Subject: Announcing Aon Hewitt's Global Consulting Leadership

Greetings! I am truly honored to be given the opportunity to lead Aon Hewitt's consulting organization once the merger is complete. The potential of our combined firms to serve our clients with distinction and create broader professional opportunities for our associates is tremendous. I look forward to meeting with many of you to hear your ideas on how to best integrate our two consulting businesses.

I've been thinking a great deal about what we want to be known for around the world. It may be as simple and as significant as this—we are helping our clients solve three of the biggest issues that corporations and nations face today: health, retirement, and talent. Our aspirations go beyond delivering our current solutions. Our mission is to create the ideas that will revolutionize the way clients tackle these challenges in the future. Imagine the pride of looking back ten years from now and saying our firm drove significant innovations that changed the way the world addresses these issues. That's the power of Consulting at Aon Hewitt. That's the opportunity before us.

Aon Hewitt's Global Consulting Leadership

I've been working closely with Eric Fiedler, Kathryn Hayley, and Yvan Legris, the current leaders of our respective consulting organizations, to identify the senior leadership team for our consulting segment post close. While we don't have every leader identified yet, we have finalized the structure and identified the primary regional, practice, and functional leaders. Rather than wait for the plans for every position to be finalized, we are announcing our current plans for the leadership team. This will allow us to begin integration planning for Aon Hewitt's consulting business in earnest.

Regional P&L (Profit and Loss) Leaders

We've identified exceptional leaders to head up our most significant regions after the closing. Each will report to me and be a member of the Consulting Executive Committee.

- Kathryn Hayley will become CEO, Consulting Americas, which includes our U.S. and Latin America operations. She is currently co-CEO of Aon Consulting, focusing primarily on the U.S., Canada, and Latin America.
- We are in the midst of selecting a leader for Canada. We are fortunate to have an internal bench of qualified leaders. Once we have finalized the leadership and structure for our Canadian Benefits Administration business, we will clarify reporting relationships across the region.
- Yvan Legris will become CEO, Consulting Europe, which includes our UK & Ireland (UKI) and EMEA (Europe, The Middle East, and Africa) operations. He will also oversee our Benefits Administration operations in Europe. Yvan is currently President of Hewitt Consulting.
- Edouard Merette will become CEO, Consulting Asia Pacific. He is currently CEO of Aon Consulting, Asia Pacific.

Other P&L Leaders

Because of the importance of their respective businesses to our overall results, we plan to include five additional leaders on Aon Hewitt's future Consulting Executive Committee.

- Andy Cox will lead the UK & Ireland (UKI) region, reporting to Yvan Legris. He is currently Managing Director of Hewitt's UKI Consulting Business.
- Piyush Chaudhari will lead the EMEA region reporting to Yvan Legris. He is currently CEO of Aon Consulting, EMEA.
- Brian Dunn will lead the Global Compensation Practice reporting to me. Brian will focus on industry verticals. Our broad based compensation and executive compensation practices will remain in the regions and we will evaluate how this will operate in the coming months. He is currently the leader of Global Compensation for Aon Consulting.

Edgar Filing: HEWITT ASSOCIATES INC - Form 425

- Mary Moreland will lead the U.S. Retirement and Financial Management (RFM) business reporting to Kathryn Hayley. She is currently Hewitt's North American RFM Practice Leader, which includes both retirement and investment consulting services.

- John Zern will lead the U.S. Health & Benefits business reporting to Kathryn Hayley. He is currently the U.S. Health & Benefits Practice Leader of Aon Consulting.

Global Practice Leaders

In addition, we plan to name practice leaders to drive our innovation and thought leadership agenda. The practice leader will chair a committee of thought leaders in their practice from around the world. The practice committee will be responsible for developing and maintaining tools, standards, and service offerings for the practice globally. They will also serve as the catalyst for new ideas and products. We may add additional global practices to this group in the future as we fine-tune our strategy. After the closing, each of these leaders will report to me.

- Global Compensation will be led by Brian Dunn.

- Global Health and Benefits will be led by Ken Sperling. He is currently Hewitt's U.S. Health Management Practice Leader.
- Global Retirement will be led by Cecil Hemingway. He is currently the U.S. Retirement Practice Leader for Aon Consulting.
- Global Benefits will be led by Piyush Chaudhari. He will have a dual reporting relationship to me and Yvan Legris.
- Global Investment Consulting will be led by Andrew Tunningley. He is currently Hewitt's Global Strategy Leader for Investment Consulting.
- Global Talent & Organisation will be led by Pete Sanborn. He is currently Hewitt's Global HR Effectiveness Practice Leader.
- Alistair Connell will serve as our Chief Broking Officer. In addition, both the UK Benefits Solutions business and Ireland will report into Alistair. Alistair will have a dual report into Andy Cox. He is the current CEO of Aon Consulting, UK.

Having dedicated global practice leaders with strong practice committees will be essential to nurturing the kind of innovations needed to solve our clients' toughest issues. If we aspire to solve issues like delivering affordable healthcare globally, then our investment in innovation and thought leadership is critical.

Functional Leaders

A team of functional leaders will support the business after the closing. Each will serve on the Consulting Operating committee.

- Joe Tautges will become Consulting's COO for Aon Hewitt reporting to me. He is currently VP Finance and Chief Accounting Officer for Hewitt.
- Mark Blumenthal will become Consulting's CFO for Aon Hewitt. He is currently the Chief Financial Officer for Aon Consulting. Mark will have a dual reporting relationship to Scott Ordway and me.
- Neela Seenandan will become Consulting's Global Head of HR for Aon Hewitt on an interim basis, in addition to her recently announced role as the Global Head of HR leader for Aon Consulting.

- Ash Patel will become Consulting's Chief Information Officer (CIO) for Aon Hewitt. He is currently the CIO of Aon Consulting. Ash will have a dual reporting relationship to David Baruch and me.

How we drive cross-sell activities with the consulting business, across Aon Hewitt and across Aon is essential to our long-term success. We are still working on a design for the sales and account structure that will best support the combined business. We are taking the time to ensure we get this right from the start.

Aon Hewitt's Global Consulting Leadership Committees

After the closing, we plan to form three leadership committees to manage the business, each with a different charter.

- The Consulting Executive Committee will set strategic direction for the global business. Council members will include the major P&L leaders: Bal Dail, Kathryn Hayley, Canadian CEO (tbd), Yvan Legris, Edouard Merette, Mary Moreland, John Zern, Andy Cox, Piyush Chaudhari, and Brian Dunn.
- The Consulting Operating Committee will be the primary management body for the business. In addition to the P&L leaders named above, the committee will include key functional leaders: Joe Tautges, Mark Blumenthal, Neela Seenandan, and Ash Patel.
- The Consulting Practice Committee will be responsible for identifying innovative client solutions across and between each of our major practice areas and finding new ways to accelerate growth. Council members will include our global practice leaders: Brian Dunn, Ken Sperling, Andrew Tunningley, Cecil Hemingway, Piyush Chaudhari, Pete Sanborn, and Alistair Connell. The practice leaders will each chair a global practice committee in their area. The practice leaders will also meet at regular intervals with the Consulting Executive Committee to report on their practice, product, and thought-leadership initiatives.

Leader Transitions

We are still building out our plans for the next levels of the organization. As we double the size of our consulting operations, most roles are increasing in scope. Many of our current senior leaders will be named to expanded roles when we identify the next level of the organization. It is inevitable that some valued leaders will pursue outside opportunities once the transaction is complete. While most of these decisions will be made post-close, some will become clear as we work through the major organizational announcements.

In that vein, Eric Fiedler, President of Consulting for Hewitt, has decided to leave the new organization to pursue opportunities in China. He will continue to manage day-to-day operations of Hewitt Consulting and support the integration until close. Eric has been a respected and valued leader for Hewitt in his 15 years with the firm. We thank him for his many contributions and for his gracious offer to work with Edouard and me over the next six months to make the integration of our businesses in APAC as seamless as possible.

What's Next?

Having announced our plans for the senior leaders for Consulting, we can now launch the majority of our integration planning teams. We will also begin having conversations with leaders across both firms to identify the regional leadership teams and the practice committees by area. As in the past, these efforts will be carefully managed to ensure we are in full legal compliance.

I am excited about our future and look forward to working with this leadership team and other leaders across the globe to ensure we realize the full value of this great combination.

Bal
