GEORGIA APPROVES MERGER; CALIFORNIA APPROVALS PENDING

Last week, the commissioner of insurance for the State of Georgia granted approval necessary for the pending merger of Anthem and WellPoint. The approval follows the Department of Insurance's public hearing on the merger that was held May 19. The merger has now received 10 out of 11 required state regulatory approvals, with only California remaining.

A committee of the California General Assembly and Senate conducted a joint informational hearing regarding the transaction in Sacramento last Wednesday. The informational session was scheduled to allow testimony from various constituents, including consumer groups, state regulatory agencies, providers and the public.

Anthem, WellPoint and Blue Cross of California executives took the opportunity of the legislative session to discuss the transaction and its benefits to Californians. The merger brings together the traditions of customer focus and operational excellence from both companies, creating an opportunity to establish the nation's leading health benefits company focused on improving the health of our customers, Anthem Chairman, President and CEO Larry Glasscock told legislators.

Also speaking on behalf of Anthem and WellPoint were Tom Geiser, WellPoint executive vice president and general counsel; and David Helwig, CEO and president of Blue Cross of California. The new WellPoint will continue the model of local control. I plan to remain as the chief executive officer and president of Blue Cross of California and a resident of California, said Helwig.

Glasscock, Geiser and Helwig assured legislators and others in attendance that they expect little change as a result of the merger, which should be transparent to the 7 million Blue Cross of California customers. Glasscock explained that, consistent with the companies' operating philosophies, Blue Cross of California would continue to be a locally run business.

We will continue to communicate with the Department of Insurance and Department of Managed Health Care in California regarding what these agencies see as the next steps.

Look for more updates in future issues of The Transition Planner.
