INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Stockholders and Board of Directors

NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying historical statement of revenues and certain direct operating expenses of The Phoenix Portfolio (the Properties) for the year ended December 31, 2018, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and in accordance with applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission for real estate properties acquired; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues and certain direct operating expenses of the Properties for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and in accordance with applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission for real estate properties acquired.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 2 to the accompanying financial statement, which describes that the statement of revenues and certain direct operating expenses of the Properties were prepared for the purpose of complying with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (for the inclusion on Form 8-K/A of NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc.) and is not intended to be a complete presentation of the Properties' revenues and expenses. Our opinion has not been modified with respect to this matter.

Note 2. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying Historical Summary has been prepared for the purpose of complying with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC), and is not intended to be a complete presentation of the Portfolio's revenues and expenses.

The accompanying statements of revenues and certain operating expenses are presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and in accordance with the provisions of Rule 3-14 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC, which requires certain information with respect to real estate operations be included with certain filings with the SEC. Accordingly, the statements exclude certain historical income and expenses that are not comparable to the proposed future operations of the Portfolio such as certain ancillary income, amortization, depreciation, interest and corporate expenses. Therefore, the statements will not be comparable to the statements of operations of the Portfolio after their acquisition by the Company and are not intended to be a complete representation of the Portfolio's revenues and expenses.

Note 3. Significant Accounting PoliciesRevenues

The Portfolio contains apartment units occupied under various lease agreements with residents, typically with terms of 12 months or less. All leases are accounted for as operating leases. Rental income is recognized as earned over the life of the lease agreements on a straight-line basis. Some of the leases include provisions under which the Portfolio is reimbursed for certain operating costs. Revenue related to these reimbursed costs is recognized in the period the applicable costs are incurred and billed to residents pursuant to the lease agreements. Other rental income consists of charges billed to residents for utilities reimbursements, administrative, application, and other fees and is recognized when earned.

Certain Direct Operating Expenses

Certain direct operating expenses include only those costs expected to be comparable to the proposed future operations of the Portfolio. Portfolio operating costs includes property staff salaries, marketing, utilities, landscaping, repairs and maintenance, and other general costs associated with operating the Portfolio. Costs such as depreciation, amortization, interest, and professional fees are excluded from the Historical Summary.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements, as described in Note 2 and in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could materially differ from those estimates.
