Receipt of Nasdaq Deficiency Notice

On February 9, 2016, China Natural Resources, Inc. (the "Company") received a written notice from the Listing Qualifications department of The Nasdaq Stock Market (the "Notice") indicating that the Company is not in compliance with the $35 million market value of listed securities ( MVLS ) requirement set forth in Nasdaq Rule 5550(b)(2) for continued listing on The Nasdaq Capital Market. The Nasdaq Rule requires listed securities to maintain a minimum MVLS of $35 million and, based upon the closing bid price of the Company's common shares for the 30 consecutive business day measurement period, the Company no longer meets this requirement. The Notice indicates that the Company will be provided 180 calendar days (until August 8, 2016) in which to regain compliance.

If at any time during this compliance period the MVLS of the Company's common shares closes at or above $35 million for a minimum of ten consecutive business days, or the Company demonstrates compliance with one of the alternative continued listing standards, the Nasdaq Staff will provide the Company with a written confirmation of compliance and the matter will be closed. In the event the Company does not regain compliance with Rule 5550(b)(2), or satisfy one of the alternative continued listing standards, prior to expiration of the 180-calendar day compliance period, the Nasdaq Staff will provide the Company with written notification that its securities are subject to delisting from The Nasdaq Capital Market. At that time, the Company may appeal the delisting determination to a Hearings Panel.

The Company is actively evaluating several business transactions which the Company believes, if consummated, will enable it to achieve compliance with Nasdaq continued listing criteria.
