The following is a letter sent by Valeant to certain persons on April 22, 2014:

Dear Valeant Contact Lens Team Member,

As you are certainly now aware, yesterday afternoon we announced our intention to propose a merger with Allergan. I am sure you have many questions as a result of this announcement. While we are limited in what we can say regarding this news at this time, we do want to provide you as much information as we can.

We believe the combination of Valeant and Allergan presents an extremely compelling proposition that would create an unrivaled platform for growth and value creation in healthcare and demonstrate our commitment to Eye Health, Dermatology and Aesthetics. This morning we issued a press release outlining the reasons we think a combination of Valeant and Allergan makes sense. This press release is available on-line and I encourage you to read it thoroughly and ask any questions you may have regarding it.

We believe there would be minimal implications for our Lens and Lens Care businesses, and ask that you remain completely focused on growing our existing business and providing the highest level of customer service. We ask that you reassure our customers that we will continue to focus on meeting their needs, supporting their practices, and partnering with them to meet the needs of their patients.

We know there are many other questions on your minds, and we will provide FAQs to address as many of them as we can at this time. As your customers will also have many questions, we will be sending them a communication from the company and will provide you talking points to handle their questions.

Thank you for all your hard work and your continued commitment to the team and one another. We will keep you updated with information as soon as we can and, as always, I encourage you to contact me or any member of the management team with any questions you may have.

Thanks,

Ari
