Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

On or about June 30, 2015, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of Alere Inc. (the Company) determined that it is no longer appropriate to include excise tax gross-up protections in change of control severance agreements provided to officers of the Company and that, as a practice, it does not intend to approve inclusion of such protections in future agreements with officers.

Beginning in October 2014, in the context of fundamental strategic and management changes at the Company, including the June 2014 resignation of the Company's founder & CEO and two other founding executive officers, and also in response to certain public statements made in September 2014 by those former executive officers, the Compensation Committee voted to offer certain of the Company's officers change of control severance agreements that included such protections. Under the circumstances prevailing at that time, the Compensation Committee determined that the excise tax gross-up protections were necessary and advisable and in the best interest of stockholders. The Compensation Committee believes that these agreements played a significant role in retaining and attracting the Company's current executive officers. This practice was reported in the Company's Current Report on Form 8-K, event date October 25, 2014, filed on October 28, 2014, and the form of change of control severance agreement was included as Exhibit 10.1 thereto.
