Subject: An Important Message from Our Chairman and CEO

Email Headline: Our Future Leadership for the New Post-Acquisition Bank

Dear Colleagues:

Earlier today, TIAA announced the future board and executive leadership for the new bank that will be created by the combination of EverBank and TIAA's direct bank after TIAA's acquisition of our company is completed.

I'm very pleased to tell you that Blake Wilson, our president and chief operating officer, has been named future president, chief executive officer and board director of the new bank, after the transaction is consummated. In this role, Blake will oversee the management of a new, combined nationwide banking platform serving consumer and commercial clients with an even broader array of banking, lending and investing products.

Kathie Andrade, who currently serves as chief executive officer of TIAA's Retail Financial Services business, has been named future chairman of the board of the new bank. Kathie also will continue in her role leading Retail Financial Services.

Today, I'm announcing that I will be retiring as chairman and chief executive officer of EverBank Financial Corp once this transaction closes. I'm very happy to tell you that I have agreed to serve as a member of the new bank's board of directors, after the transaction is completed sometime in the first half of 2017.

As I said last month when we announced the acquisition, this is an incredibly important and exciting new chapter in EverBank's journey. By joining with TIAA, EverBank will be able to continue to grow and serve our clients and the communities where we work and live.

This week, teams from EverBank and TIAA are meeting to create the framework for the assessment and transition process to bring our two companies together. We have a great deal of important work to do on this process in the months ahead, and in the meantime all of us must remain sharply focused on the important job of serving our clients.

Today's future leadership announcement is great news, and I hope you will join me in congratulating Blake on his new future role.

Sincerely,

Rob Clements

Chairman and CEO
