ITEM 8.01 OTHER EVENTS

As previously disclosed in our prior 8-K filing, on May 11, 2006, we received a letter from the Office of Engineering and Technology Laboratory (OET) of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) stating that they had tested the Audiovox Xpress Model XMCK10 and had determined that the transmitter was not in compliance with the FCC emissions limits. We have provided information to the FCC regarding the testing, emissions and other matters relating to this transmitter. We conducted an internal review and we suspended shipments of this unit.

We subsequently obtained a new certification for modified equipment configurations with compliance testing based upon in-vehicle testing of three representative vehicles, consistent with the FCC's spring 2006 clarification of testing procedures. We have recently been advised that our new equipment certification has been dismissed (but not denied) by the FCC. Dismissal allows the equipment certification to be reinstated if the equipment is deemed compliant. We are working to complete design or installation modifications, conducting additional testing for XM Xpress radios, and addressing uncertainties regarding emissions variability with testing results. No health or safety issues are involved with these wireless XM radios, and this matter does not pertain to any other Audiovox XM radio. We continue to suspend shipments of the Xpress unit until it is determined that it operates within FCC approved specifications.

The information furnished under Item 8.01 shall not be deemed to be filed for the purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and will not be incorporated by reference into any registration statement filed under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, unless specifically identified therein as being incorporated therein by reference.
