Item 4. Description of Securities.

Description of Non-Voting Common Stock

General

Holders of the Non-Voting Common Stock are entitled to receive dividends if, as and when declared by the Company's board of directors out of any funds legally available for dividends. Holders of the Non-Voting Common Stock are also entitled, upon the Company's liquidation, and after claims of creditors and the preferences of Series A preferred stock, and any other class or series of preferred stock outstanding at the time of liquidation, to receive pro rata the Company's net assets. The Company pays dividends on the Non-Voting Common Stock only if it has paid or provided for all dividends on the outstanding series of preferred stock for the then current period and, in the case of any cumulative preferred stock, all prior periods. The Company's board of directors is classified, with respect to the term for which they severally hold office, into three classes, as nearly equal in number as reasonably possible. At each annual meeting of shareholders, directors elected to succeed those directors whose terms expire shall be elected for a term of office to expire at the third succeeding annual meeting of shareholders after their election.

The Company's Series A preferred stock has preference over the Non-Voting Common Stock with respect to the payment of dividends and the distribution of assets in the event of the Company's liquidation or dissolution. The Company's preferred stock also has such other preferences as currently, or as may be, fixed by the Company's board of directors.

Shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock have no voting power and are not entitled to vote on any matter, provided that shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock are entitled to vote with respect to matters as to which shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock are otherwise permitted to vote pursuant to 12 C.F.R. § 225.2(q)(2) and section 1004(1) of the Maine Business Corporation Act, as in effect from time to time, or any successor provisions thereto.

Shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock will remain the Non-Voting Common Stock in the hands of the holder thereof and shall automatically convert into shares of the Voting Common Stock solely (i) upon a transfer of such shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock to a transferee that is not an affiliate of the transferor for purposes of the Bank Holding Company Act and the Change in Bank Control Act or (ii) to the extent necessary to maintain the percentage of the outstanding Voting Common Stock held by such holder of the Non-Voting Common Stock as of immediately prior to any transaction, the effect of which transaction would be to otherwise decrease such percentage of the Voting Common Stock held by such holder of the Non-Voting Common Stock by increasing the number of shares of the Voting Common Stock outstanding.

Shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock may be transferred solely where such transfer is made (i) to an affiliate of such transferor of the Non-Voting Common Stock for purposes of the Bank Holding Company Act and the Change in Bank Control Act, (ii) in a widespread public distribution (iii) to a transferee that holds or controls more than 50% of any class of the Company's voting securities, (iv) in one or more transactions in which no transferee (or group of transferees whose ownership of the Company's securities must be aggregated for purposes of the Bank Holding Company Act and the Change in Bank Control Act) receives ownership or control of such securities for purposes of the Bank Holding Company Act and the Change in Bank Control Act representing 2% or more of any class of the Company's voting securities, (v) in one or more open market transactions effected on a stock exchange, electronic communications network, or similar execution system or in the over-the-counter market where the transferring holder has no prior knowledge of or control or influence over the identity of the ultimate transferees, (vi) to the Company with its approval in its sole discretion, or (vii) as part of a transaction approved by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock are not redeemable, and have no subscription rights, preemptive rights or sinking fund provisions. Outstanding shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock are validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable. Except with respect to the power to vote, shares of the Non-Voting Common Stock have the same rights, preferences and limitations as shares of the Voting Common Stock.

Anti-Takeover Provisions

The Company's articles of incorporation and bylaws include certain provisions which may be considered to be anti-takeover in nature because they may have the effect of discouraging or making more difficult the acquisition of control over the Company by means of a hostile tender offer, exchange offer, proxy contest or similar transaction. These provisions are intended to protect the shareholders of the Company by providing a measure of assurance that the Company's shareholders will be treated fairly in the event of an unsolicited takeover bid and by preventing a successful takeover bidder from exercising its voting control to the detriment of the other shareholders. However, the anti-takeover provisions set forth in the Company's articles of incorporation and bylaws, taken as a whole, may discourage a hostile tender offer, exchange offer, proxy solicitation or similar transaction relating to the Non-Voting Common Stock. To the extent that these provisions actually discourage such a transaction, holders of the Non-Voting Common Stock may not have an opportunity to dispose of part or all of their stock at a higher price than that prevailing in the market. In addition, these provisions make it more difficult to remove, and thereby may serve to entrench, incumbent directors and officers of the Company, even if their removal would be regarded by some shareholders as desirable.

The provisions in the Company's articles of incorporation that may be considered to be anti-takeover in nature include the following:

a provision that does not permit shareholders to cumulate their votes for the election of directors;

a provision that requires a greater than majority shareholder vote in order to approve certain business combinations and other extraordinary corporate transactions;

a provision that establishes criteria to be applied by the board of directors in evaluating an acquisition proposal;

a provision that requires a greater than majority shareholder vote in order for the shareholders to remove a director from office without cause;

a provision that limits the right of the shareholders to amend the bylaws; and a provision that requires, under certain circumstances, a greater than majority shareholder vote in order to amend the articles of incorporation.

In addition, a provision in the bylaws that limits the permissible number of directors may be considered to be anti-takeover in nature.

Section 1109 of the Maine Business Corporation Act also may have some anti-takeover effect. Section 1109 of the Maine Business Corporation Act generally provides that a Maine corporation which has a class of voting stock registered or traded on a national securities exchange or under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, such as the Company, may not engage in any business combination for five years following an interested shareholder's stock acquisition date unless the business combination is (1) approved by the corporation's board of directors prior to that interested shareholder's stock acquisition date or (2) approved, subsequent to that interested shareholder's stock acquisition date, by the board of directors of the Maine corporation and authorized by the holders of a majority of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation not beneficially owned by that interested shareholder or any affiliate or associate thereof or by persons who are either directors or officers and also employees of the corporation. An interested shareholder is defined to include any person, firm or entity that is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of 25% or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation, other than by reason of a revocable proxy given in response to a proxy solicitation conducted in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which is not then reportable on a Schedule 13D under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and stock acquisition date is defined to mean the date that any person, firm or entity first becomes an interested shareholder of that corporation.

The foregoing description of the Non-Voting Common Stock is intended to be a summary only and is qualified in its entirety by the full text of the Company's articles of incorporation, incorporated herein by reference to Annex D of the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-4, as amended (File No. 333-167295).

Item 6. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

The Maine Business Corporate Act provides that a corporation may indemnify a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because that individual is a director or officer of the corporation against liability incurred in the proceeding, if (i) the individual's conduct was in good faith; (ii) the individual reasonably believed, in the case of conduct in the individual's official capacity, that the individual's conduct was in the best interests of the corporation; and in all other cases, that the individual's conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual's conduct was unlawful.

The Company's articles of incorporation and bylaws provide that each director and officer shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Company as referenced above. Advances against expenses may be made under the bylaws and any other indemnification agreement that may be entered into by the Company and the indemnity coverage provided thereunder may include liabilities under the federal securities laws as well as in other contexts.

The Company has purchased and maintains insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director or officer against any loss arising from any claim asserted against any such person and incurred by such person in any such capacity, subject to certain exclusions.

Item 9. Undertakings.

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective registration statement; and provided, however, that paragraphs (a)(1)(i) and (a)(1)(ii) do not apply if the information required to be included in a post-effective amendment by those paragraphs is contained in reports filed with or furnished to the Commission by the Registrant pursuant to Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act that are incorporated by reference in the registration statement.

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement;

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the Company's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the Company pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the Company has been advised that in the opinion of the Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Company of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the Company in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the Company will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.
