MORNINGSTAR, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Basis of Presentation of Interim Financial Information

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements of Morningstar, Inc. and subsidiaries (Morningstar, we, our, the Company) have been prepared to conform to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates. In the opinion of management, the statements reflect all adjustments, which are of a normal recurring nature, necessary to present fairly our financial position, results of operations, equity, and cash flows. These financial statements and notes should be read in conjunction with our Consolidated Financial Statements and Notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010, filed with the SEC on February 28, 2011.

The acronyms that appear in the Notes to our Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements refer to the following:

ASC: Accounting Standards Codification
ASU: Accounting Standards Update
EITF: Emerging Issues Task Force
FASB: Financial Accounting Standards Board
SAB: Staff Accounting Bulletin
SEC: Securities and Exchange Commission

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

We discuss our significant accounting policies in Note 3 of our Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010, filed with the SEC on February 28, 2011.

In June 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-05, Presentation of Comprehensive Income. In accordance with ASU No. 2011-05, we present the total of comprehensive income, the components of net income, and the components of other comprehensive income (OCI) in two separate but consecutive statements, our Consolidated Statement of Income and separately, a Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. We no longer present total comprehensive income in our Consolidated Statement of Equity. In addition, we now show the effects of items reclassified from OCI to net income on the face of our Consolidated Statement of Income.

Also, effective January 1, 2011, we adopted FASB ASU No. 2009-13, Revenue Recognition (Topic 605): Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements. ASU 2009-13 supersedes EITF Issue 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables and establishes the accounting and reporting guidance for arrangements when a vendor performs multiple revenue-generating activities, addresses how to separate deliverables, and specifies how to measure and allocate arrangement consideration. We are applying this guidance for revenue arrangements entered into or materially modified from January 1, 2011. The adoption of ASU 2009-13 does not significantly affect either the timing or amount of our revenue recognition.

In conjunction with the adoption of ASU 2009-13, we have updated our disclosures concerning revenue recognition, as follows:

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

Revenue recognition: We recognize revenue in accordance with SEC SAB Topic 13, Revenue Recognition, ASC 605-25, Revenue Recognition: Multiple Element Arrangements, and ASC 985-605, Software: Revenue Recognition.

We recognize revenue when all of the following conditions are met:

- There is persuasive evidence of an arrangement, as evidenced by a signed contract;
- Delivery of our products and services is a prerequisite for recognition of revenue. If arrangements include an acceptance provision, we generally begin recognizing revenue upon the receipt of customer acceptance;
 - The amount of fees to be paid by the customer is fixed or determinable;
 - and
- The collectibility of the fees is reasonably assured.

Table of Contents

We generate revenue through sales of Licensed Data, Morningstar Advisor Workstation (including Morningstar Office), Morningstar Direct, Morningstar Equity Research, Premium Membership fees for Morningstar.com, and a variety of other investment-related products and services. We generally structure the revenue agreements for these offerings as licenses or subscriptions. We recognize revenue from licenses and subscription sales ratably as we deliver the product or service and over the service obligation period defined by the terms of the customer contract.

We also generate revenue from Internet advertising, primarily from “impression-based” contracts. For advertisers who use our cost-per-impression pricing, we charge fees each time we display their ads on our site.

Investment Consulting includes a broad range of services. Pricing for the consulting services is based on the scope of work and the level of service required, and includes asset-based fees for work we perform that involves investment management or acting as a subadvisor to investment portfolios. In arrangements that involve asset-based fees, we generally invoice clients quarterly in arrears based on average assets for the quarter. We recognize asset-based fees once the fees are fixed and determinable assuming all other revenue recognition criteria are met.

Our Retirement Solutions offerings help retirement plan participants plan and invest for retirement. We offer these services both through retirement plan providers (typically third-party asset management companies that offer proprietary mutual funds) and directly to plan sponsors (employers that offer retirement plans to their employees). For our Retirement Solutions offerings, we provide both a hosted solution as well as proprietary installed software advice solution. Clients can integrate the installed customized software into their existing systems to help investors accumulate wealth, transition into retirement, and manage income during retirement. The revenue arrangements for Retirement Solutions generally extend over multiple years. Our contracts may include one-time setup fees, implementation fees, technology licensing and maintenance fees, asset-based fees for managed retirement accounts, fixed and variable fees for advice and guidance, or a combination of these fee structures. Upon customer acceptance, we recognize revenue ratably over the term of the agreement. We recognize asset-based fees and variable fees in excess of any minimum once the value is fixed and determinable.

Some of our revenue arrangements with our customers combine multiple products and services. These products and services may be provided at different points in time or over different time periods within the same arrangement. We allocate fees to the separate deliverables based on the deliverables’ relative selling price, which is generally based on the price we charge when the same deliverable is sold separately.

We record taxes imposed on revenue-producing transactions (such as sales, use, value-added, and some excise taxes) on a net basis; therefore, we exclude such taxes from revenue in our Consolidated Statements of Income.

Deferred revenue represents the portion of subscriptions billed or collected in advance of the service being provided, which we expect to recognize as revenue in future periods. Certain arrangements may have cancellation or refund provisions. If we make a refund, it typically reflects the amount collected from a customer for which we have not yet provided services. The refund therefore results in a reduction of deferred revenue.

4. Income Per Share

We compute income per share based on the two-class method, in accordance with FASB ASC 260-10-45-59A, Participating Securities and the Two Class Method. We issued restricted shares in conjunction with the Realpoint acquisition. Because the restricted shares contain nonforfeitable rights to dividends, they meet the criteria of a participating security. Under the two-class method, earnings are allocated between common stock and participating securities. The two-class method includes an earnings allocation formula that determines earnings per share for each class of common stock according to dividends declared and undistributed earnings for the period. We reduce our reported net earnings by the amount allocated to participating securities to arrive at the earnings allocated to common stock shareholders for purposes of calculating earnings per share.

ASC 260-10-45-59A requires the dilutive effect of participating securities to be calculated using the more dilutive of the treasury stock or the two-class method. We have determined the two-class method to be the more dilutive of the two methods. As such, we adjusted the earnings allocated to common stock shareholders in the basic earnings per share calculation for the reallocation of undistributed earnings to participating securities to calculate diluted earnings per share.

The following table shows how we reconcile our net income and the number of shares used in computing basic and diluted income per share:

The Investment Information segment also includes Morningstar Equity Research, which we sell to other companies that purchase our research for their own use or provide our research to their affiliated advisors or individual investor clients.

Investment Management. The Investment Management segment includes all of our asset management operations, which earn the majority of their revenue from asset-based fees.

The key products and services in this segment based on revenue are Investment Consulting, which focuses on investment monitoring and asset allocation for funds of funds, including mutual funds and variable annuities; Retirement Solutions, including the Morningstar Retirement Manager and Advice by Ibbotson platforms; and Morningstar Managed Portfolios, a fee-based discretionary asset management service that includes a series of mutual fund, ETF, and stock portfolios tailored to meet a range of investment time horizons, risk levels, and investment strategies that financial advisors can use for their clients' taxable and tax-deferred accounts.

Our segment accounting policies are the same as those described in Note 2, except for the capitalization and amortization of internal product development costs, amortization of intangible assets, and costs related to corporate functions. We exclude these items from our operating segment results to provide our chief operating decision maker with a better indication of each segment's ability to generate cash flow. This information is one of the criteria used by our chief operating decision maker in determining how to allocate resources to each segment. We include capitalization and amortization of internal product development costs, amortization of intangible assets, and costs related to corporate functions in the Corporate Items category. Our segment disclosures are consistent with the business segment information provided to our chief operating decision maker on a recurring basis; for that reason, we don't present balance sheet information by segment. We disclose goodwill by segment in accordance with the requirements of FASB ASC 350-20-50, Intangibles - Goodwill - Disclosure.

The table below shows the cost and fair value of investments classified as available-for-sale and held-to-maturity based on their contractual maturities as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010. The expected maturities of certain fixed-income securities may differ from their contractual maturities because some of these holdings have call features that allow the issuers the right to prepay obligations without penalties.

9. Stock-Based Compensation

Stock-Based Compensation Plans

In November 2004, we adopted the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan. The 2004 Stock Incentive Plan provides for grants of options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock units, and performance shares. All of our employees and our non-employee directors are eligible for awards under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan. Since the adoption of the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan, we have granted stock options, restricted stock units, and restricted stock.

Prior to November 2004, we granted stock options under various plans, including the 1993 Stock Option Plan, the 2000 Morningstar Stock Option Plan, and the 2001 Morningstar Stock Option Plan (collectively, the Prior Plans). The 2004 Stock Incentive Plan amends and restates the Prior Plans. Under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan, we will not grant any additional options under any of the Prior Plans, and any shares subject to an award under any of the Prior Plans that are forfeited, canceled, settled, or otherwise terminated without a distribution of shares, or withheld by us in connection with the exercise of options or in payment of any required income tax withholding, were not available for awards under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan.

In May 2011, we adopted the 2011 Stock Incentive Plan (the 2011 Plan). With the adoption of the 2011 Plan, we will not grant any additional awards under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan. The 2011 Plan provides for grants of options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock units, and performance shares. All of our employees and our non-employee directors are eligible for awards under the 2011 Plan. Grants awarded under the 2011 Plan or the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan that are forfeited, canceled, settled, or otherwise terminated without a distribution of shares, or shares withheld by us in connection with the exercise of options will be available for awards under the 2011 Plan. Any shares subject to awards under the 2011 Plan, but not under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan, that are withheld by us in connection with the payment of any required income tax withholding will be available for awards under the 2011 Plan.

The following table summarizes the number of shares available for future grants under our 2011 Plan:

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes the amount of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense as of September 30, 2011 and the expected number of months over which the expense will be recognized:

	Unrecognized stock-based compensation expense ($000)	Expected amortization period (months)
Restricted stock units	$ 30,520	34
Restricted stock	6,363	43
Stock options	1,843	42
Total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense	$ 38,726	36

In accordance with FASB ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, we estimate forfeitures of employee stock-based awards and recognize compensation cost only for those awards expected to vest. Because our largest annual equity grants typically have vesting dates in the second quarter, we adjust the stock-based compensation expense at that time to reflect those awards that ultimately vested and update our estimate of the forfeiture rate that will be applied to awards not yet vested.

Restricted Stock Units

Restricted stock units represent the right to receive a share of Morningstar common stock when that unit vests. Restricted stock units granted under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan to employees vest ratably over a four-year period. Restricted stock units granted to non-employee directors vest ratably over a three-year period. For restricted stock units granted through December 31, 2008, employees could elect to defer receipt of the Morningstar common stock issued upon vesting of the restricted stock unit.

We measure the fair value of our restricted stock units on the date of grant based on the closing market price of the underlying common stock on the day prior to grant. We amortize that value to stock-based compensation expense, net of estimated forfeitures, ratably over the vesting period.

The following table summarizes restricted stock unit activity during the first nine months of 2011:

Restricted Stock Units (RSUs)	Unvested	Vested but Deferred	Total	Weighted Average Grant Date Value per RSU
RSUs outstanding—December 31, 2010	777,666	45,189	822,855	$ 47.14

Restricted Stock

In conjunction with the Realpoint acquisition in May 2010, we issued 199,174 shares of restricted stock to the selling employee-shareholders under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan. The restricted stock vests ratably over a five-year period from the acquisition date and may be subject to forfeiture if the holder terminates his or her employment during the vesting period.

Because of the terms of the restricted share agreements prepared in conjunction with the Realpoint acquisition, we account for the grant of restricted shares as stock-based compensation expense and not as part of the acquisition consideration. See Note 3, in the Notes to our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, for additional information concerning the Realpoint acquisition.

Table of Contents

We measured the fair value of the restricted stock on the date of grant based on the closing market price of our common stock on the day prior to the grant. We amortize the fair value of $9,363,000 to stock-based compensation expense over the vesting period. The stock-based compensation expense recorded in the first nine months of 2011 includes approximately $396,000 of expense recognized upon the accelerated vesting of a restricted stock grant. We have assumed that all of the remaining restricted stock will ultimately vest, and therefore we have not incorporated a forfeiture rate for purposes of determining the stock-based compensation expense.

Stock Options

Stock options granted under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan to employees vest ratably over a four-year period. Grants to our non-employee directors vest ratably over a three-year period. All grants expire 10 years after the date of grant. Almost all of the options granted under this plan have a premium feature in which the exercise price increases over the term of the option at a rate equal to the 10-year Treasury bond yield as of the date of grant.

In May 2011, we granted 86,106 stock options under the 2004 Stock Incentive Plan. We estimated the fair value of the options on the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The fair value of these options using this model was $23.75 per share, based on the following assumptions:

Assumptions for Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model

Expected life (years):	7.4
Volatility factor:	35.1	%
Dividend yield:	0.35	%

Excess Tax Benefits Related to Stock-Based Compensation

FASB ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, requires that we classify the cash flows that result from excess tax benefits as financing cash flows. Excess tax benefits correspond to the portion of the tax deduction taken on our income tax return that exceeds the amount of tax benefit related to the compensation cost recognized in our Statement of Income. The following table summarizes our excess tax benefits for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2011 and September 30, 2010:

Effective Tax Rate

The following table shows our effective income tax rate for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2011 and September 30, 2010:

($000)	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	2011	2010

Effective tax rate	36.6	% 32.6	% 33.6	% 34.5	%

Our effective tax rate in the third quarter of 2011 was 36.6%, an increase of 4.0 percentage points compared with the prior-year period. The effective tax rate of 32.6% in the third quarter of 2010 includes a benefit related to non-U.S. income taxes.

Year to date, our effective tax rate was 33.6%, a decrease of 0.9 percentage points, compared with 34.5% in the first nine months of 2010. The year-to-date effective tax rate primarily reflects the positive effect of higher estimated tax benefits for domestic production activities (Internal Revenue Code Section 199) and tax incentives for research and development, most of which relate to prior years. These benefits were largely offset by an increase in unrecognized tax benefits.

Unrecognized Tax Benefits

The table below provides information concerning our gross unrecognized tax benefits as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010. The table also provides the effect these gross unrecognized tax benefits would have on our income tax expense, if they were recognized.

($000)	As of September 30	As of December 31
	2011	2010
Gross unrecognized tax benefits	$11,781	$9,089
Gross unrecognized tax benefits which would affect income tax expense	$11,431	$8,482
Decrease in income tax expense upon recognition of gross unrecognized tax benefits	$(9,680) $(6,895)

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

In the first nine months of 2011, we recorded a net increase of $2,692,000 of gross unrecognized tax benefits, which increased our income tax expense. The majority of this increase relates to the estimated tax benefits and incentives, discussed above.

Our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets include the following liabilities for unrecognized tax benefits. These amounts include interest and penalties, less any associated tax benefits.

We conduct business globally and as a result, we file income tax returns in U.S. federal, state, local, and foreign jurisdictions. In the normal course of business we are subject to examination by tax authorities throughout the world. The open tax years for our U.S. federal tax returns and most state tax returns include the years 2007 to the present. In non-U.S. jurisdictions, the statute of limitations generally extends to years prior to 2004.

We are currently under audit by the U.S. federal and various state and local tax authorities in the United States, as well as tax authorities in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions. It is not likely that the examination phase of some of these audits will conclude in 2011. It is not possible to estimate the effect of current audits on previously recorded unrecognized tax benefits.

Our effective tax rate reflects the fact that we are not recording an income tax benefit related to losses recorded by certain of our non-U.S. operations. The net operating losses (NOLs) may become deductible in certain non-U.S. tax jurisdictions to the extent these non-U.S. operations become profitable. In the year certain non-U.S. entities record a loss, we do not record a corresponding tax benefit, thus increasing our effective tax rate. For each of our operations, we evaluate whether it is more likely than not that the tax benefits related to NOLs will be realized. As part of this evaluation, we consider evidence such as tax planning strategies, historical operating results, forecasted taxable income, and recent financial performance. Upon determining that it is more likely than not that the NOLs will be realized, we reduce the tax valuation allowances related to these NOLs, which results in a reduction to our income tax expense and our effective tax rate in the period.

11. Contingencies

Life's Good S.T.A.B.L. Hedge Fund

In September 2011, Marta Klass, Gregory Martin, and Richard Roellig filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania against Morningstar, Inc. and several other parties relating to Life's Good S.T.A.B.L. hedge fund. The plaintiffs allege that Morningstar committed fraud and aided and abetted the other defendants' breach of fiduciary duty in assigning a 5-star rating to the hedge fund. Morningstar believes the allegations against it have no legal or factual basis but cannot predict the outcome of this matter at this time.

InvestPic, LLC

In November 2010, InvestPic, LLC filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware against Morningstar, Inc. and several other companies alleging that each defendant infringes U.S. Patent No. 6,349,291, which relates to methods for performing statistical analysis on investment data and displaying the analyzed data in graphical form. InvestPic seeks, among other things, unspecified damages because of defendants' alleged infringing activities and costs. While Morningstar is vigorously contesting the claims asserted, we cannot predict the outcome of the proceeding.

Egan-Jones Rating Co.

In June 2010, Egan-Jones Rating Co. filed a complaint in the Court of Common Pleas of Montgomery County, Pennsylvania against Realpoint, LLC (now known as Morningstar Credit Ratings, LLC) and Morningstar, Inc. in connection with a December 2007 agreement between Egan-Jones and Morningstar Credit Ratings for certain data-sharing and other services. In addition to damages, Egan-Jones filed a petition seeking an injunction to temporarily prevent Morningstar from offering corporate credit ratings through December 31, 2010. In September 2010, the court denied Egan-Jones's request for a preliminary injunction against Morningstar's corporate credit ratings business. Morningstar Credit Ratings and Morningstar continue to vigorously contest liability on all of Egan-Jones' claims for damages. We cannot predict the outcome of the proceeding.

Business Logic Holding Corporation

In November 2009, Business Logic Holding Corporation filed a complaint in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois against Ibbotson Associates, Inc. and Morningstar, Inc. relating to Ibbotson's prior commercial relationship with Business Logic. Business Logic is alleging that Ibbotson Associates and Morningstar violated Business Logic's rights by using its trade secrets to develop a proprietary web-service software and user interface that connects plan participant data with the Ibbotson Wealth Forecasting Engine. Business Logic seeks, among other things, injunctive relief and unspecified damages. Ibbotson and Morningstar answered the complaint, and Ibbotson asserted a counterclaim against Business Logic alleging trade secret misappropriation and breach of contract, seeking damages and injunctive relief. While Morningstar and Ibbotson Associates are vigorously contesting the claims against them, we cannot predict the outcome of the proceeding.

Morningstar Associates, LLC Subpoena from the New York Attorney General's Office

In December 2004, Morningstar Associates, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Morningstar, Inc., received a subpoena from the New York Attorney General's office seeking information and documents related to an investigation the New York Attorney General's office is conducting. The subpoena asked for documents relating to the investment consulting services the company offers to retirement plan providers, including fund lineup recommendations for retirement plan sponsors. Morningstar Associates has provided the requested information and documents.

In 2005, Morningstar Associates received subpoenas seeking information and documents related to investigations being conducted by the SEC and United States Department of Labor. The subpoenas were similar in scope to the New York Attorney General subpoena. In January 2007 and September 2009, respectively, the SEC and Department of Labor each notified Morningstar Associates that it had ended its investigation, with no enforcement action, fines, or penalties.

In January 2007, Morningstar Associates received a Notice of Proposed Litigation from the New York Attorney General's office. The Notice centers on disclosure relating to an optional service offered to retirement plan sponsors (employers) that select 401(k) plan services from ING, one of Morningstar Associates' clients. The Notice gave Morningstar Associates the opportunity to explain why the New York Attorney General's office should not institute proceedings. Morningstar Associates promptly submitted its explanation and has cooperated fully with the New York Attorney General's office.

We cannot predict the scope, timing, or outcome of this matter, which may include the institution of administrative, civil, injunctive, or criminal proceedings, the imposition of fines and penalties, and other remedies and sanctions, any of which could lead to an adverse impact on our stock price, the inability to attract or retain key employees, and the loss of customers. We also cannot predict what impact, if any, this matter may have on our business, operating results, or financial condition.

Other Matters

In addition to these proceedings, we are involved in legal proceedings and litigation that have arisen in the normal course of our business. Although the outcome of a particular proceeding can never be predicted, we do not believe that the result of any of these other matters will have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results, or financial position.

12. Quarterly Dividend and Share Repurchase Programs

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

On September 23, 2011, our board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of 5 cents per share, payable on October 31, 2011 to shareholders of record as of October 14, 2011. As of September 30, 2011, we recorded a liability for dividends payable of $2,505,000.

In September 2010, the board of directors approved a share repurchase program that authorizes the repurchase of up to $100 million in shares of our outstanding common stock. We may repurchase shares from time to time at prevailing market prices on the open market or in private transactions in amounts that we deem appropriate. As of September 30, 2011, we had repurchased a total of 646,682 shares for $35,873,000 under this authorization.

13. Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-04, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs. ASU No. 2011-04 clarifies existing fair value measurement and disclosure requirements, amends certain fair value measurement principles and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. For Morningstar, ASU No. 2011-04 will be applied prospectively beginning on January 1, 2012. We do not expect the provisions of ASU No. 2011-04 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In September 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-08, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350): Testing Goodwill for Impairment. The objective of this Update is to simplify how entities test goodwill for impairment. An entity may first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform the two-step goodwill impairment test described in Topic 350. The more-likely-than-not threshold is defined as having a likelihood of more than 50%. For Morningstar, the amendments are effective for annual and interim goodwill impairment tests performed in 2012. Early adoption will be permitted. We do not expect the provisions of ASU No. 2011-08 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The discussion included in this section, as well as other sections of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, contains forward-looking statements as that term is used in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements are based on our current expectations about future events or future financial performance. Forward-looking statements by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain, and often contain words such as "may," "could," "expect," "intend," "plan," "seek," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue." They involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties that may cause the events we discuss not to occur or to differ significantly from what we expect. For us, these risks and uncertainties include, among others:

- general industry conditions and competition, including ongoing economic weakness and uncertainty;
- the effect of market volatility on revenue from asset-based fees;
- damage to our reputation resulting from claims made about possible conflicts of interest;
- liability for any losses that result from an actual or claimed breach of our fiduciary duties;
- the increasing concentration of data and development work carried out at our offshore facilities in China and India;
- failure to differentiate our products and continuously create innovative, proprietary research tools;
- failure to successfully integrate acquisitions;
- challenges faced by our non-U.S. operations; and
- a prolonged outage of our database and network facilities.

A more complete description of these risks and uncertainties can be found in our other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), including our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010. If any of these risks and uncertainties materialize, our actual future results may vary significantly from what we expect. We do not undertake to update our forward-looking statements as a result of new information or future events.

All dollar and percentage comparisons, which are often accompanied by words such as "increase," "decrease," "grew," "declined," "was up," "was down," "was flat," or "was similar" refer to a comparison with the same period in the prior year unless otherwise stated.

Understanding our Company

Our Business

Our mission is to create great products that help investors reach their financial goals. We offer an extensive line of Internet, software, and print-based products for individual investors, financial advisors, and institutional clients. We also offer asset management services for advisors, institutions, and retirement plan participants. Many of our products are sold through subscriptions or license agreements. As a result, we typically generate recurring revenue.

Our company has two operating segments: The Investment Information segment includes all of our data, software, and research products and services. These products and services are typically sold through subscriptions or license agreements. The Investment Management segment includes all of our asset management operations, which are registered investment advisors and earn more than half of their revenue from asset-based fees.

Over our 27-year history, we have focused primarily on organic growth by introducing new products and services and expanding our existing products. From 2006 through 2010, we also completed approximately 25 acquisitions to support our five key growth strategies, which are:

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

- Enhance our position in each of our key market segments by focusing on our three major Internet-based platforms;
- Create a premier global investment database;
- Continue building thought leadership in independent investment research;
- Become a global leader in fund-of-funds investment management; and
- Expand our international brand presence, products, and services.

Table of Contents

While we may make additional acquisitions to support these growth strategies, our primary focus is on integrating previous acquisitions and driving excellence throughout our organization.

Industry Overview

We monitor developments in the economic and financial information industry on an ongoing basis and use these insights to help inform our company strategy, product development plans, and marketing initiatives.

Continued worries about weak economic growth and sovereign debt issues in the United States and abroad made for volatile markets in the third quarter of 2011. Morningstar's U.S. Market Index, a broad market benchmark, was down sharply, posting a 14.9% decline for the quarter. The Global Ex-U.S. Index dropped 19.5% for the same period. U.S. mutual fund assets were down slightly year over year to $11.0 trillion as of September 30, 2011, based on data from the Investment Company Institute (ICI), compared with $11.3 trillion as of September 30, 2010. While cash inflows remained heavily weighted toward fixed-income funds, outflows from U.S. stock funds lessened a bit toward the end of the quarter. Based on Morningstar's estimated asset flow data, monthly outflows from U.S. stock funds were lower in September 2011 compared with each of the previous three months.

Assets in exchange-traded funds (ETFs) rose to $951 billion as of September 30, 2011, compared with $883 billion as of September 30, 2010, based on data from the ICI.

Based on data from ComScore, aggregate page views, unique users, and pages viewed per visit for financial and investment sites moderately increased compared with the third quarter of 2010. Overall, page views to finance and investment sites were up about 4% compared with the third quarter of 2010, based on ComScore's data. We attribute the rise in page views to individual investors' higher level of interest in specific events, such as the sovereign debt crisis, deficit issues, credit downgrades, and market volatility. Page views to our investment website, Morningstar.com, were generally consistent with these trends, based on Morningstar's internal data.

Although trends in online advertising spending generally remained strong during the third quarter, some industry publications have lowered their forecasts for 2012. For example, Interpublic Group's Magnaglobal division recently reduced its forecasted growth rate for total advertising spending to 3% in 2012, down from 5% previously. Magnaglobal is continuing to forecast a 12% increase in U.S. online advertising spending in 2012, though.

Overall, we believe that business conditions in the financial services sector have been mixed in recent months, and some areas, such as consumer discretionary spending, remain under pressure. In addition, market volatility has increased because of uncertainty about global economic debt and weak economic growth.

We define free cash flow as cash provided by or used for operating activities less capital expenditures. We present free cash flow solely as supplemental disclosure to help you better understand how much cash is available after we spend money to operate our business. Our management team uses free cash flow to evaluate our business. Free cash flow is not equivalent to any measure required to be reported under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). Also, the free cash flow definition we use may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies.

Because we've made several acquisitions in recent years, comparing our financial results from year to year is complex. To make it easier for investors to compare our results in different periods, we provide information on both organic revenue, which reflects our underlying business excluding acquisitions, and revenue from acquisitions. We include an acquired operation as part of our revenue from acquisitions for 12 months after we complete the acquisition. After that, we include it in organic revenue.

Consolidated organic revenue (revenue excluding acquisitions and the impact of foreign currency translations) is considered a non-GAAP financial measure. The definition of organic revenue we use may not be the same as similarly titled measures used by other companies. Organic revenue should not be considered an alternative to any measure of performance as promulgated under GAAP.

Consolidated Revenue

In the third quarter of 2011, our consolidated revenue increased 14.5% to $160.1 million, compared with $139.8 million in the third quarter of 2010. Currency movements had a positive effect in the quarter, contributing approximately $3.7 million, or 2.6 percentage points, to revenue growth. We had $0.9 million in incremental revenue from acquisitions during the third quarter, which contributed about 0.6 percentage points to our consolidated revenue growth.

Excluding acquisitions and the impact of foreign currency translations, our consolidated revenue increased by about $15.6 million, or 11.2%, in the third quarter of 2011 with increases across all major product lines. Leading the growth were Investment Consulting and Morningstar Direct, our institutional research platform, followed by Morningstar Integrated Web Tools and Structured Credit Ratings. Retirement Solutions, Data, and internet advertising from Morningstar.com also contributed to the organic revenue increase, although to a lesser extent.

Revenue for the first nine months of the year increased 17.0% to $472.8 million. We had $15.0 million in incremental revenue from acquisitions during the first nine months of 2011, which contributed about 3.7 percentage points to our consolidated revenue growth. Currency movements also had a positive effect, contributing approximately 2.5 percentage points to revenue growth. Excluding acquisitions and the impact of foreign currency translations, our consolidated revenue increased by about $43.7 million, or 10.8%, in the first nine months of 2011.

The table below reconciles consolidated revenue with organic revenue (revenue excluding acquisitions and the impact of foreign currency translations):

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change

International revenue made up 29.5% of our consolidated revenue in the third quarter and 29.3% in the first nine months of 2011. Revenue from international operations rose $7.4 million, or 18.5%, to $47.3 million for the third quarter. Foreign currency translations also had a positive effect, primarily from the Australian dollar and to a lesser extent the Euro, British Pound, and Canadian dollar. Excluding acquisitions and the effect of foreign currency translations, non-U.S. revenue rose 9.3%, reflecting stronger product sales in Europe.

Revenue from international operations rose 22.9%, or $25.8 million, to $138.4 million in the first nine months of 2011. Acquisitions contributed $5.6 million of additional revenue outside the United States, and foreign currency translations contributed an additional $9.9 million. Excluding acquisitions and the effect of foreign currency translations, non-U.S. revenue rose 9.1%, driven almost entirely by product sales in Europe.

In the third quarter of 2011, our consolidated operating expense increased $16.5 million, or 15.1%. For the first nine months of 2011, operating expense increased $53.1 million, or 16.8%. We completed seven acquisitions in 2010. Because of the timing of these acquisitions, our third quarter and year-to-date results include operating expense that did not exist in the same periods last year. Incremental operating expense from acquired businesses represented less than 5% of the quarter-to-date increase and approximately 25% of the year-to-date increase.

Higher salary expense represented approximately half of the total operating expense increase in the quarter and the year-to-date periods, primarily reflecting salary adjustments that were effective in July 2011. Additional headcount from filling open positions, and to a lesser extent from acquisitions, also contributed to the increase in salary expense. We review employee salaries annually and generally implement salary adjustments in the third quarter. We had approximately 3,395 employees worldwide as of September 30, 2011 compared with 3,165 as of September 30, 2010. Almost 50% of the increase in headcount reflects continued hiring for our development centers in China and India. The remainder of the increase is due to continued hiring in the United States and, to a lesser extent, employees added through acquisitions we completed over the 12 months ending September 30, 2011. The headcount growth includes about 30 employees hired in July 2011 in the United States as part of the Morningstar Development Program, a two-year rotational training program for entry-level college graduates.

Incentive compensation and employee benefit costs represented approximately 35%, or $5.7 million, of the overall operating expense increase in the quarter and 22%, or $11.9 million, year to date. The increase in incentive compensation included higher bonus expense and an increase in sales commissions. Bonus expense increased about $1.6 million in the quarter and $6.0 million year to date. The year-to-date increase in bonus expense was partially offset because bonuses paid in the first quarter were approximately $0.4 million lower than the amount accrued in 2010. Although the net difference was approximately $0.4 million, there were some greater differences by cost category, which we describe below. Our non-U.S. locations contributed the majority of the increase in our sales commission expense.

The increase in employee benefits includes a $0.9 million increase in healthcare benefits costs because of higher medical claims in the third quarter of 2011. In 2011, we reinstated some of the benefits we temporarily suspended in previous years. This included increasing the matching contributions to our 401(k) plan in the United States, representing approximately $0.6 million of additional expense in the third quarter of 2011 and $2.0 million year to date.

General and administrative expense (G&A) in the first nine months of 2011 includes $1.4 million of business tax expense related to prior years. This operating expense was partially offset by a $0.8 million reduction in sales tax accruals and a $0.3 million business tax rebate for our operations in China. G&A in the first nine months of 2011 also includes $3.2 million of expense for a previously announced separation agreement with Tao Huang, our former chief operating officer. Our year-to-date 2010 results included an expense of $1.3 million to increase liabilities for vacant office space. This expense did not recur in the first nine months of 2011.

We capitalized $1.6 million of operating expense in the third quarter of 2011 and $2.6 million in the year-to-date period, primarily for software development within the LIM commodity data business, Structured Credit Ratings, and Morningstar Direct.

Intangible amortization expense increased $0.7 million in the quarter and $2.5 million year to date. The increase primarily reflects amortization expense from 2010 acquisitions.

Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold is our largest category of operating expense, representing more than one-third of our total operating expense. Our business relies heavily on human capital, and cost of goods sold includes the compensation expense for employees who produce our products and services.

Cost of goods sold rose $7.4 million in the third quarter of 2011 and $19.2 million in the first nine months of 2011. Acquisitions contributed approximately 25% of the year-to-date increase in cost of goods sold. Higher salaries contributed approximately 40% of the quarter-to-date increase and 60% of the year-to-date expense increase. Higher bonus expense of $2.3 million for the first nine months of 2011 was offset by a $1.6 million reduction because we paid a smaller portion of the 2010 bonus to employees in this category. Please refer to the section, Bonus Expense, for additional information.

Our gross margin declined in the third quarter as expenses in this category increased at a faster rate compared with revenue growth. Our gross margin improved slightly in the first nine months of 2011.

Development Expense

($000)	Three months ended September 30				Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change		2011	2010	Change

% of revenue	8.4	% 9.1	% (0.7)) pp	8.3	% 8.8	% (0.5)) pp

Development expense increased $0.8 million in the third quarter and $3.7 million in the first nine months of 2011 mainly because of higher salaries and compensation-related expense for our development teams. We capitalized $1.6 million of operating expense in the quarter and $2.6 million in the year-to-date period for software development, reducing the expense that we would otherwise report in this category.

As a percentage of revenue, development expense was down slightly in both the quarter and first nine months of 2011, primarily reflecting the effect of capitalizing operating expense for software development.

Sales and Marketing Expense

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change

% of revenue	17.0	% 16.4	% 0.6 pp	17.0	% 17.3	% (0.3) pp

Sales and marketing expense increased $4.4 million in the third quarter and $10.6 million in the first nine months of 2011. Approximately 20% of the growth in sales and marketing expense for the first nine months of the year was related to recent acquisitions. Higher salary-related expense represents about 40% of the overall expense increase in the third quarter and approximately 50% of the total increase in the first nine months of 2011. Incentive compensation, including commission and bonus expense, also contributed to the increase in the third quarter and first nine months of the year. Travel expense also increased, although to a lesser extent.

As a percentage of revenue, sales and marketing expense was up in the quarter but down slightly in first nine months of 2011 primarily reflecting lower sales commission expense as a percentage of revenue.

General and Administrative Expense

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change
General and administrative expense	$26,431	$23,462	12.7 %	$83,255	$67,211	23.9 %
% of revenue	16.5	% 16.8	% (0.3) pp	17.6	% 16.6	% 1.0 pp

General & Administrative expense (G&A) rose $3.0 million in the third quarter of 2011 and $16.0 million in the first nine months of 2011.

The increase in both periods reflects higher compensation-related expense including higher salaries. Bonus expense included in G&A increased $0.3 million in the quarter and $4.2 million year to date. In the first quarter of 2011, we paid a greater portion of the 2010 bonus to employees in this category compared with our initial estimate, contributing $2.6 million of the year-to-date increase. Please refer to the section, Bonus Expense, for additional information. Higher rent expense, mainly for our new office space in China, also contributed to the growth in G&A, although to a much lesser extent.

G&A in the first nine months of 2011 includes $1.4 million of business tax expense related to prior years. This operating expense was partially offset by a $0.8 million reduction in sales tax accruals and a $0.3 million business tax rebate for our operations in China. G&A in the first nine months of the year also includes $3.2 million of expense for a previously announced separation agreement with Tao Huang, our former chief operating officer.

Our 2010 results include $1.3 million in the first nine months to increase liabilities for vacant office space. In the second quarter of 2010, we increased our liability for vacant office space related to the acquisition of the equity research and data business from C.P.M.S. in Canada. In the first quarter of 2010, we increased our liability for vacant office space for the former Ibbotson headquarters when we finalized sub-lease arrangements for a portion of this space. This expense did not recur in 2011.

As a percentage of revenue, G&A expense declined 0.3 percentage points in the third quarter of 2011. In the first nine months of 2011, G&A as a percentage of revenue increased 1.0 percentage point, primarily because of the $3.2 million of expense for the separation agreement and higher bonus expense.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense

% of revenue	6.8	% 7.1	% (0.3) pp	6.7	% 6.9	% (0.2) pp

Amortization expense increased $0.7 million in the third quarter and $2.5 million in the first nine months of 2011. The majority of the increase in the first nine months of 2011 reflects amortization expense from recent acquisitions. Additional depreciation expense also contributed to the increase, but to a lesser extent.

We expect that amortization of intangible assets will be an ongoing cost for the remaining life of the assets. We estimate that aggregate amortization expense for intangible assets will be approximately $26.3 million in 2011 and $23.9 million in 2012. Our estimates of future amortization expense for intangible assets may be affected by changes to the preliminary purchase price allocations associated with the acquisitions we made in 2010, additional acquisitions, and currency translations.

As a percentage of revenue, depreciation and amortization expense was down slightly in the third quarter and year to date.

Stock-Based Compensation Expense

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change
Restricted stock units	$3,372	$3,277	2.9 %	$9,489	$9,557	(0.7)%

Stock options	135	—	NMF	202	—	NMF
Total stock-based compensation expense	$3,951	$3,745	5.5 %	$11,443	$10,337	10.7 %
% of revenue	2.5	% 2.7	% (0.2) pp	2.4	% 2.6	% (0.2) pp

Our stock-based compensation expense relates to grants of restricted stock units (RSUs), restricted stock, and stock options. We include this cost in each of our operating expense categories. Stock-based compensation expense increased $0.2 million in the third quarter and $1.1 million in the first nine months and was down slightly as a percentage of revenue compared with the same periods in 2010.

We began granting RSUs in May 2006 and make additional grants each year, primarily in the second quarter. We recognize the expense related to RSUs over the vesting period, which is four years for employees and three years for non-employee directors. The expense recorded in the first nine months of 2011 was favorably affected by $0.5 million for restricted stock units that were forfeited in the first quarter.

Beginning in the second quarter of 2010, we began recording expense related to restricted stock issued in conjunction with the acquisition of Realpoint, LLC. In May 2010, we issued 199,174 shares to the selling employee-shareholders.

The restricted stock vests ratably over a five-year period from the acquisition date and may be subject to forfeiture if the holder terminates his or her employment during the vesting period. These grants resulted in an expense of $0.4 million in the third quarter of 2011 and $1.8 million in the first nine months of 2011. The expense in the first nine months of 2011 includes approximately $0.4 million for accelerated vesting of a portion of these restricted stock grants.

Table of Contents

In May 2011, we granted 86,106 stock options to certain employees and our non-employee directors. These stock options vest ratably over a four-year period for employees and a three-year period for non-employee directors and expire 10 years after the date of grant. Using a Black-Scholes option pricing model, we estimated the fair value of these grants to be approximately $2.0 million. We will amortize this value to stock-based compensation expense ratably over the options' vesting period.

We estimate forfeitures of these awards and typically adjust the estimated forfeitures to actual forfeiture experience in the second quarter, which is when most of our larger equity grants typically vest.

Based on grants of RSUs, stock options, and restricted stock made through September 30, 2011, we anticipate that stock-based compensation expense will be approximately $15.4 million in 2011. This amount is subject to change based on additional equity grants or changes in our estimated forfeiture rate related to these grants.

Bonus Expense

The size of our bonus pool varies each year based on a number of items, including changes in full-year operating income relative to the previous year. We review and update our estimates and the bonus pool size quarterly. We record bonus expense throughout the year and pay annual bonuses to employees in the first quarter of the following year.

($000)	Three months ended September 30				Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change		2011	2010	Change
Bonus expense	$10,388	$8,933	16.3	%	$31,503	$25,534	23.4	%
% of revenue	6.5	% 6.4	% 0.1	pp	6.7	% 6.3	% 0.4	pp

Bonus expense, which we include in each of our operating expense categories, increased $1.5 million in the third quarter of 2011 and $6.0 million in the first nine months of 2011.

In the first nine months of 2011, the increase in the bonus expense consisted of 1) an increase of $6.4 million in the year-to-date bonus expense and 2) a difference of $0.4 million between the bonus amounts paid in 2011 (related to 2010 performance) compared with the annual bonus expense recorded in 2010. The table below presents the effect of these two factors by cost category and in total:

($000)	Bonus Expense			Difference between bonuses paid in Q1 2011 (for 2010 performance) vs. 2010 bonus expense	Net Increase in Bonus Expense
	2011 YTD	2010 YTD	Change
Cost of sales	$12,700	$10,397	$2,303	$ (1,577)) $726
Development	5,189	4,061	1,128	(959)) 169

Total bonus expense	$31,951	$25,534	$6,417	$ (448)) $5,969

Although in total the 2010 bonuses paid were approximately $0.4 million lower compared with the amount expensed in 2010, there were some larger differences by cost category. We paid a greater portion of the 2010 bonus to employees in the G&A category compared with our initial estimate.

% of revenue	21.2	% 21.6	% (0.4) pp	22.1	% 22.0	% 0.1 pp

Consolidated operating income increased $3.7 million in the third quarter of 2011 and $15.5 million in the first nine months of 2011. Despite the growth in operating income, our margin was down in the quarter but up slightly in the first nine months of 2011. The margin decline in the third quarter mainly reflects higher company sponsored benefits, including employer sponsored healthcare and matching contributions to our 401(k) program in the United States.

Capitalized operating expense for software development contributed approximately 1.0 percentage points and 0.6 percentage points to our margin in the third quarter and first nine months of 2011, respectively, partially offsetting the decline in the margin.

The $3.2 million of expense recorded in the first quarter related to a separation agreement lowered our year-to-date margin by approximately 0.7 percentage points.

Consolidated Free Cash Flow

As described in more detail above, we define free cash flow as cash provided by or used for operating activities less capital expenditures.

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change
Cash provided by operating activities	$45,160	$35,280	28.0 %	$106,316	$80,310	32.4 %
Capital expenditures	(6,271)	(3,862)	62.4 %	(14,689)	(7,701)	90.7 %
Free cash flow	$38,889	$31,418	23.8 %	$91,627	$72,609	26.2 %

We generated positive free cash flow in both the third quarter and year-to-date periods of 2011 and 2010. Free cash flow increased $7.5 million in the third quarter of 2011, and increased $19.0 million in the first nine months of 2011.

Cash provided by operating activities: Cash provided by operating activities increased $9.9 million in the third quarter of 2011 reflecting a positive cash flow effect generated from an increase in accrued bonus and income tax liabilities, and changes in other operating assets and liabilities.

Cash provided by operating activities in the first nine months of 2011 increased $26.0 million, reflecting the positive cash flow effect of changes in operating assets and liabilities and higher net income (adjusted for non-cash items), partially offset by a $16.1 million increase in bonuses paid in the first quarter of 2011.

To provide investors with additional insight into our financial results, we provide a comparison between the change in consolidated net income and the change in operating cash flow:

Cash provided by operating activities	$45,160	$35,280	$9,880	$106,316	$80,310	$26,006

In both the third quarter and year-to-date periods, the increase in cash from operations exceeded the change in net income adjusted for non-cash items, primarily because of the positive cash flow effect of accrued compensation and accrued income taxes. In addition, the cash flow from operations in the first nine months of 2010 includes a $4.9 million payment related to adjusting the tax treatment of certain stock options originally considered incentive stock options (ISOs). This payment did not recur in 2011. These items, which favorably impacted the year-over-year comparison, were partially offset by the increase in bonus payments in 2011.

FASB ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, requires that we classify excess tax benefits as a financing activity, which contributes to the difference between net income and cash from operations. In the first nine months of 2011 and 2010, we classified $7.6 million and $4.9 million, respectively, of excess tax benefits, as financing activities. We describe these excess tax benefits in the Liquidity and Capital Resources section.

Capital expenditures: We spent $6.3 million for capital expenditures in the third quarter of 2011 and $14.7 million in the first nine months of this year, primarily for computer hardware and software, leasehold improvements, and capitalized software. In the first nine months of 2011, capital expenditures increased $7.0 million, primarily for capitalized software and computer hardware and software for our U.S. operations and for our development center in China.

Revenue

In the third quarter of 2011, Investment Information segment revenue increased $13.7 million, or 12.3%, to $125.8 million. Acquisitions contributed $0.9 million of revenue in the quarter, from the Annuity Intelligence business. Excluding acquisitions, our software and data product lines were the main contributors to revenue growth. In the first nine months of 2011, revenue increased $49.7 million, or 15.3%, to $374.3 million. Acquisitions contributed $13.1 million of revenue in the first nine months of the year, primarily from Structured Credit Ratings (formerly Realpoint, LLC), and, to a lesser extent the Annuity Intelligence business, Morningstar Denmark, and Old Broad Street Research.

Excluding acquisitions, Morningstar Direct was the largest contributor to the increase in segment revenue in both periods. The number of licenses for Morningstar Direct increased to 5,726 worldwide, compared with 4,403 as of September 30, 2010, with strong growth in both the U.S. and internationally. The growth reflects additional licenses for both new and existing clients, as well as client migrations from Institutional Workstation to Morningstar Direct.

Advisor software, Licensed Data, and Morningstar.com, including Internet advertising sales and Premium Memberships, and Morningstar Structured Credit Ratings, were also positive contributors to revenue growth in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2011.

Advisor software revenue increased as higher revenue from Morningstar Integrated Web Tools and Advisor Workstation (mainly Morningstar Office) more than offset slightly lower Principia revenue. The number of U.S. licenses for Morningstar Advisor Workstation increased to 155,833 as of September 30, 2011 compared with 153,170 as of December 31, 2010, and 154,403 as of September 30, 2010. Principia subscriptions totaled 31,318 as of September 30, 2011, down from 32,681 as of December 31, 2010 and 33,252 as of September 30, 2010.

Licensed Data's revenue growth reflects strong renewal rates for managed products data. Licensed Data gives institutions access to a full range of proprietary investment data spanning numerous investment databases, including real-time pricing data. The data packages we offer include proprietary statistics, such as the Morningstar Style Box and Morningstar Rating, and a wide range of other data, including information on investment performance, risk, portfolios, operations data, fees and expenses, cash flows, and ownership.

Higher Internet advertising sales for Morningstar.com were partially offset by a decline in Premium Membership revenue in the United States. Premium subscriptions for the U.S. version of Morningstar.com declined to 133,734 as of September 30, 2011, compared with 138,149 as of December 31, 2010 and 139,677 as of September 30, 2010. Premium subscriptions have continued declining because of a weak trial pipeline. However, consistent with the trend over the past few years, we moderately increased subscription prices for U.S. Premium Membership in both January 2011 and 2010, which partly offset the revenue decline associated with the lower subscription levels.

Morningstar Credit Ratings also contributed to the revenue growth in the third quarter, and in the first nine months of the year. Within the credit ratings business, we had strong revenue growth earlier in the year driven by new issue rating assignments in the CMBS market. More recently, however, market volatility and lower levels of investor risk tolerance have had a negative effect on the pipeline of potential issues in the CMBS market based on published industry reports.

Operating Income

In the third quarter of 2011, operating income for the Investment Information segment decreased $1.4 million, or 4.2%, but increased $4.7 million, or 4.9%, in the first nine months of 2011.

Operating expense was up $15.1 million in the third quarter and $45.0 million in the first nine months of 2011. Additional costs from acquisitions contributed approximately 20% of the increase in the first nine months of 2011. Higher salary-related expense and incentive compensation contributed about 65% of the overall expense increase in both periods. Higher employee benefits expense, including employee health benefits and matching contributions to our 401(k) plan in the United States, contributed about 20% of the increase in the third quarter and about 10% of the increase in the first nine months of 2011. Our healthcare benefits were up in the third quarter of 2011 because of higher medical claims.

The Investment Information segment's operating margin decreased 4.3 percentage point in the third quarter, primarily from higher salary expense, employee benefit expense, and bonus expense as a percentage of revenue. Higher salary expense contributed approximately 1.9 percentage points to the decline in the quarter. The segment's operating margin in the first nine months of the year declined 2.7 percentage points, primarily from higher compensation-related expense as a percentage of revenue. Higher salary expense contributed approximately 1.8 percentage points to the decline in the first nine months of 2011. Acquisitions had only a minor effect on the segment margin in the first nine months of the year.

Investment Management Segment

The Investment Management segment includes all of our asset management operations, which earn the majority of their revenue from asset-based fees.

The key products and services in this segment based on revenue are Investment Consulting, which focuses on investment monitoring and asset allocation for funds of funds, including mutual funds and variable annuities; Retirement Solutions, including the Morningstar Retirement Manager and Advice by Ibbotson platforms; and Morningstar Managed Portfolios, a fee-based discretionary asset management service that includes a series of mutual fund, ETF, and stock portfolios tailored to meet a range of investment time horizons, risk levels, and investment strategies that financial advisors can use for their clients' taxable and tax-deferred accounts.

Our Investment Consulting business has multiple fee structures, which vary by client. In general, we seek to receive asset-based fees for any work we perform that involves managing investments or acting as a subadvisor to investment portfolios. For any individual contract, we may receive flat fees, variable asset-based fees, or a combination of the two. Some of our contracts include minimum fee levels that provide us with a flat payment up to a specified asset level, above which we also receive variable asset-based fees. In the majority of our contracts that include variable asset-based fees, we bill clients quarterly in arrears based on average assets for the quarter. The method of calculation varies by client; some contracts include provisions for calculating average assets based on daily data, while others use weekly or monthly data. Other contracts may include provisions for monthly billing or billing based on assets as of the last day of the billing period rather than on average assets.

In our Retirement Solutions business, our contracts may include one-time setup fees, technology licensing fees, asset-based fees for managed retirement accounts, fixed and variable fees for advice and guidance, or a combination of these fee structures. Our Retirement Solutions business also includes plan sponsor and custom target date consulting arrangements. Fees for these services may be based on the level of assets under advisement in these arrangements.

We do not disclose a fee range for our Investment Consulting and Retirement Solutions businesses because our fee structures are customized by client. In addition, we believe disclosing a fee range would be detrimental to our competitive position. We disclose changes in the nature of the underlying services we provide or their associated fee structures (for example, a change from flat fees to asset-based fees) in our periodic filings to the extent that they are material to our financial results.

For Morningstar Managed Portfolios, we charge asset-based fees, which are based on a tiered schedule that depends on the client's account balance. Fees for our mutual fund and ETF portfolios generally range from 30 to 40 basis points. We charge fees of 55 basis points for our customized stock portfolios.

In the first nine months of 2011 and 2010, this segment represented approximately 20% of our consolidated revenue.

Revenue

Investment Management segment revenue increased $6.5 million, or 23.4%, in the third quarter and $18.9 million, or 23.8%, year to date. Revenue from acquisitions was $1.9 million year to date, all from the first half of the year. Excluding acquisitions, revenue was up across all product lines in the third quarter and first nine months. Investment Consulting was the primary driver of the revenue increase. Retirement Solutions and Managed Portfolios also contributed to the revenue increase, but to a lesser extent.

Within the Investment Management segment, revenue from asset-based fees made up about 60% of segment revenue in the first nine months of 2011 and 2010.

Assets under Advisement and Management for Investment Consulting

($ billions)	As of September 30
	2011	2010
Assets under advisement - U.S.	$123.6	$101.3
Assets under advisement and management - International	4.5	4.4
Total	$128.1	$105.7

These assets include relationships for which we receive basis-point fees, including consulting arrangements and other agreements where we act as a portfolio construction manager for a mutual fund or variable annuity. We also provide Investment Consulting services for some assets for which we receive a flat fee; we do not include these assets in the total reported above. Excluding changes related to new contracts and cancellations, changes in the value of assets under advisement can come from two primary sources: gains or losses related to overall trends in market performance, and net inflows or outflows caused when investors add to or redeem shares from these portfolios.

We provided Investment Consulting advisory services on approximately $128.1 billion in assets as of September 30, 2011 compared with approximately $116.6 billion in assets as of December 31, 2010 and approximately $105.7 billion in assets as of September 30, 2010. Assets under advisement and management rose about 21.2%, mainly reflecting additional assets for an existing client's fund-of-funds program for which we now receive asset-based fees.

We cannot quantify cash inflows and outflows for these portfolios because we do not have custody of the assets in the majority of our investment management businesses. The information we receive from many of our clients does not separately identify the effect of cash inflows and outflows on asset balances for each period. We also cannot precisely quantify the effect of market appreciation or depreciation because the majority of our clients have discretionary authority to implement their own portfolio allocations.

Table of Contents

Assets under Advisement and Management for Retirement Solutions

($ billions)	As of September 30
	2011	2010
Assets under management	$18.9	$17.8
Assets under advisement	17.4	13.8
Total	$36.3	$31.6

Assets under management for managed retirement accounts increased to $18.9 billion as of September 30, 2011 compared with $19.6 billion as of December 31, 2010 and $17.8 billion as of September 30, 2010. Assets under advisement for plan sponsor and custom target-date arrangements increased to $17.4 billion as of September 30, 2011, compared with $15.5 billion as of December 31, 2010 and $13.8 billion as of September 30, 2010.

We cannot separately quantify the factors affecting assets under management for our managed retirement accounts. These factors primarily consist of employer and employee contributions, plan administrative fees, market movements, and participant loans and hardship withdrawals. We cannot quantify the impact of these other factors because the information we receive from the plan providers does not separately identify these transactions or the changes in balances caused by market movement.

Morningstar Managed Portfolios

Morningstar Managed Portfolios contributed to the segment's revenue increase in the third quarter and first nine months of 2011. The higher revenue mainly reflects higher average asset levels during the first nine months of 2011 compared with the same period in 2010. Assets under management for Morningstar Managed Portfolios rose to $2.8 billion as of September 30, 2011, from $2.5 billion as of September 30, 2010, reflecting strong net inflows.

Operating Income

Operating income for the Investment Management segment increased $4.5 million, or 33.6%, in the third quarter and $12.5 million, or 30.3%, in the first nine months of 2011.

Operating expense in the segment rose $1.9 million, or 13.7%, in the third quarter and $6.5 million, or 16.8%, in the first nine months of 2011. Additional costs from acquisitions contributed approximately 30% of the total operating expense increase in the first nine months of 2011. Higher operating expenses for operations outside of the United States contributed the majority of the overall operating expense increase. Higher legal fees also contributed to the increase but to a lesser extent.

Operating margin increased 4.0 percentage points in the third quarter and 2.7 percentage points in the first nine months of 2011, as revenue growth exceeded the growth in operating expenses. Lower compensation-related expense as a percentage of revenue contributed to the increase, partially offset by higher legal fees as a percentage of revenue. Acquisitions partially offset the margin increase by approximately 1 percentage point in the first nine months of the year.

Corporate Items

We do not allocate corporate costs to our business segments. The corporate items category also includes amortization expense related to intangible assets recorded for acquisitions. The table below shows the components of corporate items that affected our consolidated operating income:

($000)	Three months ended September 30			Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	Change	2011	2010	Change
Amortization expense	$6,894	$6,219	10.9 %	$20,039	$17,535	14.3 %

Corporate unallocated	6,836	8,109	(15.7)%	24,584	25,536	(3.7)%
Corporate items	$15,624	$16,173	(3.4)%	$50,149	$48,466	3.5 %

Table of Contents

Amortization of intangible assets increased $0.7 million in the third quarter and $2.5 million in the first nine months of 2011, reflecting expense related to recent acquisitions. As of September 30, 2011, we had $147.3 million of net intangible assets. We amortize these assets over their estimated lives, ranging from one to 25 years. We estimate that aggregate amortization expense for intangible assets will be approximately $26.3 million in 2011.

Depreciation expense for corporate items increased slightly in the quarter and year-to-date periods.

Corporate unallocated expense decreased $1.3 million in the third quarter and decreased $1.0 million in the first nine months of 2011. We capitalized $1.6 million and $2.6 million of expense for software development in the third quarter and first nine months of 2011, respectively. Lower professional fees in both periods also contributed to the decrease. Higher salaries and other compensation, including bonus, partially offset the decrease in expense.

Corporate unallocated expense for the first nine months of the year also includes $3.2 million of expense for the separation agreement with our former chief operating officer. However, a $1.3 million expense related to vacant office space recorded in the first nine months of 2010 did not recur in 2011, favorably affecting the comparison with the prior year.

Equity in Net Income of Unconsolidated Entities, Non-Operating Income (Expense), and Income Tax Expense

Equity in Net Income of Unconsolidated Entities

($000)	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	2011	2010
Equity in net income of unconsolidated entities	$428	$333	$1,397	$1,176

Equity in net income of unconsolidated entities includes our portion of the net income (loss) of Morningstar Japan K.K. (MJKK) and Morningstar Sweden AB. In the first six months of 2010, this category also included our portion of the net income (loss) of Morningstar Denmark. Equity in net income of unconsolidated entities is primarily from our position in MJKK.

In July 2010, we acquired an additional 75% ownership interest in Morningstar Denmark, increasing our ownership percentage to 100%. As a result, we no longer account for our investment in Morningstar Denmark using the equity method. Beginning in the third quarter of 2010, we consolidate the assets, liabilities, and results of operations of Morningstar Denmark in our Consolidated Financial Statements.

We describe our investments in unconsolidated entities in more detail in Note 7 of the Notes to our Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Non-Operating Income (Expense)

The following table presents the components of net non-operating income (expense):

($000)	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	2011	2010
Interest income	$938	$602	$2,324	$1,919

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

Interest expense	(141) (90) (1,182) (227)
Other income (expense), net	(1,376) 5,694	(938) 4,356
Non-operating income (expense), net	$(579) $6,206	$204	$6,048

Interest income mainly reflects interest from our investment portfolio. Interest income in both the third quarter and first nine months of 2011 increased compared with the prior-year periods, primarily due to higher balances of cash equivalents and investments.

Table of Contents

Interest expense in the first nine months of 2011 of $1.2 million relates primarily to the $1.4 million of business tax expense for prior years recorded in the second quarter of 2011, as discussed above in the section, Consolidated Operating Expense.

Other income (expense), net primarily represents foreign currency exchange gains and losses arising from the ordinary course of business related to our U.S. and non-U.S. operations. It also includes royalty income from MJKK and realized gains and losses from our investment portfolio. The other expense in the third quarter of 2011 primarily represents unrealized exchange losses on foreign currency denominated balances. In the third quarter of 2010, we recorded a preliminary holding gain of approximately $5.1 million. This gain represents the difference between the estimated fair value and the book value of our investment in Morningstar Denmark at the date of acquisition.

Income Tax Expense

The following table summarizes the components of our effective tax rate:

($000)	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
	2011	2010	2011	2010
Income before income taxes and equity in net income of unconsolidated entities	$33,285	$36,367	$104,484	$94,818
Equity in net income of unconsolidated entities	428	333	1,397	1,176
Net (income) loss attributable to the noncontrolling interest	10	(106)) 106	10
Total	$33,723	$36,594	$105,987	$96,004
Income tax expense	$12,343	$11,917	$35,585	$33,137
Effective tax rate	36.6	% 32.6	% 33.6	% 34.5	%

Our effective tax rate in the third quarter of 2011 was 36.6%, an increase of 4.0 percentage points compared with 32.6% in the prior-year period. The effective tax rate of 32.6% in the third quarter of 2010 includes a benefit related to non-U.S. income taxes.

Year to date, our effective tax rate was 33.6%, a decrease of 0.9 percentage points, compared with 34.5% in the first nine months of 2010. The year-to-date effective tax rate primarily reflects the positive effect of higher estimated tax benefits for domestic production activities (Internal Revenue Code Section 199) and tax incentives for research and development, most of which relate to prior years. These benefits were largely offset by an increase in unrecognized tax benefits.

In the first nine months of 2011, we recorded a net increase of $2.7 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits, which increased our income tax expense. The majority of this increase relates to the estimated tax benefits and incentives (discussed above). As of September 30, 2011, we had $11.8 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits, of which $11.4 million, if recognized, would reduce our effective income tax rate and decrease our income tax expense by $9.7 million. As of December 31, 2010, we had $9.1 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits, of which $8.5 million, if recognized, would reduce our effective income tax rate and decrease our income tax expense by $6.9 million.

As of September 30, 2011, our Consolidated Balance Sheet included a current liability of approximately $2.0 million and a non-current liability of $9.5 million for unrecognized tax benefits. As of December 31, 2010, our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet included a current liability of $0.7 million and a non-current liability of $8.2 million for unrecognized tax benefits. These amounts include interest and penalties, less any associated tax benefits.

We have not provided federal and state income taxes on accumulated undistributed earnings of certain foreign subsidiaries, because these earnings have been permanently reinvested. Approximately 20% of our cash, cash equivalents, and investments as of September 30, 2011 are held by our operations outside of the United States. As such, we believe that our cash balances and investments in the United States, along with cash generated from our U.S. operations, will be sufficient to meet our U.S. operating and cash needs for the foreseeable future, without requiring us to repatriate earnings from these foreign subsidiaries. It is not practicable to determine the amount of the unrecognized deferred tax liability related to the undistributed earnings.

We are currently under audit by federal and various state and local tax authorities in the United States, as well as tax authorities in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions. It is not likely that the examination phase of some of these audits will conclude in 2011. It is not possible to estimate the effect of current audits on previously recorded unrecognized tax benefits.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We believe our available cash balances and investments, along with cash generated from operations, will be sufficient to meet our operating and cash needs for the foreseeable future. We invest our cash reserves in cash equivalents and investments, consisting primarily of fixed-income securities. We maintain a conservative investment policy for our investments and invest a portion of these assets in municipal securities with high-quality stand-alone credit ratings. Investments in our portfolio have a maximum maturity of two years; the weighted average maturity is approximately one year. Approximately 80% of our cash, cash equivalents, and investments as of September 30, 2011 are held by our operations in the United States.

We intend to use our cash, cash equivalents, and investments for general corporate purposes, including working capital and funding future growth. To date, we have not needed to access any significant commercial credit and have not attempted to borrow or establish any lines of credit.

We expect to make a recurring quarterly dividend payment of 5 cents per share. In the first nine months of 2011, we paid dividends of $7.5 million. On September 23, 2011, our board of directors approved a payment of a regular quarterly dividend of 5 cents per share payable on October 31, 2011 to shareholders of record as of October 14, 2011. As of September 30, 2011, we recorded a liability for dividends payable of $2.5 million.

In September 2010, our board of directors also approved a share repurchase program that authorizes the repurchase of up to $100 million of our outstanding common stock. From time to time we may repurchase shares at prevailing market prices on the open market or in private transactions in amounts that we deem appropriate. In the first nine months of 2011, we repurchased 570,464 shares for approximately $32.1 million, of which $3.6 million was settled and paid early in the fourth quarter of 2011. In total, we have repurchased 646,682 shares for $35.9 million as part of this program.

Cash, Cash Equivalents, and Investments

As of September 30, 2011, we had cash, cash equivalents, and investments of $433.0 million, an increase of $67.6 million compared with $365.4 million as of December 31, 2010. The increase reflects $106.3 million of cash provided by operating activities and $14.3 million of cash from stock-option proceeds and excess tax benefits. These items, which increased our cash, cash equivalents, and investments balance, were partially offset by $28.5 million used to repurchase common stock through our share repurchase program, $14.7 million of capital expenditures, and $7.5 million of dividends paid.

Cash Provided by Operating Activities

Our main source of capital is cash generated from operating activities.

Edgar Filing: Morningstar, Inc. - Form 10-Q

In the first nine months of 2011, cash provided by operating activities was $106.3 million, an increase of $26.0 million compared with the same period in 2010. The increase reflects higher net income (adjusted for non-cash items), and the favorable cash flow from operating assets and liabilities. These items, which increased cash from operations, were partially offset by a $16.1 million increase in bonus payments. We paid $37.5 million in annual bonuses in the first quarter of 2011, compared with $21.4 million in the prior-year period. Cash provided by operating activities in the first nine months of 2011 also reflects $3.4 million for previously announced separation agreements with two former executives.

In the first nine months of 2010, we paid $4.9 million to one former and, at the time, two current executives to adjust the tax treatment of certain stock options originally considered incentive stock options.

Cash Used for Investing Activities

Table of Contents

Cash used for investing activities consists primarily of cash used for acquisitions, purchases of investments less proceeds from the maturity or sale of investments, and cash used for capital expenditures. The level of investing activities varies from period to period depending on activity in these three categories. In the first nine months of 2011, cash used for investing activities was $89.8 million, compared with $46.4 million in the same period of 2010.

In the first nine months of 2011, purchases of investments exceeded the proceeds from the maturity and sale of investments by $76.3 million. In contrast, in the first nine months of 2010, proceeds from the maturity and sale of investments exceeded the purchases of investments by $49.2 million. As of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, we had investments, consisting primarily of fixed-income securities, of $258.7 million and $185.2 million, respectively. As of September 30, 2011, our investments represented approximately 60% of our total cash, cash equivalents, and investments balance compared with 50% as of December 31, 2010, respectively.

Capital expenditures were $14.7 million in the first nine months of 2011, an increase of $7.0 million compared with the first nine months of 2010. The majority of the increase reflects spending on capitalized software and computer software and hardware for our U.S. office as well as remaining payments for our development center in China. We expect to make total capital expenditures of approximately $18.1 million to $20.1 million in 2011, primarily for computer hardware and software, leasehold improvements for new and existing office locations, and capitalized software.

We did not complete any acquisitions in the first nine months of 2011, but received cash of approximately $0.6 million as an adjustment to the purchase price of one of our 2010 acquisitions. In the first nine months of 2010, we completed six acquisitions for $88.7 million, net of cash acquired.

Cash Provided by Financing Activities

Cash provided by financing activities consists primarily of proceeds from stock-option exercises and excess tax benefits related to stock-option exercises and vesting of restricted stock units. These cash inflows may be offset by dividend payments and cash used to repurchase outstanding common stock through our share repurchase program.

Excess tax benefits occur at the time a stock option is exercised when the intrinsic value of the option (the difference between the fair value of our stock on the date of exercise and the exercise price of the option) is greater than the fair value of the option at the time of grant. Similarly, the vesting of restricted stock units generates excess tax benefits when the market value of our common stock on the vesting date exceeds the grant price of the restricted stock units. These excess tax benefits reduce the cash we pay for income taxes in the year they are recognized. It is not possible to predict the timing of stock-option exercises or the intrinsic value that will be achieved at the time options are exercised or upon vesting of restricted stock units. As a result, we expect cash flow from financing activities to vary over time. Note 9 in the Notes to our Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements includes additional information concerning stock options and restricted stock units outstanding as of September 30, 2011.

Cash used for financing activities was $22.2 million in the first nine months of 2011. We paid cash of approximately $28.5 million under our share repurchase program in the first nine months of 2011. In addition, we made dividend payments of $7.5 million. Partially offsetting these cash outflows were proceeds from stock-option exercises of $6.6 million, while excess tax benefits related to stock-option exercises and vesting of restricted stock units totaled $7.6 million. Cash provided by financing activities was $9.6 million in the first nine months of 2010, primarily from proceeds from stock options exercised and excess tax benefits. We did not pay any dividends or make any purchases under our share repurchase program in the first nine months of 2010.

Employees exercised approximately 0.6 million and 0.5 million stock options in the first nine months of 2011 and 2010, respectively. The total intrinsic value (the difference between the market value of our stock on the date of exercise and the exercise price of the option) of options exercised during the first nine months of 2011 and 2010 was $25.1 million and $17.1 million, respectively.

Reclassifications

Beginning in 2011, as a part of the new Investment Management organization structure, we reviewed the revenue classification between Investment Consulting and Retirement Solutions. We reclassified the prior-year information for consistency with the current-year presentation. As presented in the tables below, this reclassification changed the order of Advisor Workstation and Investment Consulting in our top five products in 2010, but did not have any effect on the order of our top five products in 2009.

Application of Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

We discuss our critical accounting policies and estimates in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010, as filed with the SEC on February 28, 2011. We also discuss our significant accounting policies in Note 3 of our Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report.

Effective January 1, 2011, we adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2009-13, Revenue Recognition (Topic 605): Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements. ASU 2009-13 supersedes Emerging Issues Task Force Issue 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables and establishes the accounting and reporting guidance for arrangements when a vendor performs multiple revenue-generating activities, addresses how to separate deliverables, and specifies how to measure and allocate arrangement consideration. We are applying this guidance for revenue arrangements entered into or materially modified from January 1, 2011. The adoption of ASU 2009-13 does not significantly affect either the timing or amount of our revenue recognition.

In June 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-05, Presentation of Comprehensive Income. In accordance with ASU No. 2011-05, we present the total of comprehensive income, the components of net income, and the components of other comprehensive income (OCI) in two separate but consecutive statements, our Consolidated Statement of Income and separately, a Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. We no longer present total comprehensive income in our Consolidated Statement of Equity. In addition, we now show the effects of items reclassified from OCI to net income on the face of our Consolidated Statement of Income.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-04, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs. ASU No. 2011-04

clarifies existing fair value measurement and disclosure requirements, amends certain fair value measurement principles and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. For Morningstar, ASU No. 2011-04 will be applied prospectively beginning on January 1, 2012. We do not expect the provisions of ASU No. 2011-04 to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In September 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-08, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350): Testing Goodwill for Impairment. The objective of this Update is to simplify how entities test goodwill for impairment. An entity may first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform the two-step goodwill impairment test described in Topic 350. The more-likely-than-not threshold is defined as having a likelihood of more than 50%. For Morningstar, the amendments are effective for annual and interim goodwill impairment tests performed in 2012. Early adoption will be permitted. We do not expect the provisions of ASU No. 2011-08 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

(1) This column reflects an estimate of the number of shares each identified director and executive officer will beneficially own following the sale of all shares under the Rule 10b5-1 sales plans identified above. This information reflects the beneficial ownership of our common stock on September 30, 2011, and includes shares of our common stock subject to options that were then exercisable or that will have become exercisable by November 29, 2011 and restricted stock units that will vest by November 29, 2011. The estimates do not reflect any changes to beneficial ownership that may have occurred since September 30, 2011. Each director and executive officer identified in the table may amend or terminate his or her Rule 10b5-1 sales plan and may adopt additional Rule 10b5-1 plans in the future.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Our investment portfolio is actively managed and may suffer losses from fluctuating interest rates, market prices, or adverse security selection. We invest our investment portfolio mainly in high-quality fixed-income securities. As of September 30, 2011, our cash, cash equivalents, and investments balance was $433.0 million. Based on our estimates, a 100 basis-point change in interest rates would impact the fair value of our investment portfolio by approximately $0.9 million.

As our non-U.S. revenue increases as a percentage of our consolidated revenue, fluctuations in foreign currencies present a greater potential risk. To date, we have not engaged in currency hedging, and we do not currently have any positions in derivative instruments to hedge our currency risk. Our results could suffer if certain foreign currencies decline relative to the U.S. dollar. In addition, because we use the local currency of our subsidiaries as the functional currency, we are affected by the translation of foreign currencies into U.S. dollars.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

(a) Evaluation and Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures are designed to reasonably assure that information required to be disclosed in the reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to reasonably assure that information required to be disclosed in the reports filed under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

We carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as of September 30, 2011. Based on that evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported as and when required and is accumulated and communicated to management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Changes in Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal controls over financial reporting during the quarter ended September 30, 2011 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
