U.S. Employee Compensation and Benefits FAQ

We have received a number of questions on how the announced merger with Sherwin-Williams impacts Valspar's retirement and bonus programs. The following Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) provide guidance to many of those questions. Should you need additional information, please contact the HR Director for your business or function.

Have there been any changes to the 401(k) and Savings and Retirement plans (Savings Plans) as a result of the merger announcement? Can I continue to invest my Savings Plan contributions in the Valspar stock fund?

The Valspar Savings Plans will continue to operate in their present form, at least until the closing of the merger, which is presently expected to occur by the end of the first calendar quarter of 2017.

The current Company matching contribution opportunity under the 401(k) plan will continue at least through the first anniversary of the closing of the merger. Those employees that are currently eligible to receive the year-end Savings and Retirement (profit sharing) contribution will continue to receive the contributions at the usual times for 2016 and 2017. After these initial transition periods, Sherwin-Williams will determine the savings and retirement benefit offerings.

The Valspar stock fund will remain as an investment choice until shortly before the closing of the merger, at which time it will be frozen and no longer available as an investment option. We will provide you more details prior to the time that the Valspar stock fund is closed to further investment.

You may continue to manage your investments in the Savings Plan, including the Valspar Stock fund, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as prior to the signing of the Merger Agreement. As has always been the case, you may engage in transactions in the Valspar stock fund only if you do not have material, non-public information and are not otherwise prohibited from trading in Valspar stock pursuant to the Valspar Insider Trading Policy.

What happens to the Valspar stock in my Savings Plan account when the merger closes? Do I need to do anything to make sure I receive appropriate value for those shares?

Upon the closing of the merger, or shortly thereafter, the value of your Valspar Stock fund will automatically be converted into the right to receive a cash amount equal to the number of Valspar shares in your account multiplied by the price per share that Sherwin-Williams pays for Valspar stock under the Merger Agreement.

Once the Valspar stock in your account is converted to cash, you can invest these cash proceeds in any other investment options offered within the Savings Plan.

The conversion of Valspar stock to cash within your Savings Plan account will not be taxable. However, you should consult with your tax advisor prior to requesting any distribution from the Savings Plans, as such distributions can have significant income tax consequences.

Can I continue to participate in the Savings Plans after the closing of the merger? Will Sherwin-Williams offer a 401(k) or savings plan to Valspar employees once the Valspar Savings Plans are closed for new contributions?

There will be a transition period following the closing of the merger during which Sherwin-Williams will continue operating the Savings Plans.

Sherwin-Williams will offer Valspar employees the opportunity to join the Sherwin-Williams savings programs once the Valspar Savings Plans are closed for contributions. Sherwin-Williams will communicate additional information regarding its retirement and savings programs as part of the post-closing integration process.

Can I still purchase Valspar stock with payroll deductions through the Employee Stock Purchase Program (ESPP)?

Yes, U.S. employees may continue to purchase Valspar stock through payroll deductions based on the terms of the ESPP.

However, the ESPP will stop accepting the employee contributions prior to the closing of the merger, after which employees will be unable to purchase Valspar stock through the ESPP. We will notify you when we have more information about the ESPP's closing.

What happens to the shares of Valspar stock I own from prior ESPP purchases or in an external brokerage account when the merger is completed?

Upon the closing of the merger, any shares of Valspar stock that you own will convert to a cash amount equal to the number of the Valspar shares you own multiplied by the share price that Sherwin-Williams pays for Valspar stock under the Merger Agreement. The proceeds from this conversion will be deposited into your brokerage account after the closing of the merger.

You do not need to take any action now. After the closing of the merger, you will receive notice and instructions for how to exchange any shares you own for a cash payment.

The payment (or a portion of the payment) you receive for any shares of Valspar stock that you own either from prior ESPP purchases or in an external brokerage account will be taxable to you. You should consult your tax advisor to discuss the tax consequences of this conversion.

Does the Valshare (or Sales Incentive Plan) bonus program continue for FY16? How will bonuses be calculated for FY16?

Yes, the annual Valshare bonus (or Sales Incentive Plan bonus, for sales employees) continues for FY16.

Valshare bonuses in FY16 will be based on the actual achievement of the business objectives and financial targets set forth in the Valshare plan for the business group in which you work.

For this reason, it is extremely important that we all remain focused on delivering on the business plans that were developed at the beginning of FY16.

How will Valshare (or Sales Incentive Plan) bonuses work in FY17?

Sherwin-Williams has provided assurance that, for at least one year after the closing date, Valspar employees will have base salaries and bonus opportunities no less favorable than they had prior to the merger. Programs applicable after the merger closes will be communicated at such time.
