1. Notice of Convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders for the 115th Business Term

To Our Shareholders

We are pleased to present our notice of convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders for the 115th Business Term (from January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015).

At the start of Phase IV (2011 to 2015) of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan, a 5-year initiative that ended in the 115th Business Term, the Canon Group's aim was to achieve sound growth amid a situation where the global economy seemed to have been just coming out of the global recession following the collapse of Lehman Brothers. The following five years, however, proved on the whole to be a very challenging period for the global economy due to such developments as an economic slump in Europe due to the Greek debt crisis and economic slowdown in China and other emerging countries.

In response to these developments, the Canon Group changed its policy, which initially focused on the expansion of business scale, taking measures to reinforce the Group's already strong financial structure so that it would be able to withstand a deep recession. At the same time, to facilitate great strides in the future, the Canon Group sought diversification, through horizontal expansion of existing businesses, which led to the Cinema EOS System, and built foundations, through proactive M&A, of businesses that are expected to drive future growth, including production print systems in which Océ plays a central part and network cameras provided mainly by Axis AB and Milestone Systems A/S.

In the 115th Business Term, an increase in net sales was achieved through expanded sales of industrial equipment and other products. Profits declined, however, mainly due to an increase in expenses linked to investments in development for strengthening new businesses and the consolidation of new companies. For the term-end dividend, to realize a stable return and actively return profits to shareholders, we will propose a distribution of 75.00 yen per share at the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders for the 115th Business Term. As a result, the full-year dividend amount, when combined with the interim dividend (75.00 yen per share), will be 150 yen per share, which is the same amount distributed for the 114th Business Term.

As for business conditions going forward, the global economy as a whole is expected to remain on a moderate growth track as the Chinese economy will continue to slowdown whereas developed economies in general will remain firm. Under this situation, the Canon Group embarks upon a new five-year plan, Phase V (2016 to 2020) of our Excellent Global Corporation Plan under the basic policy of Embracing the challenge of new growth through a grand strategic transformation. In Phase V, we will promote innovation in all aspects of development, production, and sales to strengthen profitability, while pushing forward with diversification and new business development, thereby transforming ourselves into a new Canon, overcoming changes in the market environment to realize a new growth.

We look forward to your continued support and encouragement.

BUSINESS REPORT (From January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015)

1. Current Conditions of the Canon Group

(1) Business Progress and Results

General Business Conditions

The global economy during the current business term can be summarized as follows: The U.S. economy continued to recover, driven by increases in personal consumption and capital investment. In Europe, while the pace of recovery was very slow, signs of improvement were seen, particularly in Western European countries such as Germany and the U.K. Japan was on a moderate recovery trend, as corporate earnings and employment showed signs of improvement despite the slow growth in exports. On the other hand, in Asia, the Chinese economy slowed down and economies in Southeast Asia on the whole failed to deliver strong growth.

Under this business environment, the Canon Group, in the current business term, which is the final year of Phase IV (2011 to 2015) of our Excellent Global Corporation Plan, actively worked on such priority tasks as the re-strengthening of existing business, the expansion of new and future businesses, and the acceleration of cost-cutting efforts, in order to promote Phase V (2016 to 2020), building a stronger business foundation, and prepare for future growth. In fall, the Canon Group also held Canon EXPO 2015 in New York, Paris, and Tokyo, where indications of our future management vision as well as the direction of our businesses, products, and technologies were favorably received by attendees.

Turning to the overview of each business unit, in the Office Business Unit, we strengthened our product lineup by launching new color office multifunction devices (MFDs) where demand is rising. In the area of production printing systems, where market expansion is expected, Océ focused efforts on growing sales of mainly new business-use high-speed and continuous feed printers. Sales of monochrome office MFDs, however, were weak, particularly in Asia. In the Imaging System Business Unit, we maintained our market share in the interchangeable lens digital camera category as new products sold well. As for compact digital cameras, amid ongoing market contraction, we worked to improve profitability stimulating demand through the expansion of our lineup of high-performance models. As for inkjet printers, sales declined due to economic slowdown in Chinese, Russian, and other emerging economies and market contraction in Japan. In the Industry and Others Business Unit, sales of semiconductor lithography equipment and FPD lithography equipment increased significantly supported by proactive capital investment by customers.

Meanwhile, the Company is shifting its business structure toward the B2B domain, which is expected to deliver sustainable and stable growth and high profitability going forward. In the current business term, aiming to strengthen the network camera business significantly, the Canon Group welcomed Sweden-based company, Axis, the global leader in the industry. In the area of life sciences, aiming to enter into the genetic diagnostics domain, the Canon Group established

Canon BioMedical, Inc. in the U.S. and announced a reagent for use in extraction of gene sequence information as its first product. In the area of semiconductor manufacturing equipment, we accelerated the development of nanoimprint technology, which is considered to be an increasingly promising next-generation nano-processing technology.

Consolidated net sales for the current business term was 3,800.3 billion yen (up 2.0% from the previous term), as lower sales of digital cameras and other products were offset by increased sales from Océ and of industrial equipment. On the other hand, due to increases in development investment for strengthening new businesses and expenses associated with the acquisition of Axis, income before income taxes was 347.4 billion yen (down 9.3% from the previous term) on a consolidated basis. Consolidated net income attributable to Canon Inc. was 220.2 billion yen (down 13.6% from the previous term).

On a non-consolidated basis, we recorded net sales of 2,091.1 billion yen (up 0.3% from the previous term), ordinary profit of 269.8 billion yen (up 8.2% from the previous term), and net income of 212.0 billion yen (up 20.8% from the previous term).

Highlights of Consolidated Results

- Consolidated net sales increased 2.0% compared with the previous term despite being impacted by the economic slowdown in China and other emerging countries. This mainly reflects sales of highly competitive products, proactive efforts to expand sales, and solid capital investment demand in industrial equipment market and the consolidation of Axis.
- Gross profit ratio was at a record high level thanks to initiatives to improve profitability, such as shifting to high value-added products and cost-cutting activities throughout the Canon Group. Consolidated net income attributable to Canon Inc. decreased 13.6% compared with the previous term, however, mainly due to increases in R&D expenses related to new businesses and products.

Business Conditions by Operations

Office Business Unit

In the area of office multifunction devices, the shift in demand from monochrome to color machines that has been ongoing in recent years advanced further. Sales of monochrome machines that fell significantly in China also unavoidably declined in other regions. As for color machines, the imageRUNNER ADVANCE C3300 series of compact color machines that offer an excellent balance of image quality, operability, productivity, and total cost, were launched and delivered strong sales in Japan, the U.S. and Europe, and in other parts of the world. Additionally, sales of the imageRUNNER ADVANCE C5200 series of medium- to high-speed color machines that offer improved security functions were also solid, particularly in the U.S. and Europe. As a result, sales of office multifunction devices, including monochrome and color machines, remained at roughly the same level as the previous term.

In the area of digital production printing systems, sales of the imagePRESS C800 series were brisk all over the world, driving a significant increase in unit market share in the light-production category. In the high-end market, sales of the Océ VarioPrint 6000 series, manufactured by Océ, were strong, particularly in Europe. The start of sales of Océ's first high-speed sheet-fed color inkjet press, the Océ VarioPrint i300, were also strong. As a result, overall sales of digital production printing systems exceeded the results of the previous term.

As for laser multifunction printers (MFPs) and laser printers, sales decreased from the previous term due to market contraction in China and Russia and the impact of decreased demand for monochrome machines on a global scale.

As a result, sales for this business unit increased by 1.5% on a consolidated basis and decreased by 0.2% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

Imaging System Business Unit

In the interchangeable lens digital cameras area, unit sales declined as the overall market environment remained challenging mainly due to the effect of the economic slowdown in China and Russia. However, there were some bright signs, including unit sales in Japan and the U.S., which started to increase in the middle of the business term. In this situation, we maintained the No. 1 global market share position in terms of units by further expanding the product lineup through the launch of six new products, including the EOS 5DS/5DS R, which has the highest resolution in the history of EOS, and EOS M3 and EOS M10 mirrorless models.

Unit sales of compact digital cameras declined as the market continued to shrink due to the spread of smartphones. Profitability, however, improved thanks to a higher proportion of sales coming from high value-added products, such as the new product PowerShot G5 X.

The CINEMA EOS SYSTEM of digital cinema cameras targeting the motion picture production industry, delivered strong sales, driven particularly by the new EOS C300 Mark II. Sales of digital camcorders for consumer use were also firm.

Sales of broadcast equipment were robust as demand for models suitable for live sports broadcasting and demand in China and other countries for high-definition equipment continued to be strong. In addition, a new zoom lens the CN20x 50 IAS H for large-sensor 4K cameras received favorable market responses.

In the area of inkjet printers, we made sales expansion efforts across all models from home-use to professional-use such as PIXMA PRO-10S, which provides the finest image-quality targeting professional photographers. As a result, sales in the U.S. and Germany were firm. However, overall unit sales fell short of the results of the previous term due to the significant impact of shrinking markets, particularly in Japan and other Asian countries.

We maintained unit sales of large-format inkjet printers roughly at the same level as the previous term, despite the deterioration of market conditions. Meanwhile, sales revenues from consumables increased favorably as the number of units operating at customer sites is increasing steadily.

As a result, sales for this business unit decreased by 5.9% on a consolidated basis and by 2.8% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

Industry and Others Business Unit

In relation to semiconductor lithography equipment, there was proactive capital investment for memory manufacturing on the back of increasing demand for mobile devices such as smartphones and cloud servers. As a result, sales of the FPA-5550iZ, an i-line lithography tool and the FPA-6300ES6a, a KrF lithography tool that boasts high productivity, were strong. Sales of lithography equipment that are suitable for power semiconductors and LED manufacturing also increased significantly.

As for FPD lithography equipment, the increase in capital investment for large-size panels by panel manufacturers is providing a tailwind to the Company. As a result, sales of equipment for large-size panels, such as the MPAsp-H800 series, grew significantly.

In the area of medical equipment, although we focused on the sales promotion of high image-quality wireless models equipped with an auto X-ray detection function in our mainstay digital radiography systems segment, sales struggled due to, among others, fierce price competition.

As for network cameras, the market is steadily expanding on the back of the rising awareness about security and safety and the diversification of use. Sales revenues increased considerably from the previous term as we significantly enhanced the product lineup in response to such developments and carried out sales promotion activities. The Canon Group also strengthened the business further by welcoming Axis, a global leader in the network camera industry with excellent product development capabilities as well as sales and service network.

Sales revenues from document scanners manufactured by Canon Electronics Inc. were nearly flat with the previous term as a whole, as the drop in sales in the U.S. was offset by the sales growth in Europe and Asia.

Sales revenues from semiconductor film deposition equipment manufactured by Canon ANELVA Corporation, organic LED (OLED) panel manufacturing equipment by Canon Tokki Corporation, and FA systems and semiconductor manufacturing equipment by Canon Machinery Inc. all increased due to the increase in capital investment by their customers.

As a result of the above, sales for this business unit increased by 31.6% on a consolidated basis and by 35.7% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

(4) Business Challenges and Countermeasures

In the global economy, although developed countries are on a path to partial recovery there is ongoing slowdown in China's economy. As such, global economic growth is expected to remain modest. In addition, due to a decline in resource prices and increased geopolitical risk, the situation remains uncertain.

Under these circumstances, the Canon Group embarked on a new five-year plan, Phase V of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan. Under the basic policy of Embracing the challenge of new growth through a grand strategic transformation, the Canon Group aims to achieve net sales of 5 trillion yen or more, an operating profit ratio of 15% or more, a net income ratio of 10% or more, and a shareholders' equity ratio of 70% or more while pursuing the following challenges in particular.

1. Establish a new production system to achieve a cost-of-sales ratio of 45%

Strengthen domestic mother factories by further promoting the return of production to Japan and the integration of design, procurement, production engineering, and manufacturing technology operations. At the same time, pursue total cost reductions through the promotion of such advanced production engineering technologies as robotics and automation.

2. Reinforce and expand new businesses while creating future businesses

Create and expand new businesses by accelerating the horizontal expansion of existing business. Additionally, concentrate management resources and make effective use of M&A to accelerate the expansion of promising business domains such as commercial printing, network cameras and life sciences.

3. Restructure the global sales network in accordance with market changes

Review existing sales organizations and reinforce omni-channel marketing that integrates online and brick-and-mortar sales routes while strengthening and expanding solutions-driven businesses with the aim of solving issues faced by customers. Additionally, continue focusing energies on developing marketing in emerging countries.

4. Enhance R&D capabilities through open innovation

Discard the strict notion of self-sufficiency and construct an R&D system that proactively leverages external technologies and knowledge. Particularly in the fundamental research domain, promote joint and contract research with various partners such as domestic and foreign universities and research institutes.

5. Complete the Three Regional Headquarters management system capturing world dynamism

Acquire multiple new promising businesses through active M&A focused in Japan, the U.S. and Europe while also accelerating diversification that leverages geographical characteristics, and complete the Three Regional Headquarter management system, under which Japan, the U.S. and Europe will each roll out businesses globally.

In addition, while establishing the structure to more effectively discover and cultivate talented human resources who can operate and perform duties with a global perspective, we are also working to reactivate the Company's founding concepts of "enterprising spirit" and the spirit of the "Three Selves" as the starting point for new growth.

Additionally, under the theme "Taking a decisive first step toward transformation," the following key challenges will be pursued in 2016, the inaugural year of Phase V.

1. Draft and implement plans to revitalize existing businesses

Raise profitability significantly through drastic cost-cutting and work to revitalize businesses, swiftly launching future products that gained favorable reviews at Canon EXPO 2015.

2. Rapidly expand new businesses

Work to speed up expansion and deployment in regard to large-scale businesses such as commercial printing and network cameras that will lead the next generation of Canon.

3. Accelerate efforts aimed at reducing the cost-of-sales ratio

Investigate optimal locations for production sites based on various factors such as currency exchange rates, tax systems, manpower, and logistics, as well as further accelerate cost reductions from the product development stage.

4. Boost sales productivity through marketing reforms

Accelerate efforts to address global growth in e-commerce and work to reinforce the solutions business.

5. Improve R&D productivity through selection and concentration

Apply the selection and concentration process to development themes and boost R&D productivity, especially for software development.

6. Promote the cultivation of global human resources

Build a structure to discover talented individuals from within the entire Canon Group to cultivate global competent human resources capable of performing duties while maintaining an all-encompassing perspective of the world map.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

<Notes to Basic Significant Matters Regarding Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements>

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Group Position

The number of consolidated subsidiaries was 317, and the number of affiliated companies accounted for by the equity method was 5.

2. Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (US GAAP) pursuant to the provision of paragraph 1, Article 120-2 of the Company Accounting Regulations. However, certain disclosures required under US GAAP are omitted pursuant to the provision of the latter part of that paragraph.

3. Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments acquired with an original maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents.

4. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rate of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences are charged or credited to income. Assets and liabilities of subsidiaries located outside Japan are translated into Japanese yen at the rates of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date and income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates prevailing during the year. The resulting translation adjustments are reported in other comprehensive income (loss).

5. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Cost is determined by the average method for domestic inventories and principally the first-in, first-out method for overseas inventories.

6. Investments

Canon accounts for its debt and marketable equity securities as follows. Available-for-sale securities are recorded at fair value. Unrealized holding gains and losses, net of the related tax effect, on available for-sale securities are excluded from earnings and are reported in other comprehensive income (loss) until realized. Realized gain and losses are determined on the average cost method.

7. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated principally by the declining-balance method.

8. Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized, but are instead tested for impairment at least annually in the fourth quarter of each year, or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over the respective estimated useful lives. Software and trademarks are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives, which range primarily from 3 years to 5 years for software and 15 years for trademarks.

9. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Long-lived assets, such as property, plant and equipment, and acquired intangibles subject to amortization, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized in the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

10. Basis of Recording Allowances

(Allowance for doubtful receivables)

An allowance for doubtful receivables is provided based on credit loss history and an evaluation of any specific doubtful receivables.

(Accrued pension and severance cost)

Pension and severance cost is accrued based on the projected benefit obligations and the fair value of plan assets at the balance sheet date. Unrecognized actuarial loss is recognized by amortizing a portion in excess of a corridor (i.e., 10% of the greater of the projected benefit obligations or the fair value of plan assets) using the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of employees. Unrecognized prior service cost or credit is amortized using the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of employees.

11. Taxes Collected from Customers

Taxes collected from customers and remitted to governmental authorities are excluded from revenues, cost and expenses in consolidated statements of income.

12. Stock-Based Compensation

Canon measures stock-based compensation cost at the grant date, based on the fair value of the award, and recognizes the cost on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period.

13. Net Income Attributable to Canon Inc. Shareholders Per Share

Basic net income attributable to Canon Inc. shareholders per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during each year. Diluted net income attributable to Canon Inc. shareholders per share includes the effect from potential issuance of common stock based on the assumption that all stock options were exercised.

<Notes to Financial Instruments>1. Status of Financial Instruments

Canon invests in highly safe and short-term financial instruments.

Canon has certain financial instruments such as trade receivables and securities. Canon reduces the customer credit risk related to trade receivables in accordance with its credit management policy. At December 31, 2015, a major customer accounted for approximately 15% of consolidated trade receivables. Securities consist primarily of equity securities of the companies with which Canon has a business relationship. Derivative financial instruments are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts to reduce the risk. Canon does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading and speculative purposes.

2. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The estimated fair values of Canon's financial instruments as of December 31, 2015 are set forth below. The following summary excludes cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, finance receivables, noncurrent receivables, short-term loans, trade payables and accrued expenses for which fair values approximate their carrying amounts. The following summary excludes non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the cost method (balance sheet amount 2,570 million yen) as it was not practicable to estimate the fair value of such investments.

(Millions of yen)

	Carrying amount	Estimated fair value	Difference
Available-for-sale securities	43,401	43,401	-
Long-term debt, including current portion	(1,543)	(1,507)	36
Foreign exchange contracts:
Assets	1,485	1,485	-
Liabilities	(624)	(624)	-

The following methods and assumptions are used to estimate the fair value in the above table.

Available-for-sale securities

Available-for-sale securities are recorded at fair value.

Long-term debt

The fair values of Canon's long-term debt instruments are based on the present value of future cash flows associated with each instrument discounted using current market borrowing rates for similar debt instruments of comparable maturity.

Foreign exchange contracts

The fair values of foreign exchange contracts are measured using quotes obtained from counterparties or third parties, which are periodically validated by pricing models using observable market inputs, such as foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates, based on market approach.

<Note to Business Combination>

On April 15, 2015, the Company acquired 76.1% of the issued shares of Axis AB (Axis), a Sweden-based company listed on Nasdaq Stockholm, a global leader in the network video solution industry, primarily through a public cash tender offer for consideration of 244,725 million yen. As a result, the Company's aggregate interest represents 85.1% of the issued shares of Axis. The Company views its network surveillance camera business as a promising new business area for Canon. Canon aims to provide advanced and high-performance network solutions to its customers and improve its product competitiveness through the acquisition.

The estimated fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed at acquisition date are 60,992 million yen for intangible assets, 259,863 million yen for goodwill, 33,418 million yen for other assets, and 32,462 million yen for assumed liabilities.

<Changes in accounting policies >

Effective from the fiscal year, the Company has applied the Accounting Standard for Retirement Benefits (ASBJ statement No.26 issued on May 17, 2012, hereinafter referred to as the "Accounting Standard") and the Implementation Guidance for Accounting Standard for Retirement Benefits (ASBJ Guidance No.25 revised on March 26, 2015, hereinafter referred to as "Guidance"), issued its calculation method for projected benefit obligations and current service costs, and changed its method of attributing expected benefits to periods from the straight-line basis to the benefit formula basis. In addition, the Company has changed the method for determining the discount rate from one that uses a discount rate based on a period approximate to the expected average remaining working lives of employees, to one that uses a single weighted average discount rate reflecting the estimated timing and amount of the benefit payment.

In accordance with transitional treatments stipulated in paragraph 37 of the Accounting Standard for Retirement Benefits, at the beginning of the fiscal year under review, effects of changes in calculation methods for retirement benefit obligations and service costs were reflected in retained earnings brought forward.

As a result, as of January 1, 2015, accrued pension and severance cost increased by 4,539 million yen, and retained earnings brought forward decreased by 2,951 million yen.

In addition, the effect this change has on our operating income, ordinary income, and income before tax is negligible.

The effect this change has on net assets per share, net income per share, and diluted net income per share for the fiscal year is also negligible.
