in accordance with Article 15 of the Securities Trading Act (WpHG)

Re: Viterra divestment; net income

E.ON sells Viterra to Deutsche Annington

Strong disposal gains are expected to result in substantially higher net income for 2005

E.ON AG, Düsseldorf, sells Viterra to Deutsche Annington GmbH, Düsseldorf. The transaction has a total value of approximately 7 billion, comprising the purchase price for the equity of approximately 4 billion and the net debt and provisions of Viterra of approximately 3 billion.

E.ON expects to realize a gain in the order of approximately 2.4 billion from the sale in fiscal year 2005, which according to US GAAP will be reported in results from discontinued operations. The transaction still requires clearance from anti-trust authorities as well as approval by the E.ON supervisory board and should be completed by July 2005.

Owing to this successful transaction E.ON now expects net income for the financial year 2005 to surpass the net income of 2004 substantially.
