MEDIA RELEASE

South African Government Approves All Gold Fields'
Mining Licenses

Johannesburg, 10 November 2006: Gold Fields Limited (Gold Fields) (NYSE: GFI; JSE: GFI; DIFX: GFI) is pleased to announce that the South African Department of Minerals and Energy has formally approved the conversion of the company's old-order mining licenses into new order licenses. This applies to all three of the Company's operating mines in South Africa: the Driefontein, Kloof and Beatrix gold mines.

Ian Cockerill, Chief Executive Officer of Gold Fields, said: “The conversion of our mining licenses is a significant milestone for Gold Fields and is a reflection of our commitment to South Africa and, in particular, to the transformation of our company and industry. I thank all of our stakeholders who have assisted us in this process, for their hard work and for sharing our vision for the future.”

“Now that we have secured our South African mining licenses for the life of our mines, we can concentrate on growing and developing our company to the benefit of all of our stakeholders. To this end we recently announced additional new capital investments of more than R25 billion into South Africa, which will ensure that we remain the premier gold producer in South Africa for at least the next 30 years,” added Cockerill.

In order to convert old order mining licenses into new order licenses, companies must meet the requirements of the Mineral and Petroleum Resources Development Act (MPRDA) 28 of 2002, which was enacted in May 2004, as well as the Broad Based Socio-Economic Empowerment Charter for the South African Mining Industry and the associated Scorecard for the Mining Industry.

The South African Minister of Minerals and Energy, Ms Buyelwa Sonjica, said: “The government of South Africa welcomes the bold step taken by Gold Fields with regards the conversion of their mining licences. This conversion was made possible by the company’s response to the requirements of the MPRDA. The step taken by Gold Fields also shows their commitment to government’s transformation agenda, and the push for a better life for all the people of this country. Their compliance with the requirements of the Social and Labour Plan will ensure benefit for all, and we believe that there will be spin-offs that will further ensure satisfaction on all fronts.

“It is my belief that, as more companies apply for and receive approval for the conversion of their old order licences, they will be encouraged to apply for new mining licences, which licences will lead to new investments. These new investments will be a critical factor in the creation of new jobs which will further enhance the lives of the people of South Africa,” said Minister Sonjica.
