Dear East Fork Member,

Our annual meeting of our members was held on March 20th at the East Fork plant. Our members re-elected three of our directors: Jack Limbaugh, Mike Kohlhaas, and Dan Muller. I discussed aspects of our annual report provided to our members in advance of the meeting and answered questions regarding the report from members present. I want to update you about recent developments.

We have not been successful to date in engaging either a lender or equity investor to fill the gap in operating capital that developed as a result of our current lender, Farm Credit Services of America, terminating our original operating line. We have actively pursued a multitude of leads as well as have engaged an investment banking firm to do the same. Also, we have approached a number of possible merger partners or prospective buyers. For a variety of reasons, these efforts, too, have been unsuccessful to date.

We believe it will be very difficult to arrange financing as well as to make an ongoing profit on a purely refined bean oil feedstock. Based on this, we have worked to position the financing requirement for this project as one that will encompass implementation of a pretreatment process to allow utilization of other feedstocks and the provision of working capital. Our financial modeling indicates that this plant could be profitable historically if we were in fact able to utilize a mix of refined oils, crude oils, and fats.

We recently met with Farm Credit and representatives of our existing lending group to restructure our restated credit agreement and to present a funding request which was based on the above requirements. Unfortunately, the lending group notified us on May 11th that our request has been denied. Our lender's denial was based on two primary reasons: our insufficient capital position in the lender's view, coupled with our present inability to provide a significant contribution of capital, and the unwillingness of the lender and the existing lender group to incur additional lending exposure considering the uncertainty of the profit margins in the biodiesel industry and our ability to tolerate additional risk.

Based on this development and our inability to find alternative sources for our required working capital, we determined that an impairment existed at March 31, 2009 and deemed it necessary and appropriate to recognize an impairment charge to our assets. As a result, during the period ending March 31, 2009, our plant and processing equipment were reduced to fair value by recording a $20,224,067 non-cash impairment charge effectively reducing member equity reflected on our balance sheet as of March 31, 2009 to $13,396,086. Due to the lack of any sales of similar facilities or a quoted market price for our units, we estimated fair value based on the range of values discussed in a potential merger transaction and an independent appraisal indicating a $35 million liquidation value of our assets. This estimate is subjective and with the continuing changes in the credit and commodity markets and the biodiesel industry, it is possible that we will incur additional impairment charges in the future as estimated fair values change and those losses may be significant. We cannot make any assurances that any required impairment charges will not have a material effect on our total assets.

As we shared in the annual meeting, our February 2009 payment deferral agreement with Farm Credit requires us to make a principal payment of $1,825,000 on May 20, 2009. On May 20th we had unrestricted cash of approximately $1,710,000, and did not make our $1,825,000 payment to Farm Credit due on that date because we did not have adequate funds. We expect to receive a notice from Farm Credit that we are in default under our restated credit agreement. We will then be faced with some combination of the following:

- Farm Credit will likely commence a foreclosure proceeding that would ultimately result in conveyance of our plant to Farm Credit if a foreclosure proceeding were concluded before our indebtedness under the restated credit agreement could be otherwise repaid or restructured in or outside of bankruptcy proceedings, resulting in the loss of most of our operating assets and a permanent shut-down of our plant and cause our members to lose most or all of their investment in East Fork,
- raise additional funds from an investor or investors to pay Farm Credit, the availability of which is doubtful given the current turmoil in the credit and commodity markets and biodiesel industry,
- sell our assets or merge with another entity, or

- seek bankruptcy court relief.

Our preference and goals are to fund principal and interest payments, obtain working capital and pretreatment equipment financing and operate our plant profitably, rather than resorting to bankruptcy court relief or be subject to a foreclosure proceeding. As noted, our recent Farm Credit financing proposal was denied and other sources of capital have not resulted in a commitment to restructure or replace our existing restated credit agreement and obtain the additional financing we need. It now appears doubtful that these efforts will be successful.
