Items 7.01 and 8.01. Regulation FD Disclosure and Other Events.

On August 30, 2006, BioDelivery Sciences International, Inc. (BDSI) delivered to CDC IV, LLC (CDC) a Notice of Breach and Demand for Dispute Resolution (the Notice) pursuant to the Clinical Development and License Agreement (the CDLA), dated July 14, 2005, by and among BDSI, CDC and Arius Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of BDSI. A copy of such notice is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.1 and is incorporated herein by reference. CDC is an affiliate of Care Capital, LLC of Princeton, New Jersey, and a majority of CDC 's equity interests are (based on public filings) owned by Elliot Associates L.P., a New York hedge fund.

In the Notice, BDSI claims that CDC has damaged BDSI in that:

1. CDC violated the CDLA when, without knowledge or consent of BDSI, CDC, using proprietary and confidential information of BDSI protected by the terms of the CDLA, made an offer in May 2006 to acquire, directly from BDSI 's licensor, the remaining interest in BEMATM Fentanyl and/or the BEMATM technology for its own financial benefit;
2. CDC has repeatedly and willfully refused to: (i) convene or designate its representatives to the Development Committee required under the CDLA, despite BDSI 's numerous requests to do so and (ii) respond to repeated requests from BDSI for collaboration with BDSI management on the BEMATM Fentanyl program as provided for under the CDLA; and
3. CDC has willfully refused (despite BDSI 's requests) to comply with the negotiated dispute resolution provisions of the CDLA.

In the Notice, BDSI reserved the right to make additional claims against CDC and demanded that the foregoing and all claims under the CDLA be submitted immediately for resolution pursuant to the dispute resolution mechanisms set forth in the CDLA.

For more information regarding the terms of the CDLA, see BDSI 's current reports on Form 8-K, dated July 15, 2005 and May 16, 2006.

Item 9.01. Financial Statements and Exhibits.
