ITEM 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

Nanophase Technologies Corporation (Nasdaq: NANX), a technology leader in the development of advanced nanoengineered products, announced as of April 12, 2010, that it has regained compliance with the minimum bid price requirement of NASDAQ Listing Rule 5450.

On December 18, 2009, Nanophase received notice from the NASDAQ Stock Market that the closing bid price of its common stock had fallen below $1.00 for thirty consecutive business days and was, therefore, not in compliance with NASDAQ Listing Rule 5450(a)(1). Nanophase was provided a 180-day grace period, scheduled to end June 16, 2010, to regain compliance with the Rule. To regain compliance, the bid price for the Company's common stock must close at $1.00 or higher for a minimum of 10 consecutive business days within the stated 180-day grace period, a requirement that was met on April 12, 2010.

NASDAQ has confirmed to Nanophase that it has regained compliance with this listing standard as of April 12, 2010.

On April 13, 2010, the Company issued a press release announcing the receipt of the notice from NASDAQ described above. The press release is filed as Exhibit 99.1 hereto and is incorporated herein by reference.
