January 21, 2008

Dear Board Members;

Edgar Filing: CONSOLIDATED TOMOKA LAND CO - Form SC 13D/A

As you know, advisory clients of Wintergreen Advisers beneficially own 25.9% of the common stock of Consolidated-Tomoka Land Company. Wintergreen has accumulated this stock during the last 23 months during which timeframe Wintergreen Advisers has encouraged management to unlock shareholder value and to explore all strategic alternatives working with competent outside advisers and consultants. To date we have seen no progress.

Specific areas where progress reasonably should have been made by now include:

1. Aligning management compensation to the success of the company in achieving its stated goals rather than having the bonus and compensation structure revolve around selling properties out of inventory.
2. Review of the growth and level of company operating costs; including an analysis of job descriptions and roles in the current market and as company strategy and goals evolve.
3. Hiring competent outside advisors to develop a strategy to better address the long term goals of the company.
4. Following better corporate governance by separating the role of chairman of the board from management. We are prepared to suggest an independent chairman of the board who happens to be an independent director we did not propose as a board member.
5. Hiring forensic accountants to review past years' activities to verify that all proper processes and procedures are in place and have been followed to avoid conflicts of interest by any directors, officers and employees; including, but not limited to, a review of all actions in connection with each so called Section 1031 exchange, the direct and indirect costs of each sale of real estate, the profitability of golf operations and a review of the reasonable corporate purpose behind each company travel, dining and entertainment expense.
6. Improving public disclosure to clarify what actions have been and are being taken to improve long term shareholder value.
7. Review of company activities to determine whether or not the appropriate authority and responsibility resides in the company officers and the board of directors. In particular we are concerned with the degree of independence that appears to exist in officers of the company to unilaterally enter into land sale arrangements in an environment that doesn't appear to fully recognize the appropriateness of such activities.

In light of the slow and/or non existent response from management and the company's meager disclosure, Wintergreen Advisers is considering proposing a slate of three additional directors at the upcoming shareholder meeting. It is our intention if we determine to take this course of action, to contact shareholders to solicit their support of our directors. We believe this action would be in the best interests of all long-term shareholders. We are specifically reserving our rights in the event it becomes necessary to fully participate in protecting the rights and interests of our investment clients. We would take these actions to enhance and protect the interests of all shareholders. In so doing we call your attention to the lack of significant personal investment by all officers identified in the company's revised definitive proxy statement for the 2007 meeting of shareholders and the recent sales of shares by certain reporting persons.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ David J. Winters
