Item 3.03. Material Modification to Rights of Security Holders.

Since 2013, USG Corporation (the “Company”) has had a Rights Agreement and Protective Amendment (each defined below) in place to protect the value of the Company’s $1.9 billion of net operating loss carryforwards (“NOLs”) and related tax benefits. These protections are scheduled to expire on March 22, 2016 and May 9, 2016, respectively, subject to other earlier termination events as described in the documents. In connection with the Company’s required triennial review of the Rights Agreement, the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of the Company approved, and on November 16, 2015 the Company entered into, Amendment No. 4 (the “Rights Agreement Amendment”) to the Rights Agreement to, among other items, extend the expiration date to May 31, 2019, subject to other earlier termination events as described therein.

The Company’s ability to use its NOLs could be substantially reduced if the Company experiences an “ownership change,” as defined under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the Rights Agreement and Protective Amendment have been designed to prevent such an “ownership change.” “Ownership changes” generally relate to the cumulative change in ownership among stockholders with an ownership interest of 5% or more (as determined under Section 382’s rules) over a rolling three-year period. Under the Rights Agreement, if any person or group acquires 4.9% or more of the outstanding shares of common stock, there would be a triggering event causing significant dilution in the ownership interest of such person or group, subject to certain exempt transactions. The Rights Agreement Amendment extends the 4.9% beneficial ownership threshold under the Rights Agreement until May 31, 2019, subject to other earlier termination events as described therein. The Company expects to submit the Rights Agreement Amendment to an advisory vote at the Company’s 2016 annual meeting of stockholders.

In connection with the Rights Agreement Amendment, the Board also recommended that at the Company’s 2016 annual meeting, stockholders vote to extend the Protective Amendment to the Company’s Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the “Protective Amendment”) until May 31, 2019 (subject to other earlier termination events as described in the Protective Amendment). The Protective Amendment generally voids transfers of shares that would result in the creation of a new 4.9% stockholder or an existing 4.9% stockholder acquiring additional shares. If stockholders do not approve the extension, the Protective Amendment will expire on May 9, 2016.

Pursuant to a Shareholder Agreement reached in 2006, Berkshire Hathaway and certain of its affiliates may acquire beneficial ownership of up to 50% of the Company’s voting stock on a fully-diluted basis without triggering the ownership thresholds in the Protective Amendment or Rights Agreement, and may acquire beneficial ownership of more than 50% of the Company’s voting stock on a fully-diluted basis without triggering the ownership thresholds in the Protective Amendment or Rights Agreement through an offer to purchase all of the Company’s common stock that remains open for at least 60 days, in each case subject to specified exceptions.

The rights issued pursuant to the Rights Agreement are in all respects subject to and governed by the provisions of the Rights Agreement, dated as of December 21, 2006, as amended (the “Rights Agreement”), by and between the Company and Computershare Investor Services, LLC, as rights agent (predecessor-in-interest to Computershare Trust Company, N.A.). Copies of the Protective Amendment, Rights Agreement and the Rights Agreement Amendment are available free of charge from the Company. There is no guarantee that the Rights Agreement and Protective Amendment will prevent the Company from experiencing an ownership change.

The foregoing description of the Rights Agreement Amendment is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Rights Agreement Amendment, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 4.1 hereto and incorporated herein by this reference.

Item 5.05. Amendments to the Registrant’s Code of Ethics, or Waiver of a Provision of the Code of Ethics.

On November 12, 2015, the Board amended the Company's Code of Business Conduct (the "Code of Business Conduct") to clarify the Company's policies with respect to conflicts of interest, protecting confidential Company information from disclosure, use of Company trademarks, brand names and other intellectual property and responding to Company legal matters.

The foregoing description of the Code of Business Conduct is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the revised Code of Business Conduct, a copy of which is available through the "Investor Relations" and "Corporate Governance" links in the "Company Information" section of the Company's Web site at www.usg.com.
