Media Release

David Mathers to succeed Renato Fassbind as Chief Financial Officer of Credit Suisse Group AG, effective October 1, 2010

Zurich, April 30, 2010 Credit Suisse today announced that Renato Fassbind, who has served as Chief Financial Officer of Credit Suisse Group AG for the past six years, will retire from his current position this fall.

Mr. Fassbind will be succeeded by David Mathers, Chief Operating Officer and Head of Finance of the Investment Banking Division, who will become CFO of Credit Suisse and a member of the Executive Board on October 1, 2010, based in Zurich. Mr. Fassbind will remain with Credit Suisse as a senior advisor.

Hans-Ulrich Doerig, Chairman of the Board of Directors, said: “On behalf of the Board of Directors, I want to thank Renato Fassbind for the important role he has played in the development of Credit Suisse’s integrated banking model. We are pleased to have found such a highly experienced and qualified internal successor as CFO in David Mathers. David brings deep financial and business experience, and is a long-standing member of our senior management team, which will ensure continuity in this important function.”

Brady W. Dougan, Chief Executive Officer, said: “Renato Fassbind has made a significant contribution to the success of Credit Suisse. His expertise and leadership have helped the bank navigate an extremely challenging period and emerge stronger. I am pleased that Renato will remain with the bank so we can continue to benefit from his experience and professional expertise.”

He added: “Credit Suisse is very fortunate to have someone as capable and talented as David Mathers to succeed Renato as CFO. David has done a tremendous job in helping to shape and implement the Investment Banking Division’s client-focused, capital-efficient strategy as Chief Operating Officer and Head of Finance. My colleagues on the Executive Board and I look forward to having David as part of our team as we continue to advance our client-focused strategy and integrated model.”

David Mathers is currently Chief Operating Officer (COO) and Head of Finance of the Investment Banking Division, based in London and New York.

Before assuming the role of COO for the Investment Banking Division, Mr. Mathers was Co-Head of European Equities, and Head (and Co-Head) of European Equity Research for nine years. He joined Credit Suisse in June 1998 from HSBC where he was Global Head of Equity Research. A British citizen, Mr. Mathers holds an M.A. in Natural Sciences from the University of Cambridge.

Cautionary statement regarding forward-looking information

This press release contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to the following:

- our plans, objectives or goals;
- our future economic performance or prospects;
- the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and
- assumptions underlying any such statements.

Words such as “believes,” “anticipates,” “expects,” “intends” and “plans” and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable securities laws. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include:

- the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets;
  - market and interest rate fluctuations;
- the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations, in particular the risk of a continued US or global economic downturn in 2010 and beyond;
  - the direct and indirect impacts of continuing deterioration of subprime and other real estate markets;
- further adverse rating actions by credit rating agencies in respect of structured credit products or other credit-related exposures or of monoline insurers;
  - the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us;
- the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, trade and tax policies, and currency fluctuations;
  - political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity;
- the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations;
  - operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly;
- actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices in one or more of the countries in which we conduct our operations;
  - the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices;
  - competition in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations;

Edgar Filing: CREDIT SUISSE AG - Form 6-K

- the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel;
  - the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand;
  - the ability to increase market share and control expenses;
    - technological changes;
- the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users;
- acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets;
  - the adverse resolution of litigation and other contingencies;
  - the ability to achieve our cost efficiency goals and other cost targets; and
  - our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. When evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, as well as the information set forth in our Annual Report 2009 under IX – Additional information – Risk Factors.
