At its regularly scheduled meeting on December 7, 2004, the Board of Directors of Danaher Corporation unanimously approved amended and restated by-laws of Danaher Corporation, effective as of December 7, 2004. The amendments are intended to update certain provisions of the company's by-laws. Following is a summary of the material changes to Danaher Corporation's by-laws contained in the amended and restated by-laws:

certain inconsistencies between the company's by-laws and certificate of incorporation have been conformed to the existing provisions contained in the company's certificate of incorporation: the minimum number of directors has been changed from one to three, the classified nature of the Board has been reflected, and the registered office has been changed from Dover to Wilmington, Delaware;

the ability of a Vice President, Secretary or Assistant Secretary to call a special meeting of stockholders has been eliminated, and it has been clarified that a minimum of two directors is required to call a special meeting of the Board; stockholders seeking to exercise the right to call a special meeting are now required to provide specified information about the moving stockholder(s) and the purpose of the meeting and to comply with specified procedural requirements and following receipt of a proper request, the Chairman of the Board or the President will set a date for the meeting, which date must be not less than 50 days nor more than 70 days after receipt of the request, and the Board will establish a record date for the meeting; stockholder proxies and waivers, as well as Board and committee consents, are now allowed to be transmitted electronically, and the company is now allowed to provide access to the company stock ledger electronically;

stockholders are now required to (1) notify the Board of any director nominations or other business to be brought at a stockholder meeting, at least 45 days before the anniversary of the mailing date for the prior year's annual meeting proxy (for annual meetings occurring on a date within 30 days of the prior year's meeting date), or by the later of 60 days prior to the meeting date and the tenth day following notice or public disclosure of the meeting date (for director nominations at special meetings and for annual meetings where the meeting date has changed by more than 30 days from the prior year's meeting date), (2) provide specified information about the moving stockholder(s) and about the nominee or proposal, and (3) comply with specified procedural requirements;

the Board's and Chairman's authority to establish rules and procedures for the conduct of stockholder meetings has been confirmed and clarified;

a director's resignation is deemed effective at the time specified in the notice or resignation or, if not specified, at the Board's pleasure;

Edgar Filing: DANAHER CORP /DE/ - Form 8-K

corporate officers are still required to be elected annually, but the previous requirement that the election take place at the first Board meeting after the annual meeting has been eliminated; instruments relating to securities owned by the company may be executed by the Chairman, President, Vice President, Secretary or Assistant Secretary or any other person authorized by the Board or any of the foregoing persons;

certain duties of the corporate officers have been clarified;

in sending notices to directors or stockholders, the company is now allowed to use any form of notice permitted under Delaware law; and the mandatory indemnification of the company's agents and employees (other than directors and officers) has been eliminated, and advancement of expenses has been made mandatory for directors, and for all other indemnified persons unless the company determines that the indemnified person did not act in good faith; limitations have been added on the indemnification rights of a person who initiated a proceeding; and the indemnification provisions have been modified to conform to corresponding provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law.
