The financial results for the period ended at 31.12.04 do not yet fully reflect the major structural changes to the company which occurred during the last twelve months:

- 1) At the end of June, 2004, Nexus increased its holding in Shagrir Vehicle Systems Ltd. (Previously: Pointer (Eden Telecom Group)), its operator in Israel, from 14% to 100%. The effect of the transaction on the company's statements of operations and statements of cash flows are only shown from the second half of 2004.
- 2) On February 28, 2005, Nexus subsidiary, Shagrir Vehicle Systems Ltd. purchased the activities and assets of Shagrir Towing Services Ltd. and became the leading car-services provider in Israel, providing stolen vehicle recovery, automobile repair, road side assistance and towing services. The effects of the transaction will only be reflected in the company's statements of operations and statements of cash flows from March 2005.

Nexus management expects revenues to grow substantially to approximately $15 million in the first six months of 2005 and to approximately $33 million over the twelve months ending December 31, 2005. The company expects cash flows from operating activities to dramatically improve as well. However, non-cash amortizations of intangible assets and deferred stock-based compensation and non-cash financial expenses deriving from financing the purchase of the activities and assets of Shagrir Towing Services Ltd. are expected to negatively impact the company's statement of operations during a period of up to eight years, although are not anticipated to have any impact on future cashflow.

Nexus loss from continuing operations in 2004 was $3.8 million or $0.03 per share as compared to $3.3 million or $0.04 per share for the same period in 2003. Nexus results in 2004 did not include any impact of the discontinued automated meter reading operation, as compared to the $8.5 million one-time non-cash capital gain, which was recorded in 2003.

Shareholder's equity increased during 2004 to $7.1 million as compared to equity deficit of $1.3 million at the end of 2003, mainly due to the acquisition of Shagrir Vehicle Systems (Previously: Pointer (Eden Telecom Group)) offset mainly by the company's net loss.

Danny Stern, CEO of Nexus commented: It is clear, that Nexus has become a large and substantial service provider in its core business, with a proven track record. We now focus on strengthening our position on the major markets we currently serve: Israel, Venezuela, Russia, Argentina and our recently launched operation in Mexico.

Yossi Ben-Shalom, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Nexus, added: The financial results for 2004 give only a partial picture of Nexus current business and its financial situation. Nexus today anticipates the company maintaining continuous and long term growth. The company is taking action to increase the transparency of its activities for the benefit of its shareholders. Nexus is considering taking steps to return the company's shares to a listing on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market.
