Key Shareholders Letter

Dear Valued Shareholder:

On October 3, 2005 Brandywine announced its transaction with Prentiss Properties. Since then, I have spoken with many of you to review the strategic and financial objectives of this transaction that we have presented in our joint proxy statement. As always, we have listened closely to your concerns and provided, via website postings and other public filings, answers to your questions. Our shareholder vote is scheduled for December 21, 2005.

We remain convinced that the transaction between Prentiss, Prudential and Brandywine creates an excellent, diversified growth vehicle for our company. While our website postings and public filings provide extensive information on the transaction, we did want to circulate an additional letter that further amplifies the key rationale for the transaction:

Philadelphia Strategy We are very proud of the platform we have created in the Philadelphia region and our track record. Post transaction we will remain in a leadership position within our marketplace and expect to continue to produce excellent results.

So what does that mean? The Prentiss transaction does not compromise our Philadelphia strategy. Rather it is additive and will accelerate our ability to further penetrate and achieve efficiencies within this marketplace. The combined company's additional financial capacity, the increased depth of the management team, as well as the diversification of our rent roll, will afford us excellent opportunities to further enhance our Philadelphia based real estate strategy.

Targeted Market Focus There still seems to be a misperception of exactly what portions of Prentiss will remain in the combined company. As indicated in our proxy, two catalysts for the transaction were Prentiss' sales efforts in Chicago and Detroit, recognition of a different investment strategy in Dallas and the involvement by Prudential to buy several markets directly from Prentiss. This chain of events enabled Brandywine to focus solely on those markets we viewed as having higher and complimentary growth to our core Philadelphia markets.

Targeted Market Focus There still seems to be a misperception of exactly what portions of Prentiss will remain in the combined company. As indicated in our proxy, two catalysts for the transaction were Prentiss' sales efforts in Chicago and Detroit, recognition of a different investment strategy in Dallas and the involvement by Prudential to buy several markets directly from Prentiss. This chain of events enabled Brandywine to focus solely on those markets we viewed as having higher and complimentary growth to our core Philadelphia markets.

In particular, this transaction will enable us to acquire over $1.2 billion of assets in the greater Washington area along with a seasoned management team. As a corollary, Brandywine will also integrate strong market positions currently owned by Prentiss in Austin, TX and Oakland, CA. Prentiss' market share in those key submarkets is analogous to Brandywine's position in Philadelphia several years ago.

These are markets where we are well positioned to successfully implement our submarket growth strategy to improve our competitive positions. Our transitional ownership in Dallas provides the ability to internally generate capital to grow in the other targeted markets. Successful execution of our sales program in Dallas will enable us to provide staged funding to a $250 million pipeline and provide an intermediate source of capital to redeploy into our core markets. We believe this is a very cost effective way for Brandywine to pursue our targeted submarket strategy in several of the new markets.

Additive and Complimentary As you know, we firmly believe that asset quality, submarket position and management are key ingredients to success. We are convinced that the Prentiss assets being acquired by Brandywine possess all of those success factors. Asset quality is high; targeted submarket positioning is strong and provides an excellent platform to continue our submarket penetration strategy in furtherance of shareholder value. Unquestionably, the regional teams being integrated from Prentiss will provide additional management depth at the development and operating levels. We are convinced these components will provide a tremendous competitive advantage to Brandywine in the years to come.

Our history has always been delivering on our promises. During the course of that history, many of you have shared the risk by believing in our ability to execute. As I look back on the company's history, our business plan to grow from a small organization to the largest landlord in Philadelphia originally met with some skepticism. The skepticism continued as we grew and migrated our platform to be a full service development organization, embarked on innovative tenant service programs, and executed an investment grade balance sheet strategy.

Another example of sound execution is Cira Centre. As you may recall, that announcement was originally met with skepticism. As this letter is being circulated, the success of Cira Centre is well known.

As you evaluate the benefits of the Prentiss transaction, I would request that you consider the growth benefits this transaction provides and Brandywine's track record of delivering on our promises. Clearly, every step in our company's evolution has required belief in our ability to execute. In looking at the Prentiss transaction, I can assure you that we are confident of our ability to successfully execute at the financial, integration and operating levels.

Thank you for reading this letter. Please find attached several pages that have been extracted from our website postings. I look forward to discussing this transaction with you. In the interim, if you have any questions would like additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best personal regards,

Gerard H. Sweeney
President & Chief Executive Officer

Moody's

Moody's Investors Service has affirmed the Baa3 senior unsecured debt rating of Brandywine. the Prentiss transaction will bring increased size and geographic diversity to Brandywine. a large portion of the acquired assets are in Washington D.C., a market familiar to Brandywine, and the transaction should boost Brandywine's market leadership.

S&P

On Oct. 3, 2005, Standard & Poor's Ratings Services affirmed its ratings of Brandywine Realty Trust Inc. This leverage neutral transaction will materially broaden Brandywine's operating platform and tenant base.
