PART I

Item 1. Business.

(a) General development of business.

Fortune Brands, Inc. is a holding company with subsidiaries engaged in the manufacture, production and sale of Home and Hardware products, Spirits and Wine, and Golf products. References to we, our and the Company refer to Fortune Brands, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries as a whole, unless the context otherwise requires.

The Company was incorporated under the laws of Delaware in 1985 and until 1986 conducted no business. Prior to 1986, the businesses of the Company's subsidiaries were conducted by American Brands, Inc., a New Jersey corporation organized in 1904 (American New Jersey), and its subsidiaries. American New Jersey was merged into The American Tobacco Company (ATCO) on December 31, 1985, and the shares of the principal first-tier subsidiaries formerly held by American New Jersey were transferred to the Company. In addition, the Company assumed all liabilities and obligations in respect of the public debt securities of American New Jersey outstanding immediately prior to the merger. On May 30, 1997, the Company's name was changed from American Brands, Inc. to Fortune Brands, Inc.

As a holding company, the Company is a legal entity separate and distinct from its subsidiaries. Accordingly, the right of the Company, and thus the right of the Company's creditors (including holders of debt securities and other obligations) and stockholders, to participate in any distribution of the assets or earnings of any subsidiary is subject to the claims of creditors of the subsidiary, except to the extent that claims of the Company itself as a creditor of such subsidiary may be recognized, in which event the Company's claims may in certain circumstances be subordinate to certain claims of others. In addition, as a holding company, a principal source of the Company's unconsolidated revenues and funds is dividends and other payments from subsidiaries. The Company's principal subsidiaries currently are not limited by long-term debt or other agreements in their abilities to pay cash dividends or to make other distributions with respect to their capital stock or other payments to the Company.

Fortune Brands' success is driven by leading consumer brands in three categories: Home and Hardware products, Spirits and Wine, and Golf products. We seek to grow sales and earnings by investing in the profitable growth of our leading consumer brands. Our brand investments include support for marketing, advertising and the development of innovative new products. We also seek to gain market share by developing and expanding customer relationships.

Another aspect of our strategy is to continuously improve the productivity, as well as cost and asset structures, of our businesses. We did not record any restructuring charges in 2005. Cost-reduction opportunities resulted in pre-tax restructuring charges of $9.8 million and $2.2 million in 2004 and 2003, respectively. Refer to Note 16, Restructuring Charges, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

While our first priority is internal growth, we add to that growth with acquisitions and joint ventures that position our businesses for even stronger growth and higher returns. We have made the following acquisitions and divestitures in recent years:

On February 10, 2006, we announced an agreement to acquire SBR, Inc. and its leading brands of vinyl-frame windows and composite millwork. The acquisition is expected to close in the second quarter. Refer to Note 24, Subsequent Events, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

In 2005:

- > We acquired more than 25 spirits and wine brands as well as certain distribution assets in key markets from Pernod Ricard S.A. Brands acquired include Sauza tequila, Maker's Mark bourbon, Courvoisier cognac, Canadian Club whisky, Laphroaig single-malt Scotch and Clos du Bois super-premium wines (July 2005).
- > We completed the spin-off of the Office products business, ACCO World Corporation, to the Company's shareholders. In addition to retaining their shareholdings in Fortune Brands, each Fortune Brands shareholder received one share of ACCO Brands Corporation for each 4.255 shares of Fortune Brands stock held (August 2005).

In 2004:

- > Therma-Tru Holdings, Inc. acquired Sentinel Doors Ltd., a leading U.K. manufacturer and installer of complete composite entry door systems, and Master Lock Company acquired the assets of

Table of Contents

> Dudley Inc., a leading brand of school locker locks in Canada. The aggregate purchase price of these two acquisitions was $30.9 million (June 2004).

In 2003:

> Our Home and Hardware business acquired Therma-Tru Holdings, Inc. Therma-Tru is the leading brand of residential entry doors in the United States. The cost of the acquisition was $924.0 million (November 2003).

We also completed the following acquisitions for an aggregate cost of $123.7 million:

Home and Hardware acquired:

> Capital Cabinet Corporation, a cabinet supplier to builders in the Southwestern U.S. (June 2003).

> American Lock Company, a manufacturer of commercial locks (April 2003).

Spirits and Wine acquired:

> Wild Horse Winery, a maker of ultra-premium California wines (July 2003).

Acquisitions, divestitures and joint ventures from 2001-2002 were:

> Omega Holdings, Inc., a leading manufacturer of custom and semi-custom cabinetry, acquired by our Home and Hardware business in 2002 for $538.0 million.

> Future Brands LLC (Future Brands), a joint venture established in 2001 by our Spirits and Wine business and V&S Vin & Sprit AB (V&S), the maker of ABSOLUT vodka, for the distribution of both companies' spirits brands in the United States.

> We have also sold a number of nonstrategic businesses and product lines, including the sale of the Spirits and Wine segment's U.K.-based Scotch whisky business in 2001 for $280 million.

On an ongoing basis, we review the portfolio of brands owned by our operating companies and evaluate our options for increasing shareholder value. Although no assurance can be given as to whether or when any acquisitions or dispositions will be made, we might finance acquisitions by issuing additional debt or equity securities. The possible additional debt from any completed acquisitions would increase the Company's debt-to-equity ratio and these debt or equity securities might, at least in the near term, have a dilutive effect on earnings per share. We also consider other corporate strategies intended to enhance shareholder value, including share repurchases and higher dividend payments. We cannot predict whether or when any particular strategy might be implemented or what the financial effect thereof might be upon the Company's debt or equity securities.

(b) Financial information about industry segments.

See Note 17, Information on Business Segments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

(c) Narrative description of business.

The following is a description of the business of the subsidiaries of the Company in the Home and Hardware, Spirits and Wine, and Golf business segments. For financial information about these business segments, see Note 17, Information on Business Segments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

Home and Hardware

Fortune Brands Home & Hardware LLC (Home and Hardware) is a holding company for subsidiaries in the Home and Hardware business. Subsidiaries include MasterBrand Cabinets, Inc. (MasterBrand Cabinets), Moen Incorporated (Moen), Therma-Tru Corp. (Therma-Tru), Master Lock Company LLC (Master Lock) and Waterloo Industries, Inc. (Waterloo). The home and hardware industry is highly competitive. Home and Hardware's operating companies compete on the basis of product quality, price, service and responsiveness to distributor and retailer needs and end-user consumer preferences. Factors that affect the Home and Hardware business results of operations include levels of home improvement and residential construction activity, principally in the U.S. Approximately 10% of Home and Hardware's sales are to international markets.

MasterBrand Cabinets manufactures custom, semi-custom, stock and ready-to-assemble cabinetry for the kitchen, bath and home. MasterBrand Cabinets sells under brand names including Aristokraft, Decorá, Schrock, Diamond, Kemper, Omega, Kitchen Craft and HomeCrest. MasterBrand Cabinets sells directly to kitchen and bath specialty dealers, home centers, wholesalers and large builders. In June 2003, MasterBrand Cabinets acquired Capital Cabinet Corporation. In April 2002, MasterBrand Cabinets acquired Omega Holdings, Inc., a manufacturer of custom and semi-custom cabinetry. MasterBrand Cabinets' competitors include Masco, American Woodmark Corporation and Armstrong World Industries. MasterBrand Cabinets is the second largest cabinet manufacturer in North America.

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

Moen manufactures faucets, bath furnishings, accessories, parts and kitchen sinks in North America and China. Sales are made through Moen's own sales force and independent manufacturers' representatives primarily to wholesalers, mass merchandisers, home centers and industrial distributors. Products are sold principally in the U.S. and Canada and also in China, Mexico and Latin America. Moen's chief competitors include Masco, Black & Decker, Kohler, American Standard and imported private-label brands. Moen is the #1 faucet brand in North America.

In November 2003, the Home and Hardware business acquired Therma-Tru Holdings, Inc., the #1 residential entry door brand in the United States. Therma-Tru manufactures fiberglass and steel residential entry door and patio door systems, primarily for sale in the United States, Canada and Western Europe. Therma-Tru's principal customers are home centers, builders and millwork building products distributors that provide products to the residential new construction market and home centers, as well as to the remodeling and renovation markets. Therma-Tru's competitors include Masonite, Jeld-Wen and Plastpro. In June 2004, Therma-Tru acquired Sentinel Doors Ltd., a leading U.K. manufacturer and installer of complete composite entry door systems.

Master Lock manufactures and sells key-controlled and combination padlocks, bicycle and cable locks, built-in locker locks, automotive, trailer and towing locks and other specialty security devices. Sales of products designed for consumer use are sold to wholesale distributors, home centers and hardware and other retail outlets. Sales of lock systems are sold to industrial and institutional users, original equipment manufacturers and retail outlets. Master Lock competes with Abus, Kryptonite, Hampton and various imports in the padlock segment. In April 2003, Master Lock acquired American Lock Company, a U.S.- based manufacturer of solid body commercial padlocks. In June 2004, Master Lock acquired the assets of Dudley Inc., a leading brand of school locker locks in Canada. Master Lock is the # 1 padlock worldwide.

Waterloo manufactures tool storage products, principally high-quality steel toolboxes, tool chests, workbenches and related products. Waterloo sells to Sears for resale under the Craftsman brand owned by Sears, to Lowe's under the Kobalt brand name, and under the Waterloo brand name to specialty industrial and automotive dealers, mass merchandisers, home centers and hardware stores. Waterloo competes with Snap-On, Kennedy, Stanley, Stack-On and others in the metal storage segment, and with Contico, Zag, Rubbermaid and others in the plastic hand box category. Waterloo is the # 1 tool storage manufacturer worldwide.

Raw materials used for the manufacture of products offered by Home and Hardware's operating companies are primarily red oak, maple and pine lumber, particleboard, rolled steel, brass, zinc, copper, nickel, and various plastic resins. These materials are available from a number of sources. Volatility in the prices of these commodities, and energy used in making and distributing our products, could increase the costs of our products. In 2005, the Home and Hardware business experienced increases in lumber product and fuel-related costs. While in the past we have been able to pass on much of these increased costs to our customers, there is no assurance that they can be passed on in the future.

Spirits and Wine

Beam Global Spirits & Wine, Inc. (BGSW), formerly Jim Beam Brands Worldwide, Inc. (JBBW), with its affiliates, is a holding company in the distilled spirits and wine business. The Company's operating subsidiaries include Jim Beam Brands Co. (JBBCo.), Future Brands LLC, a majority owned subsidiary (Future Brands), Jim Beam Brands Australia Pty. Limited, Jim Beam España S.L., Jim Beam Brands U.K. Limited (JBB UK Ltd.), Beam Spirits and Wine Canada Limited and Beam Wine Estates, Inc.

In July 2005, the Company purchased more than 25 spirits and wine brands as well as certain distribution assets (the Acquired Businesses) from Pernod Ricard S.A. (Pernod Ricard). Brands acquired include Sauza tequila, Maker's Mark bourbon, Courvoisier cognac, Canadian Club whisky, Laphroaig single-malt Scotch, Clos du Bois super-premium wines, leading regional and national brands and distribution operations in the U.K., Germany and Spain, and with respect to wine, in the U.S. The revenues from sale of all of the Acquired Businesses in 2004 were approximately $1.2 billion, which will more than double our Spirits and Wine business sales.

In July 2003, the Spirits and Wine business acquired Wild Horse Winery, a California-based producer of premium and ultra-premium wines. In December 2003, the Spirits and Wine business extended the rights to manufacture and distribute Gilbey's gin and vodka for an additional 20 years.

On October 16, 2001, the Spirits and Wine business sold the U.K.-based Scotch whisky business. The sale of the business consisted of the Invergordon private-label and bulk Scotch operations and several regional brands in the U.K. The Company recorded an after-tax gain of $21.8 million related to the sale.

On May 31, 2001, the Spirits and Wine business completed transactions with V&S Vin & Spirit AB (V&S), maker of ABSOLUT vodka, creating the Future Brands LLC joint venture to distribute both companies' spirits brands in the United States. V&S paid $270 million to gain access to JBBCo.'s U.S. distribution network and to acquire a 49% interest in Future Brands, and paid $375 million to purchase a 10% equity interest in JBBW in the form of convertible preferred stock. V&S also acquired a three-year option to increase its equity stake in JBBW by up to an additional 9.9%, which expired unexercised. V&S may require the Company to purchase the JBBW preferred stock in whole or in part at any time after May 31, 2004 or upon a change in control of JBBW, JBBCo., or certain other events.

With the integration of the Acquired Businesses, principal markets for the products of the Spirits and Wine business are the U.S., Canada, Australia, the U.K., Spain and Mexico. Approximately 40% of our Spirits and Wine business' sales will be to international markets.

The Spirits and Wine business owns its leading brands, except that DeKuyper cordials are produced and sold in the U.S. under a perpetual license, and Gilbey's gin and Gilbey's vodka are produced and sold in the U.S. under a license expiring September 30, 2027.

The Company's Spirits and Wine business has changed significantly with the acquisition of the Acquired Businesses. Previously the Spirits and Wine business had strong market positions in the U.S. and Australia, a relatively small business in Europe (primarily the U.K. and Germany), and a small U.S. wine business. With the Acquired Businesses, our Spirits and Wine business has become much larger in scale and scope, more balanced globally in key growth markets, more focused on premium products, and broader in range of product offerings with significant positions in categories such as tequila, cognac and scotch whisky. We also now have significant business in leading regional and national spirits categories such as in German liqueurs and Spanish brandies, and a large portfolio of premium and super-premium U.S. wines.

Leading businesses and brands include the following:

- > JBBCo., whose operations are located in the U.S., currently produces or imports, and markets a broad line of distilled spirits, including bourbon and other whiskeys, cordials, gin, vodka and rum. JBBCo. and its predecessors have been distillers of bourbon whiskey since 1795. Leading brand names are Jim Beam bourbon whiskey, Knob Creek, Booker's, Baker's and Basil Hayden's small batch bourbons, DeKuyper cordials, Windsor Canadian whisky and Starbucks Liqueurs.
- > Courvoisier, with operations in the cognac region of France, offers premium, super- and ultra-premium cognacs in key markets worldwide. Primary markets are the U.S. and the U.K.
- > Maker's Mark, a super-premium bourbon whiskey, is made in Kentucky and marketed primarily in the U.S. and North America markets.
- > Sauza tequila, made in the Jalisco tequila region of Mexico, is the #2 worldwide tequila.
- > Laphroaig, a super-premium single malt scotch, is made on Islay, Scotland.
- > Canadian Club whisky is manufactured in Canada and sold to key markets worldwide.
- > Strong national and regional brands, including Teacher's Scotch whisky, Harveys sheries and Cockburn's port in the U.K., Larios gin and Whisky NYC in Spain and Kuemmerling bitters in Germany.
- > Our wine business includes premium and super-premium brands among the Acquired Businesses such as Clos du Bois, Buena Vista, Gary Farrell and William Hill as well as Geyser Peak and Wild Horse wines.

- > Our spirits and wine products are sold through recognized industry channels including the Future Brands and Maxxium Worldwide joint ventures in which the Spirits and Wine business is a partner and shareholder, independent distributors and global or regional duty free customers. Products are also sold through government-controlled liquor authorities in the 18 control states (and one county) in the U.S. that have established government control over certain aspects of the purchase and distribution of alcoholic beverages.

In October 2003, JBBW signed a development and distribution agreement with Starbucks Corporation to develop, manufacture and market a new product, Starbucks Coffee Liqueur, in the U.S. The product launched nationwide in the first quarter of 2005 and a line extension, Starbucks Cream Liqueur, was launched in initial markets during the 4th quarter of 2005.

The distilled spirits business is highly competitive, with many brands sold in the consumer market. Our Spirits and Wine business is the largest U.S.-based producer and marketer of distilled spirits and is the 4th largest spirits company in the world. We compete on the basis of product quality, price, service and innovation in response to consumer preferences. Major competitors include Diageo, Pernod Ricard, Bacardi, Rémy Cointreau, Brown-Forman and Constellation Brands. Our Spirits and Wine business has the #1 bourbon (Jim Beam), #1 super-premium bourbon (Maker's Mark), #2 tequila worldwide (Sauza), #2 Canadian whisky worldwide (Canadian Club), #1 cordial line in the U.S. (DeKuyper), #1 Islay malt whisky (Laphroaig), one of the world's leading cognacs (Courvoisier) and #2 super-premium U.S. wine (Clos du Bois).

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

The peak season for the Spirits and Wine business is the fourth quarter due to seasonal holiday buying.

Because whiskeys/whiskies, cognacs, brandies, ports and some tequila varieties are aged for various periods (from three to ten years for whiskies, for example), the Spirits and Wine business maintains, in accordance with industry practice, substantial inventories of aging bulk product in warehouse facilities. Production of aging inventory is generally scheduled to meet demand years into the future, and production schedules are adjusted from time to time to bring inventories into balance with estimated future demand. In addition, the Spirits and Wine business may, from time to time, seek to purchase bulk aging spirit if necessary to meet estimated future demand.

The principal raw materials for the production, storage and aging of distilled products, especially whiskeys/whiskies, including Scotch, are primarily corn, other grains, new or used oak barrels, grapes for cognac and wines, and agave for tequila. These materials are generally readily available from a number of sources except that new oak barrels are available from only a limited number of major sources, one of which is owned by a competitor. JBBCo. has a long-term supply agreement for new oak barrels.

Table of Contents

The principal raw materials used in the production of cognacs and wines are grapes, barrels and packaging materials. Grapes are obtained from company-owned vineyards, purchased from independent growers under long-term supply contracts or purchased on the spot market, and, from time to time, are affected by weather and other forces that may impact production and quality.

The production, storage, transportation, distribution and sale of the products of the Spirits and Wine business are subject to regulation by federal, state, local and foreign authorities. Various countries and local jurisdictions prohibit or restrict the marketing or sale of distilled spirits and wine in whole or in part.

In many of the key markets for our Spirits and Wine business, distilled spirits and wine are subject to federal excise taxes and/or customs duties as well as state/provincial, local and other taxes. Beverage alcohol sales are sensitive to higher excise tax rates. Although no federal excise tax increase is presently pending in the U.S., our largest market, many states are considering possible excise tax increases and the possibility of future increases cannot be ruled out. Excise or other tax increases are also considered from time to time in other key markets such as the U.K., Spain and Mexico. The effect of any future excise tax increases in any jurisdiction cannot be determined, but it is possible that any future excise tax increases would have an adverse effect on unit sales and increase existing competitive pressures. The Company's Spirits and Wine business competes on the basis of quality, product innovation, responsiveness to consumer preferences, price, and service.

Golf

Acushnet Company (Acushnet), together with its subsidiaries, is a leading manufacturer and marketer of golf balls, golf clubs, golf shoes and golf gloves. Other products include golf bags, golf outerwear and accessories. Acushnet's leading brands are Titleist and Pinnacle golf balls; Titleist and Cobra golf clubs; Scotty Cameron by Titleist putters; FootJoy golf shoes; FootJoy and Titleist golf gloves; and FootJoy outerwear. Acushnet products are sold primarily to on-course golf pro shops and selected off-course golf specialty and sporting goods stores throughout the United States. Sales are made in the U.S., Canada, and other key international markets through subsidiaries and outside these areas through distributors or agents. Approximately 30% of Acushnet's sales are to international markets.

Acushnet and its subsidiaries compete on the basis of product quality, product innovation, price, service and responsiveness to consumer preferences. Acushnet has leading market positions in golf balls (Titleist), as well as golf shoes and golf gloves (FootJoy). Acushnet also is a leading U.S. competitor in golf clubs (Titleist & Cobra). In golf balls, Acushnet's main competitors are Top Flite, Nike, Bridgestone, Callaway and Maxfli. In golf clubs, Callaway, TaylorMade, Ping, Cleveland and Nike are the main competitors. In golf shoes, Nike and Adidas are the main competitors. In golf gloves, Nike and Callaway are the main competitors. Acushnet's business is seasonal and approximately 60% of its sales occur in the first half of the year and less than 20% in the fourth quarter.

The principal raw materials used in manufacturing are synthetic rubbers, polymers, steel, titanium, and natural and synthetic leathers.

Acushnet's advertising and promotional campaigns rely in part on a large number of touring professionals and club professionals using and endorsing its products. The market for the endorsement and promotional services of touring professionals has been and will continue to be increasingly competitive.

There is currently a substantial market in knock-off and counterfeit golf clubs, which imitate or copy the protected features of original equipment manufacturers' golf club products. Acushnet has an active program of enforcing intellectual property rights against those who make or sell these products.

Despite favorable demographics of an aging population (rounds of play increasing with age), rounds of play in the U.S. decreased from 2000 to 2003 as a result of a combination of less golf-related travel, economic conditions, lower corporate spending and weather conditions. U.S. rounds of play were flat in 2004 and 2005. The future success of the Golf business will depend upon continued innovation, product quality and successful marketing across product categories. International market opportunities, especially in the Pacific Basin region, have provided and are expected to provide growth for the Golf business.

The United States Golf Association (USGA) and the Royal and Ancient Golf Club (R&A) establish standards for golf equipment used in the United States and outside the United States, respectively. In recent years, each of the USGA and the R&A has enacted new rules restricting golf club head size and golf club shaft length, and changing the overall distance standard for golf balls. In March and April of 2005, the USGA and R&A each issued notices to golf equipment manufacturers 1) expressing their intent to further investigate issues regarding spin, moment of inertia and club adjustability and 2) requesting that manufacturers participate in a golf ball research project by manufacturing and submitting balls that would conform to an overall distance standard that is 15 and 25 yards shorter than the current standard of 317 yards. The research being conducted could result in further ball and/or club regulation, including a distance rollback of either or both. Existing rules and any new rules resulting from this research could change the golf products industry's ability to innovate and deploy new technologies, potentially impacting our Golf business. Although we continue to see opportunities to develop and introduce innovative golf products, the recent trend in equipment regulation has been to narrow or reduce those opportunities.

Environmental Matters

The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to federal, state and local laws and regulations concerning the discharge of materials into the environment and the handling, disposal and clean-up of waste materials and otherwise relating to the protection of the environment. It is not possible to quantify with certainty the potential impact of actions regarding environmental matters, particularly remediation and other compliance efforts that the Company's subsidiaries may undertake in the future. Management of the Company does not expect compliance with the present environmental protection laws, before taking into account estimated recoveries from third parties, to have a material adverse effect upon our capital expenditures, financial condition, results of operations or competitive position.

(d) Financial information about geographic areas.

We sell products primarily in the United States, Canada, Europe (primarily the U.K, Germany, France and Spain), Australia and Mexico. A change in the value of the currencies of these countries can impact our financial statements when translated into U.S. dollars. The exchange rates between some of the foreign currencies in which our subsidiaries operate and the U.S. dollar have fluctuated significantly in recent years and may do so in the future. We manufacture and source our products in the United States, Europe, Canada, Mexico, China, Thailand and other countries. We are subject to risks associated with changes in political, economic and social environments, local labor conditions, changes in laws, regulations and policies of foreign governments, as well as U.S. laws affecting activities of U.S. companies abroad, including tax laws and enforcement of contract and intellectual property rights. See Note 17, Information on Business Segments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

Web Site Access to SEC Reports

The Company's website address is www.fortunebrands.com. The Company's annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K and any amendments to these reports are available free of charge on the Company's website as soon as reasonably practicable after the reports are filed or furnished electronically with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The public may read and copy any materials we file with the SEC at the SEC's Public Reference Room at 100 F Street, N.E., Washington D.C. 20549. The public may obtain information about the operation of the Public Reference Room by calling the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330. The SEC maintains an Internet site (<http://www.sec.gov>) that contains reports, proxy and information statements, and other information regarding issuers that file electronically with the SEC.

Item 1A. Risk Factors.

We believe that the following risks and uncertainties may be material to our business. Additional risks and uncertainties that we currently consider to be immaterial may also adversely affect our business. If any of the following risks actually occur, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Table of Contents

We operate in highly competitive markets.

We compete with large national, international and regional companies on the basis of product quality, price, service and innovation in response to consumer preferences. Our success depends in part on our ability to anticipate and offer products that appeal to the changing needs and preferences of our customers in the various markets we serve. If we are not able to anticipate, identify, develop and market products that respond to changes in customer preferences, demand for our products could decline and our operating results would be adversely affected. While the competitive importance of product quality, price, service and innovation varies from product to product, price is a factor, and we experience pricing pressures from competitors in our markets.

Continued consolidation of our trade customers and increased competition in private-label products, particularly in the home & hardware industry, could adversely affect our business.

There has been consolidation of our trade customers and growth in the sales of private-label products in portions of our markets, particularly in the home and hardware industry. Consolidation increases the size and importance of individual customers, and these larger customers can make significant changes in their volume of purchases, require price reductions and even become competitors for some products. Further consolidation could adversely affect our margins and profitability, particularly if we were to lose a significant customer. Similarly, growth in the sales of private-label products could reduce our margins and profits.

Our financial results and demand for our products are dependent on the successful development of new products and processes.

Our success depends on anticipating changes in consumer preferences and on successful new product and process development and product relaunches in response to such changes. We aim to introduce products or new or improved production processes on a timely basis in order to counteract obsolescence and decreases in sales of existing products. While we devote significant focus to the development of new products and to the research, development and technology process functions of our business, we may not be successful in developing new products or processes or our new products or processes may not be commercially successful. Our future results and ability to maintain or improve our competitive position will depend on our ability to gauge the direction of our key markets and successfully identify, develop, manufacture, market and sell new or improved products in these changing markets.

The inability to secure and maintain rights to intellectual property could adversely affect our business.

We have many patents, trademarks, brand names and trade names that are important to our business. Our business could be adversely affected by the loss of any major brand or by infringement of our intellectual property rights. We are also subject to risks in this area because existing patent, trade secret and trademark laws offer only limited protection, and the laws of some countries in which our products are or may be developed, manufactured or sold may not fully protect our products. In addition, others may assert intellectual property infringement claims against us or our customers.

Risks associated with our strategic acquisitions could adversely affect our business.

We have completed a number of acquisitions in recent years, including more than 25 spirits and wine brands and distribution assets acquired last year from Pernod Ricard S.A. We will continue to consider acquisitions as a means of enhancing shareowner value. Acquisitions involve risks and uncertainties, including:

- > difficulties integrating the acquired company, retaining the Acquired Businesses' customers, and achieving the expected benefits of the acquisition, such as revenue increases, cost savings, and increases in geographic or product presence, in the desired time frames, if at all;
- > loss of key employees from the acquired company;
- > implementing and maintaining consistent standards, controls, procedures, policies and information systems; and > diversion of management's attention from other business concerns.

Future acquisitions could cause us to incur additional debt, contingent liabilities, increased interest expense and higher amortization expense related to intangible assets, as well as experience dilution in earnings per share. Impairment losses on goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite life, or restructuring charges, could also occur as a result of acquisitions.

Table of Contents

Our failure to attract and retain qualified personnel would adversely affect our business.

Our success depends in part on the efforts and abilities of our senior management team and key employees. Their skills, experience and industry contacts significantly benefit our operations and administration. The failure to attract and retain members of our senior management team and key employees would have a negative effect on our operating results.

Various external conditions, including economic, weather and business conditions may result in a decrease in our sales and profitability.

Demand for our products is sensitive to certain external factors, including economic conditions; weather conditions; with respect to the golf business, destination travel and corporate spending; and with respect to home and hardware, mortgage and other interest rates affecting the housing market, as well as the number of new housing starts and existing home sales. The impact of these external factors is difficult to predict, and one or more of these factors could adversely affect our business.

We sell products internationally and are exposed to currency exchange rate risks.

We sell products in the United States, Europe and other areas (principally Canada, Mexico and Australia). While we hedge certain foreign currency transactions, a change in the value of the currencies can impact our financial statements when translated into U.S. dollars. The exchange rates between some of the foreign currencies in which our subsidiaries operate and the U.S. dollar have fluctuated significantly in recent years and may do so in the future.

We manufacture and source our products internationally and are exposed to risks associated with doing business globally.

We manufacture and source our products in the United States, Europe, Canada, Mexico, China, Thailand and other countries. Accordingly, we are subject to risks associated with changes in political, economic and social environments, local labor conditions, changes in laws, regulations and policies of foreign governments, as well as U.S. laws affecting activities of U.S. companies abroad, including tax laws and enforcement of contract and intellectual property rights. Exchange rate fluctuations may impact the cost of sourced products and our financial results.

Risks associated with interest rate fluctuations and commodity and energy price volatility could adversely affect our business.

We are exposed to risks associated with interest rate fluctuations and commodity price volatility arising from weather, supply conditions, geopolitical and economic variables, and other unpredictable external factors. We buy commodities, including steel, copper, brass, titanium, glass, plastic, resins, wood, particle board, grains and grapes. Volatility in the prices of these commodities, and energy used in making and distributing our products, could increase the costs of our products. We may not be able to pass on these increased costs to our customers, and this could have an adverse effect on our results of operation and financial condition.

Costs of certain employee and retiree benefits may continue to rise.

Increases in the costs of medical and pension benefits to our business could continue and negatively affect our business as a result of:

- > continued increases in medical costs related to current and retired employees due to increased usage of medical benefits and medical inflation in the United States;
- > the effect of any decline in the stock and bond markets on the performance of our pension plan assets;
- > potential reductions in the discount rate used to determine the present value of our benefit obligations; and
- > changes in law and accounting standards that may increase the funding of, and the expense reflected for, employee benefits.

Our Spirits and Wine business relies on the performance of wholesale distributors and other marketing arrangements and could be adversely affected by poor performance of major distributors or other disruptions in our distribution channels.

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

Our spirits and wine products are sold principally through wholesale distributors for resale to retail outlets. The replacement, poor performance or financial default of a major distributor or one of its major customers could adversely affect our Spirits and Wine business. Any unplanned disruption to the existing channel could adversely affect our revenues and profitability. A disruption could be caused by the sale of a distributor to a competitor, financial instability of the distributor, or other unforeseen events.

Increased excise taxes on distilled spirits and wine could adversely affect our Spirits and Wine business.

Distilled spirits and wine are subject to excise tax in many countries where we operate. No federal excise tax increase is presently pending in the United States, our largest market. However, many states and other jurisdictions are considering possible excise tax increases. The effect of any future excise tax increases in any jurisdiction cannot be determined, but increased excise taxes could have an adverse effect on our business.

Changes in golf equipment regulatory standards could adversely affect our Golf business.

Our ability to develop and market new golf products may be limited by rules governing equipment standards set by industry associations, such as restrictions on golf club head size and shaft length, and the overall distance standard for golf balls, which could adversely impact our golf business.

Potential liabilities and costs from litigation could adversely affect our business.

Our business is subject to risks related to litigation with respect to various matters, including with respect to alcohol-related liability and tobacco products made and sold by former operations. It is not possible to predict the outcome of pending litigation, and, as with any litigation, it is possible that some of the actions could be decided unfavorably.

An impairment in the carrying value of goodwill or other acquired intangibles could negatively affect our operating results and net worth.

The carrying value of goodwill represents the fair value of acquired businesses in excess of identifiable assets and liabilities as of the acquisition date. The carrying value of other intangibles represents the fair value of trademarks, trade names and other acquired intangibles as of the acquisition date. Goodwill and other acquired intangibles expected to contribute indefinitely to our cash flows are not amortized, but must be evaluated by our management at least annually for impairment. If carrying value exceeds current fair value as determined based on the discounted future cash flows of the related business, the intangible is considered impaired and is reduced to fair value via a charge to earnings. Events and conditions that could result in impairment include changes in the industries in which we operate, as well as competition and advances in technology, a significant product liability or intellectual property claim, or other factors leading to reduction in expected sales or profitability. If the value of goodwill or other acquired intangibles is impaired, our earnings and net worth could be adversely affected.

Historical financial statements may not be reflective of our future financial condition and results of operation due to our recent portfolio realignment or other reasons.

We made significant changes in our business last year, as discussed in this report, including spinning off our Office products business, buying more than 25 spirits and wine brands and other assets of Allied Domecq PLC and borrowing to finance that acquisition. Although we believe that this report contains all material information that is necessary to make an informed assessment of our assets and liabilities, financial position, profit and losses and prospects, historical financial statements do not necessarily provide all the financial information investors may consider relevant in evaluating our business after these changes or represent what our results of operations or financial position will be for any future periods.

Downgrades of our credit ratings could adversely affect us.

If Moody's, S&P or Fitch were to downgrade our credit rating, such a downgrade could result in loss of access to the commercial paper market and increase our cost of capital. Downgrades of our credit ratings could also affect the value or marketability of our outstanding notes.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings.Tobacco Overview

On December 22, 1994, the Company sold The American Tobacco Company (ATCO) to Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation (B&W), at the time a wholly owned subsidiary of B.A.T Industries p.l.c. In connection with the sale, B&W and ATCO, which subsequently merged into B&W (together, the Indemnitor), agreed, under an Indemnification Agreement, to indemnify the Company against claims including legal expenses arising from smoking and health and fire safe cigarette matters relating to the tobacco business of ATCO.

On July 30, 2004, B&W and R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Holdings, Inc. announced that they had completed the combination of their respective U.S. tobacco businesses, previously conducted by B&W (and ATCO) and R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., by forming a new combined company known as R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. As a result of the combination and in accordance with the Indemnification Agreement, the new R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company has assumed the indemnification obligations under the Indemnification Agreement relating to the U.S. business previously conducted by B&W (and ATCO). B&W has not been released from any of its obligations under the Indemnification Agreement. We refer to B&W and the new R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company as the Indemnitor under the Indemnification Agreement.

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

The Indemnitor has complied with the terms of the indemnification agreement since 1994 and the Company is not aware of any inability on the part of the Indemnitor to satisfy its indemnitor obligations.

Numerous legal actions, proceedings and claims are pending in various jurisdictions against leading tobacco manufacturers, including B&W both individually and as successor by merger to ATCO, based upon allegations that cancer and other ailments have resulted from tobacco use. The Company has been named as a defendant in some of these cases. These claims have generally fallen within three categories: (i) smoking and health cases alleging personal injury brought on behalf of individual plaintiffs, (ii) smoking and health cases alleging personal injury and other damages and purporting to be brought on behalf of classes of individual plaintiffs, and (iii) health care cost recovery cases, including class actions, brought by foreign governments, unions, health trusts, taxpayers and others seeking reimbursement for health care expenditures allegedly caused by cigarette smoking. Damages claimed in some of the cases range into the billions of dollars.

Individual Cases

As of February 10, 2006, there were approximately 16 smoking and health cases pending on behalf of individual plaintiffs in which the Company has been named as one of the defendants, compared to 19 cases as reported in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004. See List of Pending Cases below.

Class Actions

As of February 10, 2006, there were approximately three purported smoking and health class actions pending in which the Company has been named as one of the defendants, compared to five cases as reported in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004. See List of Pending Cases below.

Health Care Cost Recovery Actions

As of February 10, 2006, there was one health care recovery action pending in which the Company has been named as one of the defendants. This number of cases has not changed from the number reported in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004. See List of Pending Cases below.

Certain Developments Affecting the Indemnitor

On July 14, 2000, in Engle v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, et. al., a Florida state case brought against B&W (individually and as successor to ATCO) and other U.S. tobacco manufacturers on behalf of a class of Florida residents allegedly injured as a result of their alleged addiction to cigarettes containing nicotine, a jury awarded a total of $144.87 billion in punitive damages against the defendants, including $17.59 billion against B&W. On November 6, 2000, Florida Circuit Judge Robert Kaye upheld this jury award, and held that the class of plaintiffs eligible to recover damages should be extended to smokers with illnesses diagnosed more than four years before the lawsuit was filed in 1994. On May 21, 2003, a Florida appellate court reversed the jury's verdict and damages award and decertified the class. On October 22, 2003, plaintiffs' counsel sought review of this decision in the Florida Supreme Court. The Florida Supreme Court's ruling is pending. The Company is not a party to the Engle litigation.

In September 1999, the United States government filed a recoupment lawsuit in Federal Court in Washington, D.C. against the leading tobacco manufacturers (including B&W individually and as a successor to ATCO) seeking recovery of costs paid by the Federal government for claimed smoking-related illness. In this action, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia has dismissed certain counts of the lawsuit, but has also ruled that the government may proceed with two counts under the federal RICO statute. On February 4, 2005, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia held that the government may not, however, seek a disgorgement of defendants' profits from the sale of tobacco as a part of its RICO claim. The U.S. Supreme Court denied the government's petition to review the case on October 17, 2005. The trial was concluded in June 2005 and a decision of the trial court is pending. The Company is not a party to this action.

On March 21, 2003, a judgment for $7.1 billion in compensatory and $3 billion in punitive damages was entered by an Illinois state court against Philip Morris, Inc. in Price, et al. v. Philip Morris, Inc., a class action alleging that certain advertising for light or low tar cigarettes was deceptive under the Illinois Consumer Fraud Act. On December 15, 2005, the Illinois Supreme Court reversed the judgment and remanded the case to the lower court with instruction to dismiss the case. Class actions involving similar allegations (Howard, et al. v. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. and Turner v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.) are pending against B&W and R.J. Reynolds Tobacco, respectively, in the same court. Trials in the Howard and Turner cases have been stayed pending appeal by Philip Morris in Price. The Company is not a party to the Price, Howard or Turner litigation.

Table of Contents

Resolution of Health Care Cost Recovery Actions by State, U.S. Territories and the District of Columbia

In 1998, certain U.S. tobacco companies, including B&W, entered into a Master Settlement Agreement (the MSA) with certain state attorneys general that resulted in the dismissal of all remaining health care reimbursement lawsuits brought by 52 government entities, including 46 States, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands and the District of Columbia. Although the Company is not a party to the MSA and is not bound by any of its payment obligations or other restrictions, the Company understands that it is a released party under the terms of the MSA, which provides for the release of claims not only against participating manufacturers, but also against their predecessors, successors, and past, present and future affiliates.

Under the MSA, participating manufacturers were required to make initial payments through 2003, with additional payments to the settling parties required to continue in perpetuity (starting at $4.5 billion in 2000 and increasing to $9 billion in 2018 and thereafter). Payments to a strategic contribution fund for individual states beginning in 2008 through 2017, and a public health foundation until 2008, are also required. Ongoing payments are to be allocated according to market share and are subject to various credits and adjustments, depending on industry volume. The MSA also calls for the participating manufacturers to pay attorneys' fees for the States' attorneys in the settled litigation.

Prior to the MSA, health care cost recovery actions filed by the states of Minnesota, Texas, Florida and Mississippi were settled separately on terms that included monetary payments of several billion dollars. The Company was not a party to the Minnesota or Texas action and was voluntarily dismissed from the Florida and Mississippi actions. The Company is not a party to any of these settlements nor is it required to pay any money under these settlements.

Terminated Cases

For a list of terminated cases, see Exhibit 99.1 to this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Conclusion

It is not possible to predict the outcome of the pending litigation, and it is possible that some of these actions could be decided unfavorably. Management is unable to make a meaningful estimate of the amount or range of loss that could result from an unfavorable outcome of the pending litigation. However, management believes that there are a number of meritorious defenses to the pending actions, including the fact that the Company never made or sold tobacco, and these actions are being vigorously contested by the Indemnitor. Management believes that the pending actions will not have a material adverse effect upon the results of operations, cash flows or financial condition of the Company because it believes it has meritorious defenses and the Company is indemnified under the Indemnification Agreement.

Spirits and Wine Litigation

The Company, its Spirits and Wine business and numerous other manufacturers and importers of beer, spirits and wine are named as defendants in purported class action lawsuits in Michigan, New York and West Virginia seeking damages and injunctive relief regarding alleged marketing of beverage alcohol to people under the legal purchase age for alcohol. The Michigan lawsuit, Alston v. Advanced Brands & Importing Co., et al., was filed March 30, 2005 in the Circuit Court for the Third Judicial Circuit, Michigan. The New York lawsuit, Sciocchetti v. Advanced Brands & Importing Co., et al., was filed February 16, 2005 in the Supreme Court, Albany County, New York. The Company and its Spirits and Wine business have not yet been served in the New York lawsuit. The West Virginia lawsuit, Bertovich v. Advanced Brands & Importing Co., et al., was filed February 17, 2005 in the Circuit Court of Hancock County, West Virginia, and was removed to the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of West Virginia on May 22, 2005. The lawsuits are similar in that each alleges that the defendants have engaged in deceptive marketing practices and schemes targeted at people under the legal purchase age, negligently marketed their products to the underage and fraudulently concealed their alleged misconduct. Plaintiffs seek the disgorgement of unspecified profits earned by the Company's Spirits and Wine business in the past and other unspecified damages and equitable relief. Other purported class actions are pending against other producers of alcoholic beverages for alleged marketing to persons under the legal purchase age. The Company denies that its Spirits and Wine business markets beverage alcohol products to persons under the legal purchase age and denies that the advertising practices of its Spirits and Wine business are illegal or in violation of industry codes concerning responsible marketing practices. It is not possible to predict the outcome of these actions or give an estimate of a possible loss or range of loss, if any, that may result from these actions. The Company believes, however, and counsel has advised that the Company and its Spirits and Wine business have meritorious defenses against plaintiffs' claims. The Company is vigorously contesting these actions and believes that ultimately they will not have a material adverse effect on the results of operations, cash flow and financial condition of the Company.

The Company and its Spirits and Wine business were previously named as defendants in a Florida lawsuit, Konhauzer vs. Adolph Coors Company, et al., pending in the Circuit Court of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit, Broward County, Florida. That case was voluntarily dismissed by plaintiff on October 19, 2005. The Company and its Spirits and Wine business were also previously named as defendants in an Ohio lawsuit, Eisenberg vs. Anheuser Busch, et al., pending in the U.S. District Court of the Northern District of Ohio. On February 6, 2006, the court granted defendants' motion and dismissed the entire case. The Company and its Spirits and Wine business were previously named as defendants in a Wisconsin lawsuit, Tomberlin vs. Adolph Coors Company, et al., pending in the Circuit Court, Dane County, Wisconsin. That case was dismissed by the court in its entirety on February 16, 2006.

For a discussion of other pending litigation, see Note 22, "Pending Litigation," to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 to this Form 10-K.

Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities; Use of Proceeds from Unregistered Securities

In January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling $800 million (approximately $1 billion) pursuant to an exemption from registration under Regulation S of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The notes consist of $300 million of 3/2% notes due January 2009 and $500 million of 4% notes due January 2013. The Joint Bookrunners and Joint Lead Managers were ABN AMRO Bank N.V., Citigroup Global Markets Limited and J.P. Morgan Securities Ltd. Proceeds were used to paydown commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition and borrowings under our then outstanding $3.0 billion bridge credit agreement. Net proceeds of $794.5 million are less price discounts of $3.1 million and underwriting fees of $2.4 million.

The share repurchase program authorized the Company to purchase up to 5,000,000 shares from March 1, 2005 to February 28, 2006. The Board of Directors also granted authority to the Board's Executive Committee to authorize the purchase of up to an additional 5,000,000 shares (10,000,000 shares in total) on or prior to February 28, 2006 to the extent the Executive Committee determines it appropriate.

⁽²⁾ The Company purchased all of the 3,710 shares between October 1, 2005 and December 31, 2005 from the Company's employees in connection with the exercise of stock options issued under the Company's long-term incentive plans. The employees sold these shares to the Company in payment of the exercise price of the options exercised and the related tax withholding amounts.

Summary

Fortune Brands, Inc. is a holding company with subsidiaries that make and sell leading consumer branded products in the following industries: home and hardware, spirits and wine, and golf products. We enhance shareholder value by profitably building our leading consumer brands to drive sales and earnings, as well as to generate cash. We do this by developing innovative new products and effective marketing campaigns, and expanding customer relationships. We also seek to increase profits by improving operations, increasing productivity and enhancing cost structures. While our first priority is internal growth, we also strive to achieve growth and high returns through acquisitions, dispositions and joint ventures. Finally, we enhance shareholder value through other initiatives such as using our financial resources to repurchase shares and pay attractive dividends.

In 2005, we sharpened our focus as a high-performance consumer brands company. In August 2005, we completed the spin-off of the Office products business, in connection with which we received a cash dividend of $613 million. In addition, in July 2005, we acquired more than 25 spirits and wine brands as well as distribution assets from Pernod Ricard S.A., enhancing our Spirits and Wine business and strengthening our distribution capabilities in international markets. While we had the economic benefit of the acquired assets as of the closing of the acquisition, we substantially completed the final legal transfer of assets on January 27, 2006. As a result of this acquisition, in January 2006, we refinanced a portion of the short-term debt utilized for the acquisition and issued both dollar- and euro-denominated long-term debt in the amount of $2 billion and 800 million (approximately $1 billion). Refer to Notes 5, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures and 6, Long-Term Debt, to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Item 8 of this Form 10-K.

In February 2006, we announced an agreement to acquire SBR, Inc., a privately held company, which owns the #3 vinyl-framed window brand in North America. No assurance can be given that the acquisition will close on the terms contemplated or at all. Refer to Note 24, Subsequent Events, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

2005 was a year of broad-based performance for Fortune Brands. Net income and diluted earnings per share both decreased 21% in 2005 to $621.1 million and $4.13, respectively. The decrease in profits was due primarily to currency hedge accounting expense related to the exchange rate on the day the Spirits and Wine acquisition closed ($0.72 per diluted share), substantial tax credits recorded in 2004 ($0.69 per diluted share) and the absence of income due to the spin-off of the Office products business. Profit benefited from strong operating performance in all business segments and the incremental impact of the Spirits and Wine acquisition. On a continuing operations basis, income and diluted earnings per share both decreased 19% in 2005 to $581.6 million and $3.87, respectively. Net sales increased 15% to $7.1 billion, as a result of strong underlying growth, successful new products and line extensions, expanding customer relationships, the benefit of the Spirits and Wine acquisition, favorable foreign exchange and price increases implemented in 2004 to help offset commodity cost increases.

Each of our business segments achieved excellent performance in 2005:

- > Our Home and Hardware business achieved double-digit growth in both operating income (9%) and sales (10%), resulting from successful line extensions and new product introductions, expanding customer relationships in cabinets and residential entry doors, partly offset by weak tool storage sales volume at Sears.
- > Our Spirits and Wine business achieved 20% growth in operating income and 40% growth in sales primarily on the impact of the Spirits and Wine acquisition, as well as due to worldwide volume growth in premium and super-premium spirits and favorable foreign exchange.
- > On the strength of successful new products in golf clubs, golf shoes and gloves; continued share gain in golf balls; and the absence of restructuring-related charges, our Golf brands achieved a 12% increase in operating income on 4% growth in sales.

In 2006, we believe that the Company is well positioned for another year of strong performance. We believe the Company will benefit from the following trends in our businesses:

- > aging population trends in the U.S. that favorably impact conditions in the home improvement, golf and spirits & wine industries;
- > additional favorable long-term demographics of the home improvement and housing industries, particularly in the kitchen and bath segment, including rising household formations and increasing household wealth;
- > record existing home sales in 2004 and 2005 and the effect of replace/remodel projects that often trail existing home sales by up to 12 to 18 months;
- > new products in existing and new markets;
- > expanding customer relationships, particularly in Home and Hardware;
- > the incremental benefit of the Spirits and Wine acquisition;
- > continued growth of premium spirits and wine markets worldwide; and

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

> continuous innovation and international growth opportunities in our golf business.

The Company has also identified the following risks and challenges that may impact our businesses:

> continued consolidation of the Company's trade customers, particularly in the Home & Hardware business; > potential impact of moderation in the growth rate in the housing market;

> possible continuing increases in commodity costs, particularly particleboard and fuel-related costs;

> challenges in the integration of the Spirits and Wine acquisition; and > impact of external conditions (economic conditions, weather, destination travel and corporate spending) on overall demand for golf products.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

2005 Compared to 2004

Fortune Brands achieved a 15% increase in net sales and a 14% increase in operating income. Net income was down 21% primarily due to currency hedge accounting expense related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition purchase price, substantial tax credits recorded in 2004 and the absence of income due to the spin-off of the Office products business. Net income benefited from strong broad-based operating performance in all three business segments. The sales increase was driven by:

> growth in the Home and Hardware, Spirits & Wine and Golf businesses,

Table of Contents

- > successful new products and line extensions and expanding customer relationships,
 - > the impact of the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses,
 - > price increases, primarily those implemented last year to help offset energy and raw material cost increases and
 - > favorable foreign exchange.
- Net income benefited from increased sales volume.

However, the benefit was more than offset by:

- > currency hedge accounting expense related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition purchase price,
 - > tax credits recorded in 2004 and
 - > the absence of income due to the spin-off of the Office products business.
- Our operating units will face challenges and opportunities unique to each of their industries, as discussed in this report.

Net Sales

Net sales from continuing operations increased $916.0 million, or 15%, to $7.1 billion. Sales benefited from:

- > newly introduced products and line extensions across all businesses ($564 million in total),
- > the net impact ($472 million in aggregate) of acquisitions (primarily the Spirits and Wine acquisition $444 million) and minor dispositions,
- > price increases (approximately $64 million, primarily in the Home & Hardware and Golf businesses) to help offset energy and raw material cost increases,
- > expanding customer relationships, particularly in the cabinet and entry door businesses and
- > favorable foreign exchange ($27 million).

The increase in net sales was partly offset by lower sales ($260 million) of certain products being discontinued and replaced by new products in the Golf business, as well as a decrease in sales of Home and Hardware tool storage products as a result of weak volumes at Sears.

Cost of products sold

Cost of products sold increased $500.8 million, or 15%, on the impact of the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses ($205.0 million), higher net sales, increased year-over-year costs for energy and raw material costs (in the range of $80 to 85 million), which were largely offset by price increases and an unfavorable inventory adjustment in the Home and Hardware tool storage business.

Excise taxes on spirits and wine

U.S. excise taxes on spirits and wine decreased as a percentage of sales by approximately 25 basis points due to higher international sales (including the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses that have a higher concentration of sales in international markets). In the U.S., excise taxes are levied based on the proof content of spirits and wine products. Consistent with industry practice, U.S. excise taxes collected from customers are reflected in sales and the corresponding payments to the government in cost of sales.

Advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses

Advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses increased $260.9 million, or 18%, primarily as a result of the Spirits and Wine acquisition ($128.1 million). In addition, increases were due to higher sales, increased advertising for new product introductions and higher brand investment expenses in Home & Hardware and Spirits & Wine, including for the new Starbucks Coffee Liqueur, as well as due to restructuring-related integration costs associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition ($18.4 million).

Amortization of intangibles

Amortization of intangibles decreased $2.0 million to $33.4 million primarily due a 2004 first quarter amortization adjustment related to the finalization of purchase accounting associated with the 2003 Therma-Tru acquisition ($2.6 million), partly offset by amortization of finite-lived intangible assets associated with the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses ($0.5 million).

Table of Contents

Restructuring charges

For the twelve months ended December 31, 2005, we did not record any restructuring charges. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2004, we recorded pre-tax restructuring charges of $9.8 million. The charges principally related to consolidation of manufacturing facilities and employee termination costs, mainly in the Home and Hardware business.

Interest expense

Interest expense increased $81.6 million, or 105.6% to $158.9 million primarily as a result of higher debt associated with the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses.

Other expense (income), net

Other expense (income), net increased $125.9 million to a net expense of $78.9 million primarily due to the unfavorable impact of currency hedge accounting expense related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition purchase price ($120.9 million).

Income taxes

Income taxes increased $63.4 million, or 24% to $324.5 million. The reported effective income tax rate for the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004 was 35.0% and 26.3%, respectively. The higher effective rate primarily related to a low tax benefit associated with acquisition-related currency hedge accounting expense this year, as well as lower tax credits this year compared to last year.

Net income

Net income was $621.1 million, or $4.26 per basic share and $4.13 per diluted share, for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to net income of $783.8 million, or $5.40 per basic share and $5.23 per diluted share, for the year ended December 31, 2004. Income from continuing operations was $581.6 million, or $3.99 per basic share and $3.87 per diluted share, for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to income from continuing operations of $716.0 million, or $4.93 per basic share and $4.78 diluted per share, for the year ended December 31, 2004. The decrease in income from continuing operations of $134.4 million, or 19%, was primarily due to currency hedge accounting expense related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition purchase price ($109.0 million or $0.72 per diluted share), lower tax credits ($7.7 million this year compared to $103.7 million last year, or a decrease of $0.64 per diluted share) and the absence of income due to the spin-off of the Office products business. Income from continuing operations benefited from higher sales volume. Income from discontinued operations, net of tax, decreased $28.3 million, or 42%, primarily as a result of the absence of income after the spin-off of the Office products business on August 16, 2005.

2004 Compared to 2003

Fortune Brands achieved strong results, as net sales from continuing operations increased 20%. Income from continuing operations increased 30% and net income grew 35%. Net sales grew as a result of:

- > strong growth for our consumer brands driven by share gains in key markets resulting from successful new products and expanded customer relationships,
- > the benefit of acquisitions,
- > solid market growth in Home & Hardware and Spirits & Wine markets, and
- > favorable foreign exchange.

Net income increased on:

- > strong operating performance,

- > the benefit of acquisitions,

- > favorable foreign exchange, and

- > higher tax-related benefits,
partly offset by increased commodity costs.

Our operating units will face challenges and opportunities unique to each of their industries, as discussed in this report.

Table of Contents

Net Sales

Net sales from continuing operations increased $1,032.6 million, or 20%, to $6.1 billion. Sales benefited from:

- > newly introduced products and line extensions in the Home & Hardware and Golf businesses ($494 million in total), partly offset by lower sales of certain products being discontinued in the Golf and the Home & Hardware businesses,
- > the net impact ($388 million) of acquisitions (primarily Therma-Tru) and dispositions,
- > expanded customer relationships driving increased volume, primarily in the cabinet and entry door businesses, and
- > favorable foreign exchange ($81 million).

Cost of products sold

Cost of products sold increased $655.6 million, or 24%, on higher net sales and increased costs for major commodities (approximately $65 million), particularly steel and particleboard, primarily in our Home & Hardware business.

Excise taxes on spirits and wine

U.S. excise taxes on spirits and wine decreased as a percentage of sales due to greater international sales, as well as a favorable mix shift from mid-tier brands to premium and super-premium spirits and wines. In the U.S., excise taxes are levied based on the proof content of spirits and wine products. Consistent with industry practice, U.S. excise taxes collected from customers are reflected in sales and the corresponding payments to the government in cost of products sold.

Advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses

Advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses increased $197.2 million, or 16%, as a result of higher sales and acquisitions, as well as increased advertising and marketing expenditures.

Amortization of intangibles

Amortization of intangibles increased $18.2 million, or 106%, primarily due to amortization of identifiable intangibles associated with the acquisition of Therma-Tru.

Restructuring charges

In 2004, we recorded pre-tax restructuring charges of $9.8 million, compared to $2.2 million in 2003. Charges in 2004 principally related to the consolidation of manufacturing facilities, primarily in the Home & Hardware business.

Other income, net

Other income, net, increased $8.8 million to $47.0 million, primarily due to a $12.0 million gain recorded in 2004 as the result of insurance proceeds related to a Kentucky bourbon warehouse fire in 2003, partly offset by the lower tax-related interest income.

Income taxes

Income taxes decreased $14.2 million, or 5%, on higher net income as we recorded higher tax-related benefits in 2004 ($101.6 million) compared with 2003 ($35.0 million). The reported effective income tax rates for the twelve months ended December 31, 2004 and 2003 were

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

26.3% and 32.7%, respectively. The items set forth below impacted the effective income tax rate.

During the third quarter of 2004, the Internal Revenue Service concluded its field examination phase of the routine review of our 1997-2001 tax returns. As a result of the audit, we recorded a net tax reserve reversal of $45.5 million in continuing operations. This net reversal accounts for the release of reserves for items resolved more favorably than anticipated, partly offset by the disallowance of a deduction for which no reserve had been established.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, the Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation completed its review of the results of the routine IRS examination of our 1997-2001 tax returns. In continuing operations, we recorded a total tax benefit of $51.5 million, or $0.35 per diluted share, reflecting the completion of the Joint Committee review. This resulted in a reversal of tax reserves of $39.5 million and a net tax adjustment of $12.0 million. As a result of the conclusion of the IRS examination of our 1997-2001 tax years, in 2005 we received a tax refund of approximately $59 million. During the fourth quarter of 2004, we also recorded a one-time non-operating adjustment for interest income on taxes receivable related to these tax-related benefits of $2.1 million (after tax), or $0.01 per diluted share, which was recorded in other income.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, we recorded a tax benefit of $4.6 million, or $0.03 per diluted share, associated with foreign earnings repatriation under provisions of the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004.

In 2003, the audit of our 1993-1996 tax returns resulted in a reduction in tax expense of $35 million, or $0.23 per diluted share. As a result, we also recorded a one-time non-operating adjustment of $6.9 million in interest income (after tax), which was recorded in other income.

Net income

Net income increased $204.6 million, or 35%, to $783.8 million due primarily to strong broad-based operating performance, higher tax-related benefits ($107.7 million in 2004 compared to $41.9 million in 2003), the benefit of favorable foreign exchange $18 million) and the impact of acquisitions. Income from continuing operations increased $163.9 million, or 30%, to $716.0 million due primarily to strong broad-based operating performance, higher tax-related benefits ($103.7 million in 2004 compared to $41.9 million in 2003), the benefit of favorable foreign exchange ($13 million) and the impact of acquisitions. Income from discontinued operations, net of tax, increased $40.7 million, or 150%, primarily on the benefit of the business ongoing repositioning program, including successful supply chain realignment and cost reduction initiatives, favorable foreign exchange and higher sales volume.

Diluted earnings per share were $5.23 in 2004, up 35% from 2003. Diluted earnings per share from continuing operations were $4.78 in 2004, up 30% from 2003. Diluted earnings per share from discontinued operations were $0.45 in 2004, up 150% from 2003.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS BY SEGMENT

Home and Hardware

2005 Compared to 2004

Net sales increased $389.7 million, or 10%, to $4,153.4 million. The increase was primarily due to underlying volume growth fueled by line extensions and new products ($346 million in total, mainly in faucets, cabinets and exterior doors), expanding customer relationships (particularly in the cabinet and residential entry door businesses), and raw material-related price increases on select products, as well as benefits from acquisitions made in 2005 and 2004 ($28 million increase in sales net of a disposition last year) and favorable foreign exchange ($13 million). The increase in net sales was partially offset by lower tool storage sales due to weak volumes at Sears.

Operating income increased $56.6 million, or 9%, to $655.1 million on the higher sales and the absence of restructuring-related charges this year ($14.5 million), partially offset by an unfavorable inventory adjustment in the tool storage business, higher energy-related costs and costs for capacity and global supply chain initiatives for cabinets.

In June 2004, Therma-Tru acquired Sentinel Doors Ltd., a leading U.K. manufacturer and installer of complete composite entry door systems, and Master Lock acquired the assets of Dudley Inc., a leading brand of school locker locks in Canada.

Although the U.S. housing market is forecasted to moderate over the near-term, we anticipate that our Home and Hardware business will continue to benefit from expanding customer relationships as well as long-term demographic trends supporting the home repair and remodeling and new home construction markets, particularly for kitchen and bath products and residential entry door systems. These trends include factors such as growth in the number of households, increases in household wealth and aging of the housing stock.

Our Home and Hardware business may be impacted by U.S. economic conditions, including the level of new construction and sales of existing homes and their potential impact on the U.S. housing and remodeling markets. Our business may also be affected by increases in the costs of certain commodities including higher fuel-related costs, although these higher costs have been, and we believe will continue to be, largely offset by select price increases. In addition, we continue to face pricing pressure associated with consolidation of the industry customer base. Such consolidation may also present opportunities for our business, due to our leading brands and customer service.

2004 Compared to 2003

Net sales increased $863.8 million, or 30%, to $3,763.7 million. The increase was attributable to the impact of acquisitions (Therma-Tru, Capital Cabinets, American Lock, Dudley and Sentinel, in aggregate $382 million excluding internal growth), line extensions and new products ($317 million), expanded customer relationships (particularly in cabinets and entry doors), a robust housing market, and price increases on select products, as well as favorable foreign exchange ($24 million).

Operating income increased $117.2 million, or 24%, to $598.5 million on the benefit of acquisitions, higher sales and productivity improvements, partially offset by higher commodity costs, particularly steel and particleboard, and restructuring and restructuring-related charges this year.

Spirits and Wine

2005 Compared to 2004

Net sales increased $472.7 million, or 40%, to $1,642.0 million principally due to the impact of the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses ($444 million). Sales also benefited from higher U.S. sales of premium and super-premium spirits, including the new Starbucks Coffee Liqueur, strong case volume growth in international markets and favorable foreign exchange ($5 million), partly offset by lower sales of non-premium brands in the U.S.

Operating income increased $67.3 million, or 20%, to $401.0 million on higher sales, partly offset by brand spending to support the launch of Starbucks Coffee Liqueur and restructuring-related integration costs ($18.4 million). Operating income was affected by accounting under Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 46(R) (FIN 46(R)), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. Since many of the assets we acquired were owned by entities that also owned assets acquired by Pernod Ricard (Pernod Ricard), in accordance with FIN 46(R), we fully consolidated entities for which we were the primary beneficiary even for the brands and assets which Pernod Ricard ultimately owned. We were the primary beneficiary if we had the obligation to absorb the majority of the expected losses and the right to receive the majority of the expected residual returns of an entity. In addition, if the fair value of the assets acquired by us was less than 50% of the fair value of the entity, we accounted for the investment using the cost method, meaning that sales and expenses related to the brands and assets to be acquired by Fortune Brands in those entities were not included in our statement of income on a fully consolidated basis. Therefore, the reported sales and operating income are not representative of future results of operations. Refer to Note 4, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures, to the Consolidated Financial Statements for a full description of the accounting treatment of this acquisition.

Factors that could adversely affect results include the possibility of federal excise and state tax increases, international trade policies, increased regulation, class actions and/or other litigation, and competitive pricing activities. In addition, the spirits and wine industry could be impacted by further consolidation of suppliers, distributors and retailers, which also may present opportunities for our business, due to our leading brands and customer service.

2004 Compared to 2003

Net sales increased $78.3 million, or 7%, to $1,169.3 million principally on favorable foreign exchange ($27 million), strong worldwide growth in Jim Beam bourbon, higher pricing for Jim Beam bourbon and mid-tier brands in the U.S. and the acquisition of Wild Horse Winery.

Operating income increased $30.9 million, or 10%, to $333.7 million on the higher sales and favorable foreign exchange, partly offset by increased investment in key brand-building initiatives.

Golf

2005 Compared to 2004

Net sales increased $53.6 million, or 4%, to $1,265.8 million. The increase was attributable to sales growth in all product categories, new product introductions in golf clubs, and a favorable mix shift toward the premium Titleist brand balls and clubs, as well as favorable foreign exchange ($9 million).

Operating income increased $17.7 million, or 12%, to $171.5 million on higher sales, a favorable mix shift toward higher margin Titleist branded golf balls and clubs, favorable foreign exchange and the absence of restructuring-related charges ($6 million).

Even though new competitors have entered the category in recent years, our Golf business has significantly grown sales, market share and profit with innovative new products. Despite favorable demographics of an aging population (rounds of play generally increase with age), rounds of play in the U.S. decreased from 2000 to 2003 as a result of a combination of decreased golf-related travel, economic conditions, lower corporate spending and weather conditions. U.S. rounds of play were flat in 2004 and 2005. The future success of our Golf business will depend upon continued strong innovation and marketing across its product categories, brands and selling regions. International market opportunities, especially in the Pacific Basin region, have provided and are expected to continue to provide growth for the Golf business.

2004 Compared to 2003

Net sales increased $90.5 million, or 8%, to $1,212.2 million. The increase was attributable to continued volume growth across categories (golf clubs, golf balls, golf footwear, gloves and accessories $66 million) driven by the introduction of successful new golf products and line extensions, as well as favorable foreign exchange ($31 million).

Operating income increased $14.7 million, or 11%, to $153.8 million on higher sales, favorable foreign exchange and increased sales of higher margin Titleist golf balls.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our primary liquidity needs are to fund dividends, acquisitions, share repurchases, capital expenditures, service indebtedness and support working capital requirements. Our principal sources of liquidity are cash flows from operating activities, commercial paper, borrowings under our credit agreements and long-term notes. Our operating income is generated by our subsidiaries. As a result, we are dependent on their earnings and cash flows, and distributions or advances from them to provide the funds necessary to meet our obligations. There are no significant restrictions on the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends or make other distributions to Fortune Brands. Our priority for cash flow over the near term, after internal growth and dividends, is the reduction of debt that increased as a result of the Spirits and Wine acquisition. For a description of the debt, see Capitalization below and Notes 6, Long-Term Debt, and 13 Financial Instruments to the Consolidated description of the Spirits and Wine acquisition, see Note 5, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Financial Statements. For a

Cash Flows

Net cash provided from operating activities was $802.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared with $791.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2004. The increase of $10.8 million was principally due to a 2005 income tax refund, the timing of sales and receivables collections, as well as the benefit of lower steel prices (in inventory) and inventory management programs. The benefit from receivables and inventory include the impact of the Spirits and Wine acquisition subsequent to acquisition. The improvement in cash flow provided from operations was partly offset by increased payments for customer programs (primarily volume-related) and employee performance incentives accrued in 2004 (non-acquisition-related). Cash flow from operating activities was unfavorably impacted by acquisition-related interest expense.

Working capital (current assets net of current liabilities) decreased $231.1 million to $374.8 million at December 31, 2005, primarily due to the absence of discontinued operations and an increase in the current portion of long-term debt, partly offset by assets and liabilities of the Acquired Businesses.

Net cash used by investing activities for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $4,664.2 million, compared with $245.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2004. The increase of $4.4 billion was primarily due to the Spirits and Wine acquisition ($5 billion), partly offset by the dividend received from ACCO World Corporation in conjunction with the spin-off of the Office products business ($613.3 million).

We focus our capital spending on growth initiatives and becoming the lowest cost producers of the highest quality products. Capital expenditures in 2005 of $221.9 million were $19.8 million lower than 2004, primarily due to completion of capacity expansion projects in 2004. We currently estimate 2006 capital expenditures will be in the range of $225 to $250 million. We expect to generate these funds internally.

Net cash provided by financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $3,783.7 million, as compared to net cash used of $515.6 million in 2004. The change of $4.3 billion was primarily attributable to proceeds from debt incurred to finance the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses, partly offset by the lack of share repurchases this year.

Capitalization

Total debt increased $3.9 billion to $5.8 billion during the year ended December 31, 2005. The ratio of total debt to total capital increased to 59.2% at December 31, 2005 from 35.4% at December 31, 2004 primarily as a result of the debt associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. See Note 5, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures, to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on the Spirits and Wine acquisition.

On April 20, 2005 Fortune Brands entered into a bridge credit agreement for up to $6.0 billion for an 18-month term from the initial drawdown. On July 26, 2005 we amended that existing $6.0 billion bridge credit agreement converting it to a $5.0 billion, 9-month revolving credit agreement with an option to extend the term for an additional 9 months for an incremental fee of up to 0.375% of the outstanding amount. The interest rate was set at the time of each borrowing. The facility fee of 0.10% per annum was subject to increases up to a maximum fee of 0.175% per annum in the event our long-term debt rating falls below specified levels. Borrowings under the agreement were made for general corporate purposes including support for our borrowings in the commercial paper market.

On October 6, 2005 we entered into two new revolving credit agreements with various banks. These agreements include a $2.0 billion, 5-year revolving credit agreement, which matures in 2010, and a $500 million, 364-day revolving credit agreement, which matures in 2006, and includes the option to extend payment for one year at our discretion for an incremental fee of 0.25% of the outstanding amount. These new facilities replaced our previously existing $1.0 billion revolving credit agreement of which there were no amounts outstanding. The interest rate is set at the time of each borrowing. Facility fees of 0.11% per annum on the 5-year agreement and 0.09% per annum on the 364-day agreement are subject to increases up to maximum fees of 0.20% and 0.175% per annum on the 5-year agreement and 364-day agreement, respectively, in the event our long-term debt rating falls below specified levels. Borrowings under the agreements are made for general corporate purposes including support our borrowings in the commercial paper market.

Subsequent to executing the two new revolving credit agreements, we reduced the bridge credit agreement to $3.0 billion, of which $149 million was outstanding at December 31, 2005. In connection with the issuance of the euro-denominated long-term debt discussed below, on February 7, 2006 we repaid all amounts outstanding under, and terminated, the bridge credit agreement.

In January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling $2.0 billion under our shelf registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The $2.0 billion of notes consist of $750 million of 5 1/8% notes due January 2011, $950 million of 5 3/8% notes due January 2016 and $300 million of 5 7/8% notes due January 2036. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. Net proceeds of $1,977.4 million were less price discounts of $9.3 million and underwriting fees of $13.3 million. The stated coupon rate for each debt issue approximates the effective interest rate, excluding hedging gains or losses. Refer to Note 13, Financial Instruments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements on treasury rate locks associated with the U.S.-denominated long-term debt.

In addition, in January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling 800 million (approximately $1 billion) in a transaction exempt from registration in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act of 1933. The notes consist of 300 million of 3/2% notes due January 2009 and 500 million of 4% notes due January 2013. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition and borrowings under our then outstanding $3.0 billion bridge credit agreement. Net proceeds of 794.5 million were less price discounts of 3.1 million and underwriting fees of 2.4 million. The stated coupon rate for each debt issue approximates the effective interest rate, excluding hedging gains or losses. Refer to Note 13, Financial Instruments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements on interest rate swaps associated with the euro-denominated long-term debt.

Spin-off of Office Products Business

As a part of the spin-off of the Office products business on August 16, 2005, ACCO World Corporation (the Office products business) paid a cash dividend of $625 million, of which Fortune Brands received $613.3 million and the minority shareholder received $11.7 million. The fact that Fortune Brands will no longer receive any of the cash flows from ACCO World Corporation as a result of the spin-off is not expected to have a material impact on the long-term liquidity of the Company.

Spirits and Wine Acquisition

On April 21, 2005, we announced that we would acquire certain spirits and wine brands as well as distribution assets from Pernod Ricard for approximately £2.7 billion ($5.2 billion). In July, 2005, we closed on the purchase. While the purchase price remained £2.7 billion, the dollar purchase value was reduced by approximately $335 million to $4.9 billion as a result of our hedging program and the benefit of lower foreign exchange rates. See Note 4, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures, to the consolidated Financial Statements for more information on the acquisition, including purchase price adjustments.

In the near term, we intend to utilize our cash flow to pay down the newly incurred debt used to finance this acquisition. Over the long term, we expect the operations of the newly acquired Spirits and Wine business to generate positive cash flow after interest payments on the debt incurred as a result of the acquisition.

Common Stock Repurchase Program

On February 22, 2005, our Board of Directors approved a share repurchase program. The program authorized our management to purchase up to 5,000,000 shares in open market transactions or privately negotiated transactions from March 1, 2005 to February 28, 2006. Our Board of Directors also granted authority to the Board's Executive Committee to authorize the purchase of up to an additional 5,000,000 shares on or prior to February 28, 2006 to the extent the Executive Committee determines it appropriate. We did not repurchase any shares under this program during 2005.

Pension Plans

On a periodic basis, we evaluate the assumptions used in determining our pension liabilities and assets as well as pension expense based on historical returns on plan assets and current economic conditions at the time the assumptions are set.

Our December 2004 review of the economic assumptions, and our cash flow spot rate yield curve analysis, led to a reduction in our weighted-average discount rate from 6.1% to 5.9%. The weighted-average expected rate of return remained unchanged at 8.3%. Management believes that these assumptions are appropriate. The 2004 revisions resulted in an increase to pension expense of approximately $4 million in 2005.

Our December 2005 review of the economic assumptions, and our cash flow spot rate yield curve analysis, led to a reduction in our weighted-average discount rate from 5.9% to 5.7%. The weighted-average expected rate of return remained unchanged at 8.3%. Management believes that these assumptions are appropriate. The 2005 revisions will result in an increase to pension expense of approximately $4 million in 2006.

Total pension plan cash contributions were $48.0 million and $100.7 million, respectively, in 2005 and 2004. The Company maintains pension plans at many of its operations. The pension plans in aggregate are funded in excess of the Current Liability, as defined in the Internal Revenue Code. In 2006 we expect to make cash contributions of approximately $40 to $70 million to fund existing pension liabilities for our defined-benefit plans. We believe that our internally generated funds will be adequate to make these pension plan cash contributions.

Adequacy of Liquidity Sources

We believe that our internally generated funds, together with access to global credit markets, are adequate to meet our long-term and short-term capital needs, including those resulting from our Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses. However, our cash flows from operations, borrowing availability and overall liquidity are subject to certain risks and uncertainties, including those set forth under Item 1. Business Cautionary Statement.

Foreign Exchange

We have investments in various foreign countries, principally Australia, Canada, Mexico, Spain and France. Therefore, changes in the value of the related currencies affect our balance sheet and cash flow statements when translated into U.S. dollars. In addition, in 2006 we issued euro-denominated long-term debt. We have designated the euro-denominated debt as net investment hedges of euro-functional currency operations. See Note 6, Long-Term Debt, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Interest Rates

We may, from time to time, enter into interest rate swap agreements to manage our exposure to interest rate changes. Swap agreements involve the exchange of fixed and variable interest rate payments without exchanging the notional principal amount. We record the payments or receipts under the agreements as adjustments to interest expense.

In 2003, we entered into swap agreements in connection with our outstanding 2.875% notes due in December 2006. We classified the agreements as a fair value hedge in accordance with FAS 133. The agreements effectively convert the interest paid on $200 million of underlying debt securities from a fixed rate to a floating rate based on a LIBOR reference rate.

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

We also may, from time to time, enter into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps to hedge the risk associated with fluctuation in interest rates related to anticipated issuance of new long-term debt. In the second quarter of 2005, we entered into treasury rate locks with an aggregate notional value of

$1.25 billion in order to hedge the risk to earnings associated with fluctuations in interest rates relating to the anticipated issuances of the dollar-denominated debt associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. In the fourth quarter of 2005, we entered into additional treasury rate locks with an aggregate notional value of $500 million. We terminated these treasury rate locks on January 5, 2006 when we issued the dollar-denominated long-term debt. In addition, in the fourth quarter of 2005, we entered into interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional value of 800 million. We classified these interest rate swaps as cash flow hedges since the swaps hedged against fluctuations in interest rates relating to the anticipated issuance of euro-denominated debt associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. We terminated these swap agreements on January 27, 2006 when we issued the new euro denominated long-term debt. For more information on the new dollar- and euro-denominated long-term debt issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition, see Notes 6, Long-Term Debt and 24, Subsequent Events, to the Consolidated Financial Statements. For more information regarding the treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps, including the accounting for, and the gains and losses with respect to, these locks and swaps, see Note 13, Financial Instruments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The fair market value of long-term fixed interest rate debt is subject to interest rate risk. Generally, the fair market value of fixed interest rate debt will increase as interest rates fall and decrease as interest rates rise. The estimated fair value of our $5,186.8 million and $1,239.9 million total long-term debt (including current portion) at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was approximately $5,249.3 million and $1,340.0 million, respectively. The fair value is determined from quoted market prices, where available, and from investment bankers using current interest rates considering credit ratings and the remaining terms to maturity.

Minority Interest in Consolidated Subsidiaries

Minority interest in consolidated subsidiaries increased $16.8 million to $374.8 million principally due to minority interests in subsidiaries associated with the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses.

Stockholders' Equity

Stockholders' equity at year-end 2005 increased $514.9 million compared to year-end 2004, principally due to net income, partially offset by dividends paid to stockholders.

Guarantees and Commitments

Third-party guarantees of the debt of Maxxium Worldwide B.V. (Maxxium), our Spirits and Wine business' international sales and distribution joint venture, totaled approximately $74 million. We are required to perform under these guarantees in the event that Maxxium fails to make contractual payments. On December 12, 2005, we renewed the guarantees of Maxxium's credit facilities. The renewal extended the expiration date of the committed portion of the credit facilities to December 15, 2010. In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 45 (FIN 45), Guarantors' Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, we recorded a liability of $0.7 million as of December 31, 2005 to reflect the fair value of the guarantees to Maxxium.

We also guaranteed various leases for ACCO World Corporation, the Office products business divested in a spin-off on August 16, 2005. We will continue to guarantee payment of certain real estate leases with lease payments totaling approximately $50 million through April 2013. Accordingly, we have recorded the fair value of these guarantees on our financial statements in accordance with FIN 45. As of December 31, 2005, we recorded a liability of $2.0 million. Refer to Note 3, Discontinued Operation, to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on the spin-off of the Office products business.

In addition, as a part of the formation of the Future Brands LLC (Future Brands) joint venture with V&S Vin & Sprit AB, Jim Beam Brands Co. (JBBCo.) has guaranteed any financial obligations of Future Brands that may arise in the event of a Future Brands default in which it fails to fulfill its operating obligations and which results in a claim. These financial obligations include, but are not limited to, making payments to suppliers, employees and other parties with which Future Brands conducts business. We cannot estimate the possible future obligations under the Future Brands agreement. At December 31, 2005, JBBCo. did not have any outstanding obligations as a result of this arrangement.

Table of ContentsContractual Obligations and Other Commercial Commitments

The following table and discussion represent our obligations and commitments to make future payments under contracts, such as debt and lease agreements, and under contingent commitments, such as debt guarantees, as of December 31, 2005.

(In millions)	Payments Due by Period as of December 31, 2005
	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years	4-5 years	After 5 years
Contractual Obligations
Short-term borrowings	$ 637.2	$637.2	$	$	$
Long-term debt	5,189.7	300.0	2,148.7	2,000.0	741.0
Capital lease obligations	0.4	0.2	0.2
Operating leases	179.1	45.6	60.4	35.9	37.2
Interest payments on long-term debt	793.9	68.7	113.8	95.1	516.3
Purchase obligations ⁽¹⁾	772.9	353.8	250.3	158.1	10.7

⁽¹⁾ Purchase obligations include contracts for raw material and finished goods purchases; advertising, selling and administrative services; and capital expenditures.

In addition to the contractual obligations listed above, we also had other commercial commitments for which we are contingently liable as of December 31, 2005. These include the guarantee of certain credit facilities and bank loans entered into by Maxxium up to an amount totaling $74 million, of which no amount expires in less than one year with the entire $74 million due in four to five years; a Shareholder Loan Facility executed by JBBW and Maxxium amounting to $18 million, of which no amounts were outstanding and which expires in four to five years; Standby Letters of Credit of $65.5 million of which $38.2 million were due in less than one year with the remaining $27.3 million due in one to three years; and Surety Bonds of $47.1 million of which $47.0 million were due in less than one year with the remaining $0.1 million due in one to three years. In addition, V&S holds an option that may require us to repurchase JBBW preferred stock, that V&S purchased for $344.5 million net of returns of capital, at fair value in whole or in part any time after May 31, 2004 or upon a change in control of JBBW, JBBCo., or certain other events. These contingent commitments are not expected to have a significant impact on our liquidity.

In addition to the obligations described above, JBBCo. in the event of the default of Future Brands, is required to satisfy certain of Future Brands financial obligations. These obligations include, but are not limited to, making payments to suppliers, employees and other parties with which Future Brands has contracts.

We do not have any other material off-balance sheet obligations.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards*Application of the Tax Deduction on Qualified Production Activities within the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004*

In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued FASB Staff Position No. 109-1 (FSP 109-1), Application of the Tax Deduction on Qualified Production Activities within the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (the Act). The Act provides for a tax deduction on qualified production activities. The tax benefit was phased in beginning in 2005. The impact on the Company was not material to our results or financial position.

Inventory Costs

In November 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 151 (FAS 151), Inventory Costs – an amendment of ARB No. 43, Chapter 4. FAS 151 clarifies the accounting for abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs and spoilage. In addition, FAS 151 requires companies to base the allocation of fixed production overhead to the costs of conversion on the normal capacity of production facilities. FAS 151 is effective for the Company in 2006. FAS 151 will not have a significant impact on our results and financial position.

Share-Based Payment

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

In December 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004) (FAS 123R), Share-Based Payment. FAS 123R replaces FAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. FAS 123R requires compensation expense, measured as the fair value of a share of our common stock at the date of grant, related to share-based payment transactions to be recognized in the financial statements over the period that an employee provides service in exchange for the award. We adopted FAS 123R, effective January 1, 2006, using the modified prospective transition method as defined in FAS 123R. Based on current estimates, the after-tax impact of expensing stock option on diluted earnings per share for the full year 2006 is expected to be approximately $0.18 per share including the effect of options granted in 2006.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our significant accounting policies are described in Note 1 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Preparation of the financial statements requires us to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. We believe the following are the Company's critical accounting policies due to the more significant, subjective and complex judgments and estimates used when preparing our consolidated financial statements. We regularly review our assumptions and estimates, which are based on historical experience.

Allowances for Doubtful Accounts

Trade receivables are recorded at the stated amount, less allowances for discounts, doubtful accounts and returns. Trade receivables do not include interest. The allowances represent estimated uncollectible receivables associated with potential customer defaults on contractual obligations, usually due to customers' potential insolvency or early payment of accounts receivables by our customers. The allowances include amounts for certain customers where a risk of default has been specifically identified. In addition, the allowances include a provision for customer defaults on a general formula basis when it is determined the risk of some default is probable and estimable, but cannot yet be associated with specific customers. The assessment of the likelihood of customer defaults is based on various factors, including the length of time the receivables are past due, historical experience and existing economic conditions. In accordance with this policy, our allowance for discounts, doubtful accounts and returns for continuing operations was $52.4 million and $42.5 million as of December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004, respectively.

Inventories

Inventories are priced at the lower of cost (principally first-in, first-out, with lesser amounts at average and last-in, first-out) or market. In accordance with generally recognized trade practice, bulk spirits and wine inventories are classified as current assets, although the majority of these inventories ordinarily will not be sold within one year due to the duration of aging processes. Inventory reserves are recorded for obsolete or slow moving inventory based on assumptions about future demand and marketability of products, the impact of new product introductions, inventory turns and specific identification of items, such as product discontinuance or engineering/material changes.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is provided, principally on a straight-line basis, over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Gains or losses resulting from dispositions are included in income. Betterments and renewals, which improve and extend the life of an asset, are capitalized; maintenance and repair costs are expensed. Estimated useful lives of the related assets are as follows:

Buildings and leasehold improvements	15 to 40 years
Machinery and equipment	3 to 10 years

Long-lived Assets

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 (FAS 144), Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets, a long-lived asset (including amortizable identifiable intangibles) or asset group is tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. When such events occur, the Company compares the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of a long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate at the time of future cash flow derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates that there is an impairment, the amount of the impairment is calculated using a quoted market price, or if unavailable, using discounted expected future cash flows. The discount rate applied to these cash flows is based on our weighted-average cost of capital, which represents the blended after-tax costs of debt and equity.

Goodwill and Indefinite-lived Intangibles

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 (FAS 142), Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, goodwill is tested for impairment on an annual basis and under certain circumstances, and written down when impaired. An interim impairment test is required if an event occurs or conditions change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of the reporting unit below the carrying value.

We evaluate the recoverability of goodwill by estimating the future discounted cash flows of the businesses to which the goodwill relates. We use a rate corresponding to our cost of capital, risk adjusted where appropriate, in determining discounted cash flows. Estimated cash flows are then determined by disaggregating our business segments to a reporting level for which meaningful identifiable cash flows can be determined. When estimated future discounted cash flows are less than the carrying value of the net assets (tangible and identifiable intangibles) and related goodwill, we perform an impairment test to measure and recognize the amount of the impairment loss, if any. Impairment losses, limited to the carrying value of goodwill, represent the excess of the carrying amount of a reporting unit's goodwill over the implied fair value of that goodwill. In determining the estimated future cash flows, we consider current and projected future levels of income as well as business trends, prospects and market and economic conditions.

FAS 142 requires that purchased intangible assets other than goodwill to be amortized over their useful lives unless these lives are determined to be indefinite. Certain of our tradenames have been assigned an indefinite life as we currently anticipate that these tradenames will contribute cash flows to the Company indefinitely. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized, but are evaluated at each reporting period to determine whether the indefinite useful life is appropriate.

We review indefinite-lived intangibles for impairment annually, and whenever market or business events indicate there may be a potential impact on that intangible. We consider the implications of both external (e.g., market growth, pricing, competition, technology) and internal factors (e.g., product costs, margins, support expenses, capital investment) and their potential impact on cash flows for each business in both the near and long term, as well as their impact on any identifiable intangible asset associated with the business in developing and executing our short-term and long-term plans. Based on recent business results, consideration of significant external and internal factors, and the resulting business projections, indefinite-lived intangible assets associated with that segment are reviewed to determine whether they are likely to remain indefinite-lived, or whether a finite life is more appropriate. In addition, based on events in the period and future expectations, management considers whether the potential for impairment exists as required by FAS 142.

Our predominant method of approximating fair value in determining whether an impairment exists is to use cash flow projections. We measure impairment based on discounted expected future cash flows attributable to the tradename compared to the carrying value of that tradename. When separate cash flow information is not available, we use the relief-from-royalty approach. Fair value is represented by the present value of hypothetical royalty income over the remaining useful life. Where information is not available to determine an appropriate royalty rate, we utilize a profit split methodology, which is a customary valuation practice, to establish a reasonable royalty rate. Profit split analyses allocate economic income (EBITDA less returns on working capital and fixed assets employed) between a tradename and residual assets of the economic unit to determine of the expected profit margin associated with commercialization of the tradename. Additionally, independent valuation experts are used for periodic review and testing of management's assumptions relative to all significant trade valuations and lives, and for independent research on market and competitive dynamics.

In conjunction with our ongoing review of the carrying value of our identifiable intangibles, in the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, there were no write-downs of intangible assets. In the year ended December 31, 2003, we recorded a non-cash write-down of identifiable intangibles of $12.0 million, $8.0 million after tax ($0.05 basic and diluted per share) in discontinued operations to recognize the diminished values of certain trade names in conjunction with our repositioning plans for the Office products business.

Warranty Reserves

We offer our customers various warranty terms based upon the type of product that is sold. We determine warranty expense in accordance with the policy established at each operating company. The main consideration is historic claim experience, which is company-specific based upon the nature of the product category. We generally record warranty expense in cost of products sold at the time of sale. Refer to Note 15, Product Warranties, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Warranty expense for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 were $33.7 million, $33.9 million and $28.7 million, respectively.

Employee Benefit Plans

We provide a range of benefits to our employees and retired employees, including pensions, postretirement, post-employment and health care benefits. We record annual amounts relating to these plans based on calculations specified by generally accepted accounting principles, which include various actuarial assumptions, including discount rates, assumed rates of return, compensation increases, turnover rates and health care cost trend rates. We review our actuarial assumptions on an annual basis and make modifications to the assumptions based on current rates and trends when it is deemed appropriate to do so. The expected return on plan assets is determined based on our historical experience, the nature of the plans' investments and our expectations for long-term rates of return. The discount rate used to measure obligations is based on a spot-rate yield curve that matches projected future benefit payments with the appropriate interest rate applicable to the timing of the projected future benefit payments. The bond portfolio used for the selection of the interest rates is from the top quartile of bonds rated by nationally recognized statistical rating organizations, and includes only non-callable bonds and those that are deemed to be sufficiently marketable. The discount rate as of December 31, 2005 and 2004 was 5.7% and 5.9%, respectively. The weighted average remaining service period for the pension plans at December 31, 2005 was 13.4 years. As required by United States generally accepted accounting principles, the effect of our modifications are generally accumulated and, if over a specified corridor, amortized over the average remaining service period of the employees. The cost or benefit of plan changes, such as increasing or decreasing benefits for prior employee service (prior service cost), is deferred and included in expense on a straight-line basis over the average remaining service period of the related employees. The total unrecognized net losses for all pension and postretirement benefit plans were $282 million at December 31, 2005, a reduction of $58 million from December 31, 2004, primarily as a result of the spin-off of ACCO World Corporation, partly offset by a decrease in the discount rate and lower than expected returns on plan assets. We believe that the assumptions utilized in recording our obligations under the Company's plans are reasonable based on our experience and advice from our independent actuaries; however, difference in actual experience or changes in the assumptions may materially affect the Company's financial position or results of operations. For postretirement benefits, our health care trend rate assumption is based on historical cost increases and expectations for long-term increases. As a result, our assumption as of December 31, 2005 and 2004 was an assumed rate of increase of 10% in the next year, declining 50 basis points a year until reaching an ultimate assumed rate of increase of 5% per year.

Pension expenses were $39.0 million, $37.4 million and $28.1 million, respectively, in the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003. Postretirement expenses were $14.0 million, $14.1 million and $11.5 million, respectively, for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003. In 2006, we expect pension expense of approximately $43 million and postretirement benefit expense of approximately $17 million. A 25 basis point change (0.25%) in our discount rate assumption would lead to an increase or decrease in our pension expense and postretirement benefit expense of approximately $3.7 million and $0.5 million, respectively, for 2006. A 25 basis point change in the long-term rate of return used in accounting for the Company's pension plans would have a $1.6 million impact on pension expense.

Income Taxes

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, we establish deferred tax liabilities or assets for temporary differences between financial and tax reporting bases and subsequently adjust them to reflect changes in tax rates expected to be in effect when the temporary differences reverse.

We do not provide for deferred taxes on undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries that we expect to permanently reinvest. The undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries were, in aggregate, $294.4 million at December 31, 2005.

Revenue Recognition

In accordance with Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104, Revenue Recognition, we recognize revenue as products are shipped to customers, net of applicable provisions for discounts, returns and allowances. Criteria for recognition of revenue are when title and risk of loss have passed to the customer, persuasive evidence that an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is reasonably assured. We also provide for our estimate of potential bad debt at the time of revenue recognition.

Amounts billed for shipping and handling are classified in net sales in the consolidated income statement. Costs incurred for shipping and handling are classified in advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses. Shipping and handling costs included in advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses were $219.4 million, $185.3 million and $150.8 million for 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Customer Program Costs

Customer programs and incentives are a common practice in many of our businesses. These businesses incur customer program costs to obtain favorable product placement, to promote sell-through of that business products and to maintain competitive pricing. Customer program costs and incentives, including rebates and promotion and volume allowances, are accounted for as reductions to gross sales. These costs are recorded at the time of sale based on management's best estimates. Estimates are based on historical and projected experience for each type of program or customer. Management periodically reviews accruals for these rebates and allowances, and adjusts accruals, when circumstances indicate (typically as a result of a change in volume expectations).

Stock-based Compensation

We apply Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations in accounting for our stock options. Accordingly, no compensation expense has been recognized for the stock option plans. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 148 (FAS 148), Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure, requires disclosure of pro forma net income and pro forma earnings per share amounts as if compensation expense was recognized. For the required disclosure, FAS 148 allows the use of a fair-value method to measure compensation expense. Accordingly, we have adopted the use of the Black-Scholes option-pricing model to determine our compensation expense for disclosure purposes. The model requires the use of the following assumptions: an expected dividend yield; expected volatility; risk-free interest rate; and expected term. The weighted-average fair value of options granted during the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 were $16.14 and $16.47 and $13.40, respectively, per option. Based upon the range provided for the assumptions utilized, any alternative fair-values per option would not have materially differed from the fair values listed above. For example, a change in the expected term from a weighted average of 3.9 to 4.4 years, would have had a $0.96, or 6%, impact on the weighted-average fair value of options granted during the year ended December 31, 2005. Had FAS 148 been applied, the pro forma diluted EPS impact would have been a decrease of $0.15, $0.17 and $0.12 per share, respectively, for 2005, 2004 and 2003.

Derivative Financial Instruments

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133 (FAS 133), Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities and its related amendment Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 138 (FAS 138), Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities, all derivatives are recognized as either assets or liabilities on the balance sheet and the measurement of those instruments is at fair value. If the derivative is designated as a fair value hedge and is effective, the changes in the fair value of the derivative and of the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recognized in earnings in the same period. If the derivative is designated as a cash flow hedge, the effective portions of changes in the fair value of the derivative are recorded in other comprehensive income (OCI) and are recognized in the income statement when the hedged item affects earnings. Ineffective portions of changes in the fair value of cash flow hedges are recognized in earnings.

Derivative gains or losses included in OCI are reclassified into earnings at the time the forecasted revenue or expense is recognized. During the year ended December 31, 2005, $7.2 million in deferred currency losses were reclassified to cost of sales. During the year ended December 31, 2004, deferred currency losses of less than $0.1 million were reclassified to cost of sales. We estimate that $4.0 million of currency derivative gains included in OCI as of December 31, 2005 will be reclassified to earnings within the next twelve months.

We paid the purchase price for the Spirits and Wine acquisition in British pounds sterling. In connection with the acquisition, in 2005, we entered into call options to buy British pounds sterling to hedge the currency exposure related to the purchase price. We terminated the call options in early July 2005. We also entered into forward contracts to buy British pounds to hedge the currency exposure related to the purchase price. We settled the forward contracts upon consummation of the acquisition in July 2005. In connection with the acquisition, we also entered into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps to hedge the risk associated with fluctuation in interest rates related to anticipated issuance of new long-term debt to finance the acquisition. We terminated these locks and swaps upon issuance on new long-term debt in January 2006. See Note 13, Financial Instruments, to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Foreign Currency Risk

Certain forecasted transactions, assets and liabilities are exposed to foreign currency risk. Principal currencies hedged include the Canadian dollar, Australian dollar, Euro and Pound sterling. We are also exposed to foreign currency risk as a result of our new euro-denominated debt. We have designated the euro-denominated debt as net investment hedges with respect to the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses which has euro-denominated operations. We continually monitor our foreign currency exposures in order to maximize the overall effectiveness of our foreign currency hedge positions.

Table of Contents*Interest Rate Risk*

We may, from time to time, enter into interest rate swap agreements to manage our exposure to interest rate changes. We also may, from time to time, enter into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps to hedge the risk associated with fluctuation in interest rates related to anticipated issuances of new long-term debt. See Note 13, Financial Instruments for more information about the management of our interest rate risk.

Cost Initiatives

We continuously evaluate the productivity of our supply chains and existing asset base, and actively seek to identify opportunities to improve our cost structure. Future opportunities may involve, among other things, the reorganization of operations, the relocation of manufacturing or assembly to locations generally having lower costs and the efficient sourcing of products or components from third party suppliers. Implementing any significant cost reduction and efficiency opportunities could result in charges.

Pending Litigation

See Note 22 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Environmental Matters

Along with other responsible parties, our subsidiaries face claims relating to the protection of the environment. As of February 10, 2006, various of our subsidiaries had been designated as potentially responsible parties under Superfund or similar state laws in 43 instances. We have reached settlements in 27 of these instances. We believe that the cost of complying with the present environmental protection laws, before considering estimated recoveries either from other responsible parties or insurance, will not have a material adverse effect upon our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, we had accruals of $41.5 million and $46.2 million, respectively, to cover these matters.

Related Party Transactions*Future Brands LLC*

The Spirits and Wine business is a partner with V&S Vin & Sprit AB (V&S) in a joint venture named Future Brands LLC (Future Brands), which distributes both companies' spirits brands in the United States and provides related selling and invoicing services. Future Brands receives a commission from the partners for services provided. The Spirits and Wine business records revenue at the time of shipment to Future Brands customers. As part of forming this joint venture, JBBCo. has, in the event of default of Future Brands, a continuing obligation to satisfy any financial obligations of Future Brands that may arise in the event that Future Brands fails to fulfill its operating obligations and that results in a claim. These financial obligations include, but are not limited to, making payments to suppliers, employees and other parties with which Future Brands has contracts. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, JBBCo. did not have any outstanding obligations as a result of this arrangement.

The Spirits and Wine business' balances related to Future Brands included the following:

Maxxium Worldwide B.V.

BGSW is a partner in an international sales and distribution joint venture named Maxxium Worldwide B.V. (Maxxium), which distributes and sells spirits and wine in key markets outside the United States. The joint venture partners include Rémy Cointreau, Highland Distillers and V&S. The Spirits and Wine business records sales at the time spirits are sold to third parties rather than at the time of shipment to Maxxium. As a result of forming this joint venture, the Company has guaranteed certain credit facilities and bank loans entered into by Maxxium up to an amount totaling $74 million, of which $50 million was outstanding as of December 31, 2005. At December 31, 2004, the guarantees totaled

$85 million, of which $76 million was outstanding. JBBW has executed a Shareholder Loan Facility (Loan Facility) with Maxxium. There were no amounts outstanding under the Loan Facility as of either December 31, 2005 or December 31, 2004. The Loan Facility was renewed in 2005 and expires December 12, 2010.

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.Market Risk

We are exposed to various market risks, including changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. Market risk is the potential loss arising from adverse changes in market rates and prices, such as foreign currency exchange and interest rates. We do not enter into derivatives or other financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. We enter into financial instruments to manage and reduce the impact of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. The counterparties are major financial institutions.

Interest Rate Risk

The disclosure about interest rate risk required to be provided under this item is set forth under Item 7 Management's Discussion and Analysis Liquidity and Capital Resources Interest Rates and is incorporated herein by reference.

A hypothetical 20 basis point change in interest rates affecting the Company's variable rate borrowings would not have a material effect on results of operations.

Foreign Exchange Risk

We enter into forward foreign exchange contracts principally to hedge currency fluctuations in transactions denominated in foreign currencies, thereby limiting our risk that would otherwise result from changes in exchange rates. The periods of the forward foreign exchange contracts correspond to the periods of the hedged transactions. We periodically enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge a portion of our net investments in foreign subsidiaries.

As indicated in the analysis that follows, the estimated potential loss under foreign exchange contracts from movement in foreign exchange rates would not have a material impact on current results of operations or financial condition. As part of our risk management procedure, we use a value-at-risk (VAR) computation to estimate the potential economic loss that we could incur from adverse changes in foreign exchange rates. The VAR estimations are intended to measure the maximum amount of our loss from adverse market movements in foreign exchange rates, given a specified confidence level, over a given period of time. The VAR model uses historical foreign exchange rates to estimate the volatility and correlation of these rates in future periods. It estimates a loss in fair market value using statistical modeling techniques. The estimated fair value loss shown in the table below does not have a material impact on current results of operations or financial condition. Also, the use of the VAR model should not be construed as an endorsement of the VAR model or the accuracy of the related assumptions.

The following table summarizes our estimated loss under the VAR model as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

(In millions)	Estimated Amount of Loss	Period	Confidence Level
2005 foreign exchange	$1.4	1 day	95%
2004 foreign exchange	$2.7	1 day	95%

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

The 95% confidence interval signifies our degree of confidence that actual losses under foreign exchange contracts would not exceed the estimated losses shown above. The amounts shown here disregard the possibility that foreign currency exchange rates could move in our favor. The VAR model assumes that all movements in the foreign exchange rates will be adverse. These amounts should not be considered projections of future losses, since actual results may differ significantly depending upon activity in the global financial markets.

The estimated fair value of foreign currency contracts represents the amount required to enter into offsetting contracts with similar remaining maturities based on quoted market prices. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the fair value of all outstanding contracts and the book value of the contracts were essentially the same.

Commodities

We are subject to price volatility caused by weather, supply conditions, geopolitical and economic variables, and other unpredictable external factors. We use derivative contracts to manage our exposure to commodity price volatility. The exposures under these contracts are not considered material to our financial statements.

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Fortune Brands, Inc., after elimination of intercompany transactions, majority-owned subsidiaries (excluding a subsidiary, Future Brands LLC, in which a third party has substantive participating rights) and a subsidiary, Acushnet Lionscore Limited, in which it holds a minority interest but has substantive control as a result of the Company having operational decision-making powers over the entity. In addition, we consolidate variable interest entities (VIEs) where we are deemed to be the primary beneficiary. Refer to Note 4 Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures, for a discussion of VIEs. The consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, which require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, sales and expenses for the reporting periods. Actual results for future periods could differ from those estimates.

Certain reclassifications have been made in the prior years' financial statements to conform to the current year presentation. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, the results of operations related to the 2005 spin-off of ACCO World Corporation were reclassified and separately stated in the accompanying consolidated statements of income for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003. The assets and liabilities of this discontinued operation were reclassified in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2004. The cash flows from discontinued operations for the years ending December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 were not separately classified on the accompanying consolidated statements of cash flows.

Cash and Cash Equivalents Highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less are included in cash and cash equivalents.

Allowances for Doubtful Accounts Trade receivables are recorded at the stated amount less allowances for discounts, doubtful accounts and returns. Trade receivables do not include interest. The allowances represent estimated uncollectible receivables associated with potential customer defaults on contractual obligations, usually due to customers' potential insolvency. The allowances include amounts for certain customers where a risk of default has been specifically identified. In addition, the allowances include a provision for customer defaults on a general formula basis when it is determined the risk of some default is probable and estimable, but cannot yet be associated with specific customers. The assessment of the likelihood of customer defaults is based on various factors, including the length of time the receivables are past due, historical experience and existing economic conditions.

Inventories Inventories are priced at the lower of cost (principally first-in, first-out with lesser amounts at average and last-in, first-out) or market. Last-in, first-out inventories at December 31, 2005 were $171.1 million (with a current cost of $181.2 million) of the total inventories of $1,663.9 million. In accordance with generally recognized trade practice, bulk spirits and wine inventories are classified as current assets, although the majority of these inventories, due to the duration of aging processes, ordinarily will not be sold within one year.

Property, Plant and Equipment Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is provided, principally on a straight-line basis, over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Gains or losses resulting from dispositions are included in income. Betterments and renewals, which improve and extend the life of an asset, are capitalized; maintenance and repair costs are expensed as incurred. Estimated useful lives of the related assets are as follows:

Buildings and leasehold improvements	15 to 40 years
Machinery and equipment	3 to 10 years

Long-lived Assets In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 (FAS 144), Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets, a long-lived asset (including amortizable identifiable intangibles) or asset group is tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of a long-lived asset or asset group. If this comparison indicates that there is an impairment, the amount of the impairment is typically calculated using discounted expected future cash flows. The discount rate applied to these cash flows is based on the Company's weighted-average cost of capital, risk adjusted where appropriate, which represents the blended after-tax costs of debt and equity.

Goodwill and Indefinite-lived Intangibles Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 (FAS 142), Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, requires goodwill to be tested for impairment on an annual basis and under certain circumstances, and written down when impaired, rather than amortized as previous standards required. An interim impairment test is required if an event occurs or conditions change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of the reporting unit below the carrying value.

We evaluate the recoverability of goodwill by estimating the future discounted cash flows of the businesses to which the goodwill relates. We use a rate corresponding to our cost of capital, risk adjusted where appropriate, in determining discounted cash flows. Estimated cash flows are then determined by disaggregating the business segments to a reporting level for which meaningful identifiable cash flows can be determined. When estimated future discounted cash flows are less than the carrying value of the net assets (tangible and identifiable intangibles) and related goodwill, we perform an impairment test to measure the amount of the impairment loss, if any. Impairment losses, limited to the carrying value of goodwill, represent the excess of the carrying amount of a reporting unit's goodwill over the implied fair value of that goodwill. In determining the estimated future cash flows, we consider current and projected future levels of income based on management's plans for that business, as well as business trends, prospects and market and economic conditions.

FAS 142 requires purchased intangible assets other than goodwill to be amortized over their useful lives unless these lives are determined to be indefinite. Certain of our tradenames have been assigned an indefinite life as it was deemed that these tradenames are currently anticipated to contribute cash flows to the Company indefinitely. Indefinite-lived intangible assets will not be amortized, but are required to be evaluated at each reporting period to determine whether the indefinite useful life is appropriate.

We review indefinite-lived intangibles for impairment annually, and whenever market or business events indicate there may be a potential impact on that intangible. We consider the implications of both external (e.g., market growth, pricing, competition, technology) and internal factors (e.g., product costs, margins, support expenses, capital investment) and their potential impact on cash flows for each business in both the near and long term, as well as their impact on any identifiable intangible asset associated with the business in developing and executing our short-term and long-term plans. Based on recent business results, consideration of significant external and internal factors, and the resulting business projections, indefinite-lived intangible assets associated with that segment are reviewed to determine whether they are likely to remain indefinite-lived, or whether a finite life is more appropriate. In addition, based on events in the period and future expectations, management considers whether the potential for impairment exists as required by FAS 142.

Our predominant method of approximating fair value in determining whether an impairment exists is to use cash flow projections. We measure impairment based on discounted expected future cash flows attributable to the tradename compared to the carrying value of that tradename. When separate cash flow information is not available, we use the relief-from-royalty approach. Fair value is represented by the present value of hypothetical royalty income over the remaining useful life. Where information is not available to determine an appropriate royalty rate, we utilize a profit split methodology, which is a customary valuation practice, to establish a reasonable royalty rate. Profit split analyses allocate economic income (EBITDA less returns on working capital and fixed assets employed) between a tradename and residual assets of the economic unit in determination of the expected profit margin associated with commercialization of the tradename. Additionally, independent valuation experts are used for periodic review and testing of management's assumptions relative to all significant trade valuations and lives, and for independent research on market and competitive dynamics.

In conjunction with our ongoing review of the carrying value of our identifiable intangibles, in 2003, the Company recorded a non-cash write-down of identifiable intangibles of $12.0 million, $8.0 after tax in discontinued operations in conjunction with the repositioning of the Office business. There were no write-downs in 2005 or 2004.

Warranty Reserves We offer customers various warranty terms based upon the type of product that is sold. We determine warranty expense in accordance with the policy established at each operating company. The main consideration is historic claim experience, which is company-specific based upon the nature of the product category. Warranty expense is generally recorded in cost of products sold at the time of sale. Refer to Note 15, Product Warranties.

Employee Benefit Plans We provide a range of benefits to employees and retired employees, including pensions, post-retirement, post-employment and health care benefits. We record annual amounts relating to these plans based on calculations specified by generally accepted accounting principles, which reflect various actuarial assumptions, including discount rates, expected long-term rates of return on plan assets, compensation increases, turnover rates and health care cost trend rates. The discount rate is based on high quality, fixed income bonds with maturities corresponding to the benefit obligations. The long-term expected rate of return on plan assets reflects the mix of the plan asset investments. Compensation increases reflect expected future compensation trends. The health care cost trend rates reflect expected changes in health care costs based on historical rates and estimates of future changes. We review our actuarial assumptions on an annual basis and makes modifications to the assumptions based on current rates and trends when it is deemed appropriate to do so. As required by U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, the effect of the modifications are generally recorded or amortized over future periods. We believe that the assumptions utilized in recording obligations under the plans, which are presented in Note 10, Pension and Other Retiree Benefits, are reasonable based on experience and on advice from independent actuaries. We will continue to monitor these assumptions as market conditions warrant.

Environmental The Company is subject to laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment. The Company provides for expenses associated with environmental remediation obligations when such amounts are probable and can be reasonably estimated. We adjust accruals as new information develops or circumstances change, and accruals are not discounted. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, environmental accruals amounted to $41.5 million and $46.2 million, respectively, and are included in non-current liabilities on the balance sheet.

Income Taxes In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, we establish deferred tax liabilities or assets for temporary differences between financial and tax reporting bases and subsequently adjust them to reflect changes in tax rates expected to be in effect when the temporary differences reverse.

We do not provide deferred income taxes on undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries that we expect to permanently reinvest. The undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries aggregated $294.4 million at December 31, 2005.

Revenue Recognition In accordance with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104, Revenue Recognition, the Company recognizes revenue as products are shipped to customers, net of applicable provisions for discounts, returns and allowances. We also provide for an estimate of potential bad debt at the time of revenue recognition.

Amounts billed for shipping and handling are classified in net sales in the consolidated income statement. Costs incurred for shipping and handling are classified in advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses. Shipping and handling costs included in advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses were $219.4 million, $185.3 and $150.8 million for 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Customer Program Costs The Company generally recognizes customer program costs in either net sales or the category advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses at the time the program is initiated and/or the revenue is recognized. The costs recognized in net sales include, but are not limited to, general customer program-generated expenses, cooperative advertising programs, volume allowances and promotional allowances. The costs typically recognized in advertising, selling, general and administrative expenses include point of sale materials and store service fees.

In addition, accrued customer programs principally include general customer program costs, cooperative advertising, volume allowances and shared media. Volume allowances are accrued based on management's estimates of customer volume achievement and other factors incorporated into customer agreements, such as new product purchases, store sell-through, merchandising support, level of returns and customer employee training.

Advertising Costs Advertising costs, which amounted to $471.1 million, $430.6 million and $395.7 million for 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively, are principally expensed as incurred. Advertising costs include media costs, point of sale materials, cooperative advertising and product endorsements.

Research and Development Research and development expenses, which amounted to $65.9 million, $60.6 million and $49.8 million in 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively, are expensed as incurred.

Stock-based Compensation We elected to apply Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees and related interpretations in accounting for our stock plans as allowed under Financial Accounting Standards No. 148 (FAS 148), Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure. As a result, no compensation expense has been recognized for the stock options plans. In accordance with FAS 148 we, for purposes of its pro forma disclosure, determined our compensation expense in accordance with the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. Had compensation cost for the fixed stock options been determined consistent with FAS 148, pro forma net income and earnings per common share for 2005, 2004 and 2003 would have been as follows:

(In millions, except per share amounts)	2005	2004	2003
Net income as reported	$ 621.1	$ 783.8	$ 579.2
Add: Stock-based employee compensation (performance awards) included in reported net income, net of tax	10.5	12.3	11.9
Deduct: Total stock-based employee compensation (performance awards and options) determined under the fair-value based method for all awards, net of tax	(35.3)	(39.1)	(30.1)
Pro forma net income	$ 596.3	$ 757.0	$ 561.0
Earnings per common share
Basic as reported	$ 4.26	$ 5.40	$ 3.97
Basic pro forma	$ 4.09	$ 5.21	$ 3.85
Diluted as reported	$ 4.13	$ 5.23	$ 3.86
Diluted pro forma	$ 3.98	$ 5.06	$ 3.74

These pro forma amounts may not be representative of future disclosures since the estimated fair value of stock options is amortized to expense over the vesting period, and additional options may be granted in future years.

We apply the nominal vesting period approach under APB 25, recognizing pro forma compensation cost over the three-year vesting period, including for awards held by individuals who are eligible for the retirement provisions under the applicable plan. When we adopt Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, on January 1, 2006, we will change the approach to recognize expense for retirement eligible employees over a twelve-month period (since retiree options vest in their entirety if held at least one year before retirement) or the period until retirement, if longer. The impact of the change on pro forma net income and diluted earnings per share for the year ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 would not have been material.

As a result of the spin-off of the Office products business (see Note 3, Discontinued Operation), the Company adjusted the number of shares granted for stock options and the option exercise prices to preserve the economic value of the options that existed at the time of the spin-off. The adjustment was based on the Fortune Brands stock price at the close of the stock market immediately before the spin-off and the opening stock price on the day after the spin-off. There was no impact on the statement of income as a result of the modification to the number of stock options and the exercise prices.

Foreign Currency Translation Foreign currency balance sheet accounts are translated into U.S. dollars at the rates of exchange at the balance sheet date. Income and expenses are translated at the average rates of exchange in effect during the year. The related translation adjustments are made directly to a separate component of the Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) caption in stockholders' equity. Some transactions are made in currencies different from an entity's functional currency. Gains and losses on these foreign currency transactions are classified on the statement of income depending on the nature of the item.

Derivative Financial Instruments In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Statement No. 133 (FAS 133), Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities and its related amendment Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Statement No. 138 (FAS 138), Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities. all derivatives are recognized as either assets or liabilities on the balance sheet and measurement of those instruments is at fair value. If the derivative is designated as a fair value hedge and is effective, the changes in the fair value of the derivative and of the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recognized in earnings in the same period. If the derivative is designated as a cash flow hedge, the effective portions of changes in the fair value of the derivative are recorded in other comprehensive income (OCI) and are recognized in the income statement when the hedged item affects earnings. Ineffective portions of changes in the fair value of cash flow hedges are recognized in earnings.

In connection with the 2005 Spirits and Wine purchase price which was paid in British pound sterling, we entered into call options to hedge the currency exposure related to the purchase price. We terminated the call options in early July 2005. We also entered into forward contracts to buy British pounds to hedge the currency exposure related to the purchase price. We settled the forward contracts upon consummation of the acquisition in July 2005. In connection with the acquisition, we also entered into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps to hedge the risk associated with fluctuation in interest rates related to anticipated issuance of new long-term debt to finance the acquisition. We terminated these locks and swaps upon issuance of new long-term debt in January 2006. For additional information, see Note 13, Financial Instruments.

Derivative gains or losses included in OCI are reclassified into earnings at the time the forecasted revenue or expense is recognized. During the year ended December 31, 2005, $7.2 million in deferred currency losses were reclassified to cost of products sold. During the year ended December 31, 2004, less than $0.1 million in deferred currency losses were reclassified to cost of products sold. We estimate that $4.0 million of currency derivative gains included in OCI as of December 31, 2005 will be reclassified to earnings within the next twelve months.

Foreign Currency Risk Certain forecasted transactions, assets and liabilities are exposed to foreign currency risk. We continually monitor our foreign currency exposures in order to maximize the overall effectiveness of our foreign currency hedge positions. Principal currencies hedged include the Canadian dollar, Australian dollar, Euro and Pound sterling.

Interest Rate Risk We may, from time to time, enter into interest rate swap agreements to manage our exposure to interest rate changes. We also may, from time to time, enter into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps to hedge the risk associated with fluctuation in interest rates related to anticipated issuances of new long-term debt. See Note 13, Financial Instruments, for more information about the management of our interest rate risk.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards*Application of the Tax Deduction on Qualified Production Activities within the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004*

In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued FASB Staff Position No. 109-1 (FSP 109-1), Application of the Tax Deduction on Qualified Production Activities within the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (the Act). The Act provides for a tax deduction on qualified production activities. The tax benefit was phased in beginning in 2005. The impact on the Company was not material to our results or financial position.

Inventory Costs

In November 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 151 (FAS 151), Inventory Costs – an amendment of ARB No. 43, Chapter 4. FAS 151 clarifies the accounting for abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs and spoilage. In addition, FAS 151 requires companies to base the allocation of fixed production overhead to the costs of conversion on the normal capacity of production facilities. FAS 151 is effective for the Company in 2006. FAS 151 will not have a significant effect on our results and financial position.

Share-Based Payment

In December 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004) (FAS 123R), Share-Based Payment. FAS 123R replaces FAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. FAS 123R requires compensation expense, measured as the fair value of a share of our common stock at the date of grant, related to share-based payment transactions to be recognized in the financial statements over the period that an employee provides service in exchange for the award. We adopted FAS 123R, effective January 1, 2006, using the modified prospective transition method as defined in FAS 123R. Based on current estimates and using the Black-Scholes value at the date of each grant, the after-tax impact of expensing stock options on diluted earnings per share for the full year 2006 is expected to be approximately $0.18 per share, including the effect of options granted in 2006.

2. Goodwill and Other Identifiable Intangibles

We had net goodwill of $3,633.5 million as of December 31, 2005. The increase in goodwill during the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 of $1,628.4 million from $2,005.1 million as of December 31, 2004 was principally attributable to the Spirits and Wine acquisition. Refer to Note 4, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures.

The change in the net carrying amount of goodwill by segment is as follows:

(In millions)	Balance at December 31, 2004	Acquisitions	Translation Adjustments	Balance at December 31, 2005
Home and Hardware	$1,726.3	$4.9	$1.5	$1,732.7
Spirits and Wine	265.6	1,623.4		1,889.0
Golf	13.2		(1.4)	11.8
Total goodwill, net	$2,005.1	$1,628.3	$0.1	$3,633.5

We also had indefinite-lived intangible assets, principally tradenames, of $2,690.9 million as of December 31, 2005 compared to $701.8 million as of December 31, 2004. The increase of $1,989.1 million was primarily due to the Spirits and Wine acquisition.

Amortizable identifiable intangible assets, principally tradenames, are subject to amortization over their estimated useful life, either 15 or 30 years, based on the assessment of a number of factors that may impact useful life. These factors include historical and tradename performance with respect to consumer name recognition, geographic market presence, market share, plans for ongoing tradename support and promotion, financial results and other relevant factors. The gross carrying value and accumulated amortization of amortizable intangible assets were $738.3 million and $182.2 million, respectively, as of December 31, 2005, compared to $677.2 million and $146.9 million, respectively, as of December 31, 2004. The gross carrying value increase was principally due to the Spirits and Wine acquisition.

⁽¹⁾ Accumulated amortization prior to the adoption of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Intangible amortization was $33.4 million, $35.4 million and $17.2 million for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The Company expects to record intangible amortization of approximately $38 million for each of the next five fiscal years ending December 31, 2006 through December 31, 2010.

We performed our annual impairment test as of December 31 of each fiscal year. For 2005 and 2004, no impairment of goodwill or indefinite-lived intangible assets was recognized as a result of the annual impairment tests.

3. Discontinued Operation

On August 16, 2005, the Company completed the spin-off of the Office products business, ACCO World Corporation (ACCO), to the Company's shareholders. In addition to retaining their shareholdings in Fortune Brands, each Fortune Brands shareholder received one share of ACCO Brands Corporation for each 4.255 shares of Fortune Brands stock held. Fortune Brands did not record a gain or loss on the transaction as a result of the spin-off. As a part of the spin-off, ACCO paid a cash dividend of $625 million, of which Fortune Brands received $613.3 million and the minority shareholder received $11.7 million.

The statements of income and consolidated balance sheets for all prior periods have been adjusted to reflect the presentation of the spin-off of ACCO as a discontinued operation. The results of discontinued operations include expenses that were paid by Fortune Brands on behalf of ACCO based on actual direct costs incurred, as well as interest expense associated with the outstanding debt of Fortune Brands that was allocated to ACCO. The allocation of debt was based on the average net assets of ACCO as a percent of the average net assets plus average consolidated debt not attributable to other operations of Fortune Brands.

3. Discontinued Operation (Continued)

The following table summarizes the results of the discontinued operations for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003.

(In millions)	For the Year ended December 31,
	2005	2004	2003
Net sales	$ 763.8	$ 1,175.7	$ 1,101.9
Income from discontinued operations before income taxes	$ 65.8	$ 89.7	$ 41.0
Income taxes	26.3	21.9	13.9
Income from discontinued operations, net of income taxes	$ 39.5	$ 67.8	$ 27.1

The lower effective tax rate for the year ending December 31, 2004 resulted primarily from a 2004 tax benefit recognized due to the reversal of a deferred tax valuation allowance of approximately $7 million. The deferred tax valuation allowance relates to the Office products business non-U.S. operations in connection with a change in expectations about the utilization of certain net operating loss carryforwards.

The following table summarizes the major classes of assets and liabilities of ACCO World Corporation, which are now reflected as a discontinued operation on the consolidated balance sheet at December 31, 2004:

4. Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures

In July 2005, the Company purchased more than 25 spirits and wine brands as well as certain distribution assets (the Acquired Businesses) from Pernod Ricard S.A. (Pernod Ricard). Brands acquired include Sauza tequila, Maker's Mark bourbon, Courvoisier cognac, Canadian Club whisky,

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

Laphroaig single-malt Scotch, Clos du Bois super-premium wines, leading regional and national brands and distribution networks in the U.K., Germany and Spain. We expect the complementary brands we acquired to significantly enhance our high-margin Spirits and Wine business and strengthen our distribution in key international markets.

In July 2005, an affiliate of the Company received tracker shares issued by Goal Acquisitions Limited (Goal), the Pernod Ricard subsidiary formed to acquire Allied Domecq PLC (Allied Domecq). The tracker shares gave the Company certain economic rights with respect to the Acquired Businesses prior to the actual legal transfer to the Company. Until legal transfer of all of the Acquired Businesses was completed, the Company held tracker shares. The Company also had certain rights to manage operations of the Acquired Businesses that had not been legally transferred to the Company. As of January 27, 2006, substantially all of the Acquired Businesses had legally transferred to Fortune Brands.

4. Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures (Continued)

The acquisition was structured this way as a result of our negotiations with Pernod Ricard, after considering various factors, including:

- > Our commercial desire to obtain the economic benefits associated with owning and operating the Acquired Businesses as soon as possible after funding the purchase price for those assets;
- > Many former Allied Domecq subsidiaries owned assets that the Company and Pernod Ricard would separately retain, including integrated manufacturing, distribution, marketing, licensing and other operations involving multiple brands. The separation and transfer of these commingled or shared assets from Pernod Ricard to the Company involved significant reorganization of business operations and contractual arrangements for many of the companies involved. In light of this, the Company and Pernod Ricard agreed to a six-month period (ending on January 26, 2006) during which the assets and liabilities of Allied Domecq would be evaluated and specific assets then identified and legally separated between the Company and Pernod Ricard and transferred accordingly; and
- > The actual legal transfer of all the Acquired Businesses required that we evaluate alternative ways to separate the Acquired Businesses from those to be retained by Pernod Ricard, obtain required consents, structure, negotiate, document and complete the transfer of the Acquired Businesses, all within the parameters established by our agreement with Pernod Ricard.

At the time the net assets of any particular Acquired Business were actually transferred to the Company, the number of Goal tracker shares held by the Company was reduced in proportion to the value ascribed to the net assets transferred, using a methodology prescribed by the Company's agreement with Pernod Ricard. Our agreement with Pernod Ricard provided that the net assets of the Acquired Businesses would be legally transferred to one or more subsidiaries of Fortune Brands over a six month period that began on July 26, 2005. As of December 31, 2005, the net assets of the following Acquired Businesses had been transferred: Courvoisier, Maker's Mark and certain California wine assets. As of January 27, 2006, substantially all of the net assets of the Acquired Businesses had been legally transferred to Fortune Brands.

The initial cost of the Spirits and Wine acquisition, approximately £2.7 billion ($4.9 billion), was subject to change based on purchase price adjustments in accordance with the purchase agreement. The final purchase price is based on specified multiples of historic profit (for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2004) of the brands purchased, as well as working capital levels as of July 26, 2005 and other adjustments. The Company's agreement with Pernod Ricard provides for an assessment by Pernod Ricard of historic profitability of the brands the Company purchased, with a subsequent review by the Company of the historic profits, and a binding determination by a third party if the Company and Pernod Ricard cannot agree. We reached an agreement with Pernod Ricard on January 27, 2006 which confirmed that the global consideration for the Acquired Businesses will be adjusted by an additional payment of £199.4 million (approximately $352 million) to Pernod Ricard, partially offset by payment from Pernod Ricard to the Company of £82.2 million (approximately $145 million) for estimated working capital. Further adjustments may be made. Refer to Note 24, "Subsequent Events" for additional information.

In a related but separate transaction, the Company acquired the Larios brands (primarily gin) and related assets from an affiliate of a Pernod Ricard subsidiary on September 8, 2005. The cost of the Larios acquisition was an additional $135.6 million.

Until assets were legally transferred, reporting was in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 46(R) (FIN 46R), "Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities." Since many of the Allied Domecq assets to be acquired by Fortune Brands were commingled in entities that owned assets also acquired by Pernod Ricard, in accordance with FIN 46R, our interest in the Goal subsidiaries was deemed to be a variable interest in those entities only if the fair value of the specified assets is more than half of the total fair value of the entity's assets. Those variable interest entities for which we were the primary beneficiary, bearing the obligation to absorb the majority of the expected losses and the right to receive the majority of the expected residual returns, were consolidated and accounted for in accordance with FIN 46R and Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141 (FAS 141), "Business Combinations." We recognized minority interest for any Pernod Ricard assets at fair value. Once the Pernod Ricard assets were legally transferred, we ceased recognizing the minority interest.

If the fair value of the assets acquired by Fortune Brands was less than 50% of the fair value of the entity and we were not the primary beneficiary, we accounted for the investment using the cost method. In addition, since the tracker shares gave the Company ownership rights for the income/losses generated by the Fortune Brands assets from the date of acquisition through the legal transfer of assets, we recorded income in the amount of $57.3 million for these unconsolidated subsidiaries for the period July 26, 2005 through December 31, 2005. Once the Fortune Brands assets were legally transferred, the cost investments were replaced by the actual Fortune assets acquired on a fair value basis as of the date of acquisition in accordance with FAS 141. As of December 31, 2005, the Fortune Brands assets accounted for under the cost method were $1.1 billion and were included in Investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries on the condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2005. These investments included assets for which the Company paid approximately $1.0 billion out of the total purchase price of approximately $5.0 billion. For those VIEs in which we had an investment but we were not considered to be the primary beneficiary, the maximum exposure to loss as of December 31, 2005 was $1.1 billion. Net assets pertaining to this investment were legally transferred between January 1, 2006 and January 27, 2006. We are not aware of any losses that occurred during this transfer period.

We initially financed the Spirits and Wine acquisition with borrowings under bank credit agreements and subsequently financed it in the commercial paper market. On April 20, 2005 we executed a bridge credit agreement for up to $6.0 billion for an 18-month term from the initial drawdown. In January 2006, we issued dollar- and euro-denominated long-term debt securities of $2 billion and 800 million (approximately $1 billion) and repaid and cancelled the bridge credit agreement. See Notes, 6, Long-Term Debt and 24, Subsequent Events for additional information on the financing of the Spirits and Wine acquisition.

We expect to finalize the purchase price allocation in 2006. As of December 31, 2005, we recorded $1,623.4 million of goodwill, which is not tax deductible, for the acquired Fortune Brands assets that have been consolidated. Identifiable intangible assets as of the dates of acquisitions for the acquired Fortune Brands that have been consolidated are as follows:

(In millions)	Weighted Average Amortization Period	Fair Value
Finite-lived tradenames	29.8 years	$ 47.4

In accordance with FAS 141 disclosure requirements, the unaudited pro forma results below for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 are presented as if the Spirits and Wine acquisition and legal transfer of assets occurred on January 1, 2004. This information is based on historical results of operations and is adjusted for the impact of acquisition costs.

Pro forma results include pre-acquisition one-time and unusual charges, such as adjustments to compensation expense for changes in the fair value of Allied Domecq stock, as well as allocations of selling and marketing and general and administrative expenses that are not representative of expenses on an ongoing basis. In addition, as a result of FIN 46R accounting for the Acquired Businesses from July 26, 2005 through December 31, 2005, the results of operations are not representative of results had the Acquired Businesses been legally transferred to Fortune Brands as of December 31, 2005. Also, the 2005 results for Fortune Brands exclude income for the Office products business subsequent to the August 16, 2005 spin-off and include acquisition-related charges such hedge accounting expense and integration costs.

Given the significant factors and adjustments impacting the pro forma disclosure, the results presented below should not be deemed to be representative of either historical results or future results had the Acquired Businesses been actually transferred to Fortune Brands as of January 1, 2004.

The transfer to Fortune Brands of certain of the acquired spirits and wine assets was accomplished through various stock sales, mergers, or asset sales, which could result in the assumption by or transfer to Fortune Brands of liability for certain litigation and other contingent liabilities and contingent indemnity rights. Such assumption or transfer might ultimately require establishment of additional reserves. While diligence to date on these assets has not identified any such liabilities, no assurance can be given as to the final results of our diligence.

In June 2004, the Home and Hardware business acquired Sentinel Doors Ltd., a leading U.K. manufacturer and installer of complete composite entry door systems. This acquisition gives Therma-Tru Corp. (Therma-Tru) a stronger growth platform in the U.K. In June 2004, Home and Hardware acquired the assets of Dudley Inc., a leading brand of school locker locks in Canada. The aggregate purchase price of these acquisitions was $30.9 million. These acquisitions have not had a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In December 2003, the Spirits and Wine business obtained a 20-year extension of the rights to manufacture and distribute Gilbey's gin and vodka in the U.S., extending the license agreement to 2027. In July 2003, the Spirits and Wine business acquired Wild Horse Winery, a California-based producer of super-premium and ultra-premium wines. In June 2003, the Home and Hardware business acquired Capital Cabinet Corporation, a U.S.-based manufacturer of kitchen and bath cabinets. In April 2003, the Home and Hardware business acquired American Lock Company, a U.S.-based manufacturer of solid body commercial padlocks. The aggregate cost of these acquisitions was $123.7 million. The cost exceeded the estimated fair value of net assets acquired by approximately $90 million. The Acquired Businesses have been included in consolidated results from the date of acquisition. Had the acquisitions been consolidated as of January 1, 2003, they would not have materially affected results.

In November 2003, the Home and Hardware business acquired Therma-Tru, a leading manufacturer of residential entry door systems in the United States. This acquisition fits our strategic focus on leading brands, shares beneficial demographics and market fundamentals with our other Home and Hardware brands, and creates valuable synergies within our Home and Hardware business. The purchase was financed through the issuance of commercial paper and subsequently partially refinanced through the issuance of long-term debt securities under our outstanding shelf registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Results of operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements as of the acquisition date. The acquisition price was $924.0 million, net of cash.

The unaudited pro forma results below for December 31, 2003 are presented as if the Therma-Tru acquisition occurred on January 1, 2003. This information is based on historical results of operations,

In April 2003, the Spirits and Wine business returned a portion of invested capital ($304.1 million) to the Company and V&S Vin & Sprit AB, the shareholders of the Spirits and Wine business. This return of capital related to the disposition of Jim Beam Brands Worldwide, Inc.'s U.K.-based Scotch whisky business in 2001. The impact on our financial statements was a reduction in minority interests of $30.4 million.

On May 31, 2001, the Spirits and Wine business completed transactions with V&S creating a joint venture named Future Brands LLC to distribute over an initial ten-year period both companies' spirits brands in the United States. The Spirits and Wine business has accounted for this joint venture using the equity method of accounting. Future Brands is not consolidated into our Spirits and Wine business as V&S has substantive participating rights that preclude consolidation. V&S paid $270 million to gain access to our Spirits and Wine business U.S. distribution network and to acquire a 49% interest in Future Brands, and paid $375 million to purchase a 10% equity interest in JBBW in the form of convertible preferred stock. The shares of JBBW convertible preferred stock issued to V&S are convertible into 10% of the JBBW common stock and have voting power equivalent to a 10% interest in JBBW common stock. The preferred stock is entitled to a dividend equal to the greater of 10% of the dividend paid upon JBBW common stock or 3% of the preferred stock's face value ($375 million) plus unpaid accrued dividends; no dividends may be paid on common stock unless all unpaid accrued JBBW preferred stock dividends have been paid. V&S may require the Company to purchase the JBBW preferred stock at fair value in whole or in part at any time after May 31, 2004, or upon a change in control of JBBW, JBBCo. or certain other events. We have accounted for the $270 million gain on the sale of 49% of Future Brands as deferred income and the resulting tax on sale as a deferred income tax asset due to certain continuing obligations of JBBCo., including, but not limited to, making payments to suppliers, employees and other parties with which Future Brands has contracts in the event of a default of Future Brands. In June 2001, we began amortizing these amounts to other income and income taxes on a straight-line basis over the initial term of the agreement. The 10-year amortization period is based on the non-cancelable 10-year term of the management agreement for Future Brands. For the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, the Spirits and Wine business recorded minority interest for the 10% ownership that V&S maintains in the business of $11.3 million each year. The redemption feature of the JBBW convertible preferred stock is accounted for in accordance with EITF Topic D-98, Classification and Measurement of Redeemable Securities. In 2003, a cumulative adjustment of $487,000 was recorded as minority interest income in the consolidated statement of income, representing the decrease in the estimated fair value of the convertible redeemable preferred stock. In 2005 and 2004, the recorded value of the convertible redeemable preferred stock was deemed to be a reasonable approximation of the fair value.

5. Short-Term Borrowings and Credit Facilities

At December 31, 2005 and 2004, there were $637.2 million and $669.8 million of short-term borrowings outstanding, respectively, comprised of notes payable to banks and commercial paper that are used for general corporate purposes, including acquisitions. Included in this amount as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, there were $0.9 million and $0.1 million outstanding under committed bank credit agreements, which provide for unsecured borrowings of up to $0.9 million and $10.0 million, respectively. In addition, the Company had uncommitted bank lines of credit, which provide for unsecured borrowings for working capital, of up to $124.7 million of which $19.6 million was outstanding at December 31, 2005 and $240.5 million of which $23.0 million was outstanding as of December 31, 2004. The weighted-average interest rate on these borrowings was 3.9% and 1.0%, respectively, including the short-term debt of $3.8 billion classified as long-term debt.

Total long-term debt	$ 4,889.9	$ 1,239.5

^(a) Based on the long-term credit facilities which support our commercial paper borrowings, we have classified $3.8 billion of these borrowings as long-term on the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2005. This amount represents the commercial paper and anticipated new long-term debt balance that the Company believes will remain outstanding for the next twelve months.

^(b) Includes an adjustment for interest rate swap valuation.

On April 20, 2005 Fortune Brands entered into a bridge credit agreement for up to $6.0 billion for an 18-month term from the initial drawdown. On July 26, 2005 we amended that existing $6.0 billion bridge credit agreement converting it to a $5.0 billion, 9-month revolving credit agreement with an option to extend the term for an additional 9 months for an incremental fee of up to 0.375% of the outstanding amount. The interest rate was set at the time of each borrowing. The facility fee of 0.10% per annum was subject to increases up to a maximum fee of 0.175% per annum in the event the Company's long-term debt rating falls below specified levels. Borrowings under the agreement were made for general corporate purposes including support for the Company's borrowings in the commercial paper market.

On October 6, 2005 we entered into two new revolving credit agreements with various banks. These agreements include a $2.0 billion, 5-year revolving credit agreement, which matures in 2010, and a $500 million, 364-day revolving credit agreement, which matures in 2006, and includes the option to extend payment for one year at the Company's discretion for an incremental fee of 0.25% of the outstanding amount. These new facilities replaced the Company's previously existing $1.0 billion revolving credit agreement of which there were no amounts outstanding. The interest rate is set at the time of each borrowing. Facility fees of 0.11% per annum on the 5-year agreement and 0.09% per annum on the 364-day agreement are subject to increases up to maximum fees of 0.20% and 0.175% per annum on the 5-year agreement and 364-day agreement, respectively, in the event our long-term debt rating falls below specified levels. Borrowings under the agreements are made for general corporate purposes including support for the Company's commercial paper borrowings in the commercial paper market.

Subsequent to executing the two new revolving credit agreements, we reduced the bridge credit agreement to $3.0 billion, of which $149 million was outstanding at December 31, 2005. In connection with the issuance of the euro-denominated long-term debt discussed below, on February 7, 2006, we repaid all amounts outstanding under, and terminated, the bridge credit agreement.

In January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling $2.0 billion under our shelf registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The $2.0 billion of notes consist of $750 million of 5 ¹/₈% notes due January 2011, $950 million of 5 ³/₈% notes due January 2016 and $300 million of 5⁷/₈% notes due January 2036. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. Net proceeds of $1,977.4 million were less price discounts of $9.3 million and underwriting fees of $13.3 million. The stated coupon rate for each debt issue approximates the effective interest rate, excluding hedging gains or losses. Refer to Note 13, Financial Instruments, on treasury rate locks associated with the U.S.-denominated long-term debt.

6. Long-Term Debt (Continued)

In addition, in January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling $800 million (approximately $1 billion) in a transaction exempt from registration in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act of 1933. The notes consist of $300 million of 3½% notes due January 2009 and $500 million of 4% notes due January 2013. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition and borrowings under the bridge credit agreement. Net proceeds of $794.5 million were less price discounts of $3.1 million and underwriting fees of $2.4 million. The stated coupon rate for each debt issue approximates the effective interest rate, excluding hedging gains or losses. Refer to Note 13, Financial Instruments, on interest rate swaps associated with the euro-denominated long-term debt.

Estimated payments for maturing debt during the next five years as of December 31, 2005 are as follows: 2006, $300.2 million; 2007, $1,948.8 million; 2008, $200.1 million and 2010 $2,000.0 million.

7. $2.67 Convertible Preferred Stock Redeemable at Company's Option

There were 215,047 and 233,327 shares of the $2.67 Convertible Preferred stock issued and outstanding at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Reacquired, redeemed or converted authorized shares that are not outstanding are required to be retired or restored to the status of authorized but unissued shares of preferred stock without series designation. The holders of $2.67 Convertible Preferred stock are entitled to cumulative dividends, three-tenths of a vote per share together with holders of common stock (in certain events, to the exclusion of the common shares), preference in liquidation over holders of common stock of $30.50 per share plus accrued dividends and to convert each share of Convertible Preferred stock into 6.205 shares of common stock. Authorized but unissued common shares are reserved for issuance upon the conversions, but treasury shares may be and are delivered. Holders converted 18,280 shares and 11,766 shares during 2005 and 2004, respectively. The Company may redeem the Convertible Preferred stock at a price of $30.50 per share, plus accrued dividends.

The Company paid a cash dividend of $2.67 per share in the aggregate amount of $0.6 million, $0.6 million and $0.7 million in the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

8. Capital Stock

We have 750 million authorized shares of common stock and 60 million authorized shares of Preferred stock.

There were 146,290,063 and 144,285,095 common shares outstanding at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

The cash dividends paid on the common stock for the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 aggregated $201.0 million, $182.9 million and $166.2 million, respectively.

We did not repurchase any shares in connection with the Company's share repurchase program in the year ended December 31, 2005. In 2004, we purchased 4,402,978 shares in connection with the Company's share repurchase program that were converted to treasury shares. Treasury shares delivered in connection with exercise of stock options and grants of other stock awards and conversion of preferred stock and debentures amounted to 2,032,854 in 2005 and 2,423,432 in 2004. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, there were 83,279,961 and 85,284,929 common treasury shares, respectively.

9. Stock Plans

We use stock options and performance awards to compensate key employees. We had awards outstanding under three Long-Term Incentive Plans (the Plans) as of December 31, 2005. Grants under the 2003 Long-Term Incentive Plan may be made on or before December 31, 2008 for up to 12 million shares of common stock. Grants under the 1999 Long-Term Incentive Plan were made before December 31, 2004. The 1999 Plan also had a maximum share grant limit of 12 million shares. No new stock-based awards can be made under the 1990 and 1999 Long-Term Incentive Plans, but there are existing awards that continue to be exercisable.

Stock options have exercise prices equal to their fair values at the dates of grant. Options granted before September 2005 generally may not be exercised prior to one year after the date of grant or more than ten years from the date of grant. Options granted beginning September 2005 may not be exercised prior to one year after the date of grant or more than seven years from the date of grant. Options issued since November 1998 generally vest one-third each year over a three-year period after the date of grant. Performance awards are currently amortized into expense over the three-year vesting period, and are generally paid in stock but can be paid in cash if individual stock ownership guidelines are met.

The 2002 Non-Employee Director Stock Option Plan authorizes the granting of stock options to the Company's non-employee directors. Grants under this plan may be made on or before December 31, 2006 for up to 200,000 shares of common stock. Stock options under this plan have exercise prices equal to the fair market values at dates of grant, and may not be exercised prior to one year or more than ten years from the date of grant.

Changes during the three years ended December 31, 2005 in shares issuable pursuant to options were as follows:

^(a) On August 16, 2005, in connection with the Office products business spin-off, the Company adjusted the number of shares under options and the option exercise prices to preserve, as closely as possible, the economic value of the options that existed at the time of the spin-off. The weighted-average fair values of options granted during 2005, 2004 and 2003 were $16.14, $16.47 and $13.40, respectively. The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions used for grants in 2005, 2004 and 2003:

	2005	2004	2003
Expected dividend yield	1.8%	1.8%	2.1%

At December 31, 2005, performance awards were outstanding pursuant to which up to 214,444; 208,586; and 177,409 shares and 142,875 shares may be issued in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009, respectively, depending on the extent to which certain specified performance objectives are met. These performance award shares have been issued as a result of the spin-off of the Office products business. Shares issued pursuant to performance awards during 2005, 2004 and 2003 were 204,300; 194,705; and 123,233 shares, respectively. These shares are on a pre-spin basis since they were issued before the spin-off of the Office products business. The costs of performance awards are expensed over the performance period.

Compensation expense for stock based plans recorded for 2005, 2004 and 2003 was $16.4 million, $19.1 million and $19.0 million, respectively.

Shares available in connection with future awards under the Company's stock plans at December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003 were: 5,710,136, 7,126,664 and 10,146,614, respectively. Shares available in connection with future awards at December 31, 2004 and 2003 are on a basis before conversion as a result of the spin-off of the Office products business. Authorized but unissued shares are reserved for issuance in connection with awards, but treasury shares may be and are delivered.

10. Pension and Other Retiree Benefits

We have a number of pension plans, principally in the United States, covering many of the Company's employees. The plans provide for payment of retirement benefits, mainly commencing between the ages of 60 and 65, and also for payment of certain disability and severance benefits. After meeting certain qualifications, an employee acquires a vested right to future benefits. The benefits payable under the plans are generally determined on the basis of an employee's length of service and earnings. Annual contributions to the plans are made, as necessary, to ensure legal funding requirements are satisfied.

10. Pension and Other Retiree Benefits (Continued)

The Company provides postretirement health care and life insurance benefits to certain employees and retirees in the United States and certain employee groups outside the United States. Many employees and retirees outside the United States are covered by government health care programs.

In May 2004, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position No. 106-2 (FSP 106-2), Accounting and Disclosure Requirements Related to the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003 (the Medicare Prescription Act). FSP 106-2 provides guidance on the accounting for, and disclosure of, the effects of the Medicare Prescription Act enacted in December 2003. The Medicare Prescription Act will provide a prescription drug benefit under Medicare Part D, as well as provide a federal subsidy to employers that provide a program for prescription drug benefits that is at least actuarially equivalent to Medicare Part D.

We adopted FSP 106-2 prospectively in the third quarter of 2004. Several of our postretirement plans qualify for the federal subsidy; however, the adoption of FSP 106-2 did not have a material impact on our results of operations. The accumulated postretirement benefit obligation and changes in the benefit obligation do not reflect any amount associated with the Medicare subsidy because the Company, rather than the postretirement plans, will be entitled to the Medicare Prescription Act subsidy.

Plan Assets

Our domestic pension plan weighted-average asset allocations at December 31, 2005 and 2004 are as follows:

Asset Category	Pension Plan Assets at December 31
	2005	2004
Cash	2%	3%
Equity securities	62	65
Fixed income	36	32
Real estate	<1	<1
Total	100%	100%

Our investment strategy is to optimize investment returns through a diversified portfolio of investments, taking into consideration underlying plan liabilities and asset volatility. The U.S. defined benefit asset allocation policy of these trusts allows for an equity allocation of 45% to 75%, a fixed income allocation of 25% to 50%, and a cash allocation of up to 25%. Non-U.S. investment trust targets may differ, allowing up to 90% equity and up to 10% in real estate. Asset allocations are based on the underlying liability structure and local regulations. All retirement asset allocations are reviewed periodically to ensure the allocation meets the needs of the liability structure.

Our expected 8.4% long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined based on long-term historical performance of plan assets, current asset allocation and projected long-term rates of return from pension investment consultants. The expected long-term rates of return are 10% for equities and 6% for fixed income.

Contributions

Edgar Filing: FORTUNE BRANDS INC - Form 10-K

We expect to contribute approximately $40 to $70 million to our pension plans in 2006.

We sponsor a number of defined contribution plans. Contributions are determined under various formulas. Costs related to these plans amounted to $25.0 million, $28.8 million and $23.4 million in 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

In the second and third quarter of 2005, we recorded currency hedge accounting expense related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition purchase price totaling $87.9 million. In accordance with hedge tax accounting rules, these losses were not tax deductible, but were included in the tax basis of the investment. Because this non-cash expense was not tax deductible, our effective tax rate for the year ended December 31, 2005 increased. See Note 13, Financial Instruments, for additional information on currency hedges.

In the second quarter of 2005, we recorded a $7.7 million tax credit as a result of the conclusion of various state tax audits.

During the third quarter of 2004, the Internal Revenue Service concluded its field examination phase of the routine review of our 1997-2001 tax returns. As a result of the audit, we recorded a net tax reserve reversal of $45.5 million in continuing operations, as well as $3.7 million in discontinued operations. This net reversal accounts for the release of reserves for items resolved more favorably than anticipated, partly offset by the disallowance of a deduction for which no reserve had been established.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, the Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation completed its review of the results of the routine IRS examination of our 1997-2001 tax returns. In continuing operations, we recorded a total tax benefit of $51.5 million, or $0.35 per diluted share, reflecting the completion of the Joint Committee review. This resulted in an additional reversal of tax reserves of $39.5 million and a net tax adjustment of $12.0 million. As a result of the conclusion of the IRS examination of our 1997-2001 tax years, in 2005 we received a total tax refund of $56 million. During the fourth quarter of 2004, we also recorded a one-time non-operating adjustment for interest income on taxes receivable related to these tax-related benefits of $2.1 million (after tax) which was recorded in other expense.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, we recorded a tax benefit of $4.6 million in continuing operations associated with foreign earnings repatriation under the provisions of the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004.

In 2003, the audit of our 1993-1996 tax returns resulted in a reduction in tax expense of $35 million. As a result, we also recorded a one-time non-operating adjustment of $6.9 million in interest income (after tax), which was recorded in other income.

13. Financial Instruments

We do not enter into financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. Financial instruments are principally used to reduce the impact of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. The principal financial instruments used are forward foreign exchange contracts and interest rate swaps. The counterparties are major financial institutions. Although our theoretical risk is the replacement cost at the then estimated fair value of these instruments, management believes that the risk of incurring losses is remote and that the losses, if any, would be immaterial.

We enter into forward foreign exchange contracts principally to hedge currency fluctuations in transactions denominated in foreign currencies, thereby limiting our risk that would otherwise result from changes in exchange rates. The periods of the forward foreign exchange contracts correspond to the periods of the hedged transactions. We periodically enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge a portion of our net investments in foreign subsidiaries.

The estimated fair value of foreign currency contracts represents the amount required to enter into offsetting contracts with similar remaining maturities based on quoted market prices. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the fair value of all outstanding contracts and the book value of the contracts were essentially the same.

We may, from time to time, enter into interest rate swap agreements to manage our exposure to interest rate changes. The swaps involve the exchange of fixed and variable interest rate payments without exchanging the notional principal amount. We record the payments or receipts on the agreements as adjustments to interest expense.

In 2003, we entered into swap agreements in connection with our outstanding 2.875% notes due in December 2006. The agreements effectively convert the interest paid on $200 million of underlying debt securities from a fixed rate to a floating rate based on a LIBOR reference rate. We classified the agreements as a fair value hedge in accordance with FAS 133.

In the second quarter of 2005, we entered into call options and forward contracts to buy British pounds in order to mitigate the currency exposure related to the Spirits and Wine acquisition, which closed in July 2005. In addition, we entered into treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps related to the anticipated issuance of debt associated with this acquisition. These hedges are described in more detail below.

We established acquisition cost hedges that consisted of call options and forward contracts to buy British pounds. We terminated the call options in early July 2005. We settled the forward contracts on July 26, 2005 when we closed on the Spirits and Wine acquisition. In the year ended December 31, 2005, we recorded total pre-tax net acquisition hedge expense of $120.9 million ($109.0 million after tax) in Other expense (income), net on the condensed consolidated statement of income. This included hedge program costs on the call options in the pre-tax amount of $33.0 million ($21.1 million after tax) and hedge accounting expense on the forward contracts as a result of mark-to-market accounting on the day the acquisition closed, in the amount of $87.9 million (before and after tax). The hedge accounting expense on the forward contracts, which was not tax deductible, was offset by a corresponding reduction in our book-basis investment in the acquisition on the consolidated balance sheet.

In the second quarter of 2005, we entered into treasury rate locks with an aggregate notional value of $1.25 billion. These locks hedged the risk to earnings associated with fluctuations in interest rates relating to anticipated issuances of dollar-denominated debt associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. We accounted for these hedges as cash flow hedges since the treasury rate locks hedged against the variability of interest payments on future issuance of debt. In the fourth quarter of 2005, the Company entered into additional treasury rate locks with an aggregate notional value of $500 million. As of December 31, 2005, we had total deferred gains of $10.4 million ($6.7 million net of deferred taxes) as a result of an increase in long-term interest rates. On January 5, 2006 we terminated the treasury rate locks when we issued the U.S. dollar-denominated long-term debt. We recorded a $2.6 million pre-tax gain on the rate locks in Accumulated other comprehensive income. We will amortize the gain into earnings as an adjustment to interest expense corresponding with the recognition of interest expense related to the new U.S. dollar-denominated debt. For more information on the new long-term debt, see Note 6, Long-Term Debt, and Note 24, Subsequent Events.

In addition, in the fourth quarter of 2005, we entered into interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional value of 800 million. We classified these interest rate swaps as cash flow hedges since the swaps hedged against fluctuations in interest rates relating to anticipated issuances of euro-denominated debt associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. As of December 31, 2005, we had deferred losses of $5.3 million ($3.4 million net of deferred taxes). We terminated these swap agreements on January 27, 2006 when we issued the new euro-denominated long-term debt. We recorded a $0.6 million pre-tax gain on the swaps in Accumulated other comprehensive income. We will amortize the gain into earnings.

as an adjustment to interest expense corresponding with the recognition of interest expense on the new euro-denominated debt. For more information on the new long-term debt, see Notes 6, Long-Term Debt and 24, Subsequent Events.

In order to hedge our net investment position in the subsidiaries of the Acquired Businesses which have euro-denominated operations, in January 2006, we issued long-term debt in the amount of 800 million (approximately $1 billion). We designated this foreign currency debt as a net investment hedge.

The estimated fair value of the Company's cash and cash equivalents, notes payable to banks and commercial paper approximates the carrying amounts due principally to their short maturities.

The estimated fair value of the Company's $5,186.8 million and $1,239.9 million total long-term debt (including current portion) at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was approximately $5,249.3 million and $1,340.0 million, respectively. The fair value is determined from quoted market prices, where available, and from investment bankers using current interest rates considering credit ratings and the remaining terms to maturity.

Concentration of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable is limited because a large number of geographically diverse customers make up the operating companies' domestic and international customer base, thus spreading the credit risk.

Raw materials used by the Company are subject to price volatility caused by weather, supply conditions, geopolitical and economic variables, and other unpredictable external factors. We use derivative contracts to manage our exposure to commodity price volatility. The exposures are not considered material to our financial statements.

14. Guarantees and Commitments

As of December 31, 2005, we had $74 million of third-party guarantees of the debt of Maxxium Worldwide B.V. (Maxxium), our Spirits and Wine business' international sales and distribution joint venture. We are required to perform under these guarantees in the event that Maxxium fails to make contractual payments. On December 12, 2005, we renewed the guarantees of Maxxium's credit facilities. The renewal extended the expiration date of the committed portion of the credit facilities to December 12, 2010. In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 45 (FIN 45), Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, we recorded a liability of $0.7 million as of December 31, 2005 to reflect the fair value of the guarantees to Maxxium.

We also guaranteed various leases for ACCO World Corporation, the Office products business divested in a spin-off on August 16, 2005. We will continue to guarantee payment of certain real estate leases with lease payments totaling approximately $50 million through April 2013. Accordingly, we have recorded the fair value of these guarantees on our financial statements in accordance with FIN 45. As of December 31, 2005, we recorded a liability of $2.0 million. Refer to Note 3, Discontinued Operation, for additional information on the spin-off of the Office products business.

We have provided typical indemnities in connection with divestitures. These indemnities relate to various representations generally included in divestiture agreements, such as environmental, tax, product liability, employee liability and other contingencies, depending on the transactions. In several of these divestitures, a maximum obligation for certain contingencies is not specified, which is not unusual for these transactions. Accordingly, pursuant to FIN 45, potential payments under these divestiture-related indemnity obligations cannot be reasonably estimated. The indemnities vary in duration, and in some cases the durations are indefinite. Because FIN 45 was effective after December 31, 2002, we have not recorded any liability in the consolidated financial statements for indemnities entered into prior to that date. We have not made any indemnity payments that were material to our financial position or results of operations for any quarter. Furthermore, we do not expect that any potential payments in connection with any of these indemnity obligations would have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity for 2004 or in future periods.

15. Product Warranties

We generally record warranty expense at the time of sale. We offer our customers various warranty terms based upon the type of product that is sold. Warranty expense is determined in accordance with the policy established at each operating company. The main consideration is historic claim experience, which is company-specific based upon the nature of the product category. Warranty expense is generally recorded at the time of sale.

The following table summarizes activity related to our product warranty liability during the years ended December 31, 2005, 2004 and 2003:

(In millions)	2005	2004	2003
Reserve balance at the beginning of the year	$ (16.1)	$ (12.9)	$ (9.2)

16. Restructuring and Restructuring-related ChargesRestructuring Charges

The Company did not record any restructuring charges in the year ended December 31, 2005.

Our Home and Hardware business recorded charges in 2004 primarily for workplace reduction costs associated with the consolidation of Waterloo Industries' manufacturing from four to three facilities.

Charges related to the Golf business in 2004 and 2003 relate to asset write-offs associated with the consolidation of golf ball manufacturing facilities.

As a result of these actions, we recorded pre-tax restructuring charges for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003 as follows.

(In millions)	Years Ended December 31,

Total	$18.4	$1.2	$ 19.6	$5.3	$5.6	$10.9	$3.6

The 2005 Spirits and Wine restructuring-related charges were integration costs associated with the Spirits and Wine acquisition.

The 2005 Corporate restructuring-related charges relate to write-off of leasehold improvements related to the spin-off of the Office products business.

The 2004 Home and Hardware restructuring-related charges primarily relate to costs associated with the consolidation of Waterloo Industries manufacturing facilities.

The 2004 and 2003 Golf restructuring-related charges include costs related to the consolidation of golf ball manufacturing.

17. Information on Business Segments

The Company is organized into business segments based on the products and markets served. Each business segment is headed by an officer who reports to the Chief Executive Officer of the Company and is responsible for strategies to drive the growth and profitability of the segment. The Company's business segments are described below:

Home and Hardware includes: kitchen and bathroom faucets and accessories manufactured, marketed or distributed by Moen; kitchen and bath cabinets manufactured, marketed and distributed by MasterBrand Cabinets; residential entry door and patio door systems designed and manufactured by Therma-Tru; locks manufactured, marketed or distributed by Master Lock and American Lock; and tool storage and organization products manufactured and distributed by Waterloo.

Spirits and Wine includes products made, marketed or distributed by Beam Global Spirits & Wine, Inc. subsidiaries or affiliates.

19. Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per common share are based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding in each year and after preferred stock dividend requirements. Diluted earnings per common share assume that any dilutive convertible debentures and convertible preferred shares outstanding at the beginning of each year were converted at those dates, with related interest, preferred stock dividend requirements and outstanding common shares adjusted accordingly. It also assumes that outstanding common shares were increased by shares issuable upon exercise of those stock options for which market price exceeds exercise price, less shares that could have been purchased by the Company with related proceeds.

Maxxium Worldwide B.V. JBBCo. is a partner in an international sales and distribution joint venture named Maxxium Worldwide B.V. (Maxxium) that distributes and sells spirits and wine in key markets outside the United States. The joint venture partners include Rémy Cointreau, Highland Distillers and V&S. The Spirits and Wine business records sales at the time spirits are sold to third parties rather than at the time of shipment to Maxxium. As a result of forming this joint venture, we have guaranteed certain credit facilities and bank loans entered into by Maxxium up to an amount totaling $74 million, of which $50 million was outstanding as of December 31, 2005. At December 31, 2004, the guarantees totaled $85 million, of which $76 million was outstanding. JBBW has executed a Shareholder Loan Facility (Loan Facility) with Maxxium amounting to $18 million. There were no amounts outstanding under the Loan Facility as of either December 31, 2005 or December 31, 2004. The Loan Facility was renewed in 2005 and expires December 12, 2010.

22. Pending Litigation*Tobacco Litigation and Indemnification*

On December 22, 1994, we sold The American Tobacco Company (ATCO) subsidiary to Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation (B&W), at the time a wholly-owned subsidiary of B.A.T. Industries p.l.c. In connection with the sale, B&W and ATCO, which subsequently merged into B&W, agreed, under an Indemnification Agreement (the Indemnification Agreement), to indemnify Fortune Brands, Inc. against claims including legal expenses arising from smoking and health and fire safe cigarette matters relating to the tobacco business of ATCO.

On July 30, 2004, B&W and R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Holdings, Inc. announced that they had completed the combination of their respective U.S. tobacco businesses, previously conducted by B&W (and ATCO) and R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., by forming a new combined company known as R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. As a result of the combination and in accordance with the Indemnification Agreement, the new R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company has assumed the indemnification obligations under the Indemnification Agreement relating to the U.S. business previously conducted by B&W (and ATCO). B&W has not been released from any of its obligations under the Indemnification Agreement. We refer to B&W and the new R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company as the Indemnitor under the Indemnification Agreement.

The Indemnitor has complied with the terms of the Indemnification Agreement since 1994 and we are not aware of any inability on the part of the Indemnitor to satisfy its indemnity obligations.

The Company is a defendant in a number of actions based upon allegations that human ailments have resulted from tobacco use. It is not possible to predict the outcome of the pending litigation, and, as with any litigation, it is possible that some of these actions could be decided unfavorably. We are unable to make a meaningful estimate of the amount or range of loss that could result from an unfavorable outcome of the pending litigation. However, we believe that there are a number of meritorious defenses to the pending actions, including the fact that the Company never made or sold tobacco, and these actions are being vigorously contested by the Indemnitor. We believe that the pending actions will not have a material adverse effect upon our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition because we believe we have meritorious defenses and the Company is indemnified under the Indemnification Agreement.

Other Litigation

The Company, its Spirits and Wine business and numerous other manufacturers and importers of beer, spirits and wine are named as defendants in purported class action lawsuits in Michigan, New York and West Virginia seeking damages and injunctive relief regarding alleged deceptive and negligent marketing of beverage alcohol to people under the legal purchase age for alcohol. The Company and its Spirits and Wine business have not yet been served in the lawsuit pending in New York. Plaintiffs seek the disgorgement of unspecified profits earned by the Company's Spirits and Wine business in the past and other unspecified damages and equitable relief. The Company denies these allegations. The Company believes that the Company and its Spirits and Wine business have meritorious defenses against these allegations and that these actions will not have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. The Company and its Spirits and Wine business are vigorously contesting this litigation.

On March 7, 2005, Bridgestone Sports Co., Ltd and Bridgestone Golf, Inc. (collectively, Bridgestone) filed a lawsuit against Acushnet Company in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. Bridgestone alleges that various golf balls manufactured by Acushnet violate ten of Bridgestone's U.S. patents. The Company believes, and counsel has advised, that Acushnet has meritorious defenses against plaintiffs' claims. It is not possible to predict the outcome of the pending litigation, and, as with any litigation, it is possible that this action could be decided unfavorably. Acushnet is vigorously contesting this action and the Company believes that it will not have a material adverse effect on the results of the Company's operations, cash flow and financial condition. In addition, Acushnet filed a counterclaim in the action seeking damages for infringement of five of its patents.

On February 9, 2006, Callaway Golf Company filed a lawsuit against Acushnet Company in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. Callaway alleges that certain golf balls manufactured by Acushnet Company infringe four of Callaway's patents. Acushnet believes, and counsel has advised, it has meritorious defenses against Callaway's allegations. It is not possible to predict the outcome of pending litigation, and, as with any litigation, it is possible that this action could be decided unfavorably. Acushnet is vigorously contesting this action and the Company believes that the lawsuit will not have a material adverse effect on the results of the Company's operations, cash flow and financial condition.

In addition to the lawsuits described above, the Company and its subsidiaries are defendants in lawsuits associated with their businesses and operations. It is not possible to predict the outcome of the pending actions, and, as with any litigation, it is possible that some of these actions could be decided unfavorably. We believe that there are meritorious defenses to these actions and that these actions will not have a material adverse effect upon our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. These actions are being vigorously contested.

23. Environmental

We are subject to laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment. It is not possible to quantify with certainty the potential impact of actions relating to environmental matters, particularly remediation and other compliance efforts that our subsidiaries may undertake in the future. In our opinion, however, compliance with current environmental protection laws (before taking into account estimated recoveries from third parties) will not have a material adverse effect upon our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition.

Table of Contents24. Subsequent EventsIssuance of Long-Term Debt*

In January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling $2.0 billion under our shelf registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The $2.0 billion of unsecured notes consist of $750 million of 5 1/8% notes due January 2011, $950 million of 5 3/8% notes due January 2016 and $300 million of 5 7/8% notes due January 2036. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition. Net proceeds of $1,977.4 million are less price discounts of $9.3 million and underwriting fees of $13.3 million.

In addition, in January 2006, we issued long-term debt securities totaling 800 million (approximately $1 billion) in a transaction exempt from registration in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act of 1933. The notes consist of 300 million of 3/2% notes due January 2009 and 500 million of 4% notes due January 2013. Proceeds were used to pay down commercial paper issued in connection with the Spirits and Wine acquisition and borrowings under the bridge credit agreement. Net proceeds of 794.5 million are less price discounts of 3.1 million and underwriting fees of 2.4 million. We have designated the euro-denominated debt as net investment hedges of the acquired euro-functional currency operations.

Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses

As of January 27, 2006, substantially all of the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses had been legally transferred to Fortune Brands. Refer to Note 4, Acquisitions, Disposals and Joint Ventures.

We will prospectively cease to apply the provisions of FIN 46(R) and will fully consolidate the Acquired Businesses. A condensed balance sheet as of December 31, 2005 disclosing the amount assigned to each major asset and liability caption for these businesses is as follows:

On January 31, 2006, we announced that the process for finalizing purchase price adjustments for the Spirits and Wine acquisition was nearly complete. We anticipate two principal adjustments that will result in a net payment by Fortune Brands of approximately £117.2 million (approximately $207 million). This net payment, which is reflected on the December 31, 2005 balance sheet as a current liability, will result in a payment to Pernod Ricard of £199.4 million primarily because it was determined that the brands acquired by Fortune Brands have higher actual historical earnings than anticipated prior to due diligence; and a payment to Fortune Brands of approximately £82.2 million due to working capital adjustments.

Home and Hardware Acquisition

On February 10, 2006, we announced an agreement to acquire SBR, Inc., a privately held company, which owns the #3 vinyl-framed window brand in North America. The purchase price is approximately $630 million and will be financed with a combination of stock and debt. We expect the stock component will be 60 to 70% of the total purchase price, contingent on the election of SBR's shareholders. The acquisition is expected to close within the next few months, but no assurance can be given that it will close on the terms contemplated or at all.

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Fortune Brands, Inc.:

We have completed integrated audits of Fortune Brands, Inc.'s 2005 and 2004 consolidated financial statements and of its internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005, and an audit of its 2003 consolidated financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Our opinions, based on our audits and the report of other auditors, are presented below.

Consolidated financial statements and financial statement schedule

In our opinion, based on our audits and the report of other auditors, the consolidated financial statements listed in the index appearing under Item 15(a)(1) present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fortune Brands, Inc. and its subsidiaries at December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2005 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. In addition, in our opinion, based on our audits, the financial statement schedule listed in the index appearing under Item 15(a)(2) presents fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth therein when read in conjunction with the related consolidated financial statements. These financial statements and financial statement schedule are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial statement schedule based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of Fulham Acquisition Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary, which statements reflect total assets of $6.4 billion as of December 31, 2005, and total revenues of $387.1 million for the period from July 26, 2005 to December 31, 2005. Those statements were audited by other auditors whose report thereon has been furnished to us, and our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for Fulham Acquisition Corp., is based solely on the report of the other auditors. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits and the report of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Internal control over financial reporting

Also, in our opinion, management's assessment, included in Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting appearing under Item 9A, that the Company maintained effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005 based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO), is fairly stated, in all material respects, based on those criteria. Furthermore, in our opinion, based on our audit, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the COSO. The Company's management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Our responsibility is to express opinions on management's assessment and on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit of internal control over financial reporting in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. An audit of internal control over financial reporting includes obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, evaluating management's assessment, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control, and performing such other procedures as we consider necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinions.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Table of Contents

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

As described in Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting, management has excluded Fulham Acquisition Corp. from its assessment of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005 because it was acquired by the Company in a purchase business combination during 2005. We have also excluded Fulham Acquisition Corp. from our audit of internal control over financial reporting. Fulham Acquisition Corp. is a wholly-owned subsidiary, which statements reflect total assets of $6.4 billion as of December 31, 2005, and total revenues of $387.1 million for the period from July 26, 2005 to December 31, 2005.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Stockholder of Fulham Acquisition Corp.

We have audited the consolidated balance sheet of Fulham Acquisition Corp. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2005, and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholder's equity and cash flows for the period from July 26, 2005 to December 31, 2005. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fulham Acquisition Corp. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2005, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the period from July 26, 2005 to December 31, 2005, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

To The Shareholders Of Fortune Brands, Inc.

We have prepared the consolidated balance sheet of Fortune Brands, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the related consolidated statements of income, cash flows and stockholders' equity for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2005. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Financial information elsewhere in this Annual Report on Form 10-K is consistent with that in the financial statements.

Internal control over financial reporting of the Company and its subsidiaries is designed to provide reasonable assurances that the financial records are adequate and can be relied upon to provide information for the preparation of financial statements and that established policies and procedures are carefully followed.

The Company's stockholders annually ratify the appointment of the Company's independent registered public accounting firm of the Company's financial statements, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP. Their audit is performed in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States).

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, consisting solely of independent directors, meets periodically with the independent auditors, internal auditors and management to review accounting, auditing, and financial reporting matters. The auditors have direct access to the Audit Committee.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures.

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

The Company's management has evaluated, with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this Report.

(b) Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting.

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(f). Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting based on the framework in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). Based on our evaluation under the framework in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the COSO, our management concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2005.

As permitted by SEC rules and regulations, our management has excluded Fulham Acquisition Corp. from its assessment of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005 because it was acquired by the Company in a purchase business combination during 2005. Fulham Acquisition Corp. is a wholly-owned subsidiary, which statements reflect total assets of $6.4 billion as of December 31, 2005, and total revenues of $387.1 million for the period from July 26, 2005 to December 31, 2005.

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, the registered public accounting firm that audited the consolidated financial statements included in this Report, has also audited management's assessment of the Company's internal control over financial reporting and the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005, as stated in their report included herein.

(c) Report of the Registered Public Accounting Firm

The report on management's assessment of internal control over financial reporting is provided in Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

(d) Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting.

There have not been any changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the Company's fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2005 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting. The Company is in the process of reviewing the internal control structure of the Spirits and Wine Acquired Businesses and, if necessary, will make appropriate changes as we incorporate our controls and procedures into this recently acquired business.
