Creating a new premier regulated utility in New England

Contact us at Employee Communications.

Dear Fellow Employees,

I have some exciting news to share with you regarding the next chapter for Northeast Utilities.

This weekend, our Board of Trustees, on my recommendation and that of the senior management team, unanimously approved the merger of Northeast Utilities and Boston-based NSTAR.

This merger of equals will produce substantial benefits for our customers, our communities, our shareholders and you – our valued employees.

Customer Benefits

By combining NU and NSTAR, we will take two strong companies and become one great New England-based, locally controlled company creating the premier energy utility in New England and one of the largest in the U.S. The combined company will retain the name Northeast Utilities.

NSTAR is a company that we have long admired and already have a strong track record of working with. For example, as you know, together NU and NSTAR recently executed an agreement with Hydro-Québec to build a high-voltage, direct-current transmission line to bring enough low-carbon power from Canada that will power one million New England homes.

This is just the beginning of what our future company can do. As a result of this transaction, we will be a company with over 3.5 million electric and natural gas customers and 9,000 employees. This will provide us with a greatly expanded voice in regional and national policy discussions allowing us to better advocate for policies which are beneficial to our customers, our employees and our shareholders.

NSTAR also shares our commitment to regional reliability and ensuring the highest customer satisfaction. Together, we will have the financial flexibility, scale and scope to support regional growth and create a sustainable energy future for our customers. Importantly, our customers will see no change as a result of this merger and they will interact with the same great customer service representatives and technicians they always have.

Organization and Leadership

This transaction will create a company which will provide employees with an exciting and diverse future, rich with opportunity. The senior leadership team has been determined. It will be a blend of leaders from both companies with many responsibilities and functions yet to be finalized. Rather than wait until every issue has been sorted out, I wanted to share with you what we do anticipate.

Edgar Filing: NSTAR/MA - Form 425

Upon closing, I will become the Chairman of the Board of NU; Tom May, currently Chairman, President and CEO of NSTAR, will become the President and CEO of NU. Reporting to Tom will be the following individuals and their general responsibilities:

Greg Butler, General Counsel Legal department; corporate secretarial function; corporate compliance; federal governmental affairs; internal audit

Chris Carmody Human Resources

Jim Judge, Chief Financial Officer Finance; accounting; treasury; regulatory; financial planning; investor relations; performance management

David McHale, Chief Administrative Officer Customer service; strategic planning; IT; corporate services; energy supply; unregulated companies; corporate integration

Joe Nolan, Corporate Relations Corporate communications, community and state governmental relations

Lee Olivier, Chief Operating Officer All NU and NSTAR regulated operating companies and transmission

In addition, Jim Robb will continue as Senior Vice President Strategic Planning, a role that will take on more importance as we explore future opportunities to provide our customers with innovative energy solutions. Jean LaVecchia, currently Vice President Human Resources, will become Vice President Integration, a key role as we move forward with pre- and post-merger strategies.

Our operating company leadership and headquarters will remain unchanged. Werner Schweiger will serve as President of NSTAR. NSTAR gas operations will report to Rod Powell. NU will have dual headquarters in Hartford and Boston.

The Board of Trustees of NU will be made up of an equal number of Trustees from each company.

This transaction will create many opportunities to leverage our combined resources and share and implement best practices over the entire organization. The merger is expected to produce important long-term net savings as a result of efficiencies that we expect will be realized over time primarily through process improvements, voluntary attrition and retirements. Additionally, all union contracts will be honored.

Both companies have longstanding reputations as excellent corporate citizens and NU will maintain its current level of funding for vital civic and philanthropic organizations across our combined service areas.

Next Steps

Attached is a news release that we are issuing today along with links to additional information on the profile of the combined company, bios of senior officers, FAQs and a short video message from me.

Tomorrow, we will have an all-employee meeting originating from the Berlin auditorium, beginning at 2:30 p.m., that will also be simulcast on the NUNet. Additionally, your local leadership is available to answer further questions.

We expect the merger to be completed within 9 to 12 months, following receipt of the required approvals. Until the transaction is complete, both companies will continue to operate separately. In the days ahead, I ask each of you to continue to do the outstanding jobs you do each day, and I ask you to remain focused on executing our current business strategy and delivering outstanding results for our customers and shareholders.

I look forward to joining you on our path forward in creating the future of NU.

Sincerely,

Chuck Shivery
Chairman, President and CEO
