AXA FINANCIAL REAFFIRMS COMMITMENT TO MONY ACQUISITION

New York, N.Y. AXA Financial, Inc. announced today that it is continuing to work vigorously to conclude its proposed merger with the MONY Group notwithstanding the MONY Group's receipt of several appraisal demands.

As indicated in MONY's definitive proxy statement which is in the process of being mailed to shareholders, MONY Group has now received demands for appraisal from three shareholder groups purporting to own in the aggregate 11.5% of MONY's outstanding common stock.

Given the prior public statements of these shareholders, these demands come as no surprise, stated Christopher Kip Condron, president and CEO, AXA Financial. AXA Financial continues to believe that the price we are proposing to pay to MONY shareholders $31 per share represents full and fair value, and we are optimistic that the shareholders will approve the transaction.

AXA Financial recently purchased from affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co. warrants to purchase more than 2.2 million shares of MONY representing approximately 4.4% of MONY's issued and outstanding shares at an effective price (including the exercise price) of $30.80. These warrants represent an investment by AXA Financial of more than $68 million.

We have dedicated significant resources to ensure the successful conclusion of this transaction, and an extensive integration planning effort is under way. I look forward to the dynamic combination of our two firms, concluded Mr. Condron.
