 2011, our revenue increased by 37.3% but our cost of goods sold increased by 52%, from $11,796,140 to $17,931,598, compared to the same period in 2010. Similarly, cost of goods sold for the six months ended June 30, 2011 increased by 60% compared to the first half of 2010, although revenue increased by only 42%. The disproportionate increase on our cost of goods sold primarily occurred because the $9,602,091 in sales of small capacity batteries generated from our new Shenzhen facility yielded a low margin relative to our other revenue. The overall result was a decrease in our gross margin from 48% in the three months ended June 30, 2010 to 43% in the same period of 2011, and from 49% in the first half of 2010 to 42% in the first half of 2011. Although we believe that we will be able to improve the profitability of the Shenzhen operation, our gross margins for the remainder of 2011 are likely to remain lower than in 2010 due to the inclusion of Shenzhen sales.

Operating Expenses; Operating Income

The Company's operating expenses increased by 21%, from $1,992,831 in the three months ended June 30, 2010 to $2,374,648 in the three months ended June 30, 2011. The primary reason for the increase was the fact that operating expenses of the Shenzhen operation that we acquired in January 2011 were included in our 2011 results. In addition, research and development expenses increased by $259,277 from the second quarter of 2010 to the second quarter of 2011. These increases were partially offset by a bad debt expense of $160,000 incurred in the second quarter of 2010 that was not replicated in 2011.

Despite the increase in second quarter operating expenses, our operating expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2011 were 4% lower than our operating expenses in the six months ended June 30, 2010. In addition to the aforementioned bad debt expense in 2010, the improvement in operating expenses reflected our ongoing efforts at cost containment.

Included in our general and administrative expense during the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 were $443,331 and $890,512, respectively, attributable to amortization of the market value of stock that we granted to employees or consultants. This non-cash expense resulted from our use of stock during our early years to incentivize key individuals. The market value of the stock at the time it was issued is being amortized over the term of the employee's or consultant's services, thus:

In the case of employees, the period of amortization is based on a vesting schedule included in the employees' contracts. The average vesting period for the employees is 3.07 years.

In the case of consultants, the period of amortization is based on the term of the consulting contracts, although amortization will be accelerated if the consulting relationship ceases. Again, to date, the consultants who received stock have remained involved in the Company's affairs, so there has been no acceleration of amortization.

At June 30, 2011 there remained $4,792,569 in unamortized stock compensation on the Company's books. The amortization of this sum will contribute to our future operating expenses as described above.

Operating income for the three months ended June 30, 2011 totaled $11,044,407, an increase of 22% from operating income in the three months ended June 30, 2010. Operating income for the six months ended June 30, 2011 totaled $20,847,534, an increase of 30% from operating income in the six months ended June 30, 2010.

Other Income (Expenses)

During the three months ended June 30, 2011 we recorded $2,235,884 in other income (expenses), compared to other income (expenses) of $4,271,411 in the three months ended June 30, 2010. The primary components of this income in the three months ended June 30, 2011 were:

$112,173 in net interest income,

A foreign currency transaction loss of $90,677 resulting from changes in exchange rates between the date when Wuxi ZQ recorded revenue from foreign sales and the date on which it received payment, and

An income of $2,189,565 related to the change in the fair value of our outstanding common stock purchase warrants.

During the six months ended June 30, 2011 we recorded $11,358,477 in other income (expenses), compared to of $5,544,823 in the six months ended June 30, 2010. The primary components of this income in the six months ended June 30, 2011 were:

$219,392 in net interest income,

The foreign currency transaction loss of $90,677 described above, and

An income of $11,209,384 related to the change in the fair value of our outstanding common stock purchase warrants.

In the six months ended June 30, 2011, we recorded $219,392 in interest income, primarily attributable to our cash on hand, but also including $80,000 earned on our $1.6 million loan to Harbin Jinhuida Investment Consulting Limited. During the same period, we incurred no interest expense, as we have no outstanding debt. By comparison, in the six months ended June 30, 2010, we recorded approximately the same amount of interest income, but incurred $39,660 in interest expense, as we had not yet fully settled the bank loans that Wuxi ZQ had outstanding when we acquired it in 2009.

In 2008 and 2009, the Company issued warrants in conjunction with the issuance of common shares or convertible preferred stock. The warrants permit the investors to buy additional common shares at the prices specified in the warrant agreements. Because the Company may be required to repurchase the warrants at their fair value in certain circumstances, the fair value of the warrants has been recorded as a liability on our balance sheet. At the end of each quarter, we re-calculate the fair value of the warrants using the Black-Scholes model, and record any increase or decrease in that fair value as other income or other expense. Because the market price of our common stock fell during the six months ended June 30, 2011 and the six months ended June 30, 2010, the fair value of the warrants fell by $11,209,384 and $5,397,280 in those periods respectively, which was recognized on our Statements of Income as other income. If in future quarters the warrants increase in value (e.g. by reason of an increase in the market price of our common stock), we will record an other expense equal to the amount of the increase.

For the six months ended June 30, 2011, we recognized a $12,887 investment loss from our 49% equity investment in Beyond E-Tech, Inc., a Texas corporation organized to engage in distributing cellular telephones in the United States. The acquisition has been recorded as an "investment in unconsolidated entity" on our balance sheet, and our participation in that business will be accounted for through the equity method. Based upon its growing positions in the mobile phone distribution business in the United States, Beyond E-Tech anticipates that it will achieve profitability in three years. Until then, we will continue to record as investment losses our 49% shares of that company's losses. The loss is recorded as equity gain (loss) from unconsolidated entity on our Statements of Income.

The table below presents the components of our pre-tax income during the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2011 and 2010. Pre-tax income was $41,745 greater in the second quarter of 2010 than in the second quarter of 2011, primarily due to the fact that income attributable to the change in fair value of warrants was $2,001,841 greater in the second quarter of 2010 than in the second quarter of 2011. On the other hand, pre-tax income was $10,600,286 greater in the first six months of 2011 than in the first six months of 2010, reflecting expansion and improvements in our operations, but also reflecting the fact that income attributable to the change in fair value of warrants was $5,812,104 greater in the first six months of 2011 than in the first six months of 2010.

The income tax expense as a result of our 2011 operations was $3,007,163 for the three months ended June 30, 2011 and $4,951,713 for the six months ended June 30, 2011, based on the standard 25% tax rate on corporate income in China. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, as a result of Chinese tax laws that reward foreign investment in China, Heilongjiang ZQ was entitled to a 50% tax abatement, which results in an effective corporate tax rate of approximately 12.5%. Accordingly, we only accrued $810,875 in income taxes on our Chinese income during the three months ended June 30, 2010 and $1,558,027 during the six months ended June 30, 2010. The table below shows our after-tax net income.

	Three months ended		Increase/ (Decrease)	Six months ended		Increase/ (Decrease)
	June 30 2011	2010		June 30 2011	2010
Net income	$ 10,272,205	$ 12,510,238	(17.9 %)	$ 27,241,411	$ 20,034,811	36.0 %

Our business operates primarily in Chinese Renminbi, but we report our results in our SEC filings in U.S. Dollars. The conversion of our accounts from RMB to Dollars results in translation adjustments. While our net income is added to the retained earnings on our balance sheet; the translation adjustments are added to a line item on our balance sheet labeled "accumulated other comprehensive income," since they are more reflective of changes in the relative values of U.S. and Chinese currencies than of the success of our business. During the six months ended June 30, 2011, the effect of converting our financial results to Dollars was to add $4,621,987 to our accumulated other comprehensive income. During the six months ended June 30, 2010, when the exchange rate was less volatile, the translation adjustment increased our accumulated other comprehensive income by $1,230,789.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The growth of our Company has been funded by capital contributions - initially those of our founders and in recent years capital raised by the sale of equity to private investors. In December 2010, we obtained gross proceeds of $30 million from the sale of 7.5 million shares of common stock (accompanied by 3.75 million one year warrants) for a price of $4.00 per share. As a result, at June 30, 2011 we had no debt, having satisfied the bank loans that Wuxi ZQ carried when we acquired it, and we had $74,044,694 in cash on hand.

At June 30, 2011 the Company had a working capital balance of $103,498,110, a reduction of $27,653,654 from our working capital at December 31, 2010. The reduction was attributable to our payment of over $40 million to purchase equipment and construct facilities in Dongguan City where we are constructing a multi-building battery manufacturing facility.

Our accounts receivable at June 30, 2011 totaled $19,509,545. We have recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts of $68,938. The allowance was determined by reviewing all accounts remaining open more than sixty days after shipment. Consideration was given to the prior payment history of the customer, information we gather regarding the financial capability of the customer, and ongoing information gathered by our accounting personnel regarding the customer's plans for payment. The allowance reflects the ongoing relationships we have with most of our customers and a high level of confidence in their ability and intent to make full payment. We had insignificant bad debt expense incurred during the six months ended June 30, 2011.

At June 30, 2011 we had two long term liabilities:

a deferred tax liability of $3,025,847 attributable to the gain we realized when we acquired Wuxi ZQ in May 2009 for a price less than the fair value of its net assets; and a “warrant liability” of $540,419 attributable to the warrants that we issued in our three equity financing transactions in 2008 and 2009. Pursuant to provisions of ASC 815 (previously: EITF 07-05) that became effective for 2009 and subsequent years, the present value of the outstanding warrants is considered a liability.

The table below sets forth our debt service obligations as of June 30, 2011.

Contractual Obligations	Total	Less than 1 Year	1-3 Years	4-5 Years	More than 5 Years
Long-Term Debt Obligations–	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0
Operating Lease Obligations	$140,455	$140,455	$0	$0	$0
Capital Expenditure Obligations	$18,003,601	$18,003,601	$0	$0	$0
Raw Material Purchase Obligations	$17,129,579	$17,129,579	$0	$0	$0
TOTAL	$35,273,635	$35,273,635	$0	$0	$0

Our subsidiaries have sufficient liquidity to fund their near-term operations and to fund the working capital demands of future expansion. During 2011 and 2012 we intend to invest approximately $57 million in our new Dongguan industrial park, where we plan to develop facilities with a production capacity of $151 million per year. Our plan is to fund the development from our current capital resources. If we determine that additional funds are needed for other attractive growth opportunities or for the full implementation of our long term expansion plans for ABAT, we have available $107,508,191 in property, plant and equipment that Harbin ZQPT, Heilongjiang ZQPT, Wuxi ZQ and Dongguan QiangQiang own free of liens, for potential collateral loans. On June 30, 2011 our backlog of firm orders was approximately $61,230,000. Based on that backlog of orders, we believe that secured financing will be available on favorable terms if needed.

Given the financial resources available to the Company, management believes that it has sufficient capital and liquidity to sustain operations for the foreseeable future.

Restrictions on Dividends and Other Cash Transfers

All of our business operations are carried out by our two subsidiaries and one variable interest entity in China. In the future, in order for the U.S. parent corporation to pay dividends to our shareholders from the earnings obtained in China, we will have to transfer funds from our Chinese subsidiaries through Cashtech Investment Limited, our BVI subsidiary, and then to Advanced Battery Technologies, our U.S. parent corporation. Our ability to transfer funds in this manner will be limited by two factors:

- Statutory Reserves. The Company Law of the PRC applicable to Chinese companies with foreign ownership provides that net income can be distributed as dividends only after:

- a. Cumulative prior years' losses have been recouped;
 - b. 10% of after tax income has been allocated to a statutory surplus reserve until the reserve amounts to 50% of the company's registered capital;
 - c. 10% of after tax income has been allocated to a statutory common welfare fund, which is established for the purpose of providing employee facilities and other collective benefits to the company's employees; and
 - d. Allocations have been made to the discretionary surplus reserve, if such a reserve is approved at the meeting of the equity owners.
- Currency Conversion. The Chinese Yuan (Renminbi) is not freely convertible into Dollars. The State Administration of Foreign Exchange ("SAFE") administers foreign exchange dealings and requires that they be conducted through designated financial institutions. Foreign Investment Enterprises, such as Harbin ZQPT and Wuxi ZQ, may purchase foreign currency from designated financial institutions in connection with current account transactions, including profit repatriation.

These factors will limit the amount of funds that we can transfer from our Chinese subsidiaries to our U.S. parent company and may delay any such transfer. In addition, upon repatriation of earnings of our Chinese subsidiaries to the United States, those earnings may become subject to United States federal and state income taxes. We have not accrued any U.S. federal or state tax liability on the undistributed earnings of our foreign subsidiaries because those funds are intended to be indefinitely reinvested in our international operations. Accordingly, taxes imposed upon repatriation of those earnings to the U.S. may reduce the net worth of the Company.

Effects of Consolidation of Variable Interest Entity

The financial statements presented in this Report consolidate the financial statements of Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. with the financial statements of two operating subsidiaries, Harbin ZQPT and Wuxi ZQ. Also consolidated are the financial statements of an entity, Heilongjiang ZQPT, the legal owners of which are our Chairman, Zhiguo Fu, and four associates. The financial statements of Heilongjiang ZQPT are consolidated with our financial statements because Heilongjiang ZQPT is a variable interest entity with respect to Harbin ZQPT, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Advanced Battery Technologies. Harbin ZQPT is party to five agreements dated September 8, 2004 with the owners of the registered equity of Heilongjiang ZQPT and with Heilongjiang ZQPT. The agreements transfer to Harbin ZQPT all of the benefits and all of the risk arising from the operations of Heilongjiang ZQPT, as well as complete managerial authority over the operations of Heilongjiang ZQPT. Harbin ZQPT is the guarantor of all of the obligations of Heilongjiang ZQPT.

The following table summarizes the effects of consolidating Heilongjiang ZQPT with Advanced Battery Technologies and its subsidiaries as of and for the six months ended June 30, 2011:

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

ITEM 3 QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT MARKET RISK

Our operating subsidiaries, Harbin ZQPT, Wuxi ZQ and Dongguan QiangQiang, and our VIE, Heilongjiang ZQPT, carry on business exclusively in Chinese RMB. Therefore the Company does not have any derivative instruments or other financial instruments that are market risk sensitive.

ITEM 4 CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

- (a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures.

The term “disclosure controls and procedures” (defined in SEC Rule 13a-15(e)) refers to the controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within time periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission. “Disclosure controls and procedures” include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company’s management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

The Company's management, with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this quarterly report (the "Evaluation Date"). Based on that evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that, as of the Evaluation Date, such controls and procedures were not effective. The weaknesses in the Company's controls and procedures consisted of (a) a lack of expertise in identifying and addressing complex accounting issued under U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles among the personnel in the Company's accounting department, which has resulted in errors in accounting that necessitated a restatement of our financial statements for 2008 and 2009 and (b) inadequate review by management personnel of the Company's reports prior to filing, which resulted in errors in prior filings that necessitated the filing of amendments to the 2009 Annual Report and the Quarterly Report for the quarter ended September 30, 2010.

(b) Changes in internal controls.

The term "internal control over financial reporting" (defined in SEC Rule 13a-15(f)) refers to the process of a company that is designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company's management, with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated any changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the period covered by this report, and they have concluded that there was no change to the Company's internal control over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

Since April 2011 four class actions have been commenced in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against the Company and certain of the Company's senior executive officers, asserting violations of the United States securities laws. The actions are captioned Cohen v. Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. et al. (Civil Action No. 11-2849), Burns v. Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. et al. (Civil Action No. 11-2354), Quan v. Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. et al. (Civil Action No. 11-2279), and Connors v. Advanced Battery Technologies, Inc. et al. (Civil Action No. 11-3098). The complaints allege that the Company, in its filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, made material misrepresentations and omissions. The plaintiffs in the actions seek to represent a class of persons who purchased the Company's common stock between November 24, 2008 and March 30, 2011. The applications of plaintiffs to be appointed "lead plaintiff" in the consolidated action is pending before the Court. No specific amount of damages has been alleged. The Company and its senior management believe that the claims are without merit. They intend to mount a vigorous defense to the actions and to seek their prompt dismissal after a consolidated complaint is filed.

On May 18, 2011 an action was commenced in the Supreme Court of New York State for New York County. The action is captioned Anthony Blumka c/f Quintin Blumka UTMA (NY) v. Zhiguo Fu et al. (Index No. 651343/2011). On June 28, 2011 an action was commenced in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. The action is captioned Carl Braun v. Zhiguo Fu et al. (Civil Action No. 11-4383). Each action purports to be a derivative action on behalf of the Company. The actions allege that the Company's Board of Directors breached their fiduciary duties to the Company in connection with the matters that are the subject of the class actions described above. No specific amount of damages has been alleged. The Company and its directors believe that the claims are without merit. They intend to mount a vigorous defense to the actions and to seek their prompt dismissal.
